Preface

Presented herewith is the second part of SARAVALI with Kalyana Varma's original slokas in Devanagari and my English translation with notes etc.

Chapters 27 to 29 deal with effects of Jupiter, Venus and Saturn in various signs and of various aspects thereto. Discussed in ch. 30 are results of the planets from the Sun to Saturn placed in the 12 houses individually. Planetary conjunctions in angles have specific say on the horoscope as shown in ch. 31 while ch. 32 is specially devoted to enlighten the reader about the 9th house. In the said chapter 32, Jupiter is given special importance as he is the chief indicator of fortunes. Further, conjunction of planets in groups of 2, 3 and 4 are skilfully narrated under the 'Ninth House'. The tenth house has been fully depicted in ch. 33 while ch. 34 deals with other houses. In the said ch. 34, the 8th house has been excluded as ch. 40 and ch. 47 are devoted in the context of longevity and death. A number of slokas can be found in the voluminous ch. 35 and combinations to mar Rajayogas are listed in ch. 39. Planets enjoy certain number of rays at birth due to their positions etc., and the total contribution of rays is a yardstick to many events as could be seen in ch. 36. Pancha Maha Purusha Yogas find place in ch. 37 while ch. 38 specially deals with the three gunas, 5 tatwas and 3 temperaments. Dasa calculations, effects of periods etc., are accommodated in chapters from 41 to 44. Results of planetary dignitarics like exaltation, debilitation, own house etc., are arranged in ch. 45. Interesting information is added about female horoscopy in ch. 46. This part of the text is beautified by very useful information concerning lost horoscopy describing qualities etc. of ascending sign, Navamsa, Hora, decanate etc. In a way it can be said that these rules are rarely found in other texts. Ashtaka Varga and Manifold Births conclude the text.

After going through the whole text, it is hoped, that the reader will find the possession of this great work worthy.

I have relied on a vast number of texts and used instructions contained therein. These include Jataka Martanda (Telugu), Chamatkara Chintamani (Sanskrit-Hindi), Jataka Sagaram (Tamil), Jatakalankaram (Keeranuru Nataraja—Tamil) and late C. G. Rajan's works. My grateful acknowledgements are due to them.

The printers—Navneet Printers, Delhi—have been quite co-operative, so also the publishers—Ranjan Publications. Both of them deserve a notable mention in the completion of this unique work.

Effects of Jupiter in Various Signs

वादिगुणः सम्पन्नः प्रयत्नरत्नाभरणसंसर्गः ।

ओजस्वी बहुशत्रुर्बहुव्ययार्थः क्षतांकितशरीरः ।

1-2. JUPITER IN ARIES: If Jupiter is posited in Aries at birth, one will be argumentative in disposition, will acquire precious stones and ornaments out of his efforts, will be endowed with strength, sons and wealth, will have eminent and famous profession, be splendorous, will have many enemies, much expenses and an injured body and will confer fierce and cruel punishments.

Notes: Varaha Mihira says that if Jupiter is placed in Aries or in Scorpio, the person will be wealthy, be a leader of army, be endowed with many wives and children, be charitable and forgiving in disposition and be brave and famous. However, for Aries ascendant and for Virgo ascendant, Jupiter in Scorpio and Aries respectively will curtail the longevity.

Jupiter in a house of Mars will give a tendency to invest in gold. There will also be chances of abdominal operations, particularly if the position is in the 5th house. If he occupies favourable Amsas, one may hope to obtain obedient and prosperous children; otherwise there will not be happiness from children. With the company of Saturn in Aries, Jupiter loses his benefic tendencies. (In other houses also, the conjunction of Jupiter and Saturn will spoil Jupiter and improve Saturn, except in Libra, Sagittarius, Aquarius and Pisces where both may be in good moods whereas Jupiter in Capricorn is greatly repaired by the company of Saturn).

For the various ascendants, Jupiter in Aries will give varied effects as hinted below:

Aries ascendant: The native will be corpulent, beautiful, healthy, wealthy, liberal and famous. There may be a significant health problem for the wife of the native, relating to ears, stomach, delivery of children, chest etc. She will have very bulky breasts. In Jupiter dasa, the native will achieve a high degree of financial and professional prosperity. Taurus ascendant: The native will be endowed with long life, freedom from diseases and be successful over enemies. Financially, this is not a good position. To add to this there will be heavy burden of expenditure. Gemini ascendant: One will have great success after marriage and will flourish well in profession. Normally the native is the eldest issue of the family. If the said Jupiter occupies the 4th quarter of Aswini, much superior results will be obtained. Cancer ascendant: Jupiter in Aries will generate a powerful Rajayoga conferring wealth and position. However, the subject will not be free from adversities in fortunes. He will invoke enmity with people relating to his profession. Leo ascendant: The subject will enjoy legendary luck, will have fortunate children, healthy body and be very intelligent. The life span will be above seventy. If the ascendant is in Vargothama with Jupiter in Bharani first quarter, birth of a prince is denoted. Virgo ascendant: This is a very unfortunate position of Jupiter for a Virgo native in the matter of his own happiness, mother, wife etc. He will have a curtailed longevity. His financial position will be very shaky. Penury will be experienced for most part of the life or debts will be predominant. Libra ascendant: The native's co-born will be inimical to him. His marriage may not be so happy but will not be all the worse. A saved situation will, however, prevail. The wife of the native will be prone to accidents, particularly if Jupiter occupies many divisions of Mars in the process. Scorpio ascendant: Utter poverty, lack of progeny, mental diseases (more so ulcers of the brain), ups and downs in profession and gains from cousins/enemies will come to pass. In the case of females, menstrual problems, heavy discharge of blood etc., will be felt. If the usual menses occur when transit Mars is in Libra, she is susceptible to serious vaginal diseases. For either natives, if Jupiter occupies Sagittarius Dwadasamsa in Aries, there may be a number of children. Sagittarius ascendant: One will have notable spiritual achievements with Jupiter in Aries except in Aswini second quarter and Bharani third quarter, i.e. the Navamsas of Venus. He will be highly intelligent, will hold high positions in government, will have abundant paternal inheritance and will himself progress enviably. Marks like mole, scar etc., will be found on the left ear. Capricorn ascendants: Happiness is almost absent with Jupiter in Aries. The native will be disappointed in regard to mother, landed property etc. Even the co-born will suffer some losses on account of the native. Aquarius ascendant: The native's birth will prove a boon to the father in the matter of fortune. He is equally auspicious for his brothers. Marriage will confer gains and happiness. Pisces ascendant: This placement may produce some slight health hazards. Otherwise, there will be plenty of education, wealth, good speech, fortunate father, high position etc.

3-4. JUPITER IN TAURUS: Should Jupiter be in Taurus, one will be endowed with a broad body, be corpulent, will honour Bhahmins and Gods, be splendidous, fortunate, attached to his wife, be endowed with good appearance, profession, cows and abundant wealth; will possess good articles and ornaments, be distinguished in speech, intelligence and skill; will have political/judicial wisdom, be modest, be endowed with medical accomplishments and be skilful in experiments.

Notes: For Jupiter's placement in a sign of Venus (i.e. in Taurus or in Libra), sound body, wealth, friends, sons, charitability and such other results are attributed by Varaha Mihira and Gunakara.

Venus, being the preceptor of demons, was gifted with unique possession of giving life to dead. As such life-giving power, peculiar to medical profession, is indicated by the placement of Jupiter, the Divine Preceptor, in Taurus. Broadly speaking the native with Jupiter so placed will be a doctor of high repute, particularly when born of Leo ascendant.

Jupiter in a sign of Venus, all said and done, be it Taurus or Libra, is capable of giving adverse results in the matter of progeny. The native's children may be inimical to him while in a female's case the husband may not be well-disposed to her.

For individual ascendants, Jupiter in Taurus will produce the undermentioned effects:

Aries ascendant: Jupiter in Taurus will supply plenty of money. It is not, however, safe for immunity from expenses. A good deal will be spent on charitable acts or non-returning loans. Taurus ascendant: Even though a benefic by nature, Jupiter in this sign as ascendant will not be helpful for longevity. However, he will not cause child mortality. On the contrary he will counteract such evils. This position will have adverse effects on progeny, marriage and father. Gemini ascendant: Professional growth will be hindered by Jupiter in Taurus. Marriage will be secret if Venus joins Jupiter but be a honourable one. Cancer ascendant: The native will have allround happiness. Loss of children, gain by marriage and good fortunes are indicated. Deafness or ear disease will follow if Jupiter is severely afflicted. Leo ascendant: There will be high degree of knowledge, particularly in subjects like electronics, cinema etc. A long life is indicated by Jupiter in Taurus, in the 10th. Though there may be almost happy times in profession, if Jupiter's dasa occurs its end will cause miseries. Virgo ascendant: Marital misunderstanding, loss of wife, disrepute etc., will come to pass if Jupiter is heavily damaged. Even with a better Jupiter, adversities of this nature will prevail to some extent. A complete cure is assured only by a strong Mercury/Venus. Libra ascendant: The native will live only for a moderate period with Madhyamayus. If Rahtu is simultaneously in Taurus, death may be violent. Though the lord of the 6th in the 8th is a good augury for a long life, Jupiter in the 8th for a Libra native will prove adverse in his dasa occurring at birth and will inflict death. Scorpio ascendant: This planet in 7th will prove fatal at the age of 30. One will acquire a beautiful wife and will live a happy married life. Sagittarius ascendant: The subject will be highly learned, highly placed and be famous. But there is a likelihood of his having some serious disease if Jupiter occupies the first Navamsa of Taurus. Capricorn ascendant: Infirm memory, instable children and irresponsible father will result, particularly, if Jupiter is heavily afflicted. If he is in Nidravastha the children will be weak in constitution. (For Avasthas see Sanketa Nidhi, Brihat Parasara Hora Sastra, Hora Ratna etc.). Aquarius ascendant: Normally good results will be experienced in regard to wealth and learning. A very long-living mother is indicated by this placement. Pisces ascendant: A high degree of success in profession, marriage etc., will be achieved by the native, in Venus dasa while Jupiter dasa will be only ordinary. This is a prosperous indication for co-born while for the native it is likely to be fatal at the age of five. If the Moon is in the 8th simultaneously, this child mortality is confirmed.

 मिथुनस्थे देवगुरौ क्रियारतिः सत्कविश्चैव ॥६॥

5-6. JUPITER IN GEMINI: Should Jupiter be in Gemini, the native will be affluent, scholarly, proficient, will possess attractive eyes, be eloquent, courteous, skilful, virtuous, will honour elders and relatives, will be able to utter "bejewelled" words (i.e. be literarily rich in words) which are benevolent in nature, be devoted to his duties and be a good poet.

Notes: One with Jupiter in a sign of Mercury (i.e. either in Gemini or in Virgo) will enjoy ministership, happiness, wife and progeny according to Varaha Mihira.

Jupiter in a house of Mercury or vice versa will confer an unusual degree of wisdom and intelligence. Whereas Jupiter concerned confers profane knowledge and Mercury in Sagittarius makes one an expounder of divine doctrines. Jupiter in Gemini will make one a successful poet or writer.

How Jupiter remaining in Gemini acts for each ascendant can be seen from the following:

Aries ascendant: The native will be blessed with a helping father and a virtuous wife. Co-born will be a source of great strength in the advancement of the native. If Jupiter falls in Scorpio Navamsa, these good effects will considerably be minimised. Taurus ascendant: There will be a vast expansion of the native's descent. If, however, his Jupiter dasa should come in childhood, survival needs vital help from other qualified planets. After this, his longevity will be considerably good. The subject will suffer from diseases of private parts, anus, kidneys etc. Gemini ascendant: Here again childhood coinciding with Jupiter's major period will be critical. Stability in prosperity will come along with marriage. Even marriage will be stable with Jupiter in

Gemini as ascendant as otherwise he is a baneful lord for this sign on the east. That is to say, for Gemini births, one of the best positions for happy marriage is Jupiter in the ascendant itself. Cancer ascendant: Jupiter in the 12th will confer riches, learning etc. If Saturn aspects (except from Aries) Jupiter, the father of the native will be long-lived. Otherwise, this position indicates a defect for father's life. The native will be free from diseases, inimical troubles, debts, litigations etc. He will vigorously associate himself with spiritual missions. Leo ascendant: Singly Jupiter in the 11th can ward off many afflictions relating to longevity. The native will obtain very fortunate children. He will be timid in disposition. His wife may need to perform some propitiations so that she does not suffer from abdominal disorders. This is particularly true if Jupiter is in malefic shashtiamsas. (For shashtiamsas, see page 25, Vol. I of this edition.) Virgo ascendant: Though there will be overall satisfaction in learning, money, diseases, profession etc., some strain or the other is not uncommon. The native can, however, become very famous and popular in his undertakings. Libra ascendant: Early demise of father is indicated if Mercury is not stronger than Jupiter. Even if Mercury is with positional strength, say in Virgo, it is sufficient to overcome this defect. The native's 30th year of age may prove critical or may bring difficulties akin to death. Scorpio ascendant: A very unfortunate placement indeed for a key planet like Jupiter for this ascendant. This situation will adversely tell upon longevity, finance and the like. Jupiter in the 8th as the lord of the 5th in an unfertile sign will stall the progenic ability of the subject. Additionally if Jupiter is in dire combustion, the virility is almost burnt never to be alive again. Sagittarius ascendant: Jupiter in the 7th will bring evils to life in the 20th year of age. The native's father will die in Sun's sub period in the major period of Jupiter or vice versa if the Sun is simultaneously in Libra/Scorpio. Capricorn ascendant: The native will face a checkered career while he will have an upper hand in litigations over enemies and will establish himself in money matters. However, there is no question of Jupiter granting big riches.

Aquarius ascendant: The native will have only one child, that too after a long spell following marriage. Pisces ascendant: He will have a long living mother, a good extent of landed property and a great success in his field of profession. What will, however, lack is personal security in the 10th year of age. Barring this year, he will have a long lease of life.

विद्वान् सुरुपदेहः प्राज्ञः प्रियधर्मसत्त्वभावश्च ।
 सुमहदबलो यशस्वी प्रभूतधान्याकरधनेशः ॥७॥
 सत्यसमाधिसुयुवतः स्थिरात्मजी लोकसंकृतः ह्यातः ।
 नृपतिर्जीवे शशिभे विशिष्टकर्मा सुहृज्जनानुरतः ॥८॥

7-8. JUPITER IN CANCER: If Jupiter be in Cancer at birth, the native will be a scholar, be beautiful, be highly learned, charitable, good-natured, be very strong, be famous, will possess abundant grains and riches, be endowed with truth and penance, will have long living sons, be honoured by all, will be a king, will have a distinguished profession and will be attached to his friends.

Notes: Gems, sons, wife, wealth, happiness and intellect are the effects attributed by Varaha Mihira and Gunakara in the context of Jupiter occupying Cancer.

If he is in the first, second, sixth or eighth Navamsas, various good effects due to his placement in Cancer will be full. If however, he occupies the seventh navamsa, i.e. being between 20° 1' and 23° 40' many good sides are eclipsed with Rajayogas becoming defunct. This statement is more specifically valid for signs Cancer, Libra and Aries if be ascendant.

If Mars joins Jupiter effectively, the benefic qualities of Jupiter are practically upset with Mars turning highly favourable. Similar is the case with others, viz., Saturn, Rahu and Ketu. In the combination with Sun, Mercury, Moon or Venus, Jupiter in Cancer does not lose his potency while both gain in the yoga.

The individual ascendants stand to reflect following effects as Jupiter occupies Cancer, his favourable sign:

Aries ascendant: Jupiter in the 4th in Cancer will give excellent results concerning the native's education, position etc. A great deal of paternal inheritance, particularly in the form of lands, will be granted by this placement. The native will be very lucky, long living, highly spiritual and be not much interested in sexual life. Opposed by Mars from Capricorn, Jupiter can make the person one of the best lot on the earth. Taurus ascendant: The subject will have a number of co-born. He will live long and be in a position to enjoy treasures or wealth left by others. This position can give large ears. The wife of the native may bring enormous wealth. Gemini ascendant: In Jupiter's dasa, there will be abnormal increase in wealth, fortune, female's wealth, position etc. If birth happens to be within two ghatis (i.e. 48 minutes) of midnight/midday in Gemini with 2nd having exalted Jupiter, the subject will have all paraphernalia akin to that of the richest. Cancer ascendant: This is an indication of the person enjoying abundant Poorva punya (merits of the past birth) and his soul may not be reborn, after the present birth. He will leave a mark of his own in spreading divine doctrines. If material planets like Venus are strong, there is more accent on worldly achievements. On the contrary if ultra-mundane planets like Saturn, Ketu etc., be pre-dominant, a great spiritual personage is denoted. Leo ascendant: As Jupiter has mixed trends for this ascendant, his occupation in the 12th is not jolly good for prosperity. However, it is not very undesirable as the native will have a moderate fortune to his credit. The longevity aspect will be unhurt. Virgo ascendant: If Jupiter simultaneously occupies his own Dasamsa (See p. 23, Vol. 1 of this edition), the native will have limitless professional prosperity and will enjoy an exemplary conjugal life. Libra ascendant: The native will maintain a decent and fortunate living. A sudden jolt in the form of a severe decline in profession will be experienced in Jupiter dasa in adverse sub periods. High learning, freedom from diseases, moderate riches etc., will follow the placement of Jupiter in exaltation in the 10th. Scorpio ascendant: An unafflicted and lonely Jupiter will indicate an aristocratic father. If Jupiter is spoilt by fallen Mars, the native is unhappy about father. Exaltation of Jupiter in the 9th house is a great boon for a female to be free from many misfortunes in married life. Male with this placement will enjoy allround prosperity. A significant feature of this planet's placement in a moveable sign is that the subject will be mostly on the move in the mission of his earning. Sagittarius ascendant: If the opening dasa be ruled by Jupiter, child mortality is severe. Otherwise, the native will be endowed with superior attributes, good learning, wealth etc.. There will be a major financial loss in adverse planetary periods. Capricorn ascendant: A co-born will be instrumental for the marriage of the native. Though the married life will be a happy one, if Venus is not powerful, the woman concerned will suffer diseases of the mind. Aquarius ascendant: Enjoyment of money will be through acquiring debts rather than earnings. Professional success will not be significant unless Mars occupies good divisions. If Saturn occupies Cancer along with Jupiter, then the said adversities are mitigated. Pisces ascendant: In our practical experience, we note that Jupiter in exaltation for a Pisces native throws some stigma in the matter of children. (Similarly in Pisces for a Scorpio native). From other points of view, this is a good placement, for example profession, health, father, fortunes, gains etc. A great deal of help will be given by the native to his elder brothers/sisters.

त्रिवशगुरो सिंहस्थे समस्तरोषोद्धृता रिपक्षश्च ।

सुदृढव्यस्तशरीरो गिरिवुर्गवनालये जातः ॥१०॥

9-10. JUPITER IN LEO: Should Jupiter be in Leo at the time of birth, the native will be lastingly inimical, be strong, courageous, will show abundant friendship, be learned, rich, will have eminent relatives, be a king, will have heroism akin to that of a king, will be recognisable in an assembly, will destroy the entire band of his enemies, will possess a strong physique and will live in hills, fortresses, forests and temples.

Notes: Varaha Mihira says that Jupiter in Leo will give same results as attributed by him for the planet's exaltation. An addition made by him is that Jupiter in Leo will give leadership too. So to say, to acquire unopposed leadership, Jupiter in Leo is better than the one in Cancer. This placement reveals in the native a bosom friend or a sworn enemy according to the disposition of Jupiter.

Jupiter in this royal sign, if well related, will confer fame, name and top positions in life. Right from youth, the subject will climb the ladder of success without slipping even a rung. Saturn's sign if be on the ascendant, particularly Capricorn, will not derive full benefits from Jupiter in Leo.

The effects by the placement of Jupiter in Leo will depend on the rising sign, as denoted below:

Aries ascendant: The native will suffer lack of progeny on account of parental curse. Even if children are born they will be an outlet of huge expenses. The good sides, however, are lasting fortune, praiseworthy habits, royal outlook and the like while the subject will be more after worldly pleasures. Taurus ascendant: The mother will suffer a diminished longevity. The native will face utter inimical situation in profession, earning etc. His longevity will be above 60 while it may be fatal during the 10th year. Gemini ascendant: The native will be liable to suffer at the hands of his furious wife. Many evils will crop up in boyhood. Cancer ascendant: Abundant evils will crop up in boyhood. Cancer ascendant: Abundant wealth, eloquent speech, religious studies, expounding grammar, logic etc., happy householdership and the like will follow Jupiter in Leo. If birth be in Saturn sub period or Mercury sub period in the dasa of Jupiter, the child may not survive. Leo ascendant: A great Rajayoga is formed provided the child passes its Jupiter dasa if it opens the life. The child, however, is free from evils after 12 even though the dasa in question may be yet to conclude. Plenty of male children, enjoyment of 'treasures below waters' etc., will come to pass. Virgo ascendant: Misfortunes will be prevalent in married life. If the Sun is simultaneously in fall, then these are still greater. Libra ascendant: According to one school of thought the native will be devoid of good morals which statement, however, lacks weight in it. Scorpio ascendant: The native will be blessed with deep knowledge in occult sciences and will create an epoch in related fields. He will be highly learned, will gain abundantly from governmental sources and will be free from diseases, enemies, litigations etc. Sagittarius ascendant: The subject will be endowed with noble attributes, fortunate father, virtuous children and charitability. Needless to mention, he will be extremely rich. Capricorn ascendant: Longevity will be minimum with Jupiter in the 8th in Leo, which can be improved with good Saturn or by Cancer position in Navamsa for Jupiter. Wealth and learning are somewhat strained though not totally. Aquarius ascendant: Only moderate good results will be experienced in marriage, money and gains. Pisces ascendant: A very undesirable placement if unhelpt by good planets. There will be pressure of debts, enemies, litigations etc. Longevity aspect will not be satisfactory and at the maximum, one may not live beyond 45.

11-12. JUPITER IN VIRGO: If Jupiter occupies Virgo at birth, one will be a scholar, be virtuous, be skilful in his work, be fond of scents, robes and flowers, will firmly gain in undertakings, will have rich experience in sastras and fine arts, be affluent, charitable, purehearted, skilful and wonderfully learned.

Notes: The native with Jupiter in Virgo will be highly learned and be a prominent educationalist. The virility of the native is somewhat paralysed in this sign. This position is not a very favourable augury for attaining wealth while it will not be altogether absent.

Following will reveal the performance of individual ascendants having Jupiter in Virgo:

Aries ascendant: The native will be unfortunate and be miserable. The success in profession may be limited. Some troubles out of debts will arise. Taurus ascendant: Limited progeny will be enjoyed by the native. Paternal inheritance, rich father, huge gains etc., follow this placement. During adverse bhuktis in Jupiter dasa there will be financial setbacks and losses. Gemini ascendant: The native will be happy in regard to mother, learning, marriage, profession etc.. If Mercury or Moon be in the 4th simultaneously, one will be highly learned. If Venus is simultaneously in fall as Jupiter is in Virgo in the 4th, the married life will be adverse and divorce, second marriage etc., may result. Cancer ascendant: Various kinds of diseases will be experienced by the co-born. The native will live a long span of life and be fortunate. Leo ascendant: Jupiter in this case may prove a killer. If the mutual major and sub periods of Jupiter/Saturn be in operation, it may turn critical. As Jupiter is in Virgo, the prime consideration is the Sun or Mars for the prosperity of a Leon. If the respective planets are bereft of good disposition, the native may not raise his head at all and will live an obscure life. Only a moderate satisfaction will be given by an independent Jupiter in respect of money and children, his prime indications. Dire penury will follow if Mercury is in Pisces as Jupiter is in Virgo. Virgo ascendant: A very prosperous Jupiter dasa, good fortune, long span of life and a happy wedding will come to pass. If Mercury is also in the ascendant, it is akin to gold acquiring fragrance. Libra ascendant: This is not a very advantageous position for Jupiter to be in Virgo in the 12th. There will be expenses for the sake of vanity. Throughout, there will be some disease or the other troubling the native. Education will be obstructed off and on. Scorpio ascendant: Plenty of wealth, wealth through enemies, acquisition of status for co-born, fortunate wife, happy married life etc., will emanate from Jupiter in Virgo in the 11th. Sagittarius ascendant: The native will have vast conveyances, ornaments etc., will enjoy high position and be very famous among his men. Progeny may be delayed to some extent. Large paternal inheritance will be had by the native. Capricorn ascendant: The native will lose his father in childhood. There is a likelihood of one's having a step-mother. As a child the native will be prone to diseases. Loss of children, limited children and learned children are denoted by Jupiter placed in Virgo. Aquarius ascendant: The native will lose everything and virtually be penniless at one stage. In the front of learning, one will be well placed. Pisces ascendant: If Jupiter is alone in the 7th in Virgo or with Mercury, marriage will be a happy one. Planets like Saturn, Sun, Mars etc., in company of Jupiter will cause an unpleasant marriage. Sometimes Jupiter alone in the 7th can cause death, for Pisces native.

13-14. JUPITER IN LIBRA: If Jupiter occupies Libra at birth, one will be a scholar, will have many sons, be endowed with foreign assignments, will be very affluent, interested in ornaments, modest, will earn money through dance and drama, be pleasing in appearance, be splendorous, learned in sastras, be superior among his colleague businessmen, will honour gods and guests and be very learned.

Notes: Jupiter (or Mercury or Venus) in Libra will bestow a high degree of latitude in business matters. (Capricorn ascending is advantageously placed with 10th house Jupiter for business success.) The native will make enviable financial status for himself, particularly through dance, drama, movies, music, traditional sciences etc. In this sign if Jupiter occupies the 22nd decanate while Pisces is ascending, he will not be a protector but literally be cruel in the matter of longevity.

How the various ascendants react with Jupiter in Libra may be known from the following:

Aries ascendant: The native will have a traditional and happy marriage. Major gains in business (or in employment) will be advantageously enjoyed. He will possess a very pleasing voice akin to that of a flemingo. If Jupiter is afflicted, diseases may torment the native and his life partner. Taurus ascendant: If Venus joins Jupiter in Libra, splendid results will accrue in many matters of importance. Singly Jupiter in the 6th will strain the fronts of enemies and diseases and will cause distress in married life. Gemini ascendant: One will enjoy abundant fortunes and a number of children particularly female progeny. If Jupiter is afflicted, there may be severe affliction to liver, spleen, abdomen, intestines etc., and diseases like jaundice, dropsy, indigestion, enlargement of spleen/liver etc., will show their existence. Cancer ascendant: Only mixed results will be felt in respect of mother, education etc.. If Venus or the Moon be not co-operative, then these aspects will trouble father. Jupiter in the 4th in Libra will, however, make some reasonable contribution to the longevity of the native. Leo ascendant: There may be some loss of brothers. If Jupiter dasa is past before obtaining progeny, the native may be happy in this respect. Otherwise, it will be somewhat distressing. Virgo ascendant: Plenty of money, wide success in profession etc., will come to pass but the subject is liable to suffer adversely because of debts. Marriage life will not be a happy one. High degree of learning is bestowed by this placement of Jupiter. Scorpio ascendant: Here again distress due to debts will be experienced while otherwise there will be excellent results revealed by Jupiter in the 12th in Libra. Sagittarius ascendant: Ancestral property, earning in fair ways, attachment to virtuous acts, freedom from planetary blemishes, enjoyment of vast paraphernalia etc., will result. Capricorn ascendant: A great deal of business success will be achieved. Yet the native should be cautious to avert a crisis in profession. Aquarius ascendant: The native will be very fortunate, wealthy and healthy. He will be happy in regard to children. Pisces ascendant: This is not a happy position for Jupiter to give good results in the matter of employment. Only ordinary effects will follow in many respects related to Jupiter, while dire poverty will torment the native.

15-16. JUPITER IN SCORPIO: Should Jupiter at the time of one's birth be in Scorpio, he will be expert in sastras, be a king, will be a commentator of many Bhashyas (i.e. a commentary which explains sutras word by word with comments of its own, for example, on Vedas), be skilful, will construct temples and towns, will have many wives but few sons, be troubled by diseases, will undergo many difficulties, be very fierce, be ostentatious in his performance, be virtuous and will indulge in contemptuous acts.

Notes: There will be mixed results by Jupiter's placement in Scorpio as denoted by the text. Diseases and distresses are also resultant as are wealth and knowledge. Still the native will be very learned, will become skilful in the subjects of his choice, be particularly successful in branches like Vedas etc. Modern fields of learning denote victorious space scientists, surgeons, bankers etc. From disease point of view, mostly venereal diseases, piles, failure of kidneys, obstructed blood circulation etc., will result.

The 12 different ascendants get various results as mentioned below with Jupiter remaining in Scorpio:

Aries ascendant: The main accent will be on diseases and difficulties while wealth will be very little. Misfortunes, distresses and displeasures will eclipse the life of the native. Longevity itself is severely liable to suffer. Taurus ascendant: The native will acquire a wife that may not be healthy. (With the joining of Mars the position slightly improves.) The native will himself be sickly. Financial success will, however, be significant. Limited number of children is indicated by this placement. Gemini ascendant: There will be Avayoga (impediment to prosperity), difficulties from enemies and debts, checkered career etc. Marriage will be quite delayed. Cancer ascendant: This placement may almost deny progeny. (If Mars is strong one child may be possible). A good Rajayoga is generated by Jupiter which will particularly fructify in his major period. If the Moon is simultaneously in Anuradha avoiding the 4th quarter, Jupiter will prove more efficacious and favourable. Leo ascendant: There will be allround good indications in matters relating to personal happiness, longevity etc. The sad part of this position of Jupiter is that the native will have mixed trends in livelihood. If Venus occupies the 10th, then extremely auspicious effects will come to pass in this regard. Virgo ascendant: Defects relating to throat, lungs etc., will come to surface which may even warrant severe surgical operations. The wife may inherit something very significant from her parents. Libra ascendant: Jupiter in the 2nd for this ascendant will not produce any significant Rajayoga but will increase debts and diseases, see Yogahtnamcha Runaroga vlvardhanam. As the lord of the 6th, monetary difficulties will always be there with the progress of the native declining. Scorpio ascendant: The native will suffer from diseases like hernia, swollen testicles etc.. Otherwise, Jupiter in this sign as ascendant will produce excellent results in the matter of progeny, wife, family etc. Sagittarius ascendant: Litigations, misfortunes, diseases, failure in educational pursuits etc., will result. Capricorn ascendant: The native will live a happy life and through fair means. Monetarily he will be a significant person. His attainments in the fields of learning will be worth their mention. Aquarius ascendant: One will be very famous and will pursue an independent profession. Subordination will not suit him to beget a happy meal. Financial attainments will be far too great. Pisces ascendant: Jupiter alone in the 9th will confer position of authority and high returns. An unparallel success will be achieved in the field of music, writing etc. Famous ENT specialists can be produced by Jupiter in the 9th in Scorpio.

17-18. JUPITER IN SAGITTARIUS: If Jupiter occupies Sagittarius at birth, one will be a preceptor, will conduct religious vows, initiations, sacrifices etc., will have lasting wealth, be charitable, be friendly to his own men, be fond of helping others, interested in sastras, be the head of a zone or a minister, will live in many countries, will prefer loneliness and be interested in visiting shrines.

Notes: Immense wealth and a very high status is indicated by expounders like Varaha Mihira and Gunakara for Jupiter's position in Sagittarius or in Pisces. Spiritual success, financial attainments, helpful tendency, liking for remaining aloof etc., will come to pass with Jupiter in Sagittarius. If Saturn joins, the ultra-mundane side will reveal itself effectively.

The undermentioned specific reactions will be made by the 12 ascendants in their turn as Jupiter occupies his own sign, Sagittarius:

Aries ascendant: The first opportunity of attaining good fortunes is grabbed by this ascendant. Its native will further have very famous and happy children and co-born while he will be free from diseases. Taurus ascendant: Even to this native, this planet will give a fair longevity, good monetary state following marriage and the like. The native will contribute huge sums to charitable institutions for public welfare. Gemini ascendant: There will be perfect harmony in married life with Jupiter in the 7th. The wife will be corpulent and beautiful, yet will suffer health defects at some stage. Cancer ascendant: Jupiter will only give ordinary results in his dasa. If Rahu gives company, there may be infliction of some killer-disease. Leo ascendant: Obtainment of progeny will be after a great deal of ordeals. And the progeny will however be endowed with long life. Virgo ascendant: One will be happy in regard to mother, conveyances, learning etc. Marriage will be early and fortunate. Long life and successful profession is denoted. Libra ascendant: The first half of Jupiter dasa will produce favourable results to be offset in the second half. Scorpio ascendant: The native will have attractive face, big teeth, big lips, big nose and thick eye-brows. He takes birth in a very affluent family and will not be aware of any kind of monetary difficulties till the end of his life. He will unfailingly have a long life, will be honoured by one and all and will be a successful man. Sagittarius ascendant: Here is a native with divine grace. There is a school of thought saying that the native will either seek relationship with other women or will marry twice. It is hard to reconcile that one with Jupiter in Sagittarius as ascendant will seek extramarital pleasures while two marriages are not ruled out depending however on Mercury and Venus. If one of them is simultaneously in unfavourable dual signs as Jupiter occupies the ascendant identical with Sagittarius, the native is obviously destined to go in for a second marriage. Capricorn ascendant: For this ascendant Jupiter turns auspicious if he occupies benefic divisions with at least six points in his Ashtakavarga. (See the principle in regard to Capricorn ascendant—Subhavargabalatryutah ashtakavargeth shadbindoradhikam labhet yadi). Thus if Jupiter in Sagittarius obtains six bindus in his ashtakavarga, he will prove extremely favourable and act as a yoga karaka Par excellence. Aquarius ascendant: If Jupiter being in the 11th in Sagittarius is simultaneously angular to the Moon, there prevails more than the Akhanda Samrajya Yoga conferring unhindered empire on the native. This yoga is operable right from 16 according to classical authorities. Pisces ascendant: This is a native with happiness, wealth, professional success etc. He will be free from diseases as well.

 मांगल्यदयाशौचस्वबन्धुवात्सल्यधर्मपरिहीनः ।
 दुर्बलवेहो भीरुः प्रवासशीलो विषादी च ॥२०॥

19-20. JUPITER IN CAPRICORN: Jupiter in Capricorn denotes that the native will be less virile, will experience much grief and difficulties, will be mean in conduct, be a dunce, will meet a bad end, will suffer from penury, will serve others, will be bereft of auspiciousness, mercy, purity, affection to his relatives and of religion, will have an emaciated body, be timid, interested in living in other countries and be depressed of spirits.

Notes: Varaha Mihira and Gunakara declare that Jupiter in Capricorn will give poverty, unhappiness and meanness. In fact posited in this sign, this divine planet is bereft of all its benevolence and golden splendour. Kalyana Varma has aptly described the evils of Jupiter's fall the summary of which is that the native will have nothing to feel happy in life. It is so unless other important planets are not auspicious and strong enough to cure the evils of Jupiter in question. Preferred and qualified planets in this context depend on the ascending sign. A powerful antidote is Saturn's placement in Libra or in Aquarius. This is not that frequent as the divine scheme of planetary transits will have it. Then is not the person with good Jupiter a blessed one?

I have cited a dictum in 'DOCTRINES FROM SUKA NADI' to say that if the 4th lord is in the 5th while the 8th is occupied by its own lord, the child of the native looks like a monkey or like a devil. Practically applied, this combination can give a very unsightly child. It may be futile to apply this rule to each and every case of a nativity where the 4th lord is in the 5th and 8th is occupied by its lord. Instead this can befittingly be referred to Virgo ascendant having Jupiter in the 5th (4th lord in 5th in fall) as Moon is in Aries. Or refer to a Sagittarius native whose 4th lord is Jupiter. If he is in the 5th while the Moon is in Cancer, the said defect can be noticed. As for other lagnas, I doubt the theory's direct applicability. In the two cases specified, Jupiter is himself in the house of progeny.

Now let us have a glance at the various ascendants having Jupiter in Capricorn, a sign of his dislike and discomfort:

Aries ascendant: Jupiter in fall in the 10th is a sign of great misfortune making one a synonym of miseries. As the lord of the 9th house, a key place in the nativity, the fall of Jupiter in another key house is very disastrous. There can be no happiness in many respects like fortune, money, profession, children, personal comforts, father etc. What else a human being needs other than these? So to say with the fall of Jupiter alone, the Aries radix loses all its charm and the life becomes worthless. Simultaneously the worst Navamsa is Capricorn (as Vargothama Neecha is further worse) and a little better Navamsa is Cancer/Aquarius for Jupiter. The other navamsas are moderate. Taurus ascendant: The native will have a short life, will lack paternal bliss, will be bereft of co-born and will wander aimlessly. Physical distress, undue expenses etc, will be experienced. Gemini ascendant: The immediate strain will be on longevity as well as money matters. Marriage will be wrecked with wife who will be mostly sickly. Peace in family will be a white elephant to such Geminian with Jupiter in the 8th. More often he will come in trouble in his professional life. Cancer ascendant: Severe and lasting diseases, sworn enemies, father that cannot fetch even a loaf of bread, physical and fiscal defects etc., will be experienced by the native. Leo ascendant: This native is somewhat better than the natives so far discussed under the previous four ascending signs. A Leon will still be hit by diseases and will suffer most of the weaknesses so far mentioned, but in a lesser degree. Virgo ascendant: We have already seen the applicability of a dictum from 'DOCTRINES FROM SUKA NADI'. In general, the native will lack intelligence, happiness from children and merits of the past birth. When Jupiter is in fall in the 5th (or in fall in the 9th) it should be understood that the native had indulged in some irreconcilable atrocity against a divine incarnation, religious institutions and the like. The act is reflected in the current birth in the form of Jupiter's dire fall in the 5th (or in the 9th) which will give various kinds of unbearable miseries. Libra ascendant: Early demise of mother, enmity with brothers, financial debacles, fall from vehicles etc., will come to pass. Scorpio ascendant: Jupiter in fall in the 3rd will make him liberal—as described by Ramanujacharya in his Bhavartha Ratnakara. Truly such a native will be very kind to other's difficulties and will be in readiness to sacrifice his possession for their relief. He may not have progeny at all. His married life will lack peace—an ingredient every householder looks forward to. Sagittarius ascendant: There will be unhappiness relating to children, own health and education. The face will resemble that of a crocodile (i.e. ugly) and the native is susceptible to premature fall of teeth. He will suffer a chequered career also. Capricorn ascendant: If Jupiter has Neechabhanga, the native will become very famous and rich. Otherwise simply Jupiter in this ascendant will generate all kinds of miseries particularly through brothers, friends, expenses etc. Aquarius ascendant: Financial and progenic defects will be severe for this native. Pisces ascendant: Same as for Sagittarius.

The degree of results so far stated will be more pronounced if Jupiter is in deep fall, that too in Capricorn Navamsa. In Aquarius Navamsa, he remains greatly amended. In other Navamsas, the effect will vary with scope for hope.

पिशुनो न साधुशीलः कुशित्यतोयाश्रमेषु कर्मरतः ।
 मुख्ये गणस्य सुतरां नीचामिरतो नृशंसश्च ॥२१॥

सुब्धो व्याधिग्रस्तः स्ववाक्यदोषेण नाशितार्थश्च ।

प्रज्ञादिगुणैर्हीनो घटे गुरौ स्याद्गुरुस्त्रोगः ॥२२॥

21-22. JUPITER IN AQUARIUS: If Jupiter falls in Aquarius at the time of birth, one will be a tale-bearer, be ill-disposed, interested in evil jobs, be chief among his racemen, be always attached to base men, be malicious, miserly, will suffer from diseases, will lose wealth on account of his own utterances, be devoid of intelligence and virtues and will violate elder's beds.

Notes: Jupiter in Aquarius is as benefic as he is in Cancer according to Varaha Mihira and Gunakara. Varaha Mihira has ably done away with one single phrase, whereas Kalyana Varma is definite and more specific in regard to results of Jupiter in Cancer and Aquarius. This is evident from what is discussed in the respective verses. Whereas in regard to Cancer, all good effects have been stated while for Aquarius some evils are also denoted by our author. Varaha Mihira gives general effects while Kalyana Varma deals with specific effects.

In practical experience, Jupiter in Aquarius is of course as good as the one in Cancer as far as the good attributes are related. Additionally Jupiter in Aquarius suffers the Saturnine stigma and troubles the native with diseases, malignant nature, self-made loss of wealth and a devil's lust to sleep with elderly women. As far as wealth aspect is concerned, Jupiter in Aquarius does prove helpful. To that extent Varaha Mihira is absolutely right. In fine, Jupiter is free from evils in Cancer while he will be somewhat adverse in Aquarius.

How the Aquarius placed Jupiter reacts for the 12 ascendants may be noted from the analysis infra:

Aries ascendant: With Jupiter in the 11th, there may not be any elder brother/sister born or be not alive if born. Major ear diseases, affliction to foot etc., will follow. Even a cardiac deformity can be noticed at one stage or other as the sign Aquarius is aptly called 'Hridroga' (heart disease). These hints are true only when Jupiter is adversely aspected. If well related, or if Saturn is strong, relief can be declared. Monetary gains will be plenty for this native though there are chances of huge expenses. In the dasa of Jupiter, only mixed effects will follow, as this is Badhaka-sthana for Aries ascending. Taurus ascendant: Such a person will like an independant mode of living than subordination. A strong Jupiter in the 10th can make one a politician, a lawyer, a doctor and the like. Money will flow to him uninterruptedly. There is a chance of obtaining a lame child. Gemini ascendant: The longevity aspect will reveal itself well if Mercury is well placed. Otherwise a lone Jupiter contributes to a medium span of life. The native will take to noble profession and become famous. Cancer ascendant: There will be miseries galore in the life of the native. He will lack paternal happiness, physical comforts, fortunes etc. He will acquire a wife who will be reckless in money matters and torment the native with unusual expenses. Leo ascendant: Marital harmony will not be there with even the marriage getting abnormally delayed. Children will be disobedient and shortlived. Virgo ascendant: The wife will enjoy good health. She will be mean-minded and will rage even at the slightest shortcoming. Monetary losses will be prevalent on her account. Professional hurdles will frequently disturb the peace of mind of the native. Libra ascendant: He is a bad sufferer in respect of children. They will be very unhealthy and will cause miseries to the native. The person himself is apt to risks of severe dental problems, abdominal diseases and affliction to major limbs on right side. Scorpio ascendant: Abundant landed property, education, fame through high occupation, judicial achievements etc., will come to pass. If in the said placement, the navamsa positions of the ascendant and Jupiter respectively fall in Libra and Capricorn, severe heart problems will fructify. Sagittarius ascendant: There will be enjoyment of fortunes and pleasures. If Rahu joins Jupiter in the 3rd, disorders of throat, lung, brain etc., will come to pass. Capricorn ascendant: One will be a successful householder, be wealthy and prosperous. The degree of wealth and prosperity will however depend on Mars and Venus. Aquarius ascendant: There will be mixed results in regard to wealth while the adverse effects state in the two slokas under comment will significantly come to mature. Pisces ascendant: The native will not live a happy and worthy life.

वेदार्थशास्त्रवेत्ता सुहृदां पूज्यः सतां च नृपनेता ।

श्लाघ्यः सधनोऽधृष्यो ह्यहीनदर्पस्थिरारम्भः ॥२३॥

राज्ञः सुनीतिशिक्षाव्यवहाररणप्रयोगवेत्ता च ।

ख्यातः प्रशान्तचेष्टी मीनयुगे भवति ना जीवे ॥२४॥

23-24. JUPITER IN PISCES: If Jupiter is in Pisces at birth, one will be expert in knowing the meanings of Vedas and other Sastras, will be honoured by friends and virtuous people, will be a headsman in the king's employ, be praise-worthy, unconquerable, rich, devoid of fear, be proud, firm in undertakings, be a king, be skilful in policies, training, behaviour and war tactics, be famous and will be calm in his doings.

Notes: The good effects to be given by Jupiter in Pisces will be comparatively lesser than the ones for his Sagittarius placement as the latter happens to be his Moolatrikona Rasi as well. In the 7th Navamsa of Pisces, i.e. debilitation Navamsa, the benefic disposition of Jupiter is far less.

How the various ascendants stand to gain or lose with Jupiter in Pisces may be seen from the following paragraph:

Aries ascendant: Long life, good health, auspicious acts in the family etc., are indicated. The dasa of Jupiter will give moderate results. Taurus ascendant: He will be an exponent of scriptures or a famous writer. Gemini ascendant: Abundant monetary gains, happy profession, fortune, learning, broadmindedness etc., will come into effect. Cancer ascendant: An exceedingly long living father leaving behind a large fortune is indicated. If Jupiter is devoid of malefic aspects, he will bestow great strength on the nativity. Leo ascendant: Long life to the native and high learning to children are denoted. The native himself will leave behind a vast landed property for his children. As afflicted Jupiter may cause heavy financial losses. Virgo ascendant: A chaste, beautiful and stout wife is granted by this placement. The post-marital life will be very happy. There may not be much children. Libra ascendant: Swelling in body, financial gains to a moderate extent, financial losses, moderate living etc., will follow this position of Jupiter. The native will be in distress due to debts. Scorpio ascendant: There may be snags in regard to progeny though Jupiter is in own house. There will be in some cases a chance of no progeny at all. The native will be very intelligent and prosperous. His fortunes will be through government, justice, involvement in public life and the like. Sagittarius ascendant: If Jupiter falls in Leo Navamsa along with the ascendant, there will be serious heart problems, drying of blood, damage to bones, and loss of vision at an early age. Otherwise, Jupiter in the 4th in Pisces will increase the longevity of the native and will keep him generally happy. Capricorn ascendant: One is apt to achieve success in spiritual, religious and other similar fields. If Saturn joins in the 3rd, Jupiter in Pisces can make a Capricorn native to take to religious order giving up his mundane involvements. Aquarius ascendant: There will be huge monetary gains, a good span of life, great honour and freedom from diseases. If Rahu joins Jupiter in the 2nd with Mars/Saturn relegated to Virgo, the person will indulge in such illegal acts to earn money, viz., smuggling, black-marketing etc., Pisces ascendant: The native will be endowed with fame, learning, strength, happiness etc. A person fortunate in various sectors is thus born with Jupiter in ascendant in Pisces.

25-30. JUPITER IN ARIES/SCORPIO IN ASPECT TO OTHERS: If Jupiter occupies Aries/Scorpio at birth and is aspected by the Sun, the native will be charitable, will be truthful, will have famous sons, be very fortunate and will have abundant hair on the body. If the Moon aspects the said Jupiter, he will be a historical and poetical writer, will be endowed with many precious stones, be dear to women, be a king and be highly learned. If Mars lends his aspect to the said Jupiter, one is of royal scion, will be valorous, fierce, endowed with knowledge of politics, be modest, affluent, and will have a disobedient wife and disobedient servants. Mercury aspecting Jupiter as above denotes that the native will be a liar, be crafty, sinful, will be skilful in detecting other's defects, will serve others, be grateful, be modest, and be not outspoken. If Venus aspects Jupiter as posited above, one will be very happy in respect of residences, sleeping comforts, robes, scents, garlands, ornaments and wife and be very timid. If Saturn be the aspecting planet, the subject will be dirty, miserly, sharp, adventurous, amiable, famous and will not have lasting children and friendship.

Notes: As per standard rules of aspects the Sun has only the 7th aspect. Hence he can aspect the Aries placed Jupiter only from Libra, i.e. the sign of fall for the Sun. Yet there may be good effects like having a famous son, being fortunate etc. It is but right to conclude that these good effects will manifest fully in the Sun's dasa for ascendants like Leo, Cancer, Sagittarius, Scorpio and Pisces, to wit, the ascendants for which generally both these planets are favourable. In the dasa of Jupiter the degree of these effects will be less in comparison. In the process if the Sun falls in Aries Navamsa simultaneously, the good effects may be felt pronouncedly corresponding to their strengths in both the dasas. The Moon's aspect on Jupiter placed in Aries may be a favourable planetary acquisition for lecturers/teachers connected with poetry and history, such researchers, such writers and criminologists. If the vargas of tenth house prevail effectively, then these results will be sure to follow advantageously. The aspect of Mars on Jupiter in Aries is a good augury for proficiency in politics, policy-making or justice. Mars can aspect in this connection from Capricorn (his exaltation sign), Virgo and Libra. A puissant aspect from Capricorn is capable of giving much more than stated, viz., position as a senior judge, head of inquiry commissions, head of steel/gold mines and the like. When aspecting from Capricorn Mars takes full advantages of Saturn's bright indications. The aspect from Libra is less effective followed by that of Virgo. If the Libra aspect, Libra happens to ascend, then there will be a certainty of the person going mad. In the case of aspect from Virgo, good results like good fortune, wealth etc., will follow if both the planets own good houses. Even with the good results, one can be a liar, be crafty, will involve in illegal acts, fault others, face occasional debacles and the like. For, these effects are not mutually irrelevant. The aspect of Venus from Libra is a sign of great fortune while that of Saturn in exaltation is far superior. Yet the text attributes malefic effects for Saturn's aspect. Obviously, there is some evil in regard to progeny. That far and not more.

Jupiter posited in Scorpio and in aspect to the various planets will not be comparatively beneficial and it may be inferred that good results will mature in a significant way only when Jupiter is in Aries and be aspected etc.

31-36. JUPITER IN TAURUS/LIBRA IN ASPECT TO OTHERS: If Jupiter occupies a house of Venus at birth and is aspected by the Sun, one will be endowed with attendants and quadrupeds, will wander verily, will have a long body, be learned and be a king's minister. If the Moon be the aspecting planet, he will be abundantly rich, be very calm, sweet, be dear to mother and wife, and will enjoy much pleasures. If Mars be the aspecting planet, he will be dear to the fair sex, be learned, courageous, affluent, happy, and be of royal scion. If Mercury be the aspecting planet, he will be learned, skillful, sweet, fortunate, endowed with riches, be highly virtuous, and be splendorous. If Venus aspects Jupiter as above, he will be very attractive, affluent, will wear excellent ornaments, be merciful and will enjoy excellent sleeping comforts and excellent robes. Should Saturn aspect the said Jupiter, he will be a scholar, will be endowed with abundant wealth and corns, be excellent among the people of his village/town, be dirty, ugly, and be devoid of wife.

Notes: If Jupiter is in Taurus (a sign denoting bull) the aspect of Sun will prove favourable for having quadrupeds and related business. In Libra placement, the chances are lesser. The good effects stated for lunar aspect on Jupiter in a Venusian sign will manifest more when the aspect is from Aries rather than from Scorpio, an inconvenient sign for the Moon. There may be good effects relating to Neechabhanga Rajayoga, but this is limited to Moon's dasa only, whereas Jupiter's dasa will be compensatingly adverse. When Mars aspects a planet in Libra or Taurus the person may give too much of importance to matters relating to sex and such satisfaction remains a hobby and routine for him. (Similar is Venusian aspect on Aries or Scorpio.) In our present discussion the aspected planet being Jupiter, a virtuous planet, sexual instinct may be more by Mars aspecting, but the native will have a code of conduct. To wit, he cannot go out of the way. Richness, happiness, royal disposition etc., are inherent conceptions of this aspect of Mars on Jupiter in Libra/Taurus. Since Jupiter can be aspected by Mercury in the present case only from a house of Mars, the disposition of the native will be less satwic. So, the attribute of 'highly virtuous' may not always manifest unless Jupiter is exceptionally strong to subdue Mercury. Riches, fortunes, skill, learning etc., of course will be at the disposal of the native. The aspect of Venus on Jupiter in the former's sign will make him more given to vanity and false pride. Such a native will be highly opulent and be endowed with all paraphernalia. Saturn's aspect from Aries to Libra may not give a high degree of wealth but the evil effects stated. If the aspect is from Capricorn to Libra then the person will not only be very rich but will make money for generations. Irrespective of the place, in a sign of Venus, Jupiter being aspected by Saturn seems to give distress in marriage.

37-42. JUPITER IN MERCURY'S HOUSE AND IN ASPECT TO OTHERS: If Jupiter occupies Gemini/Virgo and is aspected by the Sun at birth, one will be great, important in his village be a householder and will be endowed with wife, sons and money. If by the Moon, he will be affluent, dear to mother, fortunate, happy, will have wife and sons and be uncomparable. If by Mars, one will be easily successful at all times, be ugly, rich and be amiable to all. If by Mercury, one will be a skillful astrologer, will have many children and wives, and will be exponent of many aphorisms and precepts and speak with great excellence of many aphorisms and precepts. If by Venus, he will undertake acts of temple construction, will visit prostitutes and will win women's hearts. If by Saturn, he will be the head of a group, State or village and be beautiful.

Notes: The aspect of the Sun and the Moon individually on Jupiter in a house of Mercury is essentially good for mundane riches. Mars aspecting Jupiter in Virgo from Aquarius will prove very detrimental for the progeny of the native, particularly when the ascendant is Libra. Mercury's aspect on Jupiter either in Gemini or even in Virgo is a good possession for success in occult studies. One will perform highly religious deeds if Venus aspects Jupiter in Gemini. If Jupiter is placed in Virgo and be in aspect to exalted Venus, the tendency of liasing with whores will not be predominant in the native. The native may be inclined to such acts but will not be in a position to convert his thoughts in practical act. Saturn's aspect on Jupiter in a house of Mercury will bestow leadership depending on strengths.

43-48. JUPITER IN CANCER IN ASPECT TO OTHERS:

If Jupiter occupies Cancer at birth and is aspected by the Sun, the native will be famous, be ahead of others, and will (in the beginning) be devoid of happiness, wealth and wife all of which will be acquired by him later. If by the Moon, the native will be very rich, splendorous, be a king, will enjoy abundant wealth and conveyances, and will have excellent wife and sons. If by Mars, one will marry in the boyhood itself, will be endowed with gold and ornaments, be learned, valorous and will have a wounded physique. If by Mercury, one will be endowed with relatives and friends, be rich, will promote quarrels, be bereft of sins, be a minister and be trustworthy. If by Venus, one will have many wives, extraordinary riches, various ornaments, be happy and fortunate. If by Saturn, one will be important in his village or in the army or in his town, be talkative, be very affluent, garrulous and will enjoy pleasures in old age.

Notes: The aspect of the Sun on the exalted Jupiter from Capricorn will delay marriage and begetting children. The Moon's aspect, being that of the dispositor, will give immediate and better results than that by the Sun. (It not only applies to Jupiter but to any planet that is exalted and is aspected by its dispositor. This one single combination is enough to lead a successful and happy life in many respects.) The aspect of Mars on exalted Jupiter from Sagittarius, Aries or Capricorn is superior in ascending order. Mercury, Venus or Saturn aspecting an exalted Jupiter will give unfailingly good effects but these are only secondary in degree as compared to the luminaries and Mars.

49-54. JUPITER IN LEO ASPECTED BY OTHERS: If at birth Jupiter be in Leo and be aspected by the Sun, one will be dear to good men, be famous, be a king, be extremely affluent, and virtuous. If by the Moon, he will be very beautiful, dirty, will be very rich through the fortunes of his wife and will conquer his Five Senses. If by Mars, he will honour elders at all times, will perform distinguished acts, be very skilful, pure, adventurous and cruel. If by Mercury, he will have knowledge of civil works of building construction, will be endowed with profane knowledge, be virtuous, be a sweet-speaker, be a minister and be highly learned. If by Venus, he will be dear to females, be fortunate, will receive royal honours and be very strong. If by Saturn, one will be garrulous, be an eloquent speaker, be devoid of happiness, be sharp and will have mean children and mean wife.

Notes: Jupiter in Leo in aspect to others except Saturn gives wealth and fortune. When Saturn aspects Jupiter in Leo from Aquarius, indeed good results should come in this regard. But as far as children are concerned, Jupiter in Leo is not very favourable and these aspects will be helpful, only when strong planets do aspect. Saturn's aspect is a great defect representing progeny.

55-60. JUPITER IN OWN HOUSE AND IN ASPECT TO OTHERS: If Jupiter is posited in Sagittarius/Pisces at birth and is aspected by the Sun, the native will be inimical to the king and will be miserable being bereft of wealth and relatives. If by the Moon, he will enjoy many kinds of happiness, be very fortunate in respect of wife and will have the pride of honour, wealth and possessions. If by Mars, one will be injured in war, be cruel, will cause torture, will harm others, and will lose children. If by Mercury, he will be a minister or a king, will be happy with wealth, fortunes and progeny and will enjoy all kinds of delightments. If by Venus, he will be happy, learned, be devoted of blemishes, be long-lived, fortunate and will be blessed by Goddess Lakshmi. If by Saturn, he will be dirty, will be fear-stricken, be neglected by the people of his village / town and be devoid of happiness, pleasures and virtues.

Notes: The aspect of the Sun on Jupiter in Sagittarius or in Pisces is not congenial for having a satisfactory relationship with government, and relatives in the family circle. Wealth will be limited or will diminish in this aspect, particularly for Virgo Lagna with Sun in it and Jupiter in opposition. The aspect of Mars will cause injury due to falls, quarrels, fire etc. Saturn's aspect will deprive one of honour and will torment him with fear.

61-66. JUPITER IN A HOUSE OF SATURN IN ASPECT TO OTHERS: If Jupiter is in a house of Saturn at birth and is aspected by the Sun, one will be learned, be a king, be rich by birth, will enjoy various kinds of pleasures and be very courageous. If by the Moon, he will be devoted to his parents, be superior by birth, be learned, rich, virtuous and very charitable. If by Mars, one will be valorous, be an army chief with the king, splendorous, well-dressed, famous and honoured. If by Mercury, one will be highly libidinous, important among his folk, rich by conveyances and wealth, famous and will have many friends. If by Venus, he will be endowed with food, drinks, excellent residence, sleeping comforts, wealth, conveyances, excellent wife, ornaments and robes. If by Saturn, he will be endowed with uncomparable learning, be supreme, be a king of his country, be rich with attendants and quadrupeds and will enjoy pleasures.

Notes: If Jupiter in Aquarius is in aspect to the Sun in good bhavas, then the richness will be right from birth. Otherwise, it may be later on but essentially father will be an instrument in acquisition of wealth. Conversely Jupiter in Capricorn versus Saturn in Cancer is supreme while Jupiter-Saturn alignment in Aquarius-Leo is of less efficacy and less beneficial.

1-2. VENUS IN ARIES: Should Venus be in Aries at birth, one will be night-blind, will have many blemishes, be inimical, will join other housewives, will visit whores, will move in forests and hills, will be imprisoned on account of women, base, hard in disposition, be an army chief or chief of men, be not reliable and be eminent.

Notes: Venus in a sign of Mars will make one a disgrace to the family, take to unethical means to satisfy his lust for sexual pleasure and be poor. That is how Varaha Mihira and Gunakara describe Venus in Aries/Scorpio.

Venus in Aries will reduce the strength of sight early. Even in prime youth, one will suffer night-blindness. In the matter of sexual satisfaction, the person will not govern himself by any moral standards. With a well-disposed Venus, there will be acquisition of landed property, conveyances, ornaments etc. An ill-disposed Venus may land one in confinement.

Remaining in Aries, what is the behaviour of Venus when individual ascendants are considered? See the following:

Aries ascendant: The person will be very beautiful, soft, learned, joyous and sensuous. He will be gifted with the ability of a poet and with tastes for fine arts etc. He will be weak-sighted and may even be blind by birth if Saturn effectively gives company. Venus singly can prove a maraka in his dasa bhuktis while he may ward off such defects in the dasas of other planets. Taurus ascendant: He will be ordinarily wealthy, will have a happy marriage and will incur debts on account of auspicious functions in the family. If Mercury joins him there will be moderate riches and if Jupiter joins both in the 12th, the Taurus native will be very opulent. Gemini ascendant: This placement will give abundant wealth, coupled with some financial downfall, and sick children. The elder child will be particularly prone to hurt by fire, chemicals, violent animals etc., while other children will be less prone. Cancer ascendant: Venus in Aries ensures a famous position in society. The native will enjoy abundant money in business of his own. If Mars is in fall simultaneously in the ascendant, then it portends severe and early evils to mother. Leo ascendant: The occupation of Venus in Aries will cause the father to have extra-marital relationship. If Venus occupies Virgo Navamsa in the process, it denotes loss of children. The native may even suffer from disorders related to breathing. Virgo ascendant: While the native's family may be large, he will suffer from acute penury or financial losses. He may lose his father early. Libra ascendant: The native will have a wife with short-life unless Mars (ruling the 8th from the 7th) is strong. The married life will be generally happy. Scorpio ascendant: He will suffer irreparable damage through venereal diseases. Consequently, a major organ will develop serious malfunctions. His wife will be sick. In other matters, Venus will be auspicious. Sagittarius ascendant: There may be a birth of child to trouble the native's wife with major surgical operation. They may however be happy in regard to progeny in general. In a female's chart, this placement of Venus will cause burning sensation in the vagina and some other vaginal diseases. Venus in Aries gives the native (whether a female or a male) a tendency to be libidinous. Capricorn ascendant: Aries is a very excellent placement for Venus to confer all sorts of benefic results relating to learning, profession, conveyances, wealth etc. Aquarius ascendant: He will depend on his sisters for livelihood. A strong Venus will however confer some paternal help/inheritance. Pisces ascendant: Though acquisition of wealth may be considerable, one may be in troubled waters on account of severe losses. He may have a peculiar voice.

3-4. VENUS IN TAURUS: Should Venus at birth be in Taurus, one will be endowed with many wives and gems, be an agriculturist, will possess scents, garlands and robes, will live on account of cows, be charitable, will maintain his relatives, will have good appearance, will be learned in many branches, will give away many things, will help the living beings and be a principal person.

Notes: One will be valorous, will earn out of his intelligence, be honoured by the king, be famous and will be endowed with relatives. This is what Varaha Mihira and Gunakara declare, in connection with Venus occupying Taurus or Libra.

The native with Venus in Taurus will generally have association with many females. This is true when the planet applies badly to bad planets or remains severely afflicted. Otherwise, one may only be very sensuous but be normally within the limits. The Taurus-placed Venus will confer all the required domestic articles and possessions of a householder. There may be gain in pursuits like farming, breeding quadrupeds, running dairies, veterinary clinics etc. Generally the native will tend to help others with whatever he has and will become a jewel of his clan. This placement is further capable of obstructing secondary afflictions to sight if not the major ones by the luminaries. To wit, some minor eye diseases can be easily cured with Venus in Taurus while major faults of the sight cannot be.

Taurus holding Venus holds the undermentioned effects for the individual signs of the zodiac ascending.

Aries ascendant: Abundant wealth, beautiful face, affliction to longevity of the native as well as his wife, acquisition of underground wealth and wealth through females are resultant out of Venus in Taurus. Taurus ascendant: Though the native may be generally healthy throughout, he will be susceptible to urinary diseases, venereal diseases, vision defects of minor grade, wounds on the head and the like. He will obtain good results due to Malavya Yoga. Gemini ascendant: The native will enjoy a fortunate life through marriage. He will flourish in business particularly like real estate, automobile, beauty parlour, cinema etc. However, at one stage, all his earnings or a lion's share thereof will be spent away on charitable or auspicious deeds. Progeny may be delayed unless Jupiter is wellplaced. Cancer ascendant: He will have maternal and monetary gains. However, his Venus dasa will give ordinary results though a text states that Venus dasa for this native will be very good. Leo ascendant: Venus will mix the life of the native with happiness and miseries. Virgo ascendant: Family property will be enjoyed more by the coborn than by the native. He will however be rich and happy. Libra ascendant: Though Venus can give good effects in general, his dasa will inflict many troubles equal to death. While making this statement, I have not lost sight of the principle that the ascendant lord becoming the 8th lord as well will not be inauspicious. I lay more weight on the strength of the principle that a planet becomes necessarily evil when he is illplaced being Lagna Lord. This is my conviction against the dual lordship stated above. If however Venus enjoys good Shadbala, good aspects and the like these evil effects will vanish and good effects will come to pass. Scorpio ascendant: His marriage may be beneficial in general context but his conjugal partner will be prone to sickness. His Venus dasa may trouble him much. Sagittarius ascendant:

The native may be free from sickness, debts etc., but will lose quite often in financial matters. He is generally immune to diseases but if other planets are qualified to bring forth sickness, it will be in the form of anaemia, sexual insufficiencies, venereal diseases, urinary ones, frequent dream discharges, troubles from ghosts (and consequent mental diseases) and crookedness of walking limbs. Capricorn ascendant: Venus in the 5th in Taurus will give huge financial benefits, high intelligence, number of female children, career sans troubles, happy marriage etc., But in Venus dasa during adverse bhuktis downfall, difficulties and distress may show their heads. Aquarius ascendant: Parental happiness, auspicious functions, conveyances, learning, early marriage etc., will come to pass. Pisces ascendant: Long life is conferred on the native who will however lack paternal bliss.

5-6. VENUS IN GEMINI: Should Venus occupy Gemini at birth, one will be famous in sciences and sastras, be beautiful, libidinous, be skilful in writing and in poetry, be dear to good people, will derive wealth through music and dances, will have many friends, will honour gods and brahmins and be firm in friendship.

Notes: If Venus is in Gemini at birth, one will be rich skilful in arts and will carry out royal orders according to Varaha Mihira and Gunakara.

A very notable character of Venus in Gemini if afflicted is a second marriage. Generally Venus in this sign will make one suffer from artheritis, lung disorders, nervous breakdown, fall from height etc. Favourable characters of Venus in this sign are: Intelligence, love for poetry, writing, decorative articles, divine worship, musical instruments etc. To wit a strong Venus in Gemini will give these qualities and liking for these articles.

When the horoscope reveals with Venus in Gemini in the case of individual signs ascending may be understood as under:

Aries ascendant: If the Ashtaka Varga bindus are less in Gemini, Venus may inflict early death on co-born—particularly sisters. Venus in this sign can give a mellifluous voice and confer legendary success in fields related to music, drama, cinema etc. The native's fortunes are hindered occasionally. Taurus ascendant: Conferring great monetary gains cannot be looked upto Venus alone. Normally wealth will be limited with Venus in Gemini. In the dasa of Venus there will be beneficial effects in the beginning followed by inimical activities, diseases and debts in the later part. Gemini ascendant: The native will be short (or of moderate height), attractive, intelligent, long living and will enjoy worldly pleasures to the full. He will become a poet, a writer etc. He will have moles on the face which may add to his beauty. Cancer ascendant: The native's happiness will be limited and the mother may be subjected to difficulties in her personal life. He will enjoy a smooth and prosperous married life. Leo ascendant: There will be huge monetary gains. Professionally the native will be well-placed. He will obtain happy progeny. Virgo ascendant: Financial gains will be abundant. But for rare fall, professional happiness will prevail throughout. An earning wife is denoted through Venus in the 10th. Libra ascendant: There will be only mixed effects in Venus dasa. Generally Venus in the 9th denotes a second wife for a Libran. If Mars occupies the 10th, this effect is doubly confirmed. Scorpio ascendant: Married life will be most unpleasant and the marriage itself will be at a very late age. The native will attach himself to girls selling their flesh. Venereal diseases will be a daily affair in his life. His life itself will remain out short in span. He will spend away whatever he will earn. He will be susceptible to acute sight defects. Sagittarius ascendant: In this case the married life will be somewhat peaceful; yet the native will have to pay a heavy price for his wife's health who will be tormented by diseases like consumption, asthma and dysentery. She will find no borders for lavishness. Capricorn ascendant: Though Venus will be auspicious in regard to marriage of the native, the native will have troubles arising out of family properties. He will suffer from burden of heavy debts. A decent monetary flow is not ruled out. Aquarius ascendant: The subject will be endowed with fortunes, happiness, learning, paternal bliss, progenic bliss, merits of the past birth and association with entertainments. The number of children will remain very limited. Pisces ascendant: His mother will be of short life span. He will sometimes suffer from serious miseries but be generally happy. His co-born will make huge riches.

7-8. VENUS IN CANCER: If Venus occupies Cancer at the time of one's birth, he will be wise, virtuous, learned, strong, soft, chief among men, will have desired happiness and wealth, be good-looking, just, very much troubles on account of women and wine and will be miserable with family troubles.

Notes: If Venus occupies Cancer at birth, the native will have two wives, be timid, will seek help or beg from others, be greatly arrogant and will suffer miseries according to Brihat Jataka and Hora Makaranda.

If the Moon is with diminishing rays, then Venus in Cancer will aptly give two marriages. The Moon being full will mend Venus and the said adverse result will disappear and the native will have only one marriage. Coming to what Kalyana Varma says independent of the above two authorities, one will be wealthy, learned, will achieve the happiness and wealth he will aim at and be famous. These effects are not contradictory to what Varaha Mihira states. The indication of 'misery' by Varaha Mihira has been more specifically put as troubles on account of women, wine and in family matters. Venus rules women, wine and also family—family through marriage—and his placement in Cancer denotes troubles through these sources. As stated earlier by me, these bad effects depend on Moon also and her Paksha Bala etc.. are to be reckoned with. These adversities are more referred to Aries and Virgo natives.

What is the role of Venus in Cancer for the different ascendants? See the following explanations:

Aries ascendant: The family life will not be a happy one. He will be addicted to intoxicants etc. If Mars is in fall at the same time and be in effective orbs with Venus, dual marriage or a concubine will result. Taurus ascendant: Blood diseases, mental affliction etc. will trouble the co-born. The native will have a number of sisters. He will be fortunate and wealthy depending on the phases of the Moon. (If Venus is conjunct Moon, digital evaluation of the Moon need not be done as Venus will automatically become auspicious in Samagama). Gemini ascendant: He will attain financial success but will spend on evil accounts. If the Moon falls in the process of Scorpio Navamsa he will be troubled by poisonous creatures. Leo ascendant: In this specific case, his marriage life will be happy. Professional debacles will be however experienced by the native. There will be mixed results in regard to wealth and general happiness. If Rahu, Ketu, Saturn or Mars join Venus in the 12th, a co-born is liable to death by drowning. Virgo ascendant: Even with slight affliction to the Moon, there will come to pass a remarriage. Family displeasures, association with courtezans, gambling, drinking wine and the like, wasting diseases will mark the native. Libra ascendant: There will be fame and wealth through agriculture, in literacy fields and through precious stones. Scorpio ascendant: He will be a significant person in his race, be wealthy and fortunate. Sagittarius ascendant: He will be a wretch in marriage. Monetarily he will gain through or after marriage.

His family will be a scene of violent events. Capricorn ascendant: This is a very favourable placement for Venus to bestow all kinds of happiness, wealth, joyous family and a high degree of learning. Landed property will be abundant. The native will be a notable personage in at least more than one field. Aquarius ascendant: Venereal diseases, financial losses, ill-health to mother, decline in fortune and the like will result. He will be troubled by unending debts. Pisces ascendant: There will be loss of children, particularly female ones. Sometimes, with severely afflicted Venus, there may be no progeny at all.

9-10. VENUS IN LEO: If Venus occupies Leo at birth, the native will respect women, will enjoy wealth and happiness, will have less virility, be dear to relatives, be miserable inspite of his happiness, will help others, will respect brahmins, elders and preceptors, and will be devoid of much discrimination.

Notes: Both Varaha Mihira and Gunakara state that Venus in Leo will give wealth through females, a beautiful wife and a few sons (only). 'Mandatanayah' and 'Alpath-majah' are the respective expressions in the versions of Varaha and Gunakara denoting limited sons—limited children rather. That is why Kalyana Varma's "Laghusatwa" has been interpreted by me as the native having less virile power. The sign Leo itself is known as Alpaputra Rasi, i.e. capable of limiting progeny. It is a fiery sign and hence is capable of burying the virile power if Venus (semen) or Jupiter (progeny) occupy this sign. Otherwise 'Laghusatwa' can be interpreted as the person having not much physical strength etc. Be it clear that physical strength and progenic ability are two distinct possessions.

'Upasana' has a meaning 'respect'. As this word befits the context, accordingly 'yuvatijanopasanako' has been rendered as 'respecting women'.

Venus in Leo is capable of causing premature seminal discharge, eye ailments and burning sensation of the private organs.

The individual ascendants with Venus constantly in Leo will stand to act as under:

Aries ascendant: In the 5th, this planet is considered auspicious according to some authorities. While this cannot be wholly denied, a fear of this planet causing marital disharmony is to be had. Not only will progeny be limited, but also the children will be a source of displeasure to the native. If Venus is combust both the marriage and progeny are reduced to ashes. Venus alone in the 5th is liable to cause abdominal disorders. Taurus ascendant: He will be skilful in Sanskrit language. The mother of the native will lack good health. He will enjoy good position and financial attainments. Gemini ascendant: Disorders of respiratory organs, digestive insufficiencies and general swellings will be experienced by the native. If the Sun does not join, he can pursue music and the like. Cancer ascendant: Monetary gains, blindness or defects of sight, destruction of the family and fear from poison/fire these effects will come to pass. Leo ascendant: The native will have a happy marriage and will enjoy very friendly terms with his life-partner. He will be attractive, intelligent, liberal and spendthrift. He will be chief among his folk and be famous. If Mercury joins he will aptly receive honours, titles etc. Virgo ascendant: Burden of expenses, positional fall, perennial wants and lack of peace will come into effect. Libra ascendant: A person with a high degree of intelligence capable of encashing all possible influence from government sources as well as from person in position is denoted. A mole or scar on the ear/s may be noted. Scorpio ascendant: Venus sheds his malefic tendencies born out of the 12th lordship if Mars joins him in Leo. In such case the native will be very famous, wealthy and prosperous. Venus alone in Leo will give a short-tempered wife (this is so even when with Mars), checkered position and association with religious activities. Sagittarius ascendant: Paternal gains, affliction to elder sister/brother, timidity, ear diseases etc., will come to pass. Capricorn ascendant: A very important planet for this ascendant going to the 8th house if left alone will mar the horoscope. There will be everlasting penury and unhappiness. Aquarius ascendant: He will acquire an amicable, chaste and beautiful wife who will be an instrument in his prosperity. He will be immoral and progeny will be markedly low. Pisces ascendant: The native will be longlived though Venus dasa may not be prosperous but will inflict miseries.

 नारीषु दुष्टरतिषु प्रणयी दीनो न सौख्यभोगयुतः ।
 कन्याप्रजोऽल्पपुत्रस्तीर्थसभापण्डितो जातः ॥१२॥

11-12. VENUS IN VIRGO: Should Venus be in Virgo, the native will not be quite discriminative, be soft in disposition, be skilful, will be helpful to others, will speak sweetly, will earn money through several sources, will cohabit with bad women, be mean, be devoid of happiness and pleasures, will beget more daughters and less sons, will visit shrines and be a scholar in an assembly.

Notes: Gunakara and Varaha Mihira declare that the person with Venus in fall will do very base acts. To expand he will not have a righteous profession and will derive no happiness in livelihood. The very fall of Venus will tell upon the prospects of marriage, happiness in marriage and duration of the marriage. These evils will be marked as the planet is close to the 28th degree of Virgo—its deep degree of displeasure. Second marriage will be in the offing in most given cases. This position in Virgo is a stumbling block for attainments in conveyances, residences, fortune etc. There is a school of thought that Venus in deep fall will mar the beauty of the whole horoscope and nullify even powerful Rajayogas.

How this unfortunate placement of Venus is capable of playing its role in one's destiny may be studied with reference to the individual sign ascending at birth, from the following:

Aries ascendant: There will be miseries galore. Marriage will be full of miseries. Taurus ascendant: Sick progeny or lack of progeny will result. Gemini ascendant: Early demise of mother, failure in learning, frequent change of residences etc., will come to pass. Professionally, a person who will always be unhappy can be seen in this mapping of Venus. If Venus be in the 4th in Virgo as the 6th is occupied by the Moon, Mars and Ketu, one will suffer from dental diseases, vide my work 'DOCTRINES FROM SUKA NADI.' Cancer ascendant: Many diseases, foolhardiness and misfortunes will torment the subject. Leo ascendant: Lot of family difficulties lasting in nature, monetary insufficiencies, short life and a troubling marriage will be realised by the native. Virgo ascendant: One will be miserable on all counts and will be a repository of many diseases, evil acts and mal-attributes. Libra ascendant: Short life, sick physique, loss of sight due to one's own fault and early demise of wife will come to occur. Scorpio ascendant: Marriage will prove a big misfortune. One will be troubled with numerous evil expenses, will visit prostitutes and will incur imprisonment. Sagittarius ascendant: Happiness in profession will be only in dreams. An early demise of mother, illiteracy and litigations with relatives are indicated. Capricorn ascendant: Fortune will be rarity in the life of the native. None of his undertakings will yield success. Aquarius ascendant: He will be a subject of very short life and will never be happy in life. Pisces ascendant: This is the worst affected ascendant of the 12 so that the native has a hell on the earth in the form of marriage. His public relations will be quite poor. He will have a diminished longevity.

13-14. VENUS IN LIBRA: If Venus occupies Libra, the native will acquire hard-earned money, be valorous, endowed with superior robes etc., interested in living in foreign countries, will protect his own people, be skilful in his duties, rich, meritorious, famous, be honouring gods and brahmins, be a scholar and be fortunate.

Notes: The view of Varaha Mihira and that of Gunakara have been explained in the notes under slokas 3 and 4 of this chapter. Money does not seem to come so easily though one will be rich out of his own labour. This statement need not be misconstrued that earning itself will be difficult. He will be successful in earning in places other than his native one. The word 'Subhaga' at the end of sloka 14 can well be interpreted as 'beautiful' apart from 'fortunate'. Venus in own house will be inclined to give fortune as well as beauty. The number of possible interpretations for one phrase or a word is not going to tend so many effects to come to pass, but the planet in question here is capable of giving both the results irrespective of their mention in the text. That is why I favour this dual interpretation, otherwise not.

How the Libra-placed Venus affects the various natives born in individual ascending signs may be noted from the following account:

Aries ascendant: There will be Malavya yoga effects bestowed on the native. He may additionally seek pleasures from prostitutes. If Venus is adversely aspected he may prove a powerful maraka. Taurus ascendant: One will procure landed property by going in for loans. Occasionally, there may be marring of fortunes. Otherwise the native will enjoy reasonable wealth and health. He will prevail over his enemies. Gemini ascendant: One will have more female issues and be happy in association with the virtuous. He will enjoy abundant monetary gains but some financial debacles will come to occur in adverse bhuktis of Venus dasa. Cancer ascendant: This native will eke out his livelihood in his native place itself and will acquire maternal properties, lands, good learning and the like. Leo ascendant: Long life, number of children, fame, wealth and position are indicated. Virgo ascendant: One will be very rich with Venus in Libra in the 2nd house. A large family, eloquent speech and attractive appearance are additionally denoted. Scorpio ascendant: An early and happy marriage, wealth from cousins, spiritual attainments and fortunes through wife will come to pass. The native may marry a rich girl. Sagittarius ascendant: The native will be highly intelligent, will have fortunate and happy children (with at least one child becoming prone to sickness) and will gain through enemies and litigations. Vide 'DOCTRINES FROM SUKA NADI' one born with Mercury in Moolatrikona Rasi (i.e. in Virgo) as Venus is in own house (i.e. only in Libra). Moon in the 5th and Jupiter in the ascendant will be one-eyed. To wit, there will be an eye sightlessly. This can aptly fit other Lagnas as well, but more suitably Sagittarius ascendant. For logic, see the notes in the said work. Capricorn ascendant: The native will be very influential, famous and rich. He will enjoy vast landed properties. If the Sun is simultaneously in fall, the person will be liable to serious health afflictions. Aquarius ascendant: One will equally enjoy good results as mentioned for Capricorn. Pisces ascendant: Wicked wife, long span of life, dental/sight defects etc., will come to pass.

15-16. VENUS IN SCORPIO: If Venus occupies Scorpio, the subject will be jealous, be very malicious be not religious, be argumentative, be crafty, be not attached to brothers, be not fortunate, will be troubled by enemies, be distressed, will be inimical to unchaste women, be skilful in killing, will incur heavy debts, will suffer penury, be proud and will contract venereal diseases.

Notes: Only evil effects have been attributed by Kalyana Varma, Gunakara and Varaha Mihira. The only good effect stated by Kalyana Varma is winning over enemies. Generally Venus in Scorpio is found to be bereft of his good qualities and specifically financial insufficiencies, misfortunes, attachment to base women, debts etc., will manifest. In contrast if Venus remaining in Scorpio applies to qualified planets he can bestow wealth, fame and name if related to favourable houses. Still some qualities like extra-marital relationship, venereal diseases, distress etc., cannot be totally ruled out, unless and until there are other natal indications to the contrary.

How the individual ascendants come up with Venus remaining in Scorpio can be broadly understood from the following paragraph:

Aries ascendant: One will be inimical to his wife. There will always be wants in the family life. His wife's longevity will be quite diminished. The chances of Venus improving many of his adversities will be quite remote unless a powerful Jupiter is placed in the 5th or in the 9th. Taurus ascendant: This native will be better in many respects viz., he will be somewhat wealthy and fortunate. He will only obtain a sick and irascible wife. Gemini ascendant: This position will confer riches made by the native himself which will be liable to diminish sooner or later. Only moderate results will be experienced in regard to marriage and children. Cancer ascendant: Here we see an exceptionally good Venus to bestow high learning, favourable mother, properties, huge gains, happy marriage and the like. The planet may even prove a very powerful Rajayoga karaka conferring significant and enviable position. To wit he partakes the good role of favourable Mars for this ascendant, yet association with bad women will not be liable to leave the native as it is an essential trait of Venus-Mars blend. Leo ascendant: This native will also reap similar good effects as for Cancer but in a lesser degree. Here the accent will be more on professional success which the Cancer native will enjoy less than a Leo native with Venus in Scorpio. Virgo ascendant: In this case specific emphasis will be on good fortunes. There will be influx of wealth through brothers, friends and society. The native may even inherit a good deal of paternal wealth. Libra ascendant: Wealth will be gathered by the native but with great difficulty and hindrances. His family life will be moderately happy. There may be some misfortune in appropriate sub periods of Venus dasa. Scorpio ascendant: A short living person is born with Venus in Scorpio on the east. He will be an outlet for money as a child and will enjoy moderate happiness in married life. Sagittarius ascendant: Most of the malefic effects described in the text will be aptly experienced by this Sagittarius native. Capricorn ascendant: A number of female pre-born is indicated. Abdominal disorders, general unhappiness etc, will be felt if Venus is afflicted. Aquarius ascendant: He will acquire government favour, be learned and rich. If the Moon joins Venus (the Moon will naturally be with deficient rays) an Aquarian will occupy very superior position in life. (As stated in the notes on page 273 of Vol 1 of this edition, the Moon with diminishing rays in fall in the 10th is a yogakaraka.) Pisces ascendant: The native will be fortunate, will associate with spiritual activities and be a leader of men.

17-18. VENUS IN SAGITTARIUS: One who has Venus

in Sagittarius will be endowed with good results accruing out of virtues, dutifulness and wealth, be dear to all people, be splendorous, be an excellent personage, will shine like the Sun before his family members, be a scholar, will be endowed with cows, be fond of decoration, will enjoy wealth, wife and fortunes, be a king's minister, be skilful, will have a stout and long physique and be respected by all.

Notes: The native with Venus in a sign of Jupiter will bring him honours for his virtues as per Varaha Mihira and Gunakara.

Many Virtues are attributed to Venus in Sagittarius by Kalyana Varma. Firstly, he compares the native to the shining Sun and the native's race to the proverbial lotus. To wit, the members of his race will be so happy with his supermacy as the lotus will blossom with the appearance of the Sun. The native will accrue the wealth of dutifulness, righteousness and money. He will be fortunate, happy in marital life, will hold positions akin to a minister's, will enjoy great honours and be learned. Venus in a favourable sign will give success if one pursues to live through quadrupeds. (Though Varaha Mihira specified similar results for Venusian placement in Pisces akin to that of Sagittarius, Kalyana Varma gives more specific results, vide slokas 23-24.)

As to how this beautiful planet in Sagittarius keeps each native under the 12 different ascendants may be gauged from the following:

Aries ascendant: While as a natural benefic he will confer good fortunes on the native if the Sun joins him in the 9th, Venus will avail of the first opportunity to prove a killer as far as the native's father is concerned. The native will generally enjoy good results in respect of money and marital life. He will obtain a wife bejewelled with Jupiterian virtues brightened with Venusian splendour. If Jupiter and Venus join in the 9th both the husband and wife will be blessed with divine grace and they will hold the family flag aloft. Taurus ascendant: Though Venus is the lord of the ascendant, posited in Sagittarius he seems to be more favourable to the neighbour Arien than to his own native. This is divine irony—nay a demon's wishful fancy. The native under Taurus banner will be hammered with occasional diseases and penury. Here Venus needs dire help from Saturn. Venus alone in the 8th can give a long span of life as the aphorism is that the 6th lord in an evil house will increase the span of life. One thing cannot be ruled out—the native will face many obstacles in boyhood. Gemini ascendant: Marriage and progeny will only enjoy moderately good effects. Sometimes, if Venus occupies more Virgo divisions there will be utter dissatisfaction and frustration in these two spheres. Cancer ascendant: The good effects described in the present slokas will come to pass to a great extent but the native will be prone to serious diseases viz., abdominal, urinary and kidney disorders. Leo ascendant: This native will enjoy much better results than the Cancerian. Not only this, he will not be prone to these diseases, as applicable to birth in Cancer. One born in Leo will obtain progeny quickly and numerously. Virgo ascendant: This is a good placement for high learning, in fields like literature, painting, drawing, astrology, forestry, and growing of crops like tea, sugarcane, cotton etc. The native will own abundant landed property around hilly areas. He will enjoy all kinds of happiness in life. Libra ascendant: As stated under 'Taurus ascendant' for this sign also Venus in the 3rd proves very detrimental and the dasa of Venus will bring many miseries, expenses and loss of income. If the Moon sign is favourable these adversities will vanish. Scorpio ascendant: Though lord of the 7th and the 12th, Venus will be favourable in matters like money, family, learning etc., representing Jupiter, a true benefic for this ascendant, the native will be very attractive in appearance, be intelligent, very opulent, famous etc. If Venus is afflicted, acute facial diseases, eye diseases etc., will follow. In general, health will be affected adversely. Sagittarius ascendant: Though one may make abundant wealth and fortunes, physical distress will be experienced more frequently. The native will be very learned, famous and beautiful. Capricorn ascendant: Venus will produce only mixed effects in finance and fortunes. The native will acquire a noble wife and good progeny. He will prove a yogakaraka for the co-born. Aquarius ascendant: Venus will be highly beneficial in the 11th if he is conjunct Saturn. Otherwise only ordinary results will come to pass. Pisces ascendant: Generally Venus in the 10th in Sagittarius will give great honours and position. His aspect on the 4th house will confer a high degree of learning, happiness, wealth etc. As he is the lord of the 8th, he may not shed his stigma fully and will, in adverse bhuktis under his dasa, inflict greater harm, exceeding the goods given by him.

19-20. VENUS IN CAPRICORN: If Venus occupies Capricorn at birth, one will be miserable due to heavy expenses, will have an emaciated body, will be fond of aged women, will suffer from heart diseases, be miserly in the matter of money, be a liar, be skilful in cheating, be a eunuch, be devoid of (good) acts, interested in others' work, very distressed, be a dunce, and will, however, endure misery.

Notes: One with Venus in a house of Saturn will be fortunate, be defeated by women and be attached to bad women. So say Varaha Mihira and Gunakara.

His progenic ability will be marred when Venus is in Capricorn. He and his wife will be weak in constitution. These two are important attributes of Saturn that will be imparted into Venus in the context. He will frequent prostitutes, will cheat others and be always unhappy in regard to marriage. In many cases marriage will prove a misfortune or shortlasting. The native will face many obstacles in his livelihood. This placement is not, however, devoid of some advantages in general. In the later part of life one may be exceedingly fortunate.

Placed in Capricorn, let us see how Venus affects births in 12 different ascendants:

Aries ascendant: Venus in the 10th will only give a moderate yoga. Sri Ramanuja says that even if Venus be in aspect to Jupiter he will not cause any yoga. This is partially true if Jupiter occupies in the process one of the Vipat, Pratyak and Vadha nakshatras (i.e. 3rd, 5th and 7th asterisms counted from radical star.) Otherwise, a relationship between these two will prove reasonably good. Taurus ascendant: Fame, position and fortunes will be on the increase throughout. In a female's horoscope, this position is very favourable for progeny. In the dasa of Venus, a child of the native may be susceptible to injury of longevity. Gemini ascendant: The subject will incur short life, many diseases and miseries. Venus in the 8th will confer little happiness out of marriage and progeny. For night births as Venus is in the 8th while Saturn is in fall (in the 4th from the 8th), the mother of the child will face instant death. Cancer ascendant: Remaining in Capricorn if Venus occupies Taurus Navamsa while the Moon is in Scorpio Navamsa, the native will live at the cost of the virtues of his wife. Leo ascendant: The native's marriage will be delayed, will itself be highly inimical and will inflict great miseries. He will suffer from venereal afflictions. Professionally there will be only stalled progress. He will frequently suffer displacement. Virgo ascendant: He will have a lot of family problems, financial insufficiencies and will suffer on account of his own tongue. From progeny point of view, he will have only female children. These will be very virtuous. If the native gets his Venus dasa, he will reap very favourable results. Libra ascendant: There will be ordinary wealth and ordinary learning in the dasa of Venus—this is how a Sanskrit rule relates Venus in the 4th for Libra. See Swal-paidyavan saamanyam bhavamaphthavan. If Venus and the Moon are in the 4th house, the child antenatally caused distress to the mother's physique. Scorpio ascendant: Defective-co-born or their early death will come to pass with this placement of Venus. The native will have little wisdom. Sagittarius ascendant: Moderate yoga, limited wealth, literature, music etc., are denoted for this birth. Capricorn ascendant: Right from birth the native will be very rich. His wife will bring still added fortunes for the native. So to say, there will be influx of wealth throughout. If Venus falls in Virgo Navamsa, the last leg of the native's life will see utter poverty. Aquarius ascendant: The native will have a secret marriage and will indulge in sexual immoralities. He will have to undergo many ordeals in regard to landed properties. He will be very unfortunate. Pisces ascendant: Alone in the 11th, Venus will give gains through foreigners. One will make his livelihood through ups and downs.

कुम्भघरे भृगुपुत्रे भवति पुमान्नात्र सन्देहः ॥२२॥

21-22. VENUS IN AQUARIUS: Should Venus be in Aquarius, one will suffer from diseases and excitement, be not successful in undertakings, will go to other women, be not virtuous, be inimical to elders and to his children, be bereft of ablutions like bathing and will not be endowed with (good) robes, ornaments etc., and be dirty.

Notes: With Venus in Aquarius, the native will be of Tamasic disposition, be lazy and will not even willingly attend to his regular ablutions like bathing etc. Thus he will be dirty physically. He will not have good terms with his elders as well as with his own progeny. He will always suffer from unnecessary fear.

The individual role of Venus with reference to 12 ascendants as he is in Aquarius can be understood from the following:

Aries ascendant: Self-earned wealth will be abundant. The native's wife will be sexually cold, subjected to diseases and be a source of trouble to the native. Taurus ascendant: He will have a sickly mother and will prove ominous for her. He will not have good relationship with his parents. Gemini ascendant: The native will be financially well off. He will be happy with his children. He will possess lot of precious stones and incur favour from rich men. Cancer ascendant: His children will not enjoy a fair longevity. The native will be a synonym of poverty. His married life either will be short or will be unpalatable. Leo ascendant: Venus in the 7th will contribute to the wealth and fortunes of the native. He will make the marital life quite happy. But during the dasa of Venus the native will be apt to suffer physical distress. If in the 6th navamsa in Aquarius (i.e. in Pisces Navamsa), the native will live an aristocratic life after marriage. Virgo ascendant: The native will incur heavy loans and will be devoid of learning. He will have many family problems and will not be a successful house-holder. If a node joins him, his wife will be of a questionable character. If alone, Venus will give him immoral tendencies. Libra ascendant: He will have a medium span of life. He will suffer diseases relating to heart. If the Sun is there, this ailment is doubly certain. Scorpio ascendant: He will attain mastery over Sastras of the ancient lore. Abundant landed properties, very decent livelihood and an afflicted mother will result. To wit, the mother will not maintain a good health with the birth of this native. Sagittarius ascendant: His livelihood will be with difficulty. His sisters will flourish later on. If Venus occupies malefic shashtiamsas, the longevity of the native will be afflicted. Capricorn ascendant: He will attain some paternal property. His married life will not have much charm in it. Even then he will prove a fairly good house-holder. His monetary achievements will be limited. Aquarius ascendant: He will have plenty of riches, be modest, learned and fortunate. Pisces ascendant: He will make notable spiritual achievements, and will engage in religious activities. His emphasis will be on ultra-mundane sphere.

 वाग्बुद्धियुतोदारः सज्जनपरिलब्धविभवमानश्च ।

23-24. VENUS IN PISCES: If Venus is posited in Pisces at birth, one will be courteous, liberal, virtuous, very wealthy, will destroy enemies, be famous in the world, excellent, distinguished, dear to king, be endowed with good speech and wisdom, be liberal, will derive wealth and respect from the virtuous, will keep up his promise, will maintain his family members and be endowed with knowledge.

Notes: The exaltation of Venus carries with it many supreme effects. One will attain world-famous positions, or at least positions of very high importance, if Venus is in Pisces related to good houses at birth. For example, one with exalted Venus in the 10th, 7th, 4th or in ascendant will hold greater positions. This placement will confer abundant riches if the exaltation is in the 2nd, 11th, 9th, 5th etc. Being a preceptor, Venus will bestow unsurpassing wisdom when he acquires exaltation strength. This abundantly applies to Cancer or Capricorn ascending. Other attributes of Venus like courtesy, destruction of enemies, excellence, distinction etc., will be well-enjoyed by the native. The native's marriage will prove extremely beneficial; he will be very fortunate particularly in the post-marital part of life. His wife will be pretty, charming, eloquent, longliving and be a source of recognition for the family. Those who have a good Venus in exaltation, unaffected of other strengths adversely, will serve as example for all the attributes stated in the two verses under comment. The good effects of the exaltation of Venus will remain marred if he goes to the third Navamsa and it may even turn adverse.

How does this planet react when different signs ascend as he is in Pisces? Note the following.

Aries ascendant: The native will be honoured even by the wealthy, will himself be very wealthy and will enjoy all comforts required by a householder. If Jupiter joins Venus in the 12th along with Mars, the native will surpass others in riches and will be surprisingly opulent. He will own vast properties and will lead a very happy life. Taurus ascendant: Wealth and fortune will be conferred uninterruptedly on this native also as Venus is in the 11th. Sickness will occasionally torment the native if Venus is otherwise spoilt. Eyes, feet, private parts, kidneys etc., will be susceptible to serious attacks in the sub periods or major period of planets posited in evil houses, evil asterisms (3rd, 5th or 7th from natal star), evil navamsas etc. Venus should also be connected by rulership of periods. Gemini ascendant: Very high position, professional prosperity, very famous status, opulence, happy married life, expenses on religious and auspicious deeds, very fortunate children etc., will come to pass. In the company of Mercury, most of these results stand spoiled in Venus dasa, only to pass fully in Mercury dasa. If Venus dasa when to precede the dasa of Mercury, then these are only in dreams, or in very little quantities. Cancer ascendant: He will enjoy legendary luck and will amass plenty of wealth. Great wealth is possible even at birth. All his undertakings will prove auspicious and successful. He will achieve an enviable social status. His co-born will also be very rich. He will have a very mellifluous voice, singing talents and the like. Leo ascendant: The strength of Venus will be converted into a long lease of life more than anything. Professional attainments will follow but with due scope of reversal. This reversal will not be to the rockbottom in any case. It will only be in the form of a temporary drawback and distress. Virgo ascendant: Venus will bless the native with a successful householdership, happy and advantageous marriage and fortunes galore. If he shifts to Virgo navamsa, then the Virgo subject will have all he should not in the above cited departments of life. Libra ascendant: The native will live theoretical full span of life of 120 years. So to say, he will live upto a pretty ripe age proving the adage that a sinner lives one of the longest lives. So further to say, he will be miserable in his old age and will be dependant on others. His later part of life will be full of sickness, misery etc. This does not mean that he will be an insignificant person in the early periods with Venus in the 6th in peak. This power grants Venus to elevate the native to high state of the society, make him affluent and very happy. Scorpio ascendant: During the first stage of life the native will be highly attached to worldly pleasures, be wealthy and popular. In the later half, particularly covered by Venus dasa he will engage himself in abstract meditation and will take to the path of the Supreme Self. Sagittarius ascendant: He will make huge gains in his own business, be endowed with wife, sons, patience and fortunes. He may find wealth/treasures on the way (i.e. when he will be on his move), will associate himself with thieves and will gain through quadrupeds and agriculture. Capricorn ascendant: Happy profession and happy progeny are denoted by this position. The native's father will have a long lease of life. Aquarius ascendant: Abundant money, inheritance of paternal property and beneficial friends will come to pass. Pisces ascendant: One will take birth with silver spoon—nay golden spoon—in the mouth. Long lease of life will come to pass but if Venus dasa is first to occur, then it may prove adverse.

25-30. VENUS IN ARIES OR SCORPIO IN ASPECT TO

OTHERS: Should Venus occupy Aries/Scorpio at birth and is in aspect to the Sun, one will be miserable on account of women, and will lose wealth and happiness on account of them, will be a king and be learned. If by the Moon, he will be imprisoned, very fickle-minded, be libidinous, will marry a base lady, and will be bereft of children. If by Mars, he will be devoid of wealth, honour and happiness, will do others' jobs, and will perform dirty jobs. If by Mercury, he will be foolish, profligate, unworthy, be not in good terms with his own relatives, be immodest, thievish, mean and cruel. If by Jupiter, he will be endowed with beautiful eyes, will have a charitable wife, will possess a beautiful and long body, and will have many sons. If by Saturn, he will be very dirty, lazy, and wandering-natured, will serve others and be a thief.

Notes: If Venus occupy Aries or Scorpio at birth and be aspected by the Moon, the native will beget progeny with great difficulty. It may not be that he will go without an issue. The statement in the text will only serve a hint to this effect and it need not be literally interpreted. (Venus in Scorpio will get the exalted Moon's aspect and it is all the more superior). Acquisition of a mean wife is denoted in this context. As a house of Mars is not congenial for marital felicity with placement of Venus therein, his opposition to the Moon will bestow confirmed adverse results in this regard. Venus alone in a house of Mars will make one highly sensuous and immoral and if he is in aspect of Mars these qualities will be predominant. The aspect of Mars on Venus may equally give an immoral tendency but abundant riches. Jupiter aspecting Venus will confer wealth, progeny and happiness. Saturn applying to Venus in a house of Mars will give all evil tendencies not to be possessed by anyone.

31-36. VENUS IN OWN HOUSE IN ASPECT TO OTHERS: Should Venus at birth occupy Taurus/Libra and is aspected by the Sun, the person will acquire an excellent wife and abundant wealth, will become a great man and will be subdued by women. If by the Moon, it indicates that he is born of an excellent mother, will be endowed with happiness, wealth, respect and sons, will have excellence and be splendidous. If by Mars, he will marry a bad female, will lose home and wealth on account of females and be sensuous. If by Mercury, one will be splendidous, sweet, fortunate, happy, bold, wise and virtuous and will possess distinguished strength. If by Jupiter, he will be endowed with wife, sons, abodes, conveyances, riches etc., and will achieve desired objects. If by Saturn, he will have little happiness, little wealth, will be reprobate, will marry a mean lady and will suffer from diseases.

Notes: Venus when in Taurus or in Libra if aspected by the Moon denotes one of a good descent. Even though the Moon may be in fall, this is true, as the Full Moon in opposition to Venus will prove very beneficial. If other planets join Venus in Taurus as the Moon is in fall, the native's family will improve its riches soon after the birth of the native. Wealth will be widely enjoyed if Venus-Moon complex emanates either from Taurus or Libra. The aspect of Mars on Venus as the latter is in his own house will cause financial losses on account of liaising with women. His marriage will be an unhappy one. (This applies to their involvement in any houses). Saturn's aspect is equally ominous. It will be more awful if from Scorpio to Taurus. A decent householdership follows the aspect of Jupiter on Venus in Taurus/Libra.

37-42. VENUS IN GEMINI/VIRGO IN ASPECT TO OTHERS: If Venus is in Gemini/Virgo, and aspected by the Sun, one will be well disposed towards the king, his own mother and wife, be learned and rich. If by the Moon, he will have dark eyes, beautiful hair, be endowed with sleeping comforts, conveyances etc., be splendorous, beautiful in appearance and be fortunate. If by Mars, he will be highly sensuous, be fortunate and will destroy his wealth through women. If by Mercury, he will be learned, sweet in disposition, wealthy, and endowed with conveyances and children, be fortunate, and be leader of men or be a king. If by Jupiter, he will be highly happy, be radiant, courageous, learned and be a preceptor. If by Saturn, he will be very miserable, insulted, fickle-minded, green-eyed and be a dunce.

Notes: The good effects for aspect on Venus in a house of Mercury will manifest in a better way if Venus is in Gemini. The position of Venus in Virgo will give the good effects in a lesser manner and bad effects in a severe manner. However, Venus in Virgo is aspected by Jupiter, his exaltant dispositor, will confer abundant riches and the like, but the marital life will not improve fully. Saturn's aspect on Venus in Virgo is absolutely baneful for an honourable marriage and for having a chaste thinking about females. The aspect of Mars is equally ominous.

43-48. VENUS IN CANCER IN ASPECT TO OTHERS: If Venus is in Cancer and aspected by the Sun, the native's wife will be attached to her duties, will possess a spotless body, will be a king's daughter, (i.e. she will be of a rich heritage), be short-tempered and will be endowed with wealth. If by the Moon, he will keep his step-mother happy, will have a daughter first and later on many sons, be happy, fortunate, and beautiful. If by Mars, he will be skilful in arts, be very rich, will suffer on account of women, be fortunate and will promote the cause of his relatives. If by Mercury, he will marry a learned woman, will suffer miseries on account of his relatives, will wander, be wealthy and learned. If by Jupiter, he will be endowed with many servants, sons, happiness, relatives and friends and be dear to king. If by Saturn, he will be subdued by women, be poor, base, ugly, fickle-minded and unhappy.

Notes: When the Moon aspects Venus in Cancer, it seems evident that there will be a stepmother for the native who will be happily looked after by him. This aspect will also give a daughter followed by many sons. The position of Venus in a female sign will give a daughter (whether firstly or later) while the Moon (in Capricorn) being full or with digital vigour aspecting from a male sign will confer a number of sons. Wealth and fortune will follow this relationship. If Mars aspects Venus from Capricorn or even from Aries, the latter will give abundant wealth. The aspect from Sagittarius will be less efficacious. Venus being in a sign of Moon applying to Mars will trigger of some difficulties either with his own wife or with females outside the family, the latter are probably those unsocial elements on whose account many housewives lament. So to say, as a householder the native will be a wretch, wandering in the lanes of the prostitutes, if the aspect of Mars is very puissant. Saturn's aspect will not only give all these adversities but add to one's miseries in the form of dire penury. The sign occupied by Venus being that of the Moon, mental diseases or mental distress will follow Saturn's aspect.

49-54. VENUS IN LEO IN ASPECT TO OTHERS: If Venus occupies Leo at the time of birth and is aspected by the Sun, one will be jealous, be dear to the fair sex, libidinous, will acquire money through women and will possess elephants. If by the Moon, he will present obsequial water to his step-mother, will be miserable on account of women, be rich and will have various kinds of mental disposition (i.e. be infirm in disposition). If by Mars, he will be a royal person, be famous, dear to women, be affluent, fortunate and be attached to other's wives. If by Mercury, he will be ever engaged in earning, be miserly in disposition, be addicted to women, will join other's wives, be courageous, crafty, false and wealthy. If by Jupiter, he will be endowed with conveyances, wealth and servants, will marry many women and be a king's minister. If by Saturn, he will be a king or equal to a king, be famous, will have abundant wealth and conveyances, will marry a whore (or a widow), be beautiful in appearance and be miserable.

Notes: Venus placed in Leo if aspected by the Moon from Aquarius will make the native offer obsequial water to his step-mother. That is, he will perform Sraddhas for her.

(Sraddha means a death anniversary as per religious prescriptions). This follows that the native will have a step mother. The native will suffer on account of women, may be even through his own wife, be of varied dispositions and will enjoy wealth. Wealth may be limited as the Moon in Aquarius is not that auspicious. Jupiter's aspect is said to give many marriages but it may be interpreted that there will be more than one marriage. Saturn's aspect on Venus in Leo will bestow a wife from among immoral, or one who is a widow.

55-60. VENUS IN SAGITTARIUS/PISCES IN ASPECT TO OTHERS: If Venus occupies Sagittarius/Pisces at birth and aspected by the Sun, one will be very short tempered, learned, wealthy, be liked by all and will go to foreign countries. If by the Moon, he will be famous, be kingly, will eat rich food, be distinguished and will possess incomparable strength. If by Mars, he will be very much ill-disposed towards women, will be both happy and miserable, be rich and will possess cows. If by Mercury, he will be endowed with all kinds of robes, ornaments, foods and drinks, and will possess plenty of money and conveyances. If by Jupiter, he will be rich with elephants, horses and cows, will possess many wives and many sons, be very happy and be very wealthy. If by Saturn, he will be always amassing financial gains, be happy, will enjoy pleasures and abundant wealth and be fortunate.

Notes: Venus in a sign of Jupiter in aspect to the Moon, Mars, Jupiter or Saturn will confer a high degree of financial attainments. The aspect of Mars on Venus in Sagittarius is not favourable for amicable relations with one's wife and with other females in general.

61-66. VENUS IN SATURN'S HOUSE IN ASPECT TO OTHERS: Should Venus be in Capricorn/Aquarius and be in aspect to the Sun, the native will be firm, very dear to females, very wealthy, very happy and truthful and be courageous. If to the Moon, he will be very splendid, very valorous, very affluent and fortunate. If to Mars he will lose his spouse, will suffer many evils and diseases, will undergo difficulties and later on be happy. If to Mercury, he will be learned, rich, skilful in sacred precepts, highly scholastic, truthful and happy. If to Jupiter, he will enjoy robes and garlands, be beautiful, will be skilful in music and musical instruments and will possess a good wife. If to Saturn, he will be endowed with servants, conveyances and wealth, be dirty and will possess a black, beautiful and broad physique.

Notes: The position of Venus in Aquarius is itself ominous for the span of the life of the spouse of the native. If Mars aspects the said Venus, it is doubly inauspicious and loss of wife is certain. The aspect of Mars further adds evils, diseases and difficulties. The native will be happy after undergoing these ordeals, i.e. will be happy when alone in life, losing his wife and getting purified with all these 'saturnine' exercises.

If Venus occupies Aquarius ascendant as Mars is in Cancer in the 6th one will suffer from (major) ear disease. It may be in the form of deafness right from birth. The aspect of Saturn on both Mars and Venus is an essential requirement here so that he remains in the 11th from Mars. Mars placed in the house of diseases will give ear diseases if he has a malefic in the 11th, abdominal diseases if a malefic is in the 5th from Mars so placed, lung disorders if afflicted by malefics in the 3rd and so on and so forth. To be very clear, if Mars occupies the 6th in fall, or any planet in the 6th in fall, let that house be treated as the ascendant and the limbs denoted by the house occupied by malefics counted from Mars in fall etc., will cause defect of the said limb. (See DOCTRINES FROM SUKA NADI).

1-2. SATURN IN ARIES: If Saturn occupies Aries at the time of one's birth, one will be miserable due to his vices and hard labour, be deceitful, will hate his relatives, be blameworthy, garrulous, reprobated, poor, bad in appearance, ill-tempered, inimical to his people, will do base acts, be jealous and sinful.

Notes: When Aries is occupied by Saturn, the native will be foolish, wandering, deceitful and friendless as per Varaha Mihira. Gunakara who has always been following the footsteps of Varaha Mihira departs at this point in as much as he uses the words 'मातृमुख' instead of 'मुख' of Varaha Mihira. Gunakara's hint is at the native's enjoying maternal happiness with Saturn in Aries. In his own inimitable style, Keeranuru Nataraja states in his voluminous Jatakalankara that one with Saturn in Aries will be very cunning, easily irritable, will not be well-disposed to his relatives and will cause utter surprise to others with his power of speech.

Except for the maternal happiness denoted by Gunakara and for the efficacious vocal power denoted by Nataraja, we see throughout only bad results in all these statements including that of our current text. Maternal happiness may be in tact if Saturn is in fall unrelated to the Moon, the 4th house from the Moon, and the 4th house from Lagna. In these three cases, Saturn's fall proves utterly harmful. See what an esotery taken from 'DOCTRINES FROM SUKA NADI' states:

If Saturn is in fall in the case of a Capricorn birth and is aspected by the 8th lord (i.e. the Sun in fall) as Mars is in the 10th (i.e. conjunct the Sun), the native's mother will leave him to his own fate and will die (instantly). To wit, the effects relating to mother's happiness should be wisely applied. If Saturn in fall afflicts Jupiter, Mercury or the 2nd lord the effect of powerful speech will not come to pass.

As Saturn occupies his sign of fall, the native will suffer from penury and enmity, will have bad habits, fruitless efforts, sinful acts, jealousy and the like. Saturn rules two important houses in the natural zodiac. These are the 10th (Karma) and 11th (Labha, Abhista etc.), and hence his weakness will deprive one of a good means of living, general monetary gains, fulfilment of desires and the like. His fall will produce windy diseases (like rheumatism), consumption, asthma, piles, eye disorders, premature fall or greying of hair, frequent colds and the like. If the lord of the 6th is simultaneously in his fall, indications for these defects get confirmed and the native will suffer from a disease as above. The diseases caused by Saturn will not be apt to cure quickly. They are likely to cause confinement for longer and longer periods.

Being in Aries, Saturn has the following effects for the 12 different ascendants at birth:

Aries ascendant: All the bad attributes enlisted above will be literally experienced by the native. He will essentially suffer a cut in longevity and will quit the world in prime youth. If he lives, he only lives like a corpse. Taurus ascendant: The only pure benefic for this ascendant going to the 12th in fall will make other good aspects in the radix defunct. The 2nd, 6th and 9th houses coming under his adverse aspect from the 12th will deprive the native of monetary bliss, family bliss, bliss of health, bliss through father and bliss of enjoying good fortunes. Thus the native will be left with no bliss. If in the process he occupies Libra Navamsa, the Taurus native will raise his head against these odds. Gemini ascendant: One will have a very short life, will suffer misfortunes in respect of livelihood, will contract severe diseases in boyhood, be devoid of progeny, be a fool of first rate, will lose paternal property and will himself end in loss of gains. Cancer ascendant: This is one of the worst suffering ascendants from longevity point of view. Marital life will be the most unhappy for its native, and if the Moon in the process goes to the 12th, 4th, or the 7th unaspected by others, marriage will be wholly denied. He will spend even his petty possessions on undesirables. Leo ascendant: He will be devoid of relatives like father, brothers etc. In a female's nativity, early widowhood will follow. Virgo ascendant: The native will experience all kinds of miseries of the earth. He will be short-lived with Saturn in fall in the 8th. Libra ascendant: The native will face loss of wife and loss of children. If the Moon is in Taurus, as Saturn is in Aries, he will take birth with a coil around his face. Scorpio ascendant: This ascendant will also not lag behind to get bad results of Saturn's fall. Its subject will lack maternal happiness or will lose his mother early. Sagittarius ascendant: Birth in this ascendant with Saturn in fall in the 5th house is apparently an exception in that there is an auspicious yoga. See the following:

अधिकारयुतेद्योगी स्वल्पसंतानवान्भवेत् ।

The meaning of the above mentioned verse is: If Saturn occupies the 5th (in fall—as the sloka relates to Sagittarius ascendant) there will be auspicious results in Saturn's dasa, a profession with power and a few children. Capricorn ascendant: An aphorism relating to mother has already been narrated in the second paragraph of the commentary on the present two slokas. Further, this position will give physical distress and monetary expenses. Aquarius ascendant: One will be devoid of virtues and happiness. This is a critical placement for the health of lungs, larynx, voice box etc. The native will tremble in speech and writing. Incidentally one may note that the handwriting of such a native will present an awful sight. Pisces ascendant: If Saturn dasa operates at birth, end will be imminent. In a normal nativity, the person will severely stammer and may be incurable with more afflictions of planets.

नंकृतिकः स्फुटदृष्टो बहुक्रियासंगतो मूढः ॥४॥

3-4. SATURN IN TAURUS: If Saturn occupies Taurus at the time of one's birth, he will be bereft of wealth, be a servant, will speak undesirable words, be untruthful, will win the hearts of old women, will have bad friends, will be addicted to women, will serve other women, be not outspoken, will have strong sight, be related to numerous assignments and be a fool.

Notes: Varaha Mihira in this respect mentions that the native will not have "much of wealth" which indicates some possible wealth. (If Saturn is well related to the ascendant, he is capable of giving abundant wealth posited in Taurus). He further adds that the native will join such women who are discarded and will have many wives. It follows that the native will have more than one marriage if not literally 'many marriages'. See the effects given by Nataraja for the position of Saturn in Taurus: The native will strongly yearn for pleasures from females, (yet) will be gifted with virtues, will not lack in attention and will join a number of females selling their (invaluable) physiques. Thus the inherent trait of Saturn in a sign of Venus—the planet of sexual joys—is to make the person enjoy such joys fully by some means or other. That is his only and prime aim. When we come to Kalyana Varma, we find him also describing the native's association with females females just their prime—not necessarily to gratify his passion. Yet he will be addicted to other women, will serve women and will destruct his own welfare and that of his family. If Saturn joins the Moon in the 5th house, particularly belonging to Venus, and more particularly Taurus, the female concerned will premaritally conceive. For this, the said conjunction be not interfered by other heavenly bodies. The condition must be remembered with the very presence of this frightful yoga.

Let us see as usual as to how Saturn in Taurus reacts for the individual ascendants from the following account:

Aries ascendant: Saturn in Taurus will deprive the native of opportunities of amassing wealth. (If he has considerable strength or be in potential aspects, attaining riches should not be ruled out). This planet may inflict death in adverse periods. Taurus ascendant: This native will ordinarily earn abundant money, fame and name. He can look forward to occupying dizzy heights. Yet his health will be a drawback in more than one way, particularly in boyhood. It is said that in the latter part of life Saturn in this ascendant will shed his disposition of telling upon the health. Gemini ascendant: The native's expenses will achieve a devil's form and will torment him severely. He will lose everything in bad company. All said and done, he will have a long lease of life. Cancer ascendant: As the adage goes, लासस्थेतु मन्देन अन्यायेन धनार्जनम् (this is with reference to Saturn's placement in the 11th for Cancer births), the native will earn (only) in unfair ways. The native's marriage will prove a boon for him, particularly if Venus also joins in the 11th house. Saturn in the 11th will give insatiable lust to his woman. The native will be free from disease and leading a happy life to that extent. Leo ascendant: He will add everyday one enemy in the matter of his livelihood which will be the cause of utter dissatisfaction. Sometimes, the natives with this placement of Saturn will fall to the nadir. If Saturn is strong and be in favourable aspects, one can hope to reach surprising heights in political/judicial lines. Saturn's dasa will, however, cause him great favours but not debacles. The debacles liable to occur are likely to take place in other adverse periods. Virgo ascendant: Though he will lack paternal happiness it is with his own efforts that he will make his good fortunes. The native will suffer some affliction in regard to progeny. Libra ascendant: An unfortunate position for a key planet, this will deprive one of all possessions and will reduce him to a miserable state. Professional aspect will also be apt to a severe hit. Scorpio ascendant: The native will be a profligate, will take to evil women's company, will suffer adversities in married life and will be bereft of issues. Sagittarius ascendant: Fame and long life will come to pass while occasional financial hindrances will be a source of distress. The native will be free from diseases and will improve his wealth by self-made efforts. Capricorn ascendant: An afflicted Saturn will cause childlessness while a strong Saturn will possibly give happy children capable of making prosperity. He will enjoy abundant wealth and gains. Aquarius ascendant: The native will lose his mother early, particularly if the Moon joins Saturn in Taurus. He will be a great person through his family profession. Mostly people born in Aquarius with Saturn in Taurus will choose livelihood pursued by their parents. Pisces ascendant: With Saturn in Taurus, the subject will be blessed with vast wealth and longevity. If the Sun joins Saturn in Taurus, the subject is liable to lose his father in childhood.

5-6. SATURN IN GEMINI: If Saturn occupies Gemini, one will contract debts and imprisonments, will toil (much), will have vanity in disposition, will consecrate by hymns and prayers, be bereft of virtues, be always in hide-out, be libidinous, cunning, wicked, and fond of wandering and of sports.

Notes: If Saturn occupies a house of Mercury, according to Varaha Mihira and Gunakara one will be shameless and be devoid of wealth, happiness and progeny. He will tremble while writing and will serve as a protector (in the charge of protecting others' possessions). He will be a principal leader. This hints at the possibility of the subject being in employment related to guarding an establishment and the like. A chief position is assured as the indication is "Mukhyapati". If we go to the school of Keeranuru Nataraja, we are taught tersely two things. Firstly the native will have limited progeny and secondly he will befriend those devoid of reasoning and wisdom. Progeny is limited because Saturn as well as his dispositor are neutrals. (Conversely when Mercury is in the 5th in Capricorn, a Virgo native will obtain twins as mentioned, on p. 344, vol 1.) Reasoning, intelligence, wisdom etc., are the properties of Gemini also and Saturn adversely occupying this sign will drive one to those who are bereft of these attributes.

Kalyana Varma uses the word "Anumantri" which hints at the subject's engagement in acts of consecration by hymns and prayers. It may be as a goodwill measure or for obtaining livelihood, as prescribed for a Brahmin by the sacred Vedas. Though the word 'Bandha' has been translated here (and elsewhere) as imprisonment, this should not be as a rule construed or misconstrued as 'imprisonment'. It can mean a simple confinement. It can as well mean imprisonment. Mercury is a planet of sports, vanity, cunning-wicked-wandering dispositions and fruitless toils. These are conveyed by Saturn from Gemini. Our author adds that the person will remain in hideout or in exile. The native may be away from his people and his whereabouts will be unknown to many.

The individual ascendants with Saturn in Gemini will produce the following effects:

Aries ascendant: The native will have to undergo many ordeals in life particularly in the periods of Saturn. His father will not be any source of help and will be a person involved in religious activities. Taurus ascendant: In spite of the fact that the native will receive Rajayoga results from Saturn, he will not be in a position to retain anything for his rainy days. The subject will enjoy long lease of life, will not be in a position to repay his debts and will thereby suffer humiliation. Gemini ascendant: He will be ugly, will fall in bad company, be wicked, devoid of happiness and will be miserable. He will obtain defects in limbs with birth. Cancer ascendant: He will have a disturbed married life, will incur financial losses and will not enjoy paternal bliss. He will join bad people and will diminish his own wealth. Leo ascendant: In the dasa of Saturn one will obtain abundant landed properties and wealth—see 'Tatpake bhoomi labham cha dhana labham cha viseshatah' (describing effects of Saturn in Gemini for a Leo birth). The native will, however, face some physical distress in general. Virgo ascendant: Frequent changes in career, gains and losses with an equilibrium and distress to the wellbeing of the wife will come to pass. Libra ascendant: If Saturn occupies favourable sub divisions the native will be rich from birth. Even an ordinary Saturn will give a moderate Raja Yoga and fortune. Scorpio ascendant: He will have weak sight, will have only a few children and be devoid of maternal happiness. His education will be through ups and downs. If Jupiter is not favourable, he will be poor, untruthful and inimical to brothers. (The question of relationship with co-born will be unrelated to Jupiter's disposition). Sagittarius ascendant: He will be devoid of conjugal bliss, will lose his wife early or will suffer separation and will suffer from heart diseases. Capricorn ascendant: Contrary to traditional rule that Saturn in the 6th will subside debts and enemies, for this ascendant these will be on the increase as per the rule "Shashtamashta Sanerdaya satruroga rinavaham" in the context of Makara Lagna. Aquarius ascendant: Saturn will give abundant gains and good fortunes. Pisces ascendant: He will be highly learned and be a successful professional. Occasional downfalls will also trouble him. Such natives are hardly brought up by their own mothers but by somebody else. Breast-feeding for the native is almost ruled out with this position.

7-8. SATURN IN CANCER: If Saturn is in Cancer, one will possess a beloved wife, be devoid of wealth in boyhood, will suffer many diseases, be learned, motherless, soft-spoken, distinguished in acts, will always contract diseases, will trouble others, be inimical to relatives, crooked, be kingly in his mid-life and will enjoy growing pleasures.

Notes: One will be devoid of wealth, deprived of teeth and will not have progeny, mother and learning, Varaha Mihira thus declares effects of Saturn in Cancer. Keeranuru Nataraja describes in this context thus: the native is born of a mean scion, will be devoid of maternal inheritance, be indigent, will have yellowish (unclean) teeth and be foolish.

There are some additional effects stated by Kalyana Varma, viz., beloved wife, learned, distinguished, growing pleasures etc. All are agreed that Saturn's placement in Cancer is detrimental to the mother of native. In as much as our author states that one will be devoid of wealth in boyhood, it is implied that the native will improve his financial state by dint of his own efforts. Obviously if Saturn is strong and the Moon is equally favourable these good effects will flow uninterruptedly and doubtlessly.

How the various ascendants are placed with reference to Saturn's stationing in Cancer may be seen from the following:

Aries ascendant: The native will be ominous to his mother, see 'Chaturthe maatrupeedakrith' in the context of Aries versus Saturn in Cancer. To wit, one with Saturn in 4th identical with Cancer will lack the good fortune of a happy mother. Opposed by full Moon from Capricorn, Saturn in Cancer will yield exemplary results in regard to livelihood. Taurus ascendant: The native will be issueless but will enjoy good effects in Saturn's dasa. Gemini ascendant: Tooth decay, poverty, family problems etc., will come to pass. Cancer ascendant: One will be ugly, despised and sick—see 'Kuroopam Kutsitam and rujam' in the context of Saturn in Lagna in Cancer. He will be liable to suffer diseases of the head and tooth and rheumatism. He will lose his mother soon after his birth. Leo ascendant: There will be many debacles in the dasa of Saturn. If a malefic joins him in being in the 12th, one will be even imprisoned. That is the declaration by an adage. However, Mars in company of Saturn in Cancer in the 12th for a Leo native is capable of giving a Rajayoga according to Sri Ramanujacharya. (This statement does not bar one from being imprisoned as per the previous reference). Virgo ascendant: There will be superior effects of Raja Yoga kind and the native will amass good fortunes. Libra ascendant: One will acquire conveyances, good status of living and will prosper. Scorpio ascendant: This will hinder the fortunes of the native greatly if the Moon is devoid of digits (i.e. pakshabala) and results will be modified favourable with the improved imposition of the Moon. Sagittarius ascendant: Long life, moderate wealth, gains through profession, childlessness, occasional difficulties etc., will come to pass. Capricorn ascendant: According to Mantreswara, if Mars joins Saturn in Cancer identical with the 7th one will acquire a beautiful and chaste wife. Saturn alone in the 7th will give a moderately happy though delayed marriage. Aquarius ascendant: There will be accumulation of not wealth but debts. Pisces ascendant: Lack of progeny will be inevitable with this placement. Married life will be through many obstacles and the native will be distressed with the ill health of his spouse.

9-10. SATURN IN LEO: If Saturn occupies Leo, one will be interested in writing and reading, be skilful, be disdained, devoid of virtues and wife, will live by servitude, be devoid of his own men and happiness, be interested in doing base acts, ill-tempered, be mad with (undue) desires, will carry loads, will toil hard, and will have a wrinkled body.

Notes: Saturn in Leo will make one mean, devoid of happiness, childless and carry loads (vide Brihat Jataka). In Jatakalankara of Nataraja it is stated that the native will be devoid of any worthy behaviour, be bereft of happiness, be vile and will not have a son who can wax the fame of the descent.

Let us see how the inimically placed Saturn from Leo treats the various births in the 12 ascendants from the following:

Aries ascendant: This native is more prone to suffer from disorders of belly, indigestion and constipation, loss of memory, loss of children, foolishness and the like. He will have no good relationship with his own wife and children and will be poorly placed on family front. He will not gather much of wealth. Taurus ascendant: The ailments likely to occur will relate to the heart. The native will be bereft of mother but will enjoy conveyances and landed properties though dry. Gemini ascendant: He will enjoy some prosperity in favourable sub periods of Saturn dasa but will lose in regard to brothers. He will not have happiness from father. Cancer ascendant: Sick wife and straining expenses will come to follow this position. He will enjoy a long lease of life but be reduced to many miseries. Leo ascendant: Ugly and sick physique, poor intelligence and fickle mindedness will result in effect. Married life and professional career will produce only normal effect. If the Sun is simultaneously in the 7th house, as Saturn is in the ascendant identical with Leo, he will bestow smooth married life. (Conversely if the Sun alone is in Aquarius with Leo rising, it will create health problems for the wife and a strained relationship with her—vide p 249 Vol 1). Virgo ascendant: One will have financial implications, freedom from diseases, heavy expenses and unhappy life. Childlessness may also result in effect. Libra ascendant: If Saturn dasa operates, it will confer fame, position, wealth and the like. Normally the native will have adopted children and will receive favours from rich men. Windy diseases like rheumatism, arthritis etc., will be experienced. Scorpio ascendant: Though the native will occupy good positions in life, he will have danger of displacement and being humiliated. During academic life, obstacles will be felt. Sagittarius ascendant: He will not be happy in respect of father and progeny. He will gather plenty of wealth through the association of rich men and through government. Capricorn ascendant: The native will be shortlived and may face such obstacles even in the boyhood. There will be plenty of monetary problems throughout. Aquarius ascendant: Though there may be inimical relationship in marriage, the bonds will not be severed and the couple will get on well. Good fortunes will arise after marriage. The native will inherit some paternal properties. Pisces ascendant: The native will not have any brothers/sisters after him. He will have to face many ups and downs in his earnings.

11-12. SATURN IN VIRGO: If Saturn occupies Virgo at birth, the subject will resemble a eunuch, be very crafty, will depend on others for food, be addicted to prostitutes, will have a few friends, be unaquainted with arts, be desirous of indulging in ugly acts, will possess sons and wealth, be indolent, helpful to others, will be intent upon spoiling virgins and be cautious in his actions.

Notes: 'Kanyajanadooshaka' has been interpreted here as spoiling virgins as 'dooshaka' aptly means spoiler in this context. Thus the native with Saturn in Virgo will join many virgins for his sexual satisfaction. Unlike Gemini, Virgo will give potency to Saturn in the matter of progeny. He will be addicted to courtezans apart from injuring the honour of the virgins confined to household. The meaning of word 'dooshaka' is so flexible that one may interpret this position as giving tendency of raping also. It follows that if malefics heavily afflict the relative houses and Saturn, one may even turn a rapist. Without having seen sufficient horoscopes in this context, a judgement is not wise.

Remaining in Virgo, Saturn produces the following effects for the 12 ascendants.

Aries ascendant: The native will have success over enemies. He will find it easy to gain in litigations. He will increase his wealth, will live long, will spend on vices, be healthy and will suffer adversities in Saturn's dasa. If Mercury joins Saturn in Virgo, the native will be highly intelligent, will have a very high position and will multiple his wealth. This combinations, however, will produce asthmatic problems. Taurus ascendant: The native will enjoy in respect of children and will obtain many gains in his undertakings. Significantly, he will acquire a rich and fortunate wife. However, his married life will have want of peace. Another grave defect with Saturn in Virgo for this ascendant is inherent financial difficulties in spite of any amount of wealth. This does not mean insufficiency in the matter of money but many irksome situations. Gemini ascendant: The native may lose his mother early. If the mother survives it will be only to suffer dire health problems and many difficulties. Saturn through the lord of the 8th will prove very favourable in his dasa (apparently by owning the best trine). Cancer ascendant: This native will also be liable to suffer respiratory disorders. It may even sometimes be so grave as to take away the life of the native if maraka period be effective. He is liable to lose his co-born, one by one. So to say loss of brothers/sisters will be frequent. Yet Saturn will give the native some happiness at some time or the other, depending on the periods in operation. Leo ascendant: Saturn will prove a thorn close to the eye. The native will always suffer financial wants and will be never happy in life. He will incur diseases of the face, teeth and spleen. He will throughout have weak eye sight. In the family front he will be among the worst-placed. Virgo ascendant: Diseases will very frequently attack this native. He will be inimical to one and all, including to those in his family. He will be dark in complexion, ugly in appearance, black-and-long-haired and be with protruding teeth. If Saturn is in the rising decanate, some peculiarities in appearance can be noticed, like excess fingers, blunt thumb, thumblessness, uneven eyes and the like. Libra ascendant: Life will not be happy with an important planet going to the 12th house. This will trigger of many go-backs in activities relating to advancement. Either there will be a number of children or there may be none depending on Jupiter. The native will, however, make distinct academic achievements but against many odds. Scorpio ascendant: He will be famous, longlived and fortunate. If Saturn dasa occurs, it will be far better and the native will derive a great Rajayoga from Saturn. Sagittarius ascendant: A dignified Saturn will elevate the native to lofty levels. Agriculture may add new dimensions to his livelihood. The native will be opulent and happy. He will gain through mother and wife also. Capricorn ascendant: Financial gains and paternal misfortunes will come to pass. The native will be brought up by other relatives than his own parents. Aquarius ascendant: He will pass through much difficulties and poverty in boyhood. Later on he will live a happy life and will be blessed with a long lease of life. Pisces ascendant: He will acquire a wretched and contemptible spouse, will live a miserable life liable to a break in marriage and will always be at others' mercy. Saturn's dasa may inflict death either on him or on his spouse.

13-14. SATURN IN LIBRA: Saturn posited in Libra at birth indicates that the subject will be rich, softspoken, will earn money and honours from foreign countries, be a king or a scholar, will have his wealth protected by his relatives, be senior in the circle, will attain a high status owing to his efficacious speech in an assemblage, be good and will join corrupt females, dancers and prostitutes.

Notes: One with Saturn in exaltation will be famous, be a leader and be wealthy, according to Brhat Jataka and Hora Makaranda. He will have limitless wealth, be virtuous and be a leader of villages, as per Jatakalankara. Saturn's placement in exaltation will give wealth, position, fame and good longevity.

How the various ascendants stand to gain or lose with Saturn's exaltation may be noted from the following:

Aries ascendant: All may be well in general for this ascendant. The married life will be happy but loss of spouse will follow. Taurus ascendant: A good deal of wealth will be accumulated by the native. He will live long and his co-born will also become rich. Gemini ascendant: Birth of twins, rich father, paternal inheritance and high financial status will come to pass. This will, however, inflict health problems for progeny. Cancer ascendant: Though the effects of Sasa Yoga will be enjoyed by the native, in the end he will be reduced to abject poverty or severe fear. Leo ascendant: Though he will incur heavy debts and troubles from cousins, he will have a virtuous wife and live a happy life. Virgo ascendant: Financial gains and loss of children will come to effect. Libra ascendant: He by birth belongs to a very rich family, will increase the family property, will obtain prosperous children and be very fortunate. He will be highly learned, will enjoy several conveyances, will have vast business undertakings, yet will not be very intelligent. Sometimes he will behave in a very incredible manner. Scorpio ascendant: He will earn limitless wealth but will lose a major portion of it. He will specifically be in litigations in regard to family properties. Sagittarius ascendant: This position will ward of many planetary blemishes relating to child mortality. The native as a youth will make abundant money and will save a good deal. He will have happy progeny, high degree of intelligence and be very fortunate. He will occupy famous positions in life. Capricorn ascendant: He will have a lot of money earned through his own exertion in his undertakings apart from parental wealth. He will be a successful householder. He will visit many shrines and will associate himself with many religious undertakings. He will propagate the teachings of the ancient. Aquarius ascendant: Long lease of life, good fortunes and wealthy circumstances will come to pass. Pisces ascendant: Longevity will be unlimited. Though monetary influx will be there, the native will be liable to spend away on vices and immoral undertakings.

15-16. SATURN IN SCORPIO: If Saturn occupies Scorpio at birth, the native will be hostile, be crooked, affected by poison and weapons, very ill-tempered, miserly, egoistic, rich, capable of stealing others' money, averse to instruments played on festive occasions, malicious, very miserable and will face destruction, misery and diseases.

Notes: "The native with Saturn placed in Scorpio will have a mark on the body caused in confinement (or in fighting etc.), will not have lasting wealth and will be at large having committed a murder." This is the version of Keeranur Nataraja in an emphatic manner. From this we may take a clue that if Saturn is in Scorpio at birth (particularly with great affliction from other planets and himself in evil Bhavas) one may commit a ghastly act and may be in dire legal troubles. He may be in exile or at large due to such a crime. (Any malefic planetary affliction in Scorpio may lead to performance of such deeds.). According to Nataraja, the subject may have wealth but his financial prosperity will be duly checkered. This gives a hint that one will lose and gain in the matter of money. A permanent physical mark, like a scar, is left on the body of the native due to his involvement in fights and the like. Thus Saturn in this sign is more adverse for a peaceful and honourable life.

As per Kalyana Varma, Saturn in this sign will cause (some) wealth. It obviously depends on the disposition of the planet. "Bahvo Mangalavadye" has been interpreted as having aversion for musical instruments played at festive occasions. This hints at the dislike of the native for festivals as well as music. The word 'Kshaya' though means tuberculosis, befitting the phrase, has been interpreted as destruction. A planet of destruction, Saturn, will contribute to one's destruction remaining in Scorpio, a sign of destruction, the natural 8th house. It may be self-destruction or affliction to longevity, as Nataraja himself does not extol in the context of longevity the placement of Saturn in the 8th identical with Scorpio for Aries ascendant (or in the 8th in Gemini for Scorpio ascendant).

The role of Saturn in Scorpio for the 12 signs ascending is denoted below:

Aries ascendant: In the 8th Saturn will give the native all kinds of difficulties. (The expression used in this context is 'ashtakasha' denoting eight kinds of evils as against 'ashta mangala', i.e., possession of eight kinds of auspicious things). According to Nataraja, as stated above, the native will suffer evils in the matter of longevity. Taurus ascendant: He will have a very bad taste in his married life. With Saturn's placement in the 7th the wife's longevity will not always suffer reduction but she will be unhealthy, quarrelsome etc. She may not have any praiseworthy qualities and will prove an evil partner. The native will have ugly teeth, will risk dental deficiencies but will, however enjoy good results in the matter of prosperity. Gemini ascendant: The native will suffer ulcer, wound, burns and the like. He will meet a bad end. The wealth to be given by Saturn will only be moderate. Cancer ascendant: The native will not beget progeny or will suffer great miseries if at all he begets. He will suffer disorders of belly, ulcer in intestines and piles and early symptoms of old age and utter poverty. He will lose his spouse early. Leo ascendant: As per our experience, a well placed Saturn in Scorpio has bestowed high learning. One can do Ph.D., IAS and the like with such a position. An afflicted Saturn will deprive one of maternal happiness, learning and general happiness. Such a native will always be in wants. Virgo ascendant: Loss of children, inability to repay loans, paternal loss etc., are denoted. Libra ascendant: One will gather much wealth and inherit from parents. But he will be tormented by expenses in astronomical proportions. Mostly he will spend on evil things, litigations, health of the family members and the like. He will not be in good terms with his mother and will indulge in acts causing loss of reputation to the family. Scorpio ascendant: He will be shortlived, be very miserable, poor and sick. Sagittarius ascendant: He will acquire money to the extent of his requirements but will be a spendthrift. His family life will be sorrowful and he will always fight with others. He will not perform any virtuous act. Capricorn ascendant: There will be a mixed trend in the matter of Yoga effects to be given by Saturn. He will maintain a healthy body and will live a happy life. Aquarius ascendant: He will achieve very great success in money and profession. Yet he will be miserable in regard to position. Pisces ascendant: The native will incur loss of coborn, be sick but moderately rich.

17-18. SATURN IN SAGITTARIUS: If Saturn occupies Sagittarius, one will be skilful in behaviour, teaching, vedic meaning, learning and denotation, (i.e. he will be best placed in these respects), be famous due to virtuous children, family profession and his own virtues, will enjoy excellent affluence in his old age, will speak less, will have many names, and be soft in disposition.

Notes: With Saturn in Sagittarius or in Pisces one will be acquainted with kings, will possess excellent and faultless speaking power, be happy, will acquire wealth through his own progeny, be virtuous, will obtain a very favourable spouse and will favour widows and whores (vide Jatakalankara of Nataraja).

"Abhidha" used by Kalyana Varma indicates 'denotation' one of the three powers of a word. That is a different aspect and for common application we can take a clue from Nataraja's statement as well as our present text that the subject will be in general a gifted speaker. "Sangna" means name and hence one may hope to be honoured with titles and the like. This also means intelligence. The sign of Jupiter denotes honour as well as intelligence. Saturn in this sign will thus be in a position to confer honour, intelligence etc.

Let us see how this planet posited in Sagittarius in an anxious mood to return home after many years will act for each ascendant:

Aries ascendant: With a strong Saturn, the native will have a happy and rich father, will have prosperous and happy progeny, will have many achievements to his credit, be exceedingly fortunate, religious, God-fearing and widely honoured. He will throughout enjoy good health. If Saturn is adverse these effects will be liable to alteration. Taurus ascendant: Fortunes will be limited. Expenses will be controlled but be on good accounts. He will suffer monetary adversities and reversals in education. If Saturn is well-connected with Karakas (Indicators concerned) the adversities will be to a lesser degree. The planet Saturn will, however, being in the 8th as Ayushkaraka will make great contribution to the longevity of the native. Gemini ascendant: Though marriage and wife's health stand to be affected, these can be easily overcome by the native, depending on the strength of and aspect of Saturn. An afflicted Saturn will make married life very miserable. There may be a chance of two marriages. Saturn in the 7th in a house of Jupiter, i.e. either in Sagittarius or in Pisces, will give an ugly and stout wife. Cancer ascendant: One will enjoy a long lease of life, will incur more expenses through his wife and will spend on evils. This placement indicates loss of brothers or no co-born and a poor wife. Leo ascendant: There may not be many children but one will surely obtain progeny, particularly sons. If Jupiter exchanges with Saturn, the former falling in Capricorn, there will be allround adversities in regard to children, money and longevity. So to say for a Leo native with Saturn in the 5th as Jupiter is in the 6th, these indications will greatly suffer. Virgo ascendant: Troubles to family properties and to own education will crop up. Progeny may be many and be well off. Libra ascendant: The native may not have good terms with his parents, be unfortunate, will lose his brothers/sisters and will enjoy only a moderate fortune. Even in respect of these limited fortunes, there will be obstacles. Scorpio ascendant: Earning of money will be with great difficulty and one will have a big face and will suffer ailments of eyes. He may go even illiterate if Saturn falls in Aries in Navamsa. Sagittarius ascendant: Though there may be health problems in childhood, one will flourish later on in the matter of health and be wealthy, fortunate and happy. Aquarius ascendant: He may suffer deafness and other afflictions to the ear. Financially one will gain and be happy with children. Pisces ascendant: One will be great, will earn a lot, be happy in profession and may be liable to suffer some reversals.

19-20. SATURN IN CAPRICORN: If Saturn is posited at birth in Capricorn, the native will lord over the lands of others' females, will be endowed with vedic knowledge, virtues and knowledge of many branches of fine arts, be excellent among his castemen, be honourable, will respect others, be famous, be interested in bathing and decoration, will be skilful in performance, will live in foreign places, be courageous and be polite in behaviour.

Notes: The native with Saturn in Capricorn or in Aquarius will enjoy the wealth of other women, will be a leader of city, village etc., be weak-sighted, dirty, will have lasting wealth and will enjoy. This is how Varaha Mihira and Gunakara describe the context. Jatakalankara by Nataraja states that the native will lead over beautiful towns and cities, will have small eyes, will suffer eye afflictions, will continue to earn wealth uninterruptedly, will spend, be of moderate height, be spiritual and be (yet) a thief. One can draw similarity in the statements of Varaha Mihira and Nataraja, the latter being no less an authority than other ancients, that the native will be a thief. Varaha Mihira uses a mild phrase, viz., "Anyangana-vit-tachauryam" meaning that the native will steal wealth of other women. So to say one will be a thief of wealth of others—about which there is no contradiction between the three, viz., Varaha Mihira, Gunakara and Nataraja. Kalyana Varma while dealing with Saturn in Capricorn uses the phrase "Parayoshlthkshetranam prabhuh" which means: will lord over landed properties (or abodes) of females not of his own. This is the literal translation. From a practical point of view one should infer this that the native will corner the lands of other helpless women. This inference is more than fairly supported by the other three authorities.

As far as other indications are concerned, with Saturn's position in Capricorn one will have bad eye-sight, be always endowed with wealth (though there is no specific clue about one's being rich or poor in our text), be learned, excellent, honourable etc. Saturn being the owner of the zodiac's 10th house, his placement in own house will make one a success in his career. He will be more successful in his native land than in other places.

How Saturn in Capricorn acts upon each ascending sign may be understood from the following:

Aries ascendant: Primarily the native will confine to his own birth place for obtaining his livelihood. He will get Raja Yoga results in Sani dasa. His childhood will be spent happily with prosperous education. He will be free from diseases and will maintain a healthy body. Taurus ascendant: While the native will be generally fortunate he may lose his father early or will not be fortunate in that respect. This will be dependent on the disposition of the Sun. The native will also suffer loss of co-born. If the Moon is declining when Saturn is in Capricorn, the relationship with brother, friends etc., will not be smooth. Gemini ascendant: One will be long lived, will undergo many difficulties for livelihood, will be unlucky and will not have a happy family life. These adversities will not, however, take a very adverse turn. Cancer ascendant: This position is detrimental for the longevity of the spouse if Saturn is alone in the 7th. If he is helped by the Moon or Sun this affliction will be overcome while normally Saturn with the Sun or the Moon in the 7th is very bad. If Saturn is alone in the 7th the native will be very sickly and will suffer from one disease or the other from time to time. In a female's chart bleeding will be experienced. Leo ascendant: In the dasa of Saturn the native will gain wealth through enemies or from litigations. He will throughout be free from sickness. He will not be very intelligent and will live long. Virgo ascendant: The native will obtain twins with Saturn in the 5th. His children in general will be a source of concern with diseases. The native will be short of hearing or will suffer from some ailments of the ears. Moneywise, only moderate results will be experienced with susceptibility to loans. Libra ascendant: He will have a longliving mother and will respect her very much. He will be learned, skilful in business, will have protruding teeth, long hair and thick nails and will enjoy a very long span of life. Houses to be owned by such a native will normally be built-ones (i.e. old) and will not bear a good look. Scorpio ascendant: He will not be very learned, will not live with his father, will suffer on account of children and will enjoy only moderate fortunes. The native's wife will suffer from disorders relating to breathing, lungs, breast etc. If Rahu joins Saturn in Capricorn the person will be lame. Sagittarius ascendant: He will be not very happy (but indeed not miserable) in his family life. He will acquire money with some difficulty. He will have two marriages. His wife will be harsh in speech and will not honour the elders in his family. Capricorn ascendant: He will severely undergo the three kinds of miseries in life (i.e. Tapatraya which denotes miseries of Adhyatmika type, Aadhidaatmika type and Aadhibhautika type). [The first relates to self (and the soul), the second to tutelary deity or caused by fate and the third to material kind caused by animals as pain. Every individual born in this world will have to undergo these sufferances or Tapatraya in varied degree and at various periods according to one's poorvakarma]. The native will find his earnings in an employment but with obstacles. He will be sick and will be deprived of his parents. Raja Yoga results will, however, be experienced in Saturn dasa. Aquarius ascendant: He will acquire long living children. More expenses, financial difficulties, facial diseases etc., will also come to pass. Pisces ascendant: He will have a long living mother and will inherit some maternal property also. He will suffer great miseries in boyhood. He will himself enjoy good span of life.

21-22. SATURN IN AQUARIUS: If Saturn is in Aquarius, the native will be a great liar, be eminent, be addicted to women and wine, be wicked, crafty, will fall prey to evil friendship, be very ill-tempered, be averse to knowledge, conversation and traditional law, be addicted to other women, be harsh in speech and will attempt at many undertakings.

Notes: The views of Jatakalankara, Hora Makaranda and Brihatjataka for Saturn's placement in Aquarius are not different from those applicable to Capricorn, vide notes under the two previous slokas. Our author gives different results for Saturn's placement in Capricorn and Aquarius. Only evil results have been attributed to Saturn's placement in Aquarius by Kalyana Varma.

How each ascendant will stand to gain or lose with Saturn in Aquarius may be seen from the undermentioned results:

Aries ascendant: The native will stand to gain highly in his undertakings. He will not enjoy a happy married life and will suffer from disorders of stomach and anus. Taurus ascendant: Though he will have a prosperous career, he will sometimes greatly suffer adversities. He will incur litigations on account of paternal properties. Gemini ascendant: He will suffer miseries and be not happy with regard to father. This position will cause loss of co-born and will cause diseases of legs. An attack of paralysis will always have to be feared with Saturn in Aquarius. Cancer ascendant: Though married life will be strained with the native becoming a widower or a widow as the case may be, one will have a long lease of life. Life will be unfortunate and unhappy for the native. Financial problems will always be on the increase. Leo ascendant: Almost similar results will come to pass with the addition of the native getting addicted to whores, gambling and the like. Virgo ascendant: Financial problems will be plenty with a long lease of life. A disturbed married life will be evident. Libra ascendant: Progeny will be delayed but be surely acquired. One will acquire a life partner from a rich place. Financial losses are not ruled out. Scorpio ascendant: One will be learned, will suffer severe diseases like piles, rheumatism, swollen diaphragm and the like. Maternal happiness will lack if the Moon is simultaneously devoid of strength. Sagittarius ascendant: He will have a very rough voice which will not be pleasing to listen. He will have danger for his arms early in life. There will not be any happiness in the family of the native. Capricorn ascendant: One will be wealthy and with a strong Jupiter his riches will be still greater. Saturn in Aquarius will give a long lease of life to this native but there will be some miserable events in life. Marriage will not be so happy with the scope of a second marriage not being ruled out. Aquarius ascendant: One will not fail to get Raja Yoga results from Saturn who may sometimes prove a maraka or may inflict some miseries equal to death. Such a native will lament over many deaths in the family. Pisces ascendant: Financial implications, involvement in monetary misappropriation, suffering severe health troubles etc., will come to pass.

23-24. SATURN IN PISCES: If Saturn occupies Pisces at birth, one will be fond of Sacrifices and arts, be chief among his relatives and friends, be calm, will have increasing wealth, be skilful in policy-making, be capable of diamond testing, be virtuous, modest and will later on acquire an authoritative position.

Notes: While Keeranuru Nataraja treats Saturn in Sagittarius and Pisces alike, Kalyana Varma attributes specific effects for occupation of the two different signs. In the second quarter of sloka 24, we find the words "paschadbhavaspadam" which when properly rendered means that one will in the later part of life procure a position with authority. Pisces being the last sign of the zodiac and Saturn being a planet to give slow and steady effects, it aptly means that the person will receive the goods from Saturn not just in the beginning of life but later on. Some versions read this phrase as "vlshadam paschad bhavet purushah" which hints at the possibility of administering poison (to somebody).

Remaining in Pisces Saturn bestows following effects for the various ascendants:

Aries ascendant: The native will gather abundant wealth but will lose everything on account of vices and evil expenses. He will suffer from severe eye defects. One born in day time will lose his father early while the one born in night time will get favourable results about his father.

Taurus ascendant: Mentally a much distressed native is denoted. Positionally he will be happy and will earn much wealth. He will make money through business via sea (i.e. exports) and by water-related products, (viz. salt, fish, pearls, steamers and the like).

Gemini ascendant: He will be an eminent person and will earn honours. He will be addicted to many a vice. His mother will be prone to risk from water.

Cancer ascendant: He will be devoid of paternal happiness but will enjoy marital felicity. His wife will be stout, intelligent and lucky.

Leo ascendant: He will not be successful in financial matters provided Jupiter or the Sun render help to Saturn.

Virgo ascendant: One will procure a sick wife. There will be no happiness either in marriage or in respect of progeny.

Libra ascendant: A long span of life, distress due to children and inharmony with co-born will follow. Saturn in the 6th for this ascendant will prove a boost for accumulating wealth.

Scorpio ascendant: The native's children are greatly affected adversely. There will be heavy financial burdens and losses coupled with distress in married life.

Sagittarius ascendant: One will receive high education and will be well placed in profession.

Capricorn ascendant: One will have good conduct, philosophical disposition and wealth.

Aquarius ascendant: Long life, financial prosperity etc., will come to pass followed by heavy expenses and losses.

Pisces ascendant: Ill-health, lack of happiness, physical defects, grotesque growth etc., will be felt with Saturn in this ascendant.

25-30. SATURN IN ARIES/SCORPIO IN ASPECT TO OTHERS: If Saturn occupies a Rasi of Mars and is aspected by the Sun, one will be interested in agriculture, be very affluent, be endowed with cows, buffaloes and horses, be fortunate, and industrious. If by the Moon, he will be fickle minded, base, will join mean and ugly women and be devoid of happiness and wealth. If by Mars, he will kill animals, be base, be a leader of robbers, be famous and be fond of (joining other) women, meat and wine. If by Mercury, he will be untruthful, not virtuous, will eat much, be a famous thief, and be devoid of happiness and riches. If by Jupiter, he will be endowed with happiness, wealth and fortune, be a king's minister and be chief. If by Venus, he will be quite unsteady in disposition, very ugly, will join other women and courtezans and be bereft of pleasures.

Notes: Saturn's lonely position in Aries will make one poor but rich if in Scorpio (vide respective slokas of this chapter). If he is aspected by the Sun as stated in the present slokas one will be rich, as the Sun is a benefic for both the signs. The aspect of the Moon is equally favourable for both the signs. Without meaning any disrespect of Kalyana Varma, it is pointed out that the native will be wealthy as the aspect of the Moon will be either from Taurus (when she is in exaltation) or from Libra (Saturn is favourable for Libra Janmarasi). There are of course bound to be some financial reversals, for Saturn in the 7th from the Moon is not conducive to lasting riches. Mercury's aspect is a felicitous augury for wealth as well as that of Jupiter. The aspect of Venus will make one highly immoral.

31-36. SATURN IN TAURUS/LIBRA IN ASPECT TO OTHERS: Should Saturn be in a sign of Venus and is aspected by the Sun, the native will be clear in speech, will lose wealth, be a scholar, will eat in other's houses, and be weak in constitution. If by the Moon, he will gain wealth (सारम्) through women, will be honoured by ministers of kings, be dear to women, and be endowed with family. If by Mars, he will be skilful in war preparations but will be away from war, will speak much and be endowed with wealth and family. If by Mercury, he will always be jocularly disposed, be equal to a neuter, will serve females and be base. If by Jupiter, he will share happiness and misery of others, will do others' jobs, be dear to people, charitable and industrious. If by Venus, he will be happy on account of women and wine (i.e. will enjoy these), be endowed with gems, be very strong and be dear to the king.

37-42. SATURN IN GEMINI/VIRGO AND IN ASPECT TO OTHERS: If Saturn occupies a Rasi of Mercury at birth and is aspected by the Sun, the native will be devoid of happiness and wealth, be virtuous, bereft of anger, will endure difficulties and be valorous. If by the Moon, he will be equal to a king, will possess a bright physique, will earn wealth and honour through women and will do women's jobs. If by Mars, he will be a famous boxer, be stupefied, will carry heavy loads and will possess an ugly body. If by Mercury, he will be rich, skilful in war, be a dance master, a skilful singer and an expert in arts. If by Jupiter, he will be trustworthy in the king's circle, will possess all kinds of (good) qualities, be liked by good men and will earn wealth through his virtues. If by Venus, he will be skilful in beautifying women, be a teacher of Yogas, or a saint and be dear to the fair sex.

43-48. SATURN IN CANCER IN ASPECT TO OTHERS: IF

Saturn occupies Cancer at birth and is aspected by the Sun, the native will lose his father in his very boyhood, be bereft of wealth, wife and happiness, will eat bad food and be sinful. If by the Moon, he will be a source of evil to his mother, be wealthy and will be troubled by his co-born. If by Mars, he will enjoy king's wealth, be defective bodied, will possess gold and gems, be endowed with a family and will have a bad group of relatives and wife. If by Mercury, one will be hard-hearted, garrulous, will conquer his enemies, will show vanity and will do noble acts. If by Jupiter, he will be endowed with lands, houses, friends, sons, wealth, gems and wife. If by Mercury, one will be hard-hearted, garrulous, will conquer his enemies, will show vanity and will do noble acts. If by Jupiter, he will be endowed with lands, houses, friends, sons, wealth, gems and wife. If by Venus, he is of a noble descent but will be bereft of beauty, grace and happiness.

Notes: If the Sun aspects Saturn in Cancer it is inauspicious for the father of the native while the aspect from the Moon is adverse for mother.

49-54. SATURN IN LEO IN ASPECT OF OTHERS: If Saturn occupies the Sun-owned Rasi, and is aspected by the Sun himself, the native will be devoid of wealth, happiness and nobility, will be a liar and a drunkard, will possess a bad physique, be a servant and be very miserable. If by the Moon, he will enjoy abundant wealth, precious stones and women, be widely famous and be dear to the king. If by Mars, he will everyday move from place to place, be unfortunate, will live in fortresses and hills, be base and be bereft of wife and sons. If by Mercury, he will not be outspoken, be lazy, poor, will do females' job, be dirty and miserable. If by Jupiter, he will be chief and rich in his town or among his men, will be endowed with progeny and be trustworthy. If by Venus, he will be averse to women, be splendidous, slow (or tardy), happy, rich and will attain a good end.

55-60. SATURN IN JUPITER'S RASI AND IN ASPECT TO OTHERS: If Saturn occupies Sagittarius or Pisces at birth, in aspect to the Sun the native will be the father of others' children, and through these children he will attain wealth, name, fame and honour. If by the Moon, he will be bereft of mother, will have two names and be endowed with wife, children and wealth. If by Mars, he will be troubled by windy diseases, will dislike people, be sinful, mean, blame-worthy etc. If by Mercury, he will be equal to a king, be happy, be a preceptor, be honourable, rich and fortunate. If by Jupiter, he will be a king or equal to a king or a minister or an army chief and be free from all kinds of danger. If by Venus, he will have two mothers and two fathers, will live in forests and hills, will be unsteady, and be endowed with many kinds of assignments.

Notes: In sloka 60 it is stated that Venus aspecting Saturn in a sign of Jupiter will indicate two mothers and two fathers. This only means that the native will be brought up by such relatives who are equal to his mother and father. Alternatively, if Jupiter is indicative of a yoga for adoption the native may go in adoption whereby he will have father and mother again.

61-66. SATURN IN OWN HOUSE IN ASPECT TO OTHERS: If Saturn is in Capricorn/Aquarius and is aspected by the Sun, he will be sick, will have an ugly wife, will eat other's food, be miserable, wandering in nature and will carry loads. If by the Moon, he will be fickle-minded, untruthful, sinful, will not have good terms with his mother, be rich and be sorrowful due to wandering. If by Mars, he will be very valorous, famous, be superior among great men and sharp. If by Mercury, he will carry loads, be clouded in mentality (or Tamasik in disposition), be good-looking, wandering-natured, learned, be not quite wealthy and be fortunate. If by Jupiter, he will be famous for his good qualities, be a king or be of royal scion, long-lived and be free from diseases. If by Venus, he will be rich, addicted to other women, fortunate, happy and will enjoy food and drinks.

Effects of Planets in Bhavas

मूर्त्यादिया पदार्था जायन्ते येन सर्वजन्तूनाम् ।
तस्मादधुनः वक्ष्ये भावाध्यायं विशेषेण ॥१॥

1. In order that the effects of physique etc., for the various human beings are understood, I explain below things relating to (various) Bhavas (of a horoscope) in a special manner.

Notes: In the earlier chapters the effects due to various planets in various Rasis and aspects thereto have been explained and now dealt with are the effects of each planet in various bhavas. Before arriving at the results of various positions one will have to make a meaningful mix of a planet's position in a sign, in a house and the aspect related to the context.

लग्नेऽर्केऽल्पकचः क्रियालसमतिः क्रोधी प्रचण्डोन्नतो
मानी लोचनरूक्षकर्कशतनुः शूरोऽक्षमो निर्घृणः ।

THE SUN IN VARIOUS BHAVAS (upto sloka 13)

2. SUN IN ASCENDANT: The Sun in the ascendant denotes that the native will have less hair (on the head), be lazy in function, given to anger, will have prominent personality, be honourable, will have weak sight and coarse physique, be courageous, impatient and unkind. If the ascendant is Cancer and is occupied by the Sun, the native will have swollen eyes; if it be Aries ascendant with Sun therein, his sight will be weak and in Leo ascendant, the Sun makes him night-blind. One suffers poverty and loss of children if the Sun occupies Libra Ascendant.

Notes: Our commentary for the positions of planets in various bhavas owes its acknowledgement to authorities like Jeeva Natha, Jaya Deva, Chamatkara Chintamani, Jataka Parijata, Bhrigu Sutra, Hora Ratna, Manasagari, Phala Deepika, Jataka Sagara, Kheta Kautuka. Yavanas have specifically treated Bhava Phalas with reference to female births. Such notes have also been added in this context which are of course interchangeable for male nativities as well if applicable.

The native with the Sun in ascendant will be tall in stature, will be tormented on account of thoughts related to his wife and children, will suffer from windy and bilious diseases, will be happy in money matters (though there may be occasional debacles) and be happy. He will have less number of children and will suffer from ailments of eyes. He will be fond of quarrels, dance, literature etc., and be strong. He will have an emaciated body, bald head and reddish eyes. He will speak only when required. If the Sun is in Pisces as ascendant one will join many women; in Capricorn or in Aquarius as ascendant, he will be prone to heart diseases; in the signs of Venus identical with ascendant, he will suffer from severe eye diseases and if in Leo, Cancer or in Aries as ascendant, there will be nightblindness or a floral mark on the pupil. Some texts say that the Sun in the ascendant will not give progeny while Bhrigu says that in Virgo ascendant the Sun will, however, give female children. The Sun in the ascendant will afflict the virility of the native and hence with simultaneous affliction to Jupiter, progeny may not be begotten. Otherwise, with favourable Jupiter, the Sun in the ascendant will not totally deprive one of progeny.

In a female's chart, the Sun in the ascendant will cause her many diseases and will make her dependant on others. She will be ungrateful, base and emaciated.

द्विपदचतुष्पदभागी मुखरोगी नष्टविभवसौख्यश्च ।
नृपचोरमुषितसारः कुटुम्बगे स्याद्रवौ पुरुषः ॥३॥

3. SUN IN 2nd: If the Sun is in the 2nd bhava, the native will be endowed with servants and quadrupeds, will suffer facial diseases, will be deprived of happiness and wealth and will lose money through royal displeasure or through thieves.

Notes: The native with the Sun in the 2nd will be wealthy, will have family problems will not enjoy much sexual pleasures, will have financial losses, be not well-related to his relatives, be sometimes very distressed, will have afflicted progeny, will frequently change his residence and will have checkered learning, afflicted speech, ugly hair, reddish eyes and small teeth. He will suffer facial diseases and will incur the wrath of the government. Many texts including Brihat Jataka attribute richness to the Sun's placement in the 2nd house. However, Phala Deepika, and Yavanas say that one will not be wealthy. Bhṛigu Rishi indicates possible financial loss in the 25th year, and if the 2nd is identical with Aries/Leo, there will not be any loss. As per Vṛidha Yavanas, a female with the Sun in the 2nd will be devoid of wealth, good speech and friendliness. She will always be treacherous, fond of promoting disputes in the family and be not pious. (Such a woman may be liable to lose the confidence of her family members).

विक्रान्तो बलयुवतो विनष्टसहजस्तृतीयगे सूर्ये ।
लोके मतोऽभिरामः प्राज्ञो जितदुष्टपक्षश्च ॥४॥

4. SUN IN 3rd: Should the Sun be in the 3rd bhava, the native will be valorous, strong, will lose co-born, be dear to people, goodlooking, very learned and will conquer his enemies.

Notes: One with the Sun in the 3rd will not be happy in regard to co-born. Bhṛigu Maharshi adds that he will not even retain his elder brothers, which is confirmed by Parasara also.

He will achieve easy success in litigations, be wealthy, be highly inimical to brothers, intelligent, very learned, famous, eloquent in speech, liberal, devoid of sickness, but will suffer difficulties of health in his 4th, 5th, 8th and 12th years. He will be brought up by another female equal to his mother. If a female has the Sun in the 3rd, she will be ever devoid of happiness, devoid of sickness, be beautiful and will have prominent and stout breasts.

वाहनबन्धुविहीनः पीडितहृदयश्चतुर्थके सूर्ये ।
पितृगृहघननाशकरो भवति नरः कुन्पसेवी च ॥५॥

5. SUN IN 4th: Should the Sun be in the 4th bhava, the native will be devoid of conveyances and relatives, will suffer heart diseases, will destroy paternal house and wealth and will serve a bad king.

Notes: "Will serve a bad king" denoted in the text should mean that one with the Sun in the 4th will serve a bad employer.

The Sun in the 4th house will acquire a job with great prosperity. One will be insulted by enemies, will lose in litigations, will lack amity with brothers and other relatives, will never be peaceful, will fall in bad friendship, will not be financially happy, will not stick to one place, will diminish his wealth, be addicted to whores, will lack paternal happiness, be a discredit to the family, be not endowed with conveyances, landed properties and the like, will not have a worthy history, will have defective limbs, will long to have a beautiful wife, will lose some children and will be very beautiful to attract women. Notes: The Sun in the 5th will afflict the progeny on which many authorities are unanimous. some say he will lose the first son while some say he will have only one issue. Yet some declare he will be devoid of happiness on account of progeny. In summary there will be loss of issue or miserable children or delayed birth of children. The placement of the Sun in 5th is harmful for progeny in some form or other. "He will be so intelligent that he can understand anything and everything on the earth." He will be particularly skilful in Mantra Sastra and will derive great pleasures in cheating others. He will not have much wealth and will be wandering in lonely places, will steal others' articles and be irreligious.

Kheta Kautuka is the lonely popular work to say that the native will be foolish while others praise the native's wisdom. He will have a second marriage also. His death will be through diseases of the belly, liver and spleen, heart defects and the like. A female with the Sun in the 5th will honour her parents, will have few children, will have prominent face and teeth, be eloquent in speech and will follow religious discipline.

While a moveable sign is on the ascendant: If the Sun occupies the 5th and be in a movable Navamsa, he will lose his father at the age of 12 and in a fixed Navamsa, the death of father will come at 36 while the Sun in a dual Navamsa, will cause early exit of father apart from danger to his own son when his child is 4. Without reference to the ascendant being movable etc., if the Sun is in the 5th identical with a malefic's Navamsa as his sign dispositor is weak, predict danger to father at the age of 17.

8. SUN IN 7th: If the Sun is posited in the 7th, the native will be poor, insulted, will suffer bodily diseases, royal displeasures and imprisonment, will take to bad ways and will not be well-disposed to his wife.

1. 18. 24. 26 or 30. For a Leo native if the Sun is in the 9th in Bharani 3rd quarter (i.e. in Libra Navamsa), the mother will be long-lived but the native will not have a happy loaf of bread and will not derive good effects in general. As the Sun is in the 9th in general while the 9th lord is in exaltation or in good divisions one will enjoy royal fortunes and be akin to a king. In a female's nativity, the Sun in the 9th will deprive her of fortunes, wealth and health. She will suffer from severe diseases.

12. SUN IN 11th: Should the Sun be in the 11th bhava, one will be interested in gathering money, be strong, will hate others, be devoid of servants, be himself a servant, be devoid of affection, be modest and will be successful in undertakings.

Notes: If the Sun occupies the 11th house, one will acquire a kingly position with power, will destroy his enemies with his own valour, will incur grief on account of progeny, will gain in many ways, be satwic in disposition, virtuous, wise, will have knowledge of music, be very wealthy and be so pleasing in appearance that cute dames will lose their hearts for him and be after him. He will acquire a beautiful wife. He will live long, be devoid of grief, will acquire sudden wealth and be very opulent. If the Sun be in the 11th in a female's radix, she will acquire sons and grandsons, will conquer her five senses, be skilful in many arts, be patient in disposition and be honoured by her relatives.

THE MOON IN VARIOUS BHAVAS (upto sloka 25)

14. MOON IN ASCENDANT: The Moon in the ascendant identical with Cancer, Taurus or Aries indicates that the native will be liberal, beautiful, rich and enjoying pleasures greatly. Should the ascendant be other than these, the native will be intensely passionate, base, deaf, distressed, dumb and will decline (in prosperity).

Notes: The placement of Moon in the ascendant is praised by Narayana Bhatta and Jeevanatha only in case of Taurus, Aries and Cancer, as done by Kalyana Varma.

As per Jayadeva, the Moon in Cancer ascendant will make one happy and in Taurus or in Aries quite wealthy.

In general context it is stated that the Moon in the ascendant will make one cunning, short-statured, valorous, happy, like curd and ghee, interested in astrology, famous in the later part of life, subject to perils four times in life and disbelieve his wife.

In a female's nativity, if increasing Moon is in the ascendant she will be beautiful. Waning Moon will make her thin, poor, sick, argumentative and dirty.

अतुलितसुखमित्रयुतो धनेश्च चन्द्रे द्वितीयराशिगते ।

सम्पूर्णोऽतिधनेशो भवति नरोऽल्पप्रलापकरः ॥१५॥

15. MOON IN THE 2nd: Should the Moon be in the 2nd bhava, the native will enjoy incomparable happiness and friends and be wealthy. If the said Moon be full, the native will be very affluent and will speak less.

Notes: If the Moon is in the 2nd house, one will be plentiful in wealth and grains, be physically sound, will spend his time joyously with females, will have less interest in his family, be famous and will be so charming as to attract even angels. Goddess Lakshmi will happily dwell in his house. He will be wise, will have defective speech and will be honoured by king. According to Jataka Ratna such a native will lose money on account of his sisters and daughters.

A female with the Moon in the 2nd house will be wealthy, be modest, amicable to her husband and justly disposed.

It is advisable to evaluate the results due to the Moon in the above context, or in any context, with reference to her Paksha Bala etc. Otherwise, one will be misled.

16. MOON IN THE 3rd: Should the Moon be in the 3rd bhava, the native will protect his co-born, be always delighted, valorous and will be endowed with learning, robes and food.

Notes: Should the Moon be in the 3rd house, one will enjoy happiness with beautiful women, will acquire wealth with his own valour, be very virtuous, pious, learned sensuous, phlegmatic and important in his race. He will cause pains to living beings, will prattle and will be interested in literature etc. Vaidyanatha, however, declares that he will not be wealthy while Jataka Ratna states that the native will have two brothers and three sisters all of whom will be sound in health. Bhrigu Rishi states that one with the Moon in 3rd will be windy, will not acquire required food, and be unfortunate. He adds that the native will incur royal wrath at the age of 24 and later on will lose his wealth. As per a Tamil authority he will acquire many houses and conveyances, be very intelligent, very affectionate to his children, very affluent and will acquire a charming female. A female with the Moon in the 3rd house will be phlegmatic, windy, harsh and miserly.

17. MOON IN THE 4th: If the Moon be in the 4th bhava, the native will be endowed with relatives, paraphernalia, and conveyances, be charitable, fond of travelling by water and will neither be very happy nor be miserable (i.e. will have balanced combination of these).

Notes: The words "Sukhaasukhotkarsha parimuktah" find different expressions in different versions. Our version means that one will be free from the excess ('utkarsha') of happiness and unhappiness. So to say, he will have a balanced position in regard to this aspect and will be generally happy. He may yet be miserable but not verily.

When the Moon is in the 4th house, one will gain position through relatives, be a king's treasurer (i.e. will occupy good positions in banks, financial institutions etc.), will not be very happy in boyhood but will be later on happy with his family members, be learned, addicted to women, endowed with various kinds of wealth, will please the fair sex, will eat non-vegetarian items and will live in beautiful abodes. (One may be always sick if the Moon is not strong being in the 4th house.)

His business will be in fish products, pearls, conch etc., and through water. This is more certain if the 4th house happens to be Cancer, Scorpio, first half of Capricorn or Pisces. He may become a temple priest to earn his livelihood. Bhrigu Sutras declares that he will be enthroned. So to say, in modern days he will occupy ministerial and other similar positions. Weak Moon in the 4th will cause diseases to the mother of the native.

In a female's nativity if the Moon is in the 4th house one will be very happy, will beautify herself richly, be firm in disposition, will take to virtuous means, will abundantly enjoy pleasures, be well-disposed towards elders and be pious.

18. MOON IN THE 5th: Should the Moon be in the 5th bhava, the native will be timid in disposition, will earn learning, clothes and food, will have many sons and friends, be a scholar and be passionate.

Notes: In regard to the Moon's position in the 5th house, Varaha Mihira, Kalyana Varma, Mantreswara, Jayadeva, Kasinatha etc., have used the word 'Suta' denoting sons. It is said by these slokas that one will have many sons. In actual practice and responding to common logic, the Moon in the 5th gives more daughters than sons. Throughout the parlance of astrology, the expression 'son' does not expressly exclude, however, obtainment of female progeny. This expression was being used those days as more importance was given to one's having sons to save him from being thrown into the hell called पुत्. Garga specially says that one with the Moon in the 5th will have only daughters and be devoid of a male issue, see "Panchame Rajaninathah Kanyayamaputrakam..."

One with the Moon in the 5th will unfailingly obtain excellent progeny, will receive a deity's blessings by upasana, will gain through his wife, will lend money on usury and prosper, be highly intelligent, fortunate, sick, horrible-faced, will obtain a devoted wife, be wealthy and will acquire two wives. He will gain through quadrupeds, milk etc., will feed many, and will involve in research work. The native's wife will have a natal mark between her breasts. Only one child is retainable with the Moon in the 5th. (This should be applied only when the Moon is devoid of strength or with malefic aspects. Otherwise there will be many children). A lady with the Moon in the 5th will obtain many children, be devoted to her husband, be very virtuous, beautiful and agreeable to all.

19. MOON IN THE 6th: If the Moon be in the 6th bhava, the native will suffer stomachial diseases. If it be the weak Moon, he will be short lived.

Notes: Whatever be the valour of enemies one with the Moon in the 6th will always conquer them. They will not raise their heads again before the native. The subject will not have happy relations with his mother. Neither she will be happy. He will incur diseases of stomach, eyes, mind etc. He will be emaciated, miserly and unfruitful. Varaha Mihira says that the native will not have much sexual appetite. Vaidyanatha is specific in saying that weak Moon reduces longevity and Full Moon increases longevity—if in the 6th.

The Moon in the 6th is not congenial for paternal happiness. His maternal uncle will have loss of children or will have only female issues. His maternal aunt will become a widow. A female with the Moon in the 6th will have mean conduct, be treacherous, fickle minded, weak-bodied and will join evil friends.

20. MOON IN THE 7th: If the Moon is in the 7th bhava, the native will be amiable, happy, will possess a good physique and be sensuously disposed. If the weak Moon be so posited, the native will be pitiable and sick.

Notes: If the Moon is in the 7th one will be happy with his wife, will earn wealth in business in foreign places, will enjoy food with women, will sexually enjoy many supreme women, will be very sensuous and be liberal. Meena Raja says that difficulties akin to death will come to pass in the 15th year. According to Sukra Jataka one will have many wives. There is difference of opinion among the various authors inasmuch as some say there will be wealth with this placement while yet others say this position will cause poverty. It obviously depends on the state and lordship of the Moon.

Jataka Sagara states that one with the Moon in the 7th will acquire an excellent wife who will, however, be sickly, will gather abundant wealth, be famous, interested in music and will not be infamous (or be not humiliated) till the end of life.

A female with the Moon in the 7th will be affluent, devoted to her husband, splendidous and eloquent.

अतिमतिरतितेजस्वी व्याधिविबन्धक्षपितदेहः ।

21. MOON IN THE 8th: If the Moon is in the 8th bhava, the native will be very intelligent, very splendidous, and will suffer from diseases. If the Moon be weak, he will be short lived.

Notes: Narayana Bhatta and Jeevanatha say that one will suffer from severer than the severest of diseases and will be attended to by many doctors if the Moon is in the 8th house. This follows that one will be ever sick and will always need medical attention and medicines. He will be always poor, quite intelligent, learned and will suffer from diseases of the eyes and epilepsy. He will not have firm livelihood and will be wandering hither and thither. He will not enjoy much conjugal happiness. For a day birth Sukla paksha (increasing Moon) and for night birth Krishna Paksha (declining Moon) in the 6th/8th respectively will protect the native akin to his mother. In a female's radix if the Moon be in the 8th, she will be blameworthy, will have sick eyes/breasts/vagina, be ugly and will contract diseases of various kinds.

22. MOON IN THE 9th: If the Moon is in the 9th bhava, the native will be devoted to divine and paternal assignments, will be endowed with happiness, wealth, intelligence and sons and will attract the fair sex.

Notes: If the Moon is in the 9th house one will be honoured by all including his enemies. His valour and health will wax and wane like the Moon's rays. He will have a beautiful face akin to the full Moon. He will be wealthy, virtuous, endowed with wife and children and will gain abundantly in the 24th year of his age. Full Moon will confer fortunes to the native and a long lease of life to his father. According to Garga, one with the Moon being strong in the 9th will be fortunate in the middle of his life and will be devoted to his father and weak Moon will totally destroy the native. The Moon in the 9th will give a jocular disposition and skill in three languages. A female with the Moon in the 9th will be endowed with abundant gold and wealth, be supreme in the family, virtuous and truthful.

23. MOON IN THE 10th: If the Moon occupies the 10th bhava, the native will not suffer grief, be dutiful, successful in his undertakings, affluent, pure, very strong, valorous and charitable.

Notes: If the Moon be in the 10th at the time of one's birth, he will be fortunate, wealthy, happy with relatives, will gain from the king, will enjoy physical pleasures with many women, be a successful householder, will have increasing and decreasing wealth, will not enjoy good terms with his first child, will gain through his in-laws, be very highly learned and will head a religious institution. If there are other afflictions, the native will lose his mother in the 10th month vide Jataka Sagara. According to Jaageswara one will gain through conducting brothel houses. A female with the Moon in the 10th will be fortunate and happy.

24. MOON IN THE 11th: Should the Moon occupy the 11th bhava, the native will be wealthy, will have many sons, be long-lived, will have attendants to serve, be intelligent, sharp, valorous and splendidous.

Notes: Should the Moon be in the 11th one will be happy, wealthy, fortunate, be honoured by the king, will face failures in his undertakings, will obtain a son in his 50th year, be famous, endowed with conveyances and palacial buildings, will have more daughters, be intelligent, very learned, long lived and will keep some hidden wealth. In a female's nativity, if the Moon is in the 11th house, she will be devoid of sickness and be happy.

द्वेष्यः पतितः क्षुद्रो नयनरुगतोऽलसो भवेद्विकलः ॥

25. MOON IN THE 12th: If the Moon occupies the 12th bhava, the native will be odious, be fallen in moral sense, be mean, will suffer eye diseases, be indolent, distressed (or deformed), is born of other's loins and will be insulted at all times.

Notes: If the Moon be in the 12th house at the time of birth one will have many enemies, will suffer from ailments of eyes, indigestion etc., will have mental worries, expenses on religious and auspicious activities (evil expenses are also indicated by the author of Kheta Kautuka), will incur unhappiness through the relatives of his parents, will feel demoralized during coition, be very sinful, addicted to intoxicants, be mean among his family members, will cause troubles to living beings, will not have good terms with his friends, be indolent, humiliated, will live in foreign places (out of miseries), be very irascible, emaciated, weak, addicted to mean professions, will suffer separation from his wife frequently, will lose his virility, be one eyed, will suffer financial losses, will eat bad food, will many times be deprived of food (out of poverty), and be foolish. He will have risk from water in his 45th year. There is, however, an authority to state that the Moon in the 12th will cause prosperity in the later part of life. Frequent misunderstandings with spouse will be experienced. Jyotisha Kalpataru states that one with the Moon in the 12th will not have much appetite while Kasinatha of Lagna Chandrika indicates a voracious eater. The former view is more acceptable. A female in whose radix the Moon is relegated to the 12th will be a spendthrift and will not enjoy much wealth.

In the above, effects like 'one-eyed', 'illegal birth' etc., should be carefully applied after taking other relative factors into consideration.

MARS IN VARIOUS BHAVAS (upto sloka 37)

26. MARS IN ASCENDANT: If Mars occupies the ascendant, the native will be cruel, adventurous, dullwitted, shortlived, honourable, courageous, will have an injured physique, be attractive in appearance and fickle minded.

Notes: If Mars be in the ascendant, one will have fear or danger from wood, fire, weapons etc., will lose his wife and other relatives, will face failures in his undertakings though he is synonymous of a lion in valour, be ever distressed, be a liar, will join other females, will have wounds and scars on his physique, be a talebearer, will have a thin body, fickle minded, will join mean men, be always unhappy, sinful, belligerent, will suffer from diseases of blood, diseases of anus, itch in navel, pains in waist, windy disorders, venereal diseases, ulcers in the private parts and the like. He will not firmly be in one place, be inimical to all, will always suffer separation from his family, will incur the wrath of the government, will be addicted to eating meat etc., will find faults with his own wife, be ever fond of sex, be proud assuming that none would equal him, and will not honour his father's words. There is an authority, however, to state that with Mars in the ascendant one will be blessed by the benign looks of both Saraswati (the Goddess of Learning) and Lakshmi (the Goddess of Lucre) (against the common belief that lucre and learning do not go together). He will further be skillful in music.

If Mars occupies the ascendant of a female, she will suffer from severe blood diseases, be devoid of efficacy, be discarded by her husband, be unfortunate and proud. Thus, Mars is not a welcome planet in the ascendant of either a female or a male for a smooth married life.

27. MARS IN 2nd: Just as the proverbial garland is held namesake by the monkey around its neck (without any use) one with Mars in the 2nd will behave with his family and wealth. By this, Narayana Bhatta indicates that the native will not derive use of wealth and family. He will misuse these. He will not eat good food. He will be without any wealth, be merciless, inimical, be not interested in any of his work, be truthful, will have sons, will suffer eye defects, will join bad men, will have wounds on face, eyes, ears and shoulders, and misunderstandings with his female, will face loss of wealth, will be intelligent, be always worried, will suffer grief on account of progeny, will have obstacles in learning, and will have to face many problems on account of his wife's health. Mars in the 2nd in general will deprive one of carnal pleasures (apparently from wife as otherwise he will be addicted to many females) and will cause wife to predecease, if malefics aspect the 2nd. A woman with Mars in the 2nd will be very sensuous, will undergo many miseries, be sickly and devoid of wealth.

28. MARS IN 3rd: If Mars be in the 3rd bhava, the native will be courageous, unconquerable, bereft of co-born, be delighted, will have all virtues and be famous.

Notes: If Mars be in the 3rd house, one will be free from diseases, be ever successful, will receive honours from government (or the king), be very religious, very rich, mild, valorous, crafty, famous, and will be devoid of fraternal happiness. Varaha Mihira denotes a wise person with Mars in the 3rd. One will be happy, sensuous and be strong. Possible diseases with Mars in the 3rd are breaking of bones, fear from poison, burns, ear afflictions, insatiable thirst etc. Garga specifically says that the native will acquire two charming sisters only to lose them and two other brothers will die due to hit by weapons. It follows that ordinarily the co-born are susceptible to perils. Saunaka Hora declares that if malefics be in the third along with Mars or aspected powerfully by Mars, the native will first acquire a daughter followed by sons. If this occurs in a Rasi of Saturn, i.e., Sagittarius or Scorpio ascending with malefics in the third and Mars so related as above, there will be abortions to the native's wife. It follows that Mars related to third house has a say on progeny as well. Bhrigu Maharshi hints at the possibility of the native's wife being corrupt in character. He adds that if a node joins, the native himself will go after prostitutes. A female with Mars in the 3rd house will always be fortunate, virtuous, liked by her relatives, interested in virtuous people, devoid of sickness and be very efficacious.

भक्तिदुःखैः संतप्तः परगृहवासी कुजे पुरुषः ॥२६॥

29. MARS IN THE 4th: If Mars is posited in the 4th bhava, the native will be devoid of relatives, paraphernalia and conveyances, be very miserable, will live in others' houses and be distressed.

Notes: Narayana Bhatta is emphatic on even other planets becoming unfavourable if Mars is in the 4th. That is, if Mercury is in the 4th, he destroys the benefic tendencies of even other heavenly bodies. The splendour of the other planets ranging from the Sun will be futile before a single Mars in the 4th house, says Jeevanatha. It follows that Mars in the 4th will cause all kinds of miseries nullifying the beneficence of the other planets. The native will derive no happiness from his friends, but will gain lands etc., through the king. The latter is the only gain that the native will have, say Bhatta and Jeevanatha.

He will wander in foreign places with dire unhappiness and miseries. He will be surrounded by enemies on all sides. He will be devoid of children but be very libidinous. He will be at the disposal of his wife. He will own only dilapidated houses which will also be liable to burning. His mother will be apt to illhealth. He will lose in quarrels (or litigations). Heart defects, wounds, imprisonment, troubles from spirits, living in dangerous houses, fall of his residence, fear snakes, ever unending disputes in the family, illhealth of wife and progeny, loss of own money and parental property etc., will come to pass.

A female with Mars in the 4th will be of thievish disposition, be devoid of wealth and happiness, be not virtuous and will be discarded by her family.

An explanation is necessary here about other planets' becoming incapable of giving good results on the face of Mars being in the 4th. This statement need not be interpreted literally. It, however, indicates 'Yoga Bhanga' (obstruction of good results) with due weight to the various factors of the horoscope. It follows that the native's prosperity, happiness etc., will not be easily achieved.

पितृनोऽन्यथायः खलश्च विकलो मरो नीचः ॥३०॥

30. MARS IN THE 5th: If Mars occupies the 5th bhava, the native will be devoid of happiness, wealth and sons, be fickle-minded, be a talebearer, will incur evils, be wicked, distressed and mean.

Notes: If Mars occupies the house of progeny, i.e., the 5th bhava, one will enjoy strong digestive faculty and his state will be such that he will always want to eat and eat; he will commit sinful acts one after the other, with his thirst for sins never subduing. A single Mars in the 5th will inflict harm on the children born to the native or being born. So to say, children who have already taken birth of the loins of the native will risk death while frequent abortions will be experienced by the native's wife. He will not have wealth worth mentioning. He will be devoid of happiness from his own wife. He will face many obstacles in shaping his fortunes. He will always be sickly, will suffer from disorders of the stomach (i.e. diaphragm, liver, spleen, intestines etc.), apart from phlegmatic and windy ones, will have marks caused by the weapons on the right leg and will incur wrath of the government. He will feed many poor people. However, in boyhood during his 6th year, he will be liable to dangers. He will join many women to subdue his sexual thirst and be miserable till his death. Authors like Bhrigu etc. denote poverty for the position of Mars in the 5th while Parasara and Vaidyanatha indicate riches in this context. A female having Mars in the 5th will have a prodigal son, be devoid of shame, will indulge in sinful acts, will join bad company and be devoid of learning and relatives.

रुधिरं सम्भवति नरः स्वबन्धुविजयी प्रधानश्च ॥३१॥

31. MARS IN THE 6th: If Mars occupies the 6th bhava, the native will be highly libidinous, will have powerful digestive fire, be beautiful, tall, strong, and great among his relatives.

Notes: Should Mars be in 6th, one will have strong digestive power according to Kalyana Varma. Narayana Bhatta and Jeevanatha attribute such power to Mars in the 5th. In line with the statement of Kalyana Varma and Meena Raja, Jayadeva, Dundhiraja, Vaidyanatha etc. Both the groups of authors are not, however, mutually contradictory.

One will win even the mightiest of his enemies, will prove ominous to mother and maternal relatives. He will be liable to lose his ancestral property but will in no time build up wealth of his own. He will be happy, rich, will honour others, be excellent among his racemen, famous, will live through quadrupeds, will obtain a daughter at 27, will face loss of children, and will be short in stature. A female with Mars in the 6th will be endowed with husband and be devoid of sickness.

धोरहितः सन्तप्तः शुष्कतनुर्भवति सप्तमे भौमे ॥३२॥

32. MARS IN THE 7th: If Mars is posited in the 7th, the native will lose his wife, will suffer from diseases, will take to bad ways, be miserable, sinful, devoid of wealth, distressed and emaciated.

Notes: If Mars is in the 7th house, one will seek limited carnal pleasures from his wife. He will commit many crimes, sins etc. He will always be in difficulties. He will be insulted by his wife, will be troubled by enemies, will suffer loss of or separation from his spouse, will have fear from fire in his 27th year of age, will suffer stomachial ailments, incur wounds etc., and will not return to native place due to marriage (with an unagreeable bride) or due to gains in business. Parasara says his wife will have hard and prominent breasts. According to Vasishta his spouse will be corrupt in character. The wife of the native will incur death due to fire, poison wound, vaginal diseases and the like. His spouse will not be youthful. His marriage may be with a widow, and he will join other widows for sexual satisfaction and will always be interested in having sexual intercourses. A female with Mars in the 7th will attain widowhood, be devoid of wealth, will herself be spoilt physically and be devoid of virtues.

33. MARS IN THE 8th: If Mars occupies the 8th bhava, the native will suffer from diseases, be short-lived, will possess an ugly or deformed body, will do base acts and will suffer grief.

Notes: If Mars is in the 8th, one will possess an ugly body or some defect therein as the word 'Kuthanu' in our text denotes.

One with Mars in the 8th house will have a body wounded by weapons, be devoid of splendour, friendship and kindness, will always utter undesirable words, be devoid of conjugal happiness, and will suffer diseases of blood, private parts and of eyes, leprosy, early death, urinary disorders etc. On the issue of wealth the authorities are divided. Mars in the 8th will however have adverse effects on one's wealth. He will have limited issues, be troubled by enemies, will not have good conduct, will indulge in illegal acts and will be blamed by all. There is an authority to denote that one will have three marriages or his spouse will be subjected to adversities during confinement. Bhatta and Jeevanatha hint at Mars being more powerful occupying the 8th in the matter of adversities defeating even a benefic Jupiter or Venus in the 9th house. So to say the bad effects of Mars in the 8th house will be predominant inspite of good Jupiter/Venus in the 9th house. A female in whose nativity Mars is in the 8th will lose her husband, will suffer from diseases, will be discarded by her own men and will be addicted to meat, intoxicants and the like.

34. MARS IN THE 9th: If Mars occupies the 9th bhava, the native will not be skilful in acts, be odious, will kill living beings, be not virtuous, be very sinful and honoured by the king.

Notes: One with Mars in the 9th house will be extremely intelligent, will always have litigations to trouble him, will prove ominous to his father, will lose his paternal wealth and will be inimical to his father, king (i.e. rich men) and the virtuous. He will be lean in the earlier part of his life and will grow stout in the later part. He will be irreligious, unfortunate, devoid of honour, will suffer physical distress; he will have wealth given by others than earned by his own efforts. His wife will be devoid of co-born. He will join other women, will wander on futile missions, but will become famous. He will be humiliated by others. He will indulge in acts akin to that of a butcher although he may propagate Buddhism. He will lose two of his brothers. As regards fortunes, there are two opinions among the various exponents. That the native will be devoid of fortunes or will have obstructed fortunes is only logical. A female with Mars in the 9th will suffer many blemishes in her married life and in regard to progeny. The affliction caused by Mars in the 9th can be counteracted by only strong benefics. She will be charming in appearance, sick, unfortunate, discarded by her family members and will indulge in evil acts.

35. MARS IN THE 10th: If Mars occupies the 10th bhava, the native will be proficient in his acts, be valorous, unconquerable, will serve important people, be endowed with sons and happiness and be very courageous.

Notes: Should Mars be in the 10th, one will befriend kings and the like, will be honoured by great men, will not take others' opinion into consideration, will be chief among his racemen, will enjoy perennial wealth, will prove auspicious for co-born, his coborn will prosper very well, will attach importance to physical pleasures in the first part of life whereas he will take to spiritual course in the latter part and will achieve great Realisation, will spend heavily, will feed the poor liberally, and be a metallurgist. There will be many auspicious functions in his family, one after the other. He will achieve easy success in all his undertakings. Just as a lion in the woods assumes regality of his own, the native with Mars in the 10th, will become a 'self-made king'. He will be always willing to help others, will be endowed with landed properties, ornaments, wealth and the like and will enjoy happiness from his progeny. He will lose his father early. Vasishta adds that the native will beget evil children.

Mars in the 10th will make one fortunate of a high order, while co-born will be endowed with long span of life.

A female with Mars in the 10th will be devoid of virtues, will be of evil disposition and be bereft of wisdom and shame.

36. MARS IN THE 11th: If Mars occupies the 11th bhava, the native will be virtuous, happy, courageous, endowed with wealth, grains and sons and be devoid of sorrow.

Notes: With Mars in the 11th house, one will incur enmity with some of the relatives, will not fear anybody, will always aim at gains, will conquer his enemies, will suffer progenic grief and will gain lands, wealth, conveyances etc. If the native invests others' wealth in his business, there will only be losses. He will be learned, will seek union with many females, will incur troubles from thieves and fire, will suffer disorders of belly and will not have elder brothers. A female with Mars in the 11th will gain much, be devoid of desires and be religious.

37. MARS IN THE 12th: Should Mars be in the 12th bhava, the native will have diseased eyes, will fall in moral sense, will kill his wife, be a talebearer, be fierce and will contract humility and imprisonment.

Notes: One with Mars in the 12th house will lose his mother in his 27th year and will incur great financial losses in his 45th year. He will be wounded by weapons etc., will incur fear from thieves and enemies, be insulted, be alleged for thefts and the like, be himself a thief, fickle-minded, smiling faced, will sleep with other women, will tender legal witnesses (साक्षिक), will injure his family members by harsh words, will kill or cause harm to his wife, will suffer from diseases of the eyes, spleen, blood, ears and throat, be dishonoured by others, will face dangers equal to death, will not believe in God, be imprisoned, sinful, will lose his brothers, will suffer dire poverty for sometime, will have many vices, and will have squint eyes. According to Punja Raja, the native will acquire a wife who will have some damage to her left ear, left eye, left leg or left hand. A female with Mars in the 12th will be malicious, addicted to intoxicants, spendthrift, ever sick, and inimical to all.

38. MERCURY IN ASCENDANT: Should Mercury occupy the ascendant, the native will have a flawless physique, be intelligent, will know proper (or beneficial) place and time, be well versed in poetry and mathematics, be a skilful and sweet speaker and be long-lived.

Notes: Should Mercury be in the ascendant one will be free from afflictions caused by other planets. His physical complexion will be akin to purified gold (whereas Datvagna Vilasa denotes that there will be mix of many hues in his complexion), will be fond of beautification, be learned, calm, will have knowledge of medicine, justice, religion, dance, music, etc. Manasagari and Phala Deepika extol Mercury in the ascendant stating that such a native will have knowledge of all fine arts. He will be beautiful in appearance, skilful, long-lived, and happy. Jaageswara attributes no growth to the descent, while Meenaraja (of Brhadyavana Jataka) and Bala Bhadra (Hora Ratna) state that the native will have many children. He will derive marital happiness in the middle age of his life. He will be skilful in Mantras and Tantras. He will know many languages, will enjoy many women and will like to enjoy others' possessions. He will live a happy life throughout. A female with Mercury in the ascendant will be very charming, friendly, religious, just, broad-eyed, endowed with abundant food and drinks, be eloquent and truthful.

39. MERCURY IN 2nd: If Mercury is in the 2nd bhava, the native will earn wealth through his own wisdom, will enjoy food and drinks, be auspicious in speech and will have good course of conduct.

Notes: If Mercury occupy the 2nd house, one will be learned and will shine like Brihaspati. He will be so liberal that he will be akin to the celestial tree (Kalpa Vriksha, granting all boons) and be equal to the consort of Lakshmi in the matter of wealth. So to say the native is comparable to Brihaspati (Jupiter) in intelligence, Kalpa Vriksha in bestowing and to Maha Vishnu in riches. Narayana Bhatta compares the native with Mercury in the 2nd to Veda Vyasa. Vyasa Maharshi is the author of Maha Bharata, (acting as a scribe to Lord Ganesa) and also the composer of Ashtadasa Puranas like Bhagavata, Skanda, Varaha etc. He is one of the seven deathless beings. Such was his splendour that even Lord Ganesa could find the best scribe in Vyasa in depicting Maha Bharata. When Bhatta extols the position of Mercury in the 2nd and elevates the native to the status of Maharshi Vyasa, and when Jeevanatha compares the native to Brihaspati (the preceptor of Gods) it follows that the person will achieve limitless learning that cannot be narrated in words. All of this, when Mercury has untarnished placement.

If Mercury occupy the 2nd house, one will be exceedingly rich, happy, will perform auspicious acts, will earn and shine out of his own abilities, will fear sins, be famous, and will live a happy life. There is an authority to state that one will lose wealth due to his sexual appetite with Mercury in the 2nd. Sage Bhrigu and Yavanas denote that the native will become a 'koteeswara' (multi-millionaire). His 25th year of age will be significant in his literary achievements. According to Garga he will suffer from diseases of the skin frequently, see twagdoshe kuruthe nithyam somaputrah kutumbagah. One will earn for three generations if Mercury is in the 2nd house in Leo (or Jupiter in the 2nd house in Aquarius).

A female with Mercury in the 2nd will be chaste, beautiful, virtuous and wealthy.

40. MERCURY IN THE 3rd: If Mercury occupies the 3rd bhava, the native will always toil hard, be devoid of near and dear, skilful, endowed with co-born, very cunning and fickle minded.

Notes: If Mercury is in the 3rd house, one will have many friends, will lose some of his close relatives, will have a few co-born, be a skilful businessman, be very wicked out of lust for money, be always sickly and be wealthy. Man-treswara denotes short life for this position. According to Valshnava Tantra, he will have two sons and three daughters. As per Jaageswara, such a native will have five sisters.

See what Garga says: "One with Mercury in the 3rd will have happiness from his co-born. He will have 5 brothers and 4 or 5 sisters. If malefics aspect Mercury in the 3rd house, brothers will be lost and if Saturn/Mars aspect Mercury in the 3rd house, his sisters will be devoid of progeny."

A female with Mercury in the 3rd house will be endowed with sons, wealth and valour, be liked by all and will top the clan.

41. MERCURY IN THE 4th: If Mercury is in the 4th bhava, the native will be endowed with money and relatives, be fortunate, will have conveyances, all paraphernalia and relatives and be very learned.

Notes: One with Mercury in the 4th house will not derive any benefits out of paternal properties. He will have many friends, will occupy a big position with the king, and will have many servants to attend to him. His words will be inviolable and honourable. He will be rich, virtuous, interested in music, writing etc. He will be a scholar, and be grieved on account of death of a child. He will be devoid of enemies and disease. He will be a good adviser and an advocate, justice etc. (Nyayavadi), be merciful, famous like the Sun, be a skilful speaker and be endowed with jewels, lands etc. According to Garga, if Mercury is in the 4th devoid of malefic company, one will acquire abundant wealth and many friends, otherwise not. As per Badarayana one will have limited number of children with Mercury in the 4th. Yavanas state that if Mercury in the 4th house is related to malefics one will live in others' houses. Meenaraja mentions that there will be destruction of wealth in the 22nd year of age. Sage Bhrigu attributes monetary gains in the 26th year by grabbing others' wealth.

A female with Mercury in the 4th house will be pious, happy, modest, religious etc. and belong to a popular family.

मन्त्राभिचारकुशलो बहुतनयः पञ्चमे सौम्ये ।

विद्यासुखप्रभावः समन्वितो हर्षसंयुक्तः ॥४२॥

42. MERCURY IN THE 5th: If Mercury occupies the 5th bhava, the native will be an expert in Mantras (sacred spells) and Abhichara (using magical spells for malevolent purposes), will have many sons, be endowed with learning, happiness and efficacy and be delighted.

Notes: Kalyana Varma denotes many sons for the 5th house placement of Mercury. Jataka Sagara mentions that the native will not retain any living children while Narayana Bhatta states that the person will not obtain progeny in the initial period of life (i.e. there will be belated progeny). Jeevanatha hints at the possible loss of first child. As per Garga, the native will obtain progeny but if Mercury in the 5th is combust or in aspect of malefics, death of children will come to pass; otherwise the number of issues will be limited. Vasishta, too, opines that Mercury gives less number of children when in the 5th house. (In specific reference to Aries Lagna Mercury in the 5th house will give many daughters—see Chandrasute sanjate ravigehe darika bahu-lah syat.) Kalyana Varma generally denies children with Mercury in Leo. Jatak Ratna goes a step further by specifically saying that Mercury in the 5th will cause death of the son immediately following marriage. Bhṛigu Rishi is of the view that this placement of Mercury will cause hindrances in achieving progenic happiness.

It follows the above quotations that Mercury in the 5th house will have adverse effects on progeny unless he is well placed or the 5th lord, 9th lord and Jupiter are well-related in the radix.

Should Mercury be in the 5th house, one will be very learned, be a good adviser, will have growth of the descent, be happy, virtuous, skilful in Mantra Sastras (Abhichara is added by Kalyana Varma), be wealthy, will have a worthy history, will have danger relating to the mother in the 5th year (but according to Balabhadra of Hora Ratna death of mother will take place in the 26th year), will lose his maternal uncle, and will suffer from diseases.

A female with Mercury in the 5th will have a few sons, be quarrelsome, will get limited food and drinks, will wander aimlessly, be devoid of wealth, will indulge in blameworthy deeds and will not be well-disposed to the virtuous.

43. MERCURY IN THE 6th: If Mercury occupies the 6th bhava, the native will always be successful in litigations and disputes, will contract diseases, be indolent, not given to anger, be harsh in speech and much insulted.

Notes: One with Mercury in the 6th will be very fierce (or powerful) in arguments, will win over enemies in arguments (i.e. can possibly become a skilful lawyer etc.), learned, famous in astrology, will achieve unachievable things, be always worried (in spite of many advantages), be an eloquent speaker, be liked by servants, will not violate his promise till the end of his life and will suffer windy diseases. He will contribute for the welfare of his co-born. One of his co-born will suffer from hernia, swollen testicles etc. The native will, however, be inimical to his own men without any valid reason. He will be jealous, libidinous, and quarrelsome. His maternal uncle will have only female issues. A female with Mercury so placed will be endowed with abundant wealth, be devoid of enemies, shortlived, attached to mundane affairs and be distressed.

44. MERCURY IN THE 7th: If Mercury is in the 7th bhava, the native's wife will be very learned, beautiful in appearance, will not be of good descent, will promote quarrels and be very affluent. The native himself will be very great.

Notes: One with Mercury in the 7th will be splendidous like processed yellow metal. He will obtain a very charming wife possessing eyes akin to that of a beautiful deer. Yet he will be a failure to satisfy her in sexual cohabitation. His seminal discharge will follow a mere 'touch' of female. Nobody will stand any comparison to him in riches.

He will be learned in religious matters. He will obtain many children, be sickly, skilful in many arts, will be amicable to his wife. He will inherit huge wealth through his wife. He will suffer from venereal diseases in the middle part of his life. He will be blessed by the Goddess of Learning also. If a female has Mercury in the 7th house she will be excellent in disposition, skilful, learned, will obtain a beautiful husband, be very officious and modest.

45. MERCURY IN THE 8th: If Mercury occupies the 8th bhava, the native will win famous names (i.e. titles), be strong, long-lived, will support his family and be equal to a king or will become a justice.

Notes: If Mercury is in the 8th one will have many defects, be very friendly, will suffer from phlegmatic and windy disorders, will have his fame spread in all the eight corners, will enjoy joyously the company of females, will sexually unite with many women, be imprisoned, be inimical to many yet be helpful, will hinder others' undertakings, be a liar (yet some say he will be truthful), will gain in many ways, will have seven children, will achieve great placement in his 25th year, but will have downfall by his sexual atrocities if malefics join Mercury in the 8th. Kalyana Varma, Narayana Bhatta, Mantreswara, Jeevanatha etc., attribute a long life for Mercury's position in the 8th. Bhrigu Rishi while declaring long life adds a condition that the 8th lord should be strong. The native's death will be in a shrine. A female in whose radix Mercury occupies the 8th will be ungrateful, be not self-respected, be irreligious, be always sickly, fearing and will go against many.

46. MERCURY IN THE 9th: If Mercury occupies the 9th bhava, the native will be very affluent, scholarly, of good conduct/habits, be eloquent in speech, skilful of a great order and be virtuous.

Notes: If Mercury occupy the 9th house one will have many children and be happy with them, be religious, will be famous, wealthy and will hold his family's flag aloft, be liberal, be interested in Yogabhyasas, Vedas, music etc. He will be a skilful mathematician and be capable of achieving success in any undertaking. If Mercury is malefic in disposition while being in the 9th one will have obstructed fortunes and will become proud. If he remains a benefic, one will be religious and fortunate. Difficulties to father or early death of father will occur if Mercury is in the 9th in a malefic's Rasi, or with a malefic or in aspect to a malefic. Not only this, the native's fortunes will be limited and he will take to Buddhism. If in the process the 9th lord is endowed with strength the father of the native will have a long span of life. If a woman has Mercury in the 9th house she will be religious, praiseworthy, famous, skilful, patient, truthful and fortunate.

47. MERCURY IN THE 10th: If Mercury occupies the 10th bhava, the native will possess distinguished intelligence, will perform distinguished acts, will attain fruition in undertakings, be very learned, courageous, strong and will be endowed with various kinds of ornaments.

Notes: If Mercury occupy the 10th house, he will be charming in appearance, happy, famous, wealthy, fortunate, endowed with conveyances, will have many kinds of income, will serve in government, be skilful in justice, will inherit paternal properties, will enjoy progenic happiness, will incur severe eye afflictions in the 27th year of his age and be endowed with gems, residences, servants and the like. If Mercury be so in a female's chart she will be very wealthy, modest, endowed with gold and will honour her husband.

48. MERCURY IN THE 11th: If Mercury occupies the 11th, the native will be rich, be an amicable worker, be learned, happy and endowed with wide enjoyments, be long-lived and famous.

Notes: Should Mercury be in the 11th house the native will adjust with people of all kinds of temperaments and be free from misunderstandings with anyone in regard to his activities like livelihood. He will be charming in appearance, will gain abundantly, will have sufficient money to give away his daughters in marriage (kritah kanyadanam bhavati...), be wealthy, devoid of debts, will gain through enemies and litigations, be fortunate and happy. He will be ever free from diseases. He will be learned in arts, Vedas etc. He will enjoy a long span of life. He will acquire only daughters. According to Garga, Mercury in the 11th will obstruct one's appetite. The native will be endowed with auspiciousness in life. His married life will have limited pleasures of the physique. If a female has Mercury in the 11th house she will be chaste, very affluent and be liked by all her relatives.

49. MERCURY IN THE 12th: Should Mercury be in the 12th bhava, the native will be able to keep up his promise, be indolent, be humiliated, be a good speaker, be learned, pitiable and cruel.

Notes: If Mercury be in the 12th house, one will face obstructions in his educational pursuits, will be fallen in moral standards, will be devoid of enemies, be interested in sinful acts, will keep up his promise, will suffer from windy diseases during the last period of life, be away from his own people, and be malicious. He will acquire abundant landed properties. His paternal uncles will be happy. At one stage the native may face financial losses/decline. If Mercury be in the 12th house in a female's nativity, she will be impatient, miserable, weak, and be discarded by her people.

JUPITER IN VARIOUS BHAVAS (upto sloka 61)

50. JUPITER IN LAGNA: If Jupiter occupies the 1st bhava, the native will be attractive in appearance, be energetic, long-lived, will act after assessing consequences, be learned, courageous and great.

Notes: Should Jupiter be in the ascendant, one will be wealthy, free from evils, will honour elders, be quickly irritable, be majestic, be fond of Brahmin ladies, endowed with good conduct, be happy with his father and learned. He will shine with his own virtues, be very charming, be not very strong (alpa veeryam, vide Chamatkara Chintamani), will spend on various auspicious deeds, be bold, excellent, liberal, will enjoy happiness from wife and children, will have longliving children, be a singer, and will keep his thinking unrevealed. Vasishta indicates some fear for Jupiter's position in the ascendant, see Sukha Kanthidah syuh bhayam. Gargarshi gives special preference to Jupiter in the ascendant (or in trine or in angle) identical with Cancer, Pisces or Sagittarius to have no evils. "The native will suffer windy and phlegmatic diseases and will be subjected to false blame", adds Garga. It obviously applies to Jupiter in other positions than stated by him. Bhrigu Maharshi mentions that if Jupiter is in the ascendant identical with fall, inimical sign or malefic's sign, the native will be devoid of issue, will be a Madhyayu (moderate longevity), will indulge in mean acts, be separated from his people, be ungrateful, addicted to prostitutes, will wander aimlessly and will reap the fruits of his sins (of the past). A female with Jupiter in ascendant will be excellent among women, will have a majestic voice, be truthful and will enjoy excellent paraphernalia.

धनवान् भोजनसारो वाग्मी सुभगः सुवाक् सुवक्त्रश्च ।

कल्याणवपुस्त्यागी सुमुखो जीवे भवेद्धनगे ॥२१॥

51. JUPITER IN THE 2nd: If Jupiter occupies the 2nd bhava, the native will be rich, will enjoy good food, be an eloquent speaker, be fortunate, be charitable and will have a beautiful body and face.

Notes: If Jupiter occupies the 2nd house one will be a writer of great repute, a noted poet and the like. He will be wealthy, will possess a splendid body, will enjoy riches through quadrupeds, will obtain a beautiful wife, will deal in pearls and the like, be devoid of enemies, will occupy big positions delivering justice and punishments, be a leader, be inimical to his own people and will gain royal honours in the 27th year. (So to say, his 27th year will be significant to receive awards, titles etc.)

Narayana Bhatta and Jeevanatha state unlike other authors that the native will undergo many difficulties in his attempts to earn money. However, exponents like Vasishtha, Kasinatha, Kalyana Varma, Dundhiraja, Mccenaraja, Man-treswara etc., specifically touch the effect of one's becoming "wealthy" with Jupiter in the 2nd house but make no mention on the lines of Bhatta and Jeevanatha. The other group of authors do not in any way mention easy wealth but leave it at that. It however seems that Jupiter in the 2nd is detrimental for money, in the 5th for children, in the 4th for learning and the like. It does not mean that the native will reap adverse results in these directions wholly. The implication is that the native will have to face tough time in establishing himself in these matters. If however the houses involved are strong, the lords being strong and such other factors being present, the difficulties are minimised. The views of Bhatta and Jeevanatha are worth considering based on practical experience and based on the following special rule relating to Jupiter and Saturn:

जीव स्वस्थानहंता वदन्ति मुनिवरोदृष्टिरस्यप्रशस्ता
सौरिः स्वस्थानपालः परभयकरी दृष्टिरस्यप्रणष्टा

The above verse of Tatwa Pradeepa Jataka, means: Jupiter destroys the house occupied by him and improves the houses aspected by him. Saturn gives good effects relating to his occupation but very fearful (Paramabhaya-kart...) effects by aspects. It follows that Jupiter's aspect is more helpful than occupation while Saturn's case is reverse. Perhaps, this aphorism finds truth in the statement that Jupiter in the 2nd cause harm to money, in the 5th causes harm to progeny, and the like. Thus this rule as above has its own worth if not a universal applicability.

In this context, sage Bhrigu's suggestions are equally thought-provoking. "One with Jupiter in the 2nd identical with Cancer or Sagittarius (note Pisces not included) becomes wealthy. If the planet in question is with malefics, there is obstruction of learning. He becomes a thief, a cheat, a liar and an unworthy speaker. If the sign is identical with Capricorn or that of a malefic, the native is a drunkard, is morally fallen, addicted to other women and is devoid of children". Thus, the sage has differentiated the signs identical with the 2nd house.

A female with Jupiter in the 2nd will be free from harm and free from desires, be wealthy, fortunate and charming.

अतिपरिभूतः कृपणः सदाजितो मानवो भवति जीवे ।

मन्दाग्निः स्त्रीविजितो दुश्चिन्तये पापकर्मा च ॥५२॥

52. JUPITER IN THE 3rd: If Jupiter occupies the 3rd bhava, the native will be greatly humiliated, be vile, ever successful, will have digestive deficiencies, be defeated by women and be sinful in acts.

Notes: Let us see the various views relating to the 3rd house placement of Jupiter. The native will be mean, will enjoy fraternal happiness, be ungrateful and unfriendly. He will be wealthy but not that wealthy as may be due to his fortunes. So to say he will not enjoy entitled riches. Jeevanatha puts it saying that though the native may be influential in royal circles he will not enjoy that happiness. He will be a miser, will not be affectionate to his wife and children, will have famous brothers and will rule over hundreds of men. He will face financial losses. Vide Jataka Sagara, "He will have five co-born or five children. His father-in-law has three wives. He himself will have two marriages and will be a deep-thinker". See what Garga says: "The native will have four or five brothers. If malefics aspect Jupiter in the 3rd the co-born will be subjected to dangers. Although he may be rich, he will pose to be poor". A female with Jupiter in the 3rd will be poor.

श्रेष्ठः शत्रुविषादी चतुर्थसंस्थे सदा जीवे ॥५३॥

53. JUPITER IN THE 4th: If Jupiter occupies the 4th bhava, the native will be endowed with relatives, paraphernalia, conveyance, happiness, intelligence, pleasures and wealth, be great and be a source of misery to his enemies.

Notes: When Jupiter occupies the 4th house the native will be happy, endowed with conveyances, be liked by people from maternal side, wealthy, honourable, famous, eloquent, beautiful, will have long lasting friends, will inherit ancestral property, will acquire landed/housing properties and will enjoy all kinds of pleasures. Bhṛigu Rishi denotes that if Jupiter is in the 4th but with malefics, one will not have houses, conveyances etc., will live in others' houses, will lose his mother and be inimical to his relatives.

The traditional description by Bhatta and Jeevantha is: He will have many houses at his disposal and will always enjoy the benedictory Vedic chantings by learned Brahmins visiting his house. To wit, the person will be very rich with all paraphernalia and religious patronage.

Jataka Sagara hints at two ominous effects which are worth noting: (a) The native with Jupiter in the 4th house, will be too arrogant to maintain his mother. (b) He will face loss of progeny or will have limited progeny. Limited progeny was a concern those days when orthodox people laid no restriction on the birth of children. But 'loss of children' mentioned by Jataka Sagara needs attention in that a karaka in the 12th from the bhava concerned is not capable of promoting the good effects related to that house. For example, Mars in the 2nd is ominous for brothers, the Moon in the 3rd for mother and so on. Venus in the 6th though generally good, is not as a rule good for marriage. Saturn in the 7th, i.e., 12th from the 8th, cannot confer full span of life or even a long life. Thus Jupiter in the 4th is not wholly auspicious for progeny and one is likely to lose something on the front.

A female with Jupiter in the 4th will be happy, very learned, endowed with ornaments, be famous, virtuous and honourable.

सुखसुतमित्रसमृद्धः प्राज्ञो धृतिर्मांस्तथा विभवसारः ।

पंचमभवने जीवे सर्वत्र सुखी भवति जातः ॥५४॥

54. JUPITER IN THE 5th: If Jupiter occupies the 5th bhava, the native will have abundant happiness, many sons and friends, be learned, courageous, wealthy and will always be happy.

Notes: If Jupiter occupy the 5th house, one will be a writer and be gifted with extraordinary imagination power. He will incur obstacles in getting the fruits of his efforts. He will not be very wealthy, according to some. Most texts subscribe to the view that he will amass wealth while there is one version to say that the native will not be quite rich. He will have knowledge of religious scriptures, Mantra Sastras and the like and be very learned. He will enjoy unexpected fortunes.

The statements of Garga, Vasishta and Bhrigu are that one will have numerous children. Kalyana Varma also hints at the same. Yet there are specific authorities to state that if Jupiter is in the 5th there is grief on account of progeny (putraklesa). To wit, there may be belated progeny, loss of progeny, prodigal, sickly, disobedient or foolish children, depending on the nature. There is yet an authority to emphatically state that Jupiter in the 5th Cancer/Aquarius will give no children, in Pisces a few children and in Sagittarius children with great difficulty. Dundhiraja and Kasinatha declare that one with Jupiter in the 5th will enjoy progenic happiness. In my own view, Jupiter in Scorpio is more specifically harmful to progeny than in other houses. Pisces is equally adverse while Cancer position gives a number of children. The placement in Sagittarius gives not many children but does not deny. In fact the 5th house Jupiter causes affliction of progeny and needs a careful evaluation.

A female with Jupiter in the 5th will obtain good children.

सन्नोदराग्निपुंस्त्वः परिभूतो दुर्बलोऽलसः षष्ठे ।
स्त्रीविदितो रिपुहन्ता जीवे पुरुषोऽतिविश्यातः ॥५५॥

55. JUPITER IN THE 6th: If Jupiter is in the 6th bhava, the native will lack digestive fire and masculine virile, be humiliated, weak, indolent, will become famous on account of females, will destroy his enemies and be widely famous.

Notes: The word 'Pumstwah' in the text means: masculine vigour, potency, semen, virility etc. Jupiter's position in the 6th will deprive of masculine potency (as well as digestive power). The native will hence be not capable of obtaining children, easily. It cannot be said however that he will suffer adversities on account of children. Hence, 'Swalpodaragni-pumstwah' means that the native will have deficiencies of digestion and masculine potency.

One with Jupiter in the 6th will be troubled by sickness, will destroy his enemies (see: Rajah sambhaveyu rlpau vakpate satruhanutwamethl...), will not be happy with maternal relatives and will be skilful in music. His mother will face various ailments. He himself will suffer from many diseases if Jupiter is in the 6th in Capricorn or in Aquarius along with Rahu. As per Vasishta, he will be miserable. He will be tormented by heavy debts but will improve later on. He will be skilful in astrology, addicted to other females and will gain through such addiction, will tactfully grab others' properties, will see his progeny happily placed and will instantly get vexed with female company.

"If Jupiter in the 6th occupies his own house or that of another benefic, there will be destruction of enemies. But if it is an inimical sign, there will be increase of enemies. If Jupiter is strong, one will be endowed with many quadrupeds and will prove auspicious for co-born and maternal relatives. If Jupiter is in the 6th along with the Moon, only malefic results will come to pass." So says Garga.

A female with Jupiter in the 6th will have many enemies, be diplomatic, be subjected to many dangers, will face many miseries and be very irascible.

सुभगः सुखचिरदारः पितुरधिकः सप्तमे भवति जातः ।

56. JUPITER IN THE 7th: If Jupiter occupies the 7th bhava, the native will be charming will acquire a beautiful wife, be greater than his father, be an eloquent speaker, a poet, a superior person and be learned and famous.

Notes: If Jupiter occupies the 7th house the native will be intelligent, will reach high position in life at a very quick pace, be wealthy, be sensuous, will enjoy abundant sexual pleasures, will have a wife who will be averse to carnal pleasures, be an artist, will study deeply many sastras and will hate elders and parents. He will obtain excellent children. (According to Jatakalankara, he will be unhappy in the matter of progeny). He will face loss of wife if Jupiter is in the 7th for a Cancer native. Otherwise Jupiter in the 7th will give the native a happy married life. If he joins or is aspected by Rahu, Ketu, Saturn or Mars, the native will join other's females. A female with Jupiter in the 7th will have more enemies, be dear to her husband, will do virtuous acts and will be happy.

परिभूतो दीर्घायुर्भूतको दासोऽथवा निधनसंस्थे ।

स्वजनप्रेष्यो दीनो मलिनस्त्रीभोगवान् जीवे ॥५७॥

57. JUPITER IN THE 8th: If Jupiter occupies the 8th bhava, the native will be insulted, longlived, be a servant, will serve his own people, be pitiable and will have union with dirty women.

Notes: Should Jupiter be in the 8th house the native will indulge in base acts, will not live with his father for a long time, will suffer from some ailment or the other on a lasting basis, be devoid of intelligence, modesty, reasoning and beauty, be very miserable, be a servant (i.e. will hold only small positions to earn his bread), be bereft of fortunes, happiness, progenic happiness and the like, be not strong and be very poor. As regards the span of life, Kalyana Varma, Jeevanatha, Mantreswara, Vaidyanatha etc., all say that the native will be long lived. But Bhrigu rishi says that the subject will be short-lived unless another benefic is related to the 8th. The first statement is only general while the sage's version is specific. Depending on the horoscope, Jupiter can also act as a premature killer while in some cases he will bestow a long span of life. A female with Jupiter in the 8th will be involved in distress, be given up by her husband, be devoid of virtues, will possess stout hands and stout legs, be sick and be a voracious eater.

58. JUPITER IN THE 9th: If Jupiter is in the 9th bhava, the native will be attached to divine and paternal duties, be learned, fortunate, be a king's minister or a leader and be chief.

Notes: If Jupiter occupies the 9th house one will own big houses, will enjoy patronage from great men, will involve in spiritual and religious activities, will enjoy honour from brothers and relatives, will perform sacrificial acts, be learned, famous, fortunate, wealthy etc., and be pious. He will enjoy a healthy physique and progenic happiness. A female with Jupiter in the 9th house will engage herself in religious activities, be beautiful, famous, very rich and grateful.

सिद्धारम्भो मान्यः सर्वोपायः कुशलसमृद्धश्च ।
वशमस्थे त्रिवशगुरौ सुखधनजनवाहनयशोभाक् ॥५६॥

59. JUPITER IN THE 10th: If Jupiter occupies the 10th bhava, the native will attain successful beginning in his undertaking, be honourable, effortful and will be endowed with abundant welfare, happiness, wealth, relatives, conveyances and fame.

Notes: The native with Jupiter in the 10th house will be endowed with 'Hasta Vridhdhi' (identical with "Siddhaharambha" of our text, meaning that the person will be able to give a golden touch to an undertaking and achieve easy success), will be fond of eating much, will have limited sexual enjoyments, will make religious contributions of lasting nature, of famous, short-tempered, will be lean in the early years but will grow fat later on, will enjoy the patronage of eminent persons, be endowed with royal insignia (i.e. will occupy very top positions), be very affluent, be diplomatic, be gifted with deep knowledge of Gita and be very learned in many Sastras.

Bhatta and Jeevanatha denote some misery to the native on account of progeny. Jupiter as indicator of progeny relegated to the 10th, i.e. the 6th from the 5th, obviously will be in a disadvantageous position for happy progeny. Bhatta further adds that the native will everyday feed many people.

A female with Jupiter in the 10th house will perform excellent deeds, be famous, be endowed with many servants and be very modest.

अपरिमितायद्वारो बहुवाहनभृत्यसंयुतः साधुः ।
एकादशमे जीवे न चातिविद्यो न चातिसुतः ॥६०॥

60. JUPITER IN THE 11th: If Jupiter occupies the 11th bhava, the native will enjoy many gains, many conveyances and many servants, be virtuous but will have limited education and few sons.

Notes: The native with Jupiter in the 11th will have few sons and limited learning. Bhatta, however, says that the native will have five sons. Sage Garga's statement, not different from Kalyana Varma's is: ".....Naathividyao alpatha-nayah sadhurekadaso gurau" meaning that one with Jupiter in the 11th will not have abundant learning and numerous progeny but be virtuous. Mantreswara, too, does not see a number of children in this context.

One will be very intelligent, will be successful over enemies, will keep everyone delighted, will enjoy all kinds of gains and he will have nothing on the earth unavailable to him (alabhyam kim bhoomau). He will enjoy a long span of life, will be endowed with vast conveyances, be devoid of illness, will have knowledge of Mantras, be very wealthy, and will make spiritual achievements. A female with Jupiter in the 11th will be skilful in arts and be endowed with welfare.

परितः सेवानिरतो द्वादशसंस्थे गुरो भवति ॥६१॥

61. JUPITER IN THE 12th: If Jupiter occupies the 12th bhava, the native will be indolent, odious, be devoid of speech and luck, and will be in all probability in servitude.

Notes: Should Jupiter be in the 12th, one will be reduced to a state of infame, will spend on evil things, will face financial losses, be very arrogant, will always be intent on grabbing others' wealth, will have vices to torment him, be inimical to his own relatives, be shameless, will suffer from venereal diseases, eye afflictions and tuberculosis and be worried. He will be susceptible to heart disease in boyhood. He will obtain some paternal wealth. Bhrgu Maharshi and Garga Maharshi denote that the native with Jupiter (favourable) in the 12th will amass abundant wealth of his own. His financial loss will be through thieves. He will be belligerent, will have limited progeny, and will have a peaceful death. A female with Jupiter in the 12th will be sickly, will incur losses, will take to others' religion, and will be poisonous in disposition.

VENUS IN VARIOUS BHAVAS (upto sloka 73)

62. VENUS IN LAGNA: If Venus is in the Ascendant, the native will possess beautiful eyes, face and physique, be happy, long-lived, timid and attractive to females.

Note: The native with Venus in the ascendant will have afflicted longevity in the initial part of life. To wit he may face some risk to life and will later on be sure to live a long span of life. In the 12th year of his age, there will occur a mark (like scar etc.) on his head. He will be wealthy, skilful and will always have auspicious occasions in life. He will be skilful in coition and will unite with beautiful and excellent females whose eyes will be akin to that of a charming female deer, so says a traditional author of earlier school of thought. The native will be susceptible to deficient semen, loss of eye sight and venereal diseases. He will be troubled by dogs and horned animals. He will be skilful in mathematics (ganitasastragnah) fine arts, music and many other subjects. A female with Venus in the ascendant will be beautiful, fortunate, virtuous and will be devoid of enemies.

प्रचुरान्नपानविभवं श्रेष्ठविलासं तथा सुवाक्यं च ।

63. VENUS IN THE 2nd: If Venus is in the 2nd bhava, the native will enjoy abundant food, drinks and wealth, will derive excellent pleasures, be endowed with good speech and will amass great wealth.

Notes: If Venus occupies the 2nd bhava, the native will be wealthy, free from diseases, will acquire other's wealth and be endowed with beauty, eloquent speech, learning in various branches, conveyance, jewels, family etc. He will gain potential lands and a beautiful life partner in his 32nd year of age. If Venus is afflicted in the 2nd, particularly by luminaries, the native will contract severe defects. A female with Venus in the 2nd, will be endowed with all virtues, be artful, charming, fortunate, wealthy and famous.

जनयति मन्दोत्साहं सौभाग्यपरिच्छदातीतम् ॥६४॥

64. VENUS IN THE 3rd: If Venus occupies the 3rd bhava, the native will be happy, rich, conquered by women, be vile, little enthusiastic and will be bereft of luck and paraphernalia.

Notes: If Venus occupies the 3rd bhava, the native will be fond of women according to various authorities. (Narayana Bhatta, however, indicates aversion to females in this connection). The subject will feel unhappy in regard to children without any valid reason. So to say, his children will actually not be a source of displeasure. He will be timid, sinful, rash and irascible. He will be affectionate to his co-born and relatives. He will suffer from eye afflictions. He will be devoid of happiness from his wife and of wealth (vide Phala Deepika). Dundhiraja too denotes poverty with Venus in the 3rd while Manasagari attributes riches.

"Vittabhogaparah" is the effect indicated by Bhrigu, meaning that the native will enjoy wealth and pleasures. It may be understood that Venus well related to the horoscope being in the 3rd will cause one to be rich and if afflicted poverty will come to pass. According to Bhrigu, he will have 3 younger brothers and many younger sisters.

Jataka Sagara, a Taiml work, says in this context thus: "The native will be cunning, will cheat others, will enjoy many women, will not hesitate even to have coition with his own mother, be very sinful, will boldly indulge in acts befitting the most fallen, will gain by union with females, will be too miserly to be considerate even to his own co-born and will harm his own race. His mother will be a corrupt woman and he will force her in immoral traffic". These are the words of the text concerned needing a cautious and sensible application. It can be seen that Jataka Sagara outright condemned Venus in the 3rd house. Even other texts have generally given bad effects.

A female with Venus in the 3rd will perform good acts, be modest and will have co-born. Her sisters will enjoy physical strength.

65. VENUS IN THE 4th: If Venus occupies the 4th bhava, the native will be endowed with relatives, friends and happiness, be splendorous, will have conveyances and paraphernalia, be beautiful, rich and fortunate.

Notes: Should Venus be in the 4th one will be extremely rich, learned, happy with mother, highly honoured by all, endowed with conveyances, lands, long-life, co-born and royal honour and be very happy in life. There is an authority to indicate that he will, however, lack marital happiness. A female with Venus in the 4th will be very fortunate and rich.

सुखसुतमित्रोपचितं रतिपरमतिधनमखण्डितं शुक्रः ।

कुरुते पञ्चमराशौ मन्त्रिणमथ दण्डनेतारम् ॥६६॥

66. VENUS IN THE 5th: If Venus is posited in the 5th bhava, the native will be endowed with happiness, sons and friends, be fond of sexual union, be very affluent, full of everything, and be a minister or a justice.

Notes: Our author's hint is at the native's being endowed with all that one requires in life and the subject's chance of achieving distinction in legal profession, with Venus in the 5th.

One with Venus in the 5th will have many children. He will be very learned and be very intelligent. He will be a successful astrologer, will lose his sight due to sexual excesses, will suffer high loss of semen, be devoid of enemies and will amass abundant wealth. If a female has Venus in the 5th, she will be wealthy, will beget many daughters, and be very charming.

अधिकमनिष्टं स्त्रीणां प्रचुरामित्रं निराकृतं विभवं ।

67. VENUS IN THE 6th: If Venus occupies the 6th bhava, the native will greatly dislike his wife, will have many foes, be devoid of wealth, be very much startled and be mean.

Notes: Should Venus be in the 6th, the native's enemies will be nectar-dipped, i.e. they will never be destroyed, so say Narayana Bhatta and Jeevantha. But Brihat Jataka and Phaladeepika differ in the matter of enemies stating that the subject will not have enemies. However, in practical experience, Venus in the 6th will cause enmity without valid reasons and the native will have less number of friends. He will have a tendency to spend liberally and his expenses will never subside. He will bring harm to the family by practising evil Mantras. He will be miserable and be subjected to calumny. He will suffer many sicknesses and will obey parents. A commentator quotes a principle from Harivamsa that one with Venus in the 6th will be averse to sexual acts although he may face charming females. However, this view as a rule cannot be subscribed to. A female with Venus in the 6th will be liable to be discarded by her husband and children.

68. VENUS IN THE 7th: If Venus occupies the 6th bhava, the native will greatly dislike his wife, will have many foes, be devoid of wealth, be very much startled and be mean.

Notes: One with Venus in the 7th house will obtain an excellent and chaste wife and will be happy in regard to his marriage. He will be learned in many branches, be rich, diplomatic, will have a defective limb, will suffer pains in the hips, will be attached to whores, will acquire happy progeny, be skilful in sports played in water, will gain in business undertakings and be free from serious diseases. He will be very libidinous and will join even pregnant women. According to Vasishta, the native may be subjected to repeated miseries. A Tamil text states that there may be loss of wife with Venus in the 7th house.

A female with Venus in the 7th house will be dear to her husband and will be very rich.

दीर्घायुरनुपमसुखः शुक्रे निधनाश्रिते धनसमृद्धः ।

भवति पुमान् नृपतिसमः क्षणे क्षणे लब्धपरितोषः ॥६९॥

69. VENUS IN THE 8th: If Venus is in the 8th bhava, the native will be longlived, will enjoy incomparable happiness, be very rich, be equal to a king and moment after moment will feel delighted.

Notes: If Venus be in the 8th, the native will be short-lived according to sage Bhrigu and also Balabhadra, the author of Hora Ratna. Whereas a host of other authors, like Kalyana Varma, Jeevanatha, Narayana Bhatta, Mantreswara, Jageswara etc., denote long life to the native.

If Venus be in the 8th house, there will be miseries on account of wife and progeny. His financial prosperity will face many ups and downs, but he will make abundant wealth. Sometimes he may be troubled by debts. He will be fond of meat and the like. He will be subjected to diseases and be humiliated on account of women. See what Garga specifically states: "The native will clear paternal debts. His death will be in a shrine due to imbalances of wind and phlegm or due to hunger. If Venus be in the 8th identical with a fixed sign, there will be always miseries galore".

A female with Venus in the 8th will be devoid of wealth and will cheat others. Her marital life will be miserable and short.

70. VENUS IN THE 9th: If Venus occupies the 9th bhava, the native will possess a spotless and broad physique, be endowed with wealth, charitability, wife, sexual pleasures and friendship and will honour Gods, guests and preceptors/elders.

Notes: Should Venus be in the 9th, one will be happy with wife, children, wealth and fortune. He will spend on religious activities. He will command learning, conveyances and the like. He will receive high honours from the Government, public etc. He will be always happy, but given to anger. He will have auspicious marks on his soles. His father will be longlived. He will enjoy a long span of life. His brother will have two wives or will suffer some kind of marital discord. A female with Venus in the 9th will be endowed with wealth, robes, food etc., be very important among people, will have strong willpower and will resemble a male.

71. VENUS IN THE 10th: Should Venus occupy the 10th bhava, the native will earn success in litigations and will be endowed with happiness, sexual unions, honour, wealth, fame and great wisdom.

Notes: If Venus is in the 10th house at the time of one's birth, he will be very affectionate to his wife and children, be skilful in poetry, will have many conveyances, will do many meritorious activities for the welfare of the public, will be deaf, and will have many sons. But Narayana Bhatta and Jeevanatha specifically state that Venus in the 10th will weaken the semen of the native so as to stall obtainment of progeny for the growth of the descent. According to Manasagari the native will have royal status even though he may be in forests, see "vanagatopi cha rajyaphalam". A female in whose nativity the 10th is occupied by Venus will be very liberal, fortunate and rich.

जनयति भवभवनगतो भृगुतनयः सर्वदा पुरुषम् ॥७२॥

72. VENUS IN THE 11th: If Venus is positioned in the 11th bhava, the native will have obedient servants, be bereft of all kinds of misery, and will gain abundantly.

Notes: The word प्रतिरूप in the text means: suitable or proper. However, to make sense it has been translated here as 'obedient'.

If Venus occupy the 11th house, the native will be devoid of enemies, be empirical in status, endowed with all kinds of wealth, learning, fortunes, virtues etc., attached to prostitutes, will be fond of music, dance, drama, poetry, etc., and will be happy in family life. Vide Jataka Sagara, "One will have three wives with Venus in the 11th, will be short-lived and endowed with happiness". According to Bhrigu, if Venus in the 11th is conjunct malefics, one will gain in sinful ways while benefics conjunct will confer gains through good acts. Garga denotes that the native will acquire a jewel-like wife and be devoid of diseases. Should Venus be in the 11th in a female's chart, she will be devoid of afflictions (or grief), be very learned and will have many dependents.

अलसं सुखिनं स्थूलं पतितं मृष्टाशिनं भृगोस्तनयः ।

शयनोपचारकुशलं द्वादशशः स्त्रीजितं जनयेत् ॥७३॥

73. VENUS IN THE 12th: Should Venus be in the 12th bhava, the native will be indolent, happy, corpulent, fallen in moral sense, will eat cleansed food, will be skilful in providing sleeping comforts and attendants and will be won over by women.

Notes: If Venus occupies the 12th house, the native will be in a position to entertain guests, as hinted by "Say-anopachara Kusalah" in the text. He will provide food, bed etc. for their comforts.

The native with Venus so placed will be ever devoted to seeking pleasures of the sex, be immoral, will have free flow of money but the intent on spending in many ways, will perform excellent acts though he may not be very virtuous, be inimical to many, will suffer from many diseases, be a liar, will have many vices, and will attain heavens after death. There are two opinions about wealth being given by Venus in the 12th—one school of thought denotes poverty while the other wealth. Sage Bhrigu denotes that Venus (alone) in the 12th will give much penury but great wealth if conjunct with benefics. It follows that singly Venus in the 12th is not very auspicious for riches, if not literally capable of conferring utter poverty in the real sense. Unless a favourable planet joins him in the 12th, there will be difficulties in money matters like checkered earnings and unnecessary and heavy expenses beyond income. And with the march of time the native may lose a major part of his earnings.

A female with Venus in the 12th will be a spendthrift, be devoid of intelligence and will suffer diseases. Both in the case of a male and female, Venus in the 12th will tell upon the marriage of the native concerned.

SATURN IN VARIOUS BHAVAS (upto sloka 85)

74. SATURN IN THE ASCENDANT: If Saturn happens to be in the ascendant identical with exaltation or own house, the native will equal a king in status, or will head a country or city. In other Rasis in ascendant, the planet will give misery in boyhood, dirty disposition and indolence.

Notes: If Saturn occupies the ascendant, the native will be wealthy (unless Saturn is dignified). (Otherwise he will be poor.) Saturn in a sign of Jupiter apart from his own exaltation/own sign will give very good results in the matter of wealth etc. The native with Saturn in the ascendant (identical with signs other than the above) will be lame, will have a defective limb, will be very miserable, will lose many things, will suffer nasal diseases, will indulge in gambling, drinking, womanising and the like and will destroy his enemies just by a "mere sight". Vide Jataka Sagara, "The native will be devoid of fortunes, will enjoy a long span of life, will hate his wife, will be separated from his family, will not have smooth living, will have co-born with their diminishing prosperity, be fond of travels and will become infamous." Garga is however specific saying that Saturn in the ascendant in a sign other than Libra, Sagittarius and Pisces will diminish longevity. He adds, "The native with Saturn in the ascendant will suffer itches all over the body, be phlegmatic, will have deficient/excessive limb in the lower part of the body and will suffer diseases of the inner ear due to phlegmatic afflictions. Even with an aspect of Saturn on the ascendant, the native will be emaciated; miserable, foolish, immoral, will give up his religion and will have troubles of head caused by iron etc." Another authority states that the native will burn at the progress of others.

A female with Saturn in the ascendant will have many diseases or will suffer from lasting constipation, will have a very ugly appearance, be not respected by others, will have strong bones and teeth but be devoid of sight.

विकृतवदनोऽर्थभोक्ता जनरहितो न्यायकृत्कुटुम्बगते ।

पश्चात्परदेशगतो धनवाहनभोगवान् सौरे ॥७५॥

75. SATURN IN THE 2nd: If Saturn occupies the 2nd bhava, the native will have an ugly face, will enjoy wordly prosperity (अर्थभोक्ता), be devoid of his own men, will render justice, will later on (i.e. in the course of his life) go to other countries and will earn money and conveyances.

Notes: If the Saturn be in the 2nd, one will be rich according to some, will be poor according to others and will have monetary losses yet according to others. Thus it follows that even though Saturn in the 2nd can give wealth, the same will be susceptible to loss. The native will not enjoy happy family life and will discard the family for his own pleasures. Most texts agree that the native will in the later part of life leave his place of birth and go elsewhere.

He will be skilful in learning and will grasp the meanings of many sastras. He will be devoid of co-born and will face many dangers according to Meena Raja. He will lose his physical weight due to mental worries, will have illformed teeth, will look old at a young age and will spend away his money on account of females. A female with Saturn in the 2nd house will be devoid of wealth, be discarded by her family members and be always troubled and blamed.

शूरो दानानुरक्तो बुश्चिक्वगते विपुलबुद्धिः ॥७६॥

76. SATURN IN THE 3rd: If Saturn occupies the 3rd bhava, the native will be dark in complexion, will maintain physical cleanliness, be base, will have indolent attendants, be courageous, charitable and will have great intelligence.

Notes: Should Saturn be in the 3rd, the native will be valorous, ominous for co-born, very intelligent, helpful, will maintain many, will have obstructed fortunes, be long-lived, will disregard even those respectful of him, will lose in his undertakings, be wealthy, will not eat much, will face many obstacles in getting married, be then happily married, affectionate to his spouse, will have a wide circle of acquaintance, be free from sickness, will however be not happy in boyhood but be happy later on, will beget progeny with difficulty, be not happy with progeny, will enjoy many conveyances, will spread his fame in all the four corners, will have mean conduct and be honoured by the king. With Saturn in the 3rd one will be liable to suffer some defect/diseases of the hand. He will not live with his father and will marry a girl having no mother. He will be specifically inimical to his co-born. A female with Saturn so placed will be skilful, praiseworthy and chief among her family members. Though Hora Ratna quotes Yavanas saying that a female with Saturn in the 3rd will beget many children the female will be susceptible to have problems in this direction depending on the locus standi of Saturn and Jupiter.

पोडितहृदयो हिषुके निर्बान्धवाहनार्थमतिशोक्यः ।

बाल्ये व्याधितदेहो नखरोमधरो भवेत् सौरे ॥७७॥

77. SATURN IN THE 4th: If Saturn occupies the 4th bhava, the native will suffer heart disease or be broken-hearted, be devoid of relatives, conveyances, wealth, intelligence and happiness, will suffer sickness in boyhood and will have (prominent) nails and hair.

Notes: If Saturn is found located in the 4th house, the native will lose his mother early or will be separated from her, will be a source of misery to his parents, will not beget anything paternal, will be inimical to his co-born and relatives, will gain happiness through enemies, be always distressed, will not get good houses to live in, will be devoid of own properties, will frequently change places, and will suffer from windy diseases, epilepsy, cardiac diseases and the like. Normally Saturn in the 4th will bring up the person by another female than the mother. In some cases, the father of the subject may marry twice.

If Saturn is retrograde in the 4th, he destroys the native's wife and progeny. (vide Manasagari).

A female with Saturn in the 4th will be devoid of happiness, wealth and intelligence. She will be particularly miserable following her marriage.

सुखसुतमित्रविहीनं मतिरहितमचेतसं त्रिकोणस्थः ।

सोऽमात्रं रवितनयः करोति पुरुषं सदा दीनम् ॥७८॥

78. SATURN IN THE 5th: Should Saturn occupy the 5th bhava, the native will be bereft of happiness, sons, friends, intelligence and kindness, be agitated and be poor.

Notes: Should Saturn be in the 5th house in a nativity, the subject will not have happiness from progeny, be a heterodox, be foolish, unfriendly, be always sick, be troubled by debts and enmity, will lose wealth in securing others and will not have a happy marriage. See what Garga says: "If Saturn is in the 5th in an enemy's camp, all the children of the native will be destroyed. If the planet be not combust and be in exaltation sign, the native will beget a son with difficulty. If he be in the 5th identical with Aquarius, there will be acquisition of five children and if in Capricorn in 5th there will be three female children". Another authority states that Saturn in the 5th identical with Gemini, Virgo, Sagittarius or Pisces will make one adopt a child. It follows that Saturn in a dual sign in the 5th will deny altogether a child of one's own loins. A female with Saturn in the 5th will be devoid of progeny.

बहुरिपुपक्षक्षपितं रिपुभवनगतोऽर्कजः कुक्षे ॥७९॥

79. SATURN IN THE 6th: If Saturn occupies the 6th bhava, the native will be very licentious, be beautiful, courageous, will eat abundantly, be crooked and will conquer many of his enemies.

Notes: Should Saturn be in the 6th, the native will be happy with his progeny, will be miserable due to his wife's illhealth, will suffer afflictions from spirits and dead souls, will win over his enemies, be very rich, fortunate will become a famous writer, and will suffer from urinary disorders and venereal diseases. A female with Saturn in the 6th will be endowed with robes and jewels, be wealthy, will obtain progeny and be affectionate to them.

सततमनारोग्यतनुं मृतदारं धनविवर्जितं जनयेत् ।
द्यूनेऽर्कजः कुवेषं पापं बहुनोदकमणिम् ॥८०॥

80. SATURN IN THE 7th: If Saturn is posited in the 7th bhava, the native will always be subjected to ill-health, will lose his wife, be bereft of wealth, will present himself ugly, be sinful and will do very mean acts.

Notes: If Saturn occupies the 7th, the native will have a weak body, depressed chest, depressed belly and stout thighs, be bony in structure and be quite irascible. He will not enjoy both marital happiness and maternal happiness, will suffer breakdowns in education and will be unfortunate. His wife will incur many diseases. The native will subordinate others and will not occupy pre-eminent position. He will be very much addicted to illicit relationship with females. He will have many enemies and will be tormented by frequent litigations. A female with Saturn in the 7th will be ever sick, be given up by her spouse, be addicted to intoxicants, will befriend bad females and be quite sinful.

सर्वारम्भविहीनं जनयति रविजः सदा पुरुषम् ॥८१॥

81. SATURN IN THE 8th: If Saturn occupies the 8th bhava, the native will suffer from leprosy and fistula in the anus or pudendum, will have short life and will fail in his undertakings.

Notes: Kalyana Varma denotes short-life resulting from Saturn's position in the 8th house. Without meaning any disrespect to the author, it may be stated that many other exponents like sage Bhrigu attribute a long lease of life. However Nataraja of Jatakalankara indicates adverse effects on longevity if Saturn is in the 8th for only Scorpio ascendant and Aries ascendant. Generally Saturn in the 8th is conducive to long span of life.

The native concerned will incur financial losses, be not wealthy, will have frequent misunderstandings with his wife and other family members, will have obstructions in career, will not be happy with progeny, be mocked at by others, be addicted to whores and will not honour his parents. His life will be in danger during his 35th year. He will suffer afflictions of blood, teeth, eyes, stomach, anus, liver, spleen etc.

A female with Saturn so placed will destroy herself on account of her own faults, be base and dirty and will cheat others.

धर्मरहितोऽल्पधनिकः सहजसुतबिर्वर्जितो नयमसंस्थे ।

रविजे सौख्यविहीनः परोपतापी च जायते मनुजः ॥८२॥

82. SATURN IN THE 9th: If Saturn occupies the 9th bhava, the native will be devoid of religious merits, will not have much wealth, be bereft of co-born, sons and happiness and will cause sorrow to others.

Notes: If Saturn is stationed in the 9th the native will lose his wife early, will take to spiritual path in the later part of life, will undertake to reconstruct dilapidated public places and will join bad men. A female with Saturn in the 9th will be devoid of learning and providence.

धनवान् प्राज्ञः शूरो मन्त्रो वा दण्डनायको वाऽपि ।
 वशमस्थे रवितनये वृन्दपुरग्रामनेता च ॥८३॥

83. SATURN IN THE 10th: If Saturn occupies the 10th bhava, the native will be wealthy, learned, valorous and be a minister or a justice or be the leader of a group, city or village.

Notes: If Saturn occupies the 10th the native will be devoid of parental happiness and ancestral properties, will financially prosper gradually, will hold judicial positions, will have prodigal sons and will amass wealth in foreign places. A female with Saturn in the 10th will be ugly and sinful.

ब्रह्मायुः स्थिरविभवः शूरः शिल्पाश्रयो विगतरोगः ।
 आयस्थे भानुसुते धन-जनसम्पद्युतो भवति ॥८४॥

84. SATURN IN THE 11th: If Saturn occupies the 11th bhava, the native will be long-lived, endowed with lasting riches, be courageous, will have knowledge of arts, be devoid of sickness and be endowed with money, people and wealth.

Notes: If the 11th house is occupied by Saturn, the subject will gain indestructible wealth and longevity. He will have no children, be famous, happy, fortunate, will suffer only minor (curable) sicknesses, (or be free from diseases as stated by Kalyana Varma) and will be unhappy with his elder brothers/sisters. A female with Saturn in the 11th will have abundant blood in her physique, be devoid of wisdom and be distressed.

विकलः पतितो मुखरो विषमाक्षो निर्धृणो विगतलज्जः ।
 व्ययभवनगते सौरे बहुव्ययः स्यात् सुपरिभूतः ॥८५॥

85. SATURN IN THE 12th: If Saturn occupies the 12th bhava, the native will be distressed, fallen in moral sense, talkative, will have defective eye sight, be unkind, shameless, will spend much and be insulted.

Notes: If Saturn be in the 12th house, one will be poor, deformed of some limb, tormented by expenses, addicted to courtezans and will not have a permanent livelihood. A female with Saturn in the 12th will not have lasting family ties.

परा निघ्नन्ति मूर्खादीन् भावान् पुष्णन्ति शोभना ।

योगा प्रयत्नयोगात् सौम्यसुहृद्विपुनिरीक्षणाच्चैव ।

86-87. If malefics occupy various bhavas (other than 6th, 8th, and 12th), they bring harm to the bhavas while benefics increase their potency. Malefics are auspicious in evil houses, i.e. 6th, 8th, and 12th, while benefics prove adverse in these bhavas. According to the strength of yogakaraka planets, their beneficial relationship, friendly/enimical aspects etc., and position in exaltation/debilitation, the (good or bad) results of bhavas can vary (i.e. be maximum, medium or nil).

Notes: If a planet is well-disposed to the native by virtue of its ability to cause good yoga, the malefic effects attributed in the foregoing slokas will be comparatively lesser with auspicious effects increasing. If the planet in question be in own house, friendly sign etc., then even this approach holds good. If it is in inimical sign, combustion or debilitation, the adverse results stated earlier will be aggrandised while auspicious results will diminish. The strength of the planet, its relationship with the ascendant etc. also be considered wisely.

2-5. SUN-MOON CONJUNCTION IN ANGLES: If the Sun and Moon occupy the ascendant, the native will suffer grief regarding parents, will be devoid of honour, sons and wealth, be insulted and miserable. If these two join the 4th bhava, the native will be deprived of relatives, happiness and sons, will suffer penury and will be a great dunce. If in the 7th, he will be devoid of friends and sons and be insulted by females. If in the 10th, he will possess a beautiful physique, be an army chief, be endowed with the quality of rajas or passion, be unkind, crooked and will destroy his enemies.

6-9. SUN-MARS CONJUNCTION IN ANGLES: If the Sun and Mars join in the ascendant, the person will be bilious, be bold in war, short-tempered, will have injured body, be cruel, crafty and harsh. If these two join in the 4th, he will be devoid of relatives and wealth, be bereft of all kinds of happiness and be agitated. If these join in the 7th, he will suffer from separation from his wife, be insulted on account of females and will be fond of moving in foreign places. If the conjunction is in the 10th, the native will face failure in his undertakings, be a servant, be emotional, be a principal employee with the king and be always distressed.

10-13. SUN-MERCURY CONJUNCTION IN ANGLES: If the Sun and Mercury are in the ascendant, the native will be very learned and garrulous, will have hard limbs, be fond of adventures, be wise and be long-lived. If the conjunction is in the 4th, the native will be equal to a king, be famous, will keep up his promise, will be endowed with riches equal to that of Kubera (the God of Wealth in Hindu Mythology) and will have a corpulent body and crooked nose. If in the 7th, the native will meet his death due to murder or imprisonment, will not keep up his word, be a great miser, bereft of sexual pleasures and be a thief. If in the 10th, he will be famous in the entire world, will own elephants and horses and be a king, provided none of these two is in debilitation.

14-17. SUN-JUPITER CONJUNCTION IN ANGLES: If the Sun and Jupiter join in the ascendant, the native will be virtuous, be a minister or an army chief or be sagely in disposition and will be endowed with learning, wealth, pleasures and fame. If the Yoga is in the 4th, he will be interested in Vedas, justice and poetry, be eloquent, virtuous, fortunate and will be endowed with servants. If in the 7th, he will subdue to women out of sexual passion, will dislike his father, be endowed with gold, ruby, silver and pearls and will possess a defect-free body. If in the 10th, he will be endowed with fame, happiness, honour and wealth and will become a king though belonging to a base lineage.

18-21. SUN-VENUS CONJUNCTION IN ANGLES: If these two join in the ascendant, the native will be fond of quarrels, be immodest, will take to bad conduct, be sorrowful, mean and be devoid of wealth and women. Should these join in the 4th, one will serve others, be sorrowful, will fill himself with hatred towards others and will suffer penury. One will be insulted by women, be devoid of wealth, will have a corpulent body, will wander in hills and forests, if the Sun be in the 7th along with Venus. Should these two join in the 10th, he will be engaged in trade, be a king's minister, be skilful in sastras, arts etc., and will enjoy happiness of wealth and conveyances.

22-25. SUN-SATURN CONJUNCTION IN ANGLES:

Should the Sun and Saturn be together in the ascendant at birth, the native is born of a blameworthy mother, will have blameworthy conduct or profession, will always be of dirty disposition and be sinful. If their conjunction occurs in the 4th house, the native will be base in disposition, will be synonym of penury and will be humiliated among his relatives. Should they join in the 7th house, the native will be inactive (मन्त्र has other meanings like stupid, foolish, tardy, indifferent, weak-brained, addicted to drinking, defective etc.), indolent, unfortunate, devoid of a female and of wealth, will hunt animals and be highly dullwitted. If the Sun joins his son in the 10th, one will serve in low position in foreign countries (i.e. places not of his own), will earn wealth through kings sometimes but will lose the same in theft and be always poor.

26-29. MOON-MARS CONJUNCTION IN ANGLES: The native who has the Moon and Mars together in the ascendant will have defects of blood, digestive fire and bile, will be a king (i.e. will be wealthy) and will be harsh. If the two join in the 4th house, the native will incur grief, be devoid of wealth, happiness, progeny and relatives and be defective of some limb. These two in the 7th in conjunction denote that the person concerned will be base, be after others' money, be garrulous, untruthful and jealous. Their conjunction in the 10th will make the person possess the wealth of army consisting of horses, elephants and bipeds

30-33. MOON-MERCURY CONJUNCTION IN ANGLES:

Should the Moon and Mercury be together in the ascendant, the native will possess happiness, intelligence, strength, fortune and splendour, be talkative and very skilful. If the conjunction occurs in the 4th, he will be endowed with relatives, friends, progeny, happiness, valour, gold and precious stones and be fortunate. If they join in the 7th, one will be valorous, be dear to king or be a king himself, be famous, be a great poet and be soft in disposition. Their joining in the 10th indicates that the subject will be honourable, be wealthy and very famous, be a royal minister, will grieve during the last leg of his life and be devoid of relatives.

Chapter 32

Ninth House and Effects Thereof

सर्वमपहाय चिन्त्यं भाग्यक्षं प्राणिनां विशेषेण ।
भाग्यं विना न जन्तुर्यस्मात्तद्वत्ततो वक्ष्ये ॥१॥

1. Leaving aside all the other houses, one should first analyse the house of fortune (or Bhagyasthana) for a native cannot obtain benefic results sans fortune. So, narrated below is an account in this direction.

Notes: The 9th house or the house of fortunes is the most important one in a horoscope. If this house, its lord and its occupant are favourable, the native will generally be happy in respect of wealth, livelihood etc. Otherwise not. Hence the author devotes an exclusive chapter in this direction.

लग्नान्निशाकराद्वा यन्तवमं तद्गृहं भवेद्भाग्यम् ।
अनयोर्यो बलयुक्तो भाग्यफलं चिन्तयेदस्मात् ॥२॥

2. Bhagyasthana (house of fortune) is that which is the 9th counted from the ascendant or from the Moon. Effects of the 9th counted from the stronger of the Ascendant and the Moon will come to pass.

Notes: Among the ascendant and the Moon, note which is more strong. So to say the Shadbala and disposition of Ascendant lord and the Moon will have to be taken into consideration and the stronger of the two shall be the point to count the 9th house. Such 9th house—from Lagna or from the Moon—will yield predominant effects relating to the fortunes of the native. Let us assume that Lagna is stronger than the Moon in a given case. If the 9th house from Lagna is indicative of good fortunes, even malefic effects relating to the 9th house from the Moon will not fully come to pass. So to say in this case more favourable results will mature.

भाग्यक्षपतिः कस्मिन् को वा भाग्यक्षमाश्रितो विहगः ।

बलवान्मन्दबलो वा तस्याधिपतिस्तु कारको ज्ञेयः ॥३॥

3. The house occupied by the lord of the 9th and the planet occupying the 9th will have a say on one's fortune. Their strength or weakness will indicate the fortunes.

Notes: Who is the indicator of fortunes in a given case? Note where the 9th lord (as arrived at as per indications given in sloka 2) is in the horoscope and the planet occupying the said 9th house. If these planets are endowed with strength one will enjoy fortunes and if they be devoid of strength there will be obstructions to fortunes. For example, the 9th lord should be in good bhavas like ascendant, 4th, 7th, 10th, 5th etc., and avoid 6th, 8th, 12th etc. He should not be combust, nor be in fall, in inimical house and such Navamsas. He should be in good aspects. Then only will good fortunes wed the native easily. Also note the planet occupying the 9th house. If this occupant be ruler of evil houses, then it is defect for fortune. He should not be debilitated, combust etc., being in the 9th. Also, the occupant should preferably be a natural benefic so that one enjoys lasting and easily made fortunes. Even if the planet in the 9th be a natural malefic like Saturn, Mars etc, if he is a yogakarka for the ascendant, then also good results will mature.

अन्येन सहितदृष्टं परदेशफलप्रदं भवति भाग्यम् ॥४॥

4. If the 9th house is aspected or occupied by its own lord, the native will make his fortunes in his own country.

If others aspect or join the house in question, the dawn of fortune will be elsewhere.

Notes: The native will flourish in his own birth place if the 9th is related to its lord by aspect, conjunction etc. If by others, he will acquire his fortunes elsewhere.

दुश्चिक्क्यगतो भाग्यं पञ्चमभवनस्थितो ग्रहः पश्येत् ।
होरागतश्च बलवान् येषां ते मानवाः श्रेष्ठाः ॥५॥

5. The native will be extremely lucky if a planet lends full aspect to the 9th from the 3rd, 5th or ascendant. The planet in question should be strong in the process.

Notes: The author discusses here the 9th house to be in full aspect from certain houses so that the native will be excellent in the matter of fortunes. He has specifically used the word "full" in the matter of aspect as only full aspect is potential and not others. Jupiter is the only planet that can fully aspect the 9th from the ascendant or from the 5th. And from the 3rd, every planet can lend its full aspect. The hint here is that the 5th or the ascendant be occupied by Jupiter or any planet be in the 3rd. It does, however, not mean that simply Jupiter in the said place or anyone in the 3rd house will ensure good futures. In the process the planet should be endowed with strength. If it be weak, the fortunes will be only meagre, or even adverse.

भोगी कान्तः शशिना काञ्चनभाग् भवति भर्मेन ॥६॥
सौम्येन धनी ज्ञेयः सितेन गोवाहनार्थसंयुतः ।
सौरेण स्थावरभाक् दृष्टे खरमहिषसंयुतः ॥७॥

6-7. JUPITER IN THE 9th AND ASPECTS THERETO: If Jupiter is placed in the 9th, the native will become a minister. If the said Jupiter in the 9th is aspected by the Sun, he will be equal to a king; if by the Moon he will be splendidous and will enjoy pleasures; if by Mars, he will be endowed with gold; if by Mercury affluent; if by Venus he will have quadrupeds, conveyances and wealth and if by Saturn he will possess immovable properties, asses and buffaloes.

Notes: The occupation of Jupiter in the 9th with strength is a felicitous augury for acquiring powerful positions. The other relevant effects have also been laid down in chapter 30. Further if Jupiter in the 9th is in aspect to the 9th lord one will enjoy royal status, will acquire paternal inheritance and will hold prominent positions in government level. The Moon aspecting the said Jupiter will bestow all kinds of pleasures. Mars in this context will give riches through gold, land, houses etc. Mercury will give plenty of wealth, income through teaching, consultancies and the like if aspecting the said Jupiter. Saturn or Venus related by aspect will prove beneficial for acquiring wealth through quadrupeds. Particularly Saturn is favourable to deal with immovable properties, real estates, house building and the like while Venus in particular will be advantageous in aspecting Jupiter for gains in dealing with conveyances, like manufacture/sales/repair etc., of automobiles and the like.

8-12. JUPITER IN THE 9th IN ASPECT TO TWO PLANETS: If the 9th house is occupied by Jupiter and aspected by both the Sun and Mars, the native will be endowed with sovereignty, precious stones, gold, courage, excellence, strength, conveyances and servants. If the aspecting pair is the Sun and the Moon, he will be blessed with plentifulness (of all things), be devoted to his parents, be famous, be equal to a king and will have plurality of wives. If the Sun and Mercury jointly aspect the Jupiter in the 9th, he will be graceful, splendorous, fortunate, be endowed with an excellent wife, ornaments and wealth and will be expert in poetry and arts. If the aspecting pair consists of the Sun and Venus, one will be festive in disposition, will have social (wide) activities and will be endowed with cows, buffaloes, elephants etc. If the Sun and Saturn aspect Jupiter in the 9th, one will be head of a country, town or group, be famous, learned, virtuous, affluent and will have a tendency of accumulating.

Notes: In these 5 slokas, the effects of Jupiter placed in the 9th house and in aspect to any two planets are described. When two planets should be together to aspect Jupiter, it can only be possible from the 3rd by usual standards of aspects. However, in the case of Mars or Saturn constituting a planet of the pair, Mars can be elsewhere just as Saturn but simultaneously aspect Jupiter. For example, the Sun can be in the 3rd and Mars in the 2nd or the 6th counted from the ascendant in which case both the Sun and Mars can aspect the 9th house. The aspect from the Sun and Mars to Jupiter in the 9th will be very favourable for Aries, Scorpio, Cancer, Leo, Sagittarius or Pisces ascendants as for these ascendants, the 3 planets in question are very favourable. Similar inferences can be made by suitable extension of the rules.

संग्रहणीत : in sloka 12 in normal sense means a sense of accumulating (wealth) or a tendency of providence. Saturn joining the Sun in aspecting the 9th house placed Jupiter will give a tendency not to spend liberally and hence the native will be in a position to accumulate sufficient wealth. However, the word संग्रहण also means "adultery". The planet in the 9th, the planet aspecting the 9th, the lord of the 9th etc., have a say on the character of the native as well, apart from fortunes. Saturn's aspect on the 9th will give a tendency to commit adultery. Jupiter alone in the 9th will, however, combat such a tendency but if in being in aspect to Saturn (and the Sun) Jupiter be not well disposed, the native may indulge in immoral acts.

 (continued): If Jupiter is in the 9th and is in aspect to both Mars and Mercury, one will be highly learned, very virtuous, will keep up his word and will have a pleasing appearance. If Mars and Venus be the aspecting pair, one will be wealthy, learned, will live in foreign countries, be sincere, very skilful and cruel. Mars and Saturn being the pair denotes that the native will be base, talebearing, spiteful, living in foreign places and will be in the company of unsteady people. if Mercury and Venus jointly aspect Jupiter in the 9th, one will be an artisan, be very virtuous, learned, fortunate, will keep up his promise and will possess a pleasing appearance. Mercury and Saturn being such a pair, the native will be fortunate, learned, eloquent in speech, pleasing, courageous, happy and modest.

23. Jupiter in the 9th in aspect to 9th lord will make one a king. The effects stated in connection with Jupiter's position in the 9th and aspects thereof are valid only when no other planets (than the mentioned) aspect.

Notes: The effects of two planets aspecting Jupiter in the 9th house as stated will come to pass in full unless there is no interference from a different planet. The dignity of the planets aspecting the 9th house and of Jupiter will also count. If Jupiter alone is in the 9th and is exclusively aspected by the lord of the 9th, the native will acquire royal status.

24. If all the planets aspect Jupiter posited in the 9th, the native will possess excellent guise, virtues, splendour, sovereignty and abundant riches.

29. If a planet is exalted in the 9th, an excellent person is born with plentifulness of wealth and gold. And if a benefic aspects the exalted planet in question, the native will be a supreme ruler, destroyer of the band of his enemies, will possess divine splendour and great fame.

Notes: An exalted planet occupying the 9th house will augment the overall fortunes of the native and can work as a powerful antidote to many planetary blemishes. If the exalted planet placed in the 9th is aspected by Jupiter, Mercury, Venus or a yogakaraka of the horoscope, the native will be very greatly fortunate, exceedingly affluent and will be among the most well-placed few. He will be endowed with divineness to which many submit respectfully. He will live for a long time enjoying all the amenities and vast happiness.

Notes: Out of the many occupants of the 9th, one should be Jupiter or Mercury so that the evil concentration on the 9th and 3rd, apart from important houses of the horoscope getting hindered. Practically, many planets in the 9th will affect the horoscope adversely. So to say, the good effects of such conglommeration in the 9th will be far less, than the evils. This has been my personal experience. The author also states that at least Jupiter/Mercury be a participant in a combination of 3 to 7 planets to save the person from adversities like imprisonment, poverty etc.

Chapter 33

Tenth House and Effects Thereof

लग्नाद्दशमे राशौ कर्मफलं यत्प्रकीर्तितं मुनिभिः ।

राशिग्रहस्वभावैर्ग्रहदृष्ट्या तदहमपि वक्ष्ये ॥१॥

1. Sages have explained effects relating to the signs coinciding with the 10th house, planets posited therein and planets aspecting the 10th house. I shall now explain those results.

होरेन्द्रोर्बलयोगाद्यो दशमस्तत्स्वभावजं कर्म ।

तस्याधिपपरिवृद्ध्या वृद्धिर्ज्ञेयाऽन्यथा हानिः ॥२॥

2. The 10th house counted from the stronger among the ascendant and the Moon, is called Karmasthana and if the lord of that (10th) house is with strength, the effects in regard to Karma will prosper. Otherwise, the same will decline.

जांगलमथवानूपं तथोभयं वा गृहं परीक्षेत ।

दशमे नक्षत्रपतेर्लग्नात्पुरुषस्य यादृशी भवति ।

सर्वारम्भे वर्त्ति विनिदिशेत्तादृशीं तस्य ॥६॥

3-6. The effects relating to the 10th house will depend on the nature of the sign, viz. watery, biped, Aranya (like Leo) or Jangala (Centiped), the form of such sign and the places indicated by such sign. The 10th house should be carefully examined on these lines. The occupant of the 10th house counted from the Moon or from the Ascendant will influence the livelihood of the native according to his (i.e. planet's) nature and disposition.

ग्रहकेन्द्रफलाध्याये कथितं कर्मस्थितं ग्रहैर्लंगनात् ।
चन्द्रावत्र विशेषो ग्रहै स्थितेर्व्यक्तमिह वक्ष्ये ॥७॥

7. In a previous chapter, results of placements of planets in the 10th house from the ascendant have been explained while dealing with angular positions of various planets. Now specially explained are with reference to the Moon.

Notes: In the 31st Chapter, effects of planets occupying the 4 angles viz. ascendant, the 4th, the 7th and the 10th have been explained. Those are specifically with reference to the ascendant. Now he explains the special effects of planets in the 10th counted from the Moon. However, the clues given in the earlier chapter and in this chapter can be wisely exchanged between the Moon and the ascendant in appropriate contexts, keeping Kalyana Varma's instructions in mind.

EFFECTS OF PLANETS IN THE 10th FROM THE MOON: If the Sun occupies the 10th from the Moon, the native will be successful in his undertakings, be very wealthy, very strong, be a king, will patronize others and be healthy in physique. Mars so placed denotes that the native will be interested in valorous deeds, will live in foreign places, will long for sensual enjoyments, be cruel and will be akin to an outcaste in conduct. If Mercury occupies the 10th from the Moon, one will be learned, rich, will have abundant knowledge of sacred affairs (like Veda etc.), be dear to king, famous, acquainted with many an art and be intelligent. If it is Jupiter that occupies the 10th counted from the Moon, the native will be successful in achieving his desires, righteous, affluent, will have excellent history among men, be a king's minister and be famous. If Venus occupies the 10th from the Moon, one will be fortunate, beautiful, famous, will be successful in his undertakings, be rich and be honoured by king. Should Saturn occupy the 10th with reference to the Moon, the native will have physical diseases, be poor, grieved, bereft of children and be always emotional.

Notes: In sloka 12, the words "vittawantam" and "dhaninam" appear separately. Both can be interpreted as "rich" in which case it will become redundant. 'Vittavantam' also means famous and hence, these two words are separately rendered as "famous" and "rich" respectively in different senses.

29-48. EFFECTS OF THREE PLANETS IN CONJUNCTION IN THE 10th FROM THE MOON: If the Sun, Mars and Mercury are in the 10th from the Moon, one will be fortunate, excellent among men, equal to king and be honoured by all. The Sun, Mars and Jupiter in the 10th of the Moon denote that he will be fortunate, will destroy his enemies and will be plentiful. The Sun, Mars and Venus in a similar position will make one cruel, adventurous, steal others' wealth and highly skillful. Mars, Saturn and the Sun positioned in the 10th of the Moon denote that he will be intent on doing cruel acts, be foolish, sinful and bad in conduct. The Sun, Mercury and Jupiter so placed denote that he will be learned, beautiful, righteous and be dear to his relatives. Famous, righteous, devoid of anger, unconquerable, fortunes and plenty of robes—these are the effects produced by the conjunction of Mercury, the Sun and Venus, in the 10th of the Moon. When one has the Sun, Mercury and Saturn in the 10th of the Moon, he will be cruel, fickle-minded, be not virtuous and will be afflicted by weapons and fire. If the Sun, Venus and Jupiter be together in the 10th of the Moon, one will be fortunate, will earn by learning, be righteous and will always enjoy pleasures. Saturn, the Sun and Jupiter remaining in conjunction in the 10th counted from the Moon will make one devoid of (worthy) history, still honourable and valorous. Venus, Sun and Saturn so placed will make one miserly, fickle-minded and prohibited by all. If Mars, Mercury and Jupiter are in the 10th, one will be righteous, will have a large family and many children and will be learned and wealthy. Mercury, Mars and Venus in the 10th of the Moon will make one interested in fine arts, a dealer of garlands, goldsmith and dear to all. Saturn, Mars and Mercury in similar position will make one righteous, addicted to sleep, wicked and dirty. If at the time of birth one has Mars, Venus and Jupiter in the 10th from the Janma Rasi, he will be wealthy, valorous and be interested in honouring gods and Brahmins. If Saturn, Jupiter and Mars are in the 10th counted from the Moon, one will be bereft of learning, wealth and near and dear, be mean, bereft of happiness and be deformed (or distressed). Mars, Venus and Saturn so placed denote that one will be a minister or an excellent personage, interested in others' religions, wealthy and have many professions. Mercury, Venus and Jupiter in the 10th (with reference to the Moon) identical with Taurus/Libra denote that all his desires will be fulfilled (i.e. he will be happy in all respects) while this position in other houses, will make one suffer from diseases. Mercury, Jupiter and Saturn in the 10th of the Moon denote that one will be interested in authorship and literature, be wealthy, be a very modest servant, be fond of wandering and be beautiful. If Saturn, Mercury and Venus be together in conjunction in the 10th counted from the Moon one will be endowed with wisdom, be a boxer, be interested in living in foreign countries, diligent and tamed (like an elephant). If Jupiter, Saturn and Venus join in the 10th as above, one will be learned, righteous, kind and truthful.

49. Those are the results of planets upto 3 in number joining in the 10th from the Moon. Different results will be experienced if more than 3 planets join in the 10th of the Moon as explained below.

50-61. EFFECTS OF 4 PLANETS JOINING IN THE 10th FROM THE MOON: If the Sun, Mars, Mercury and Jupiter be in the 10th from the Moon, one will be valorous, physically hurt, charitable and interested in all deeds. With Mars, Sun, Venus and Mercury in the 10th from the Moon one will be a garland dealer, writer or an artist and with Saturn replacing Venus in this group one will be endowed with wealth, conveyances and elephants. The Sun, Mercury, Jupiter and Venus in the 10th from the Moon denote that even though one will have a mean profession, he will be excellent, will have sons and will have agricultural living, and Saturn replacing Venus in this formation indicates that he will be skilfully cunning, cruel and will cheat others. The Sun, Mercury, Jupiter and Saturn being in the 10th of the Moon, will make one hardhearted, fortunate, eloquent and interested in agriculture while Jupiter replacing Mercury in this formation will make one interested in foreign places and have many an acts to do. If Mars, Venus, Mercury and Jupiter are in the 10th from the Moon, he will be skilful, courageous and unconquerable in battle while Saturn participating in this combination removing Venus denotes that he will be dirty, ever longing for war and will destroy enemies. Should Mars, Mercury, Venus and Saturn join in the 10th of the Moon, one will have abundant learning, be valorous and will be broad-bodied while Jupiter in the place of Mercury in this context denotes that he will be courageous and endowed with family and wealth. Lastly, if Mercury, Jupiter, Venus and Saturn are placed in the 10th from Janma Rasi, one will be calmly disposed, intelligent and dear to people.

वैद्यपुरोहितगणकाश्चन्द्रात् परवञ्चनानुरताः ॥६२॥

62. MALEFICS IN THE 10th FROM THE MOON: If Malefics occupy the 10th house counted from the Moon and aspected by benefics, one will be a doctor, Purohit (a religious guide), an astrologer or will be interested in cheating others.

Notes: The occupation of malefics in the 10th from the Moon will give good results and produce professionals like doctors, astrologers and Purohits (religious guides helping the householders in performing due rites). This will happen if the said planets are favourable and strong. For example if the 10th house concerned belongs to Venus and malefics like Saturn, Mars etc., are placed therein it will produce doctors. Similarly if the 10th house belongs to Jupiter or Mercury, these malefics will make one an astrologer, a purohit and the like. If the 10th house in question is owned by Mars and occupied by adverse Saturn (for example Saturn in the 10th in fall as the Moon is in Cancer), or the 10th house being Aquarius and occupied by Rahu/Ketu/Mars one will use cheating in making his livelihood. To take to such evil tendencies, the favourable disposition should be less and benefic planets unhelpful.

63. Whatever effects have been ascribed so far in this chapter will specially reveal beneficially if benefics aspect the 10th house from the Moon. If malefics aspect, the benefic results may not be full.

64. MALEFICS AND EFFECTS: Malefics in the 3rd or in the 6th with reference to either the ascendant or the Moon will prove favourable while in the 8th, 12th, or the ascendant they are inauspicious—more so in the ascendant.

65. LIVELIHOOD: One's livelihood should be predicted based on the 10th from the Moon or from the ascendant; whichever is stronger will prevail. The earnings (livelihood) will also be indicated by the stronger of the lords of the 10th counted from the Moon or from the ascendant.

Notes: Our author suggests the 10th house as a basis in evaluation of livelihood counted from the Moon and the ascendant. There are other authorities who take the 10th house counted from the Sun also.

66-80. SIGNS AND PROFESSIONS: If Aries or many of its divisions be in the 10th, one will live through gardens, intelligence, service, agriculture, trading in juices (Rasa has other meanings like liquor, poison, mercury, mineral/metallic salt, etc.), or be an envoy. With Taurus or a majority of its divisions in the 10th, one will live through carts, quadrupeds, birds, wild animals and by gathering grains. Similarly Gemini denotes trading through water, precious stones, vessels, conch, writing, accountancy etc. Cancer in this context means weapons, golden ornaments, arrows and hunting. Leo on the 10th or many of Leo divisions related to the 10th denote livelihood through precious stones, gold, stones (like construction material) agriculture, cows and the like and grains. Wealth comes through vehicles, gems, gold, scents, music, arts and writing if Virgo features as above. Libra in similar condition indicates livelihood through teaching, dealing in gold, many ways and means, friends, cows, buffaloes, many saleable articles, things emanating from water, grains, fruits, agriculture and arts. Similarly Scorpio denotes livelihood through female association, agriculture, thieving, serving the king, sinful acts, rendering physical treatments (i.e. medical profession), blacksmithy and grains. Minister-ship under a king, protection of forts, cattle, horses, firewood, indicating omens, machinery, mathematics, medical treatment etc., are denoted by Sagittarius in a similar manner. Capricorn in similar condition denotes livelihood through cots, gardening, chemicals etc., and abundant income through waterborn items. Aquarius indicates weapons, burning, separation (or creating inimical relationship between two, i.e. प्रभेद), thieving, carrying headloads and through physical stamina. Pisces in similar manner denotes living through weapons, waterborn items, sale of horses etc.

Notes: Note whichever is stronger among the Moon and the ascendant. See which sign holds many of the divisions of the 10th house from the ascendant or from the Moon as the case may be. If Aries holds many of the 10th house divisions, the native will eke out his living through agriculture, juice trading, liquor sales, poison etc. Similarly the other divisions may be understood. The 10th lord as relevant falling in many such divisions will also produce identical results. For more information, please refer to Brihat Jataka, Phala Deepika, Horasara, Hora Ratna etc.

81. PLANETS IN THE 10th AND THEIR EFFECTS: The Sun in the 10th indicates income through father, the Moon mother, Mars enemies, Mercury friends, Jupiter brothers, Venus females and Saturn servants.

Notes: In this sloka, hints are given relating to the native's relatives from whom gains will follow. For example, if the Sun is in the 10th, the native will gain through father. Similarly by placements of other planets.

If the planets abovementioned are strong and favourable, gains will follow. Conversely if the planet in question is weak, in fall, in enemy's camp etc., being in the 10th, the native will lose through such relatives. So to say, Mars in Cancer or being devoid of strength, eclipsed etc., if in the 10th, the native will lose through his brothers. These clues not only relate to the relatives but also to the other Karakatwas of the planets. For example, Mars as above, weak in Cancer can cause loss of agriculture, lands, houses etc., for a Libra native. These effects should be wisely applied according to circumstances.

बलसंयुतर्षहेन्द्ररत्नेकधा - ऽऽदिष्टमाचार्यैः ॥८२॥

82. There will be gains in many ways if the ascendant, the 2nd and the 11th are respectively occupied by strong (favourable) planets, so say the preceptors.

Notes: It is not enough if the 10th house and its lord are well-disposed for gains in livelihood. The 2nd being the house of money and the 11th the house denoting net gains will have to be strong apart from their Karakas and lords. The 12th house and its lord should be comparatively weak so that losses do not predominate gains.

1-7. EFFECTS OF SEVERAL PLANETS ASPECTING THE ASCENDANT: If the Sun aspects the ascendant, the native will be valorous, will be irascible with females, be cruel, will gain wealth from paternal side and will serve the king. If the Moon aspects the ascendant, he will be under the control of women, fortunate, be very courteous, be very wealthy, softly disposed and will gain by dealing in water-born articles. If Mars lends his aspect to the ascendant, one will be fond of valorous acts and battles, irascible, will have severed relationship, be very righteous and will have a long penis. Should Mercury aspect the ascendant, the native will have rich knowledge of arts and will thereby gain, and be quite intelligent, famous and honourable. If Jupiter be the aspecting planet with reference to the ascendant one will be interested in religious observations, be honoured by the king, be famous and will be endowed with (the company of) virtuous people, elders and guests. Venus aspecting the ascendant denotes that he will be addicted to many prostitutes, be youthful, will have happiness of wealth and pleasure and will be beautiful in appearance. If Saturn aspects the ascendant one will be troubled by heavy loads, travels and diseases, be irascible, will be attached to aged women (i.e. will be fond of seeking union with aged females), be devoid of happiness, be dirty and foolish.

8. GENERAL ASPECT TO ASCENDANT: If a planet (whether natural benefic or natural malefic) aspects the ascendant identical with its own sign, that confers happiness and wealth, apart from close relationship with the king. If the ascendant is not owned by the aspecting planet, a benefic then confers auspicious effects and a malefic evil results.

Notes: Even though a planet may be a natural malefic, like Saturn, its aspect on the ascendant owned by it will produce auspicious results like wealth, freedom from sickness, good fortunes etc. (Similarly yogakaraka's aspect on the ascendant is auspicious for fortunes, though he may be a natural malefic). A malefic not being the owner of the house will bring evil effects like sickness, misfortunes etc. while a benefic though not an owner by aspecting the ascendant will be favourable.

एकेनापि न दृष्टं समस्तगुणवर्जितं लग्नम् ।
स्वगृहस्वभावसहितं जनयति खलु केवलं नित्यम् ॥६॥

9. UNASPECTED ASCENDANT: Should the ascending sign be not in aspect to even one planet, the native will be devoid of (other) qualities and will acquire exclusive qualities of the sign concerned.

Notes: The effects due to a planet aspecting the ascendant will correspond to the innate nature of the planet, its lordship etc. If the sign assurgent is unaspected, then the results due to the nature of the sign will come to pass fully. The nature of planets and the nature of signs ascending can be found explained in this work elsewhere and in other standard works.

सर्वैर्गगनभ्रमणैर्दृष्टे लग्ने श्वेन्महीपालः ।
बलिभिः समस्तसौख्यो विगतभयो दीर्घजीवी च ॥११॥

10-11. SPECIAL EFFECTS: If two or more planets aspect the ascendant, the native acquires happiness and wealth. Even one benefic aspecting the ascendant is auspicious while a malefic so aspecting is inauspicious. If the ascendant is aspected by all the planets one rules over the earth. Should all the planets be endowed with strength, he will enjoy all kinds of happiness, be free from fear and be long-lived.

12. PLANETS CONJUNCT IN THE ASCENDANT: If three planets are together in the ascendant, the native will be devoid of miseries and will lord over the earth. But if these are (exclusively) malefics, he will be distressed due to fear, grief etc., will eat much and will be disregarded by one and all.

13. ADHI YOGA FROM ASCENDANT: If benefics exclusively occupy the 6th, 7th and 8th, without the company of malefics, Lagnadhi Yoga is caused. This yoga confers ministership, leadership over army (or justiceship) and kingship, lordship over many women, long life, freedom from diseases and miseries, possession of virtues and happiness. So say Yavana kings.

Notes: Chandradhi Yoga may be found in slokas 20 and 21 of the next chapter. For details also please see Brihat Parasara Hora Sastra, Horasara, Phala Deepika etc.

14. A planet in own sign or in exaltation/friendly sign, according to sages, confers its effects fully. If it is in fall or is inimically placed, it is incapable of giving the results (due to the abovementioned yoga).

Notes: The effects mentioned in this sloka may be more effectively applied to Adhi Yoga apart from general context. For example, if in Adhi Yoga, the planets concerned enjoy dignity like exaltation, friendly sign, friendly aspect etc. the results ascribed will come to pass wholly. The effects will not mature pronouncedly if the planets occupy severally their inimical signs, debilitation, or be combust. Conversely, in this case, instead of giving good effects due to Adhi Yoga the planets may give still adverse results.

15-20. PRINCIPLES RELATED TO THE 2nd HOUSE: If

Mars, Saturn and the Sun occupy the 2nd house, the native's wealth is destroyed. If week Moon aspects the 2nd house, such effects are more pronounced. Mars and the Sun in the 2nd cause afflictions to skin apart from causing poverty. If Saturn, posited alone in this house, is aspected by Mercury, he will be greatly rich. Even if the Sun is posited in the 2nd house in aspect to Saturn, without aspect of others, pennilessness will come to pass. Benefics in this house cause advent of money in many ways. But if Jupiter posited in the 2nd house remains under Mercury's aspect, or Mercury so posited in the 2nd house in aspect to the Moon, the entire wealth earned by the native will be deprived. Weak Moon in the 2nd house in Mercury's aspect denotes that even the ancestral property will be destroyed; not only this, other sources of income will also be hindered. Should the 2nd house Moon be aspected by Venus, plenty of wealth will be earned. Same is the result of aspect of another benefic (i.e. Jupiter).

Notes: The 3 malefics—Saturn, Sun and Mars—jointly placed in the 2nd will not only have adverse effects on money matters of the native but also on his family life and marriage. Loss of wealth will be more severe if the 2nd house is aspected by the Moon from the 8th and devoid of rays. The 8th house is a house of destruction and hence such effects are denoted. Saturn's lonely placement in aspect to Mercury (naturally from the 8th) will make one greatly affluent. Here again, my personal opinion is: the riches will be subjected to some risk as Mercury aspecting any planet in the 2nd particularly Jupiter or the weak Moon will cause loss of property. Similarly there is a scope of risk if Mercury aspects Saturn in the 2nd. These are general views without reference to the whole planetary array. The Moon in the 2nd if in aspect to Jupiter or to Venus will cause abundant wealth to be acquired by the native.

21-24. PRINCIPLES RELATED TO THE 3rd HOUSE:

When the 3rd house is owned by a malefic and is occupied by a malefic, the co-born are destroyed. Conversely, a benefic's sign being the 3rd and occupation of benefics therein will cause happiness thereof. Now explained below is the method to ascertain the number of co-born. The number of Navamsas past in the 3rd house denotes the number of brothers following the native. If other planets aspect the 3rd house, the said number (caused by navamsas) stands increased. Saturn placed in the 3rd in aspect to Mars causes destruction of co-born. But Venus in the 3rd and in aspect to Jupiter increases happiness thereof. Mercury placed in the 3rd house, in aspect to Mars (or in aspect to the Sun, as some texts read 'Bhaskara Drishtah' instead of 'Angaraka Drishtah'), the native's friends are destroyed. Rest (relating to the 4th house) may be understood from Bhavadhyaya (Ch. 30).

Notes: To find out the number of co-born, not only our author, but various others suggest to count the number of Navamsas past in the 3rd house. This method is generally not found reliable as it excludes other considerations. A safer bet is the Ashtaka Varga of Mars. All details relating to Ashtaka Varga cannot be explained in this brief space and the reader may consult relevant chapters in the work "THE SECRETS OF ASHTAKAVARGA".

Saturn in the 3rd aspected by Mars is not congenial for good relationship or gains through co-born. The native will however beget co-born as Mars is the indicator in this case. Venus placed in the 3rd in aspect to Jupiter not only ensures fortunate co-born but also abundant gains through them for the native.

एकतमे गुरुवर्गे शुभराशावोरसो हवेत्पुत्रः।

लग्नाच्चन्द्रादथवा बलयोगाद्बोधितेऽपि वा सौम्यैः ॥२६॥

25-26. ABOUT THE 5th HOUSE: If the 5th house contains a benefic, or is aspected by a benefic or be a benefic's Rasi, the native will surely beget children. If it is different, he will not obtain progeny. If the 5th house counted from the Moon or the ascendant, the stronger prevailing, has at least one Jupiter's division in the various Varga calculations, or has a benefic's Rasi in it and is aspected by a benefic, the native will have legitimate issue.

संख्या नवांशतुल्या सौम्यांशे तावती सदा दृष्टा।

शुभदृष्टे तद्विगुणा विलिप्ता पापांशकेऽथवा दृष्टे ॥२७॥

27. NUMBER OF CHILDREN: If the Navamsa of the 5th falls in a benefic's Rasi the number of children equals the number of Navamsas past in the 5th house. The aspect of a benefic on the 5th bhava doubles the number while malefic Rasi as 5th house navamsa and the said house receiving a malefic's aspect confers progeny with difficulty.

Notes: Here again, it is not always safe to depend on the Navamsas past in the 5th house to know the number of children. Jupiter's Ashtaka Varga and assessment of the whole horoscope is the best guide.

सौरर्क्षे सौरगणो बुधदृष्टो गुरुकुलजार्कदग्धीनः ।
क्षेत्रजपुत्रं जनयति बौधोऽपि गणो रविजदृष्टः ॥२८॥

28. AUTHORIZING OTHER KINSMAN TO RAISE PROGENY FOR THE NATIVE: If the 5th house falls in the divisions (like Rasi, Navamsa, drekkana etc.) of Saturn, and be with Mercury's aspect but without that of Jupiter/Mars/Sun, the native obtains progeny by authorising his kinsman to raise the same for him from his (the native's) wife. Similar result prevails if Mercury's Rasi be in the 5th house containing Mercury in it and is in aspect to Saturn but without the aspect of the others as cited above.

मान्दं सुतर्क्षमिन्बुनिरोक्षिते यदि शनैश्चरेण युतम् ।
वत्तकपुत्रोत्पत्तिः क्रीतश्च बुधस्य चवं स्यात् ॥२९॥

29. ADOPTED OR BOUGHT PROGENY: If the 5th house belongs to Saturn and be occupied by Saturn himself with the aspect of the Moon, one procures a child by adoption or by an act of purchase. Identical effect follows the position of Mercury in the 5th house owned by him receiving the Moon's aspect.

सप्तमभागे कौजे सौरयुते पञ्चमे सदा भवने ।
कृत्रिमपुत्रं विन्द्याच्छेषग्रहदर्शनान्मुवते ॥३०॥

30. ADOPTION SANS CONSENT: Should the 5th house contain Saturn unaspected by others and fall in a Saphthamsa owned by Mars, the native will adopt a grown up child without the consent of its natural parents.

Notes: To have a 'Kritrima Putra' means adopting a grown up child in the absence of its parents' consent. The 5th house should be occupied by Saturn and be in aspect to none. Additionally the 5th house should fall in a Saphthamsa of Mars. For calculations of Saphthamsa, please see p. 22 of Vol. 1 of this edition.

31-32. BASE CHILDREN: If the 5th house contains the Sun and falls in the division of Saturn receiving the aspect of Mars, the children so obtained will be abject. Should the Moon be in the 5th house and receive exclusively Saturn's aspect while the 5th house falls in a Navamsa of Mars, even then the progeny will be foolish and base.

Notes: One will obtain wretched progeny if the Sun is in the 5th in aspect of Mars. Further the Sun should be in many divisions of Capricorn/Aquarius. There will be birth of foolish and mean children if the Moon is in the 5th aspected by Saturn and falling in Scorpio/Aries in Navamsa.

33. If the 5th house is occupied by Mars falling in many of Saturn's divisions and be in aspect to the Sun, one will obtain अपविद्ध so says sage Karuna.

Notes: If Mars be in the 5th in aspect to Saturn one will obtain a son of "apaviddha" type. "Apaviddha" means a son that is adopted by a stranger after its being cast off by its original parents. For this, Mars simultaneously should occupy many Saturn's divisions.

Hindu Sastras have recognised 12 kinds of sons many important of which have been dealt with in this chapter astrologically.

शनिवर्गस्थे चन्द्रे शनियुक्ते पञ्चमे सदा भवते ।

34. ISSUE BY A REMARRIED WIDOW: Should the 5th house fall in Saturn's Vargas and contain both the Moon and Saturn therein, in aspect to both the Sun and Venus, progeny will be begotten by a widow given to the native in marriage.

चन्द्रो यदाकंसकतः कलत्रसस्यस्थेन पञ्चमे गेहे ।

रविदृष्टेऽप्यय सहिते कानीनः संभवति पुत्रः ॥३५॥

35. PROGENY BY A VIRGIN: Should the Moon be in the 7th along with the Sun or the Moon being in the 5th in aspect to or in the company of the Sun, one will obtain issue through an unmarried girl.

वर्गे रविचन्द्रमसोः सुतगेहे चन्द्रसूर्यसंयुक्ते ।

शुक्रेण दृष्टमात्रे पुत्रः कथितः सहोदरश्च ॥३६॥

36. PROGENY BY A WOMAN PREGNANT AT MARRIAGE: If the 5th house falls in the divisions of the luminaries and contains the Moon and the Sun in aspect to Venus only, one will have progeny by a woman who will already be pregnant at the time of marriage.

पापैर्बलिभिर्युक्ते पापक्षे पञ्चमे सदा राशौ ।

जातोऽपुत्रः पुरुषः सौम्यग्रहदर्शनातीते ॥३७॥

37. ISSUELESSNESS: If the 5th house falls in a malefic's sign and be occupied by strong malefics without benefic's aspect, the native will be childless.

शुक्रनवांशे तस्मिन्शुक्रेण निरीक्षिते त्वपत्यानि ।
दासीप्रभवानि वदेच्चन्द्रादपि कश्चिदाचार्यः ॥३८॥

38. PROGENY BY A FEMALE SLAVE: If the 5th house be in a navamamsa of Venus and be aspected by Venus, one will beget progeny by a female servant. Some scholars opine that even if the Moon's Navamsa and the Moon so come in the picture, the said effects will come to pass.

सितशशिदर्गे धोस्थे ताभ्यां दृष्टेऽथवाऽपि संयुक्ते ।
प्रायेण कन्यकाः स्युः समराशिगणेऽपि चान्यथा पुत्राः ॥३९॥

39. SONS AND DAUGHTERS: When the 5th house has exclusively the division of the Moon and Venus and be with aspects of Venus and the Moon alone or be occupied by these two alone or when the said house has the divisions of only even signs, the native will beget only female children. In a contrary situation (i.e. 5th house falling in divisions of odd signs only and be excluded from the occupation or aspect of Venus and the Moon but others), there will be birth of only male children.

लग्नाद्दशमे चन्द्रे सप्तमसंस्थे भृगोः पुत्रे ।
पापैः पातालस्थैर्दशच्छेत्ता भवेज्जातः ॥४०॥

40. CHILDLESSNESS: When the Moon occupies the 10th house, Venus is in the 7th and malefics are in the 4th, the native's dynasty does not descend any further.

भूमिः पञ्चमभवते जातं जातं विनाशयति पुत्रम् ।
दृष्टे गुरुणा प्रथमं सितेन न च सर्वसंदृष्टः ॥४१॥

41. LOSS OF CHILDREN: Should Mars be in the 5th,

the children of the native will pass away as they are born. However, if Jupiter or Venus lend aspect to the said position, the loss relates only to the first child. If all planets aspect (the said Mars), then there is no loss at all of children.

42. SPECIAL EFFECTS: Should the 5th house be occupied exclusively by malefics, the native will be devoid of wealth, own men and happiness. If Mars is in the 5th house, he will be distressed (or deformed). Saturn so posited denotes sickness. The occupations of Mercury, Jupiter, or Venus will confer abundant happiness and wealth.

43-44. ENEMIES: If the 6th house is aspected by Saturn and occupied by Mars, the native will have fear from enemies. Occupation or aspect of benefics will keep one free from such fear. The number of enemies (causing trouble) will correspond to the number of planets posited in the 6th house. Rest of the related matters may be understood from the previous pages, (Ch. 30).

45. ABOUT THE 7th HOUSE: If Jupiter, Moon, Venus and Mercury be in the 7th, in any manner (i.e. one of them, two, three or all of them in the 7th), or other divisions falling in the 7th house or if the 7th house be in aspect to these, one will procure a wife corresponding to the planet/s and Rasi/s in question.

46. Should the 7th house contain malefics or fall in malefic planets' divisions, the wife of the native will be destroyed (i.e. adversely affected). These results can be deduced from the ascendant and the Moon, the stronger of them having more significance. If the Moon be in the 7th (from the ascendant) along with Saturn, the native will marry a widow.

47. The number of wives will correspond to the number of heavenly bodies aspecting the 7th or the navamsas past in the 7th house. There will be a single wife, if Leo, Aries or Scorpio rise in Navamsa or if Mercury and Jupiter join together in the 7th house.

48. If the 7th house has many divisions of Venus and the Moon or is occupied by these two, there will be plurality of wives. Specially Venus in the 7th will cause such an effect.

49. Jupiter and Venus related to the 7th house will confer a bride of the same caste while the Sun, Mars, Saturn and the Moon denote a female belonging to a mean order. As per Ketumalacharya, Venus and Moon related to the 7th house will cause relationship with whores.

50-51. Mars in the 7th house will make one go devoid of wife. If he is, while so posited in aspect to only Saturn, the wife will certainly pass away. Should Mars and Venus be together in the 7th, or 5th or 9th, the native will beget a languid or deformed wife.

53. If Saturn occupies the ascendant, while Venus is in the 7th identical with Ganda Rasi and the 5th is bereft to beneficial aspect, the person acquires a barren wife.

Notes: For Ganda Rasi, refer to Vol. 1 of this edition and also Kala Prakasika, Hora Sara etc.

If the 5th house has the aspect of a benefic or of the lord of the 5th then the native will obtain progeny. If however the female concerned has effective combinations of barrenness, it will be with great difficulty and after sincere propitiations that the native will obtain progeny.

54-55. One will be devoid of a wife and an issue if malefics occupy the ascendant, 12th and 7th while decreasing Moon is in the 5th. Both the native and his wife will be immoral if the 7th house falls in the various divisions of Saturn and Mars while Venus is posited in the 7th in aspect to Mars and Saturn.

65. The effects attributed above stand increased if benefics aspect the 11th house, will decrease by malefic influence and will remain mixed with the interference of both benefics and malefics.

66. If the 11th house is aspected by (or associated with) all the planets, advent of wealth will be in several ways. The strongest of those will have the highest influence.

67. A planet in its own sign or in a friendly sign will give half of the effects attributed. These effects are full if it is in its exaltation sign, very meagre if it is combust and just one fourth if inimically placed.

Notes: The effects mentioned in this sloka not only relate to the 11th house but also be applied generally but meaningfully to besit a given context.

68. The effects relating to the 11th house as mentioned above will be experienced right from birth, according to Yavanas. But according Lokaksha (a preceptor by that name), kings and heads of zones stand to enjoy abundant gains (as against a common man).

69-70. ABOUT THE 12th HOUSE: If the Sun or weak Moon is placed in the 12th, the native's wealth will be lost to the king. Mars posited in the 12th in aspect to Mercury, will cause losses in several ways. Jupiter, the Moon (with increasing rays) and Venus in the 12th will cause growth of wealth, provided there is no aspect from Mars on them. Rest may be understood from the previous portion (Ch. 30).

71. MISCELLANEOUS MATTERS: Even a person born in regal scion will become an artisan if the ascendant in Mercury's decanate receives the aspect of the Moon from an angle.

Notes: The ascendant can fall in Mercury's decanate when one of the following areas rises: the first 10 degrees of Gemini/Virgo, the second 10 degrees of Aquarius/Taurus and the last 10 degrees of Libra/Capricorn. When the ascendant being in such a degree and is aspected by the Moon, the various Raja Yogas will not be of any use. The Moon's aspect on ascendant from an 'angle' is denoted in the sloka. The aspect from the 7th will only be full of the Moon and not from other places.

72. Should Venus be in the 12th house in Virgo identical with Saturn's Navamsa while the luminaries are in the 7th in aspect to Saturn, the native's mother though belonging to a noble race will become a slave.

Notes: Venus should be in the 12th in fall needing Libra to rise. He should further be in Capricorn/Aquarius Navamsa. That is, he should be within 6° 40' of Virgo. The Sun and the Moon should be in Aries in the 7th and aspected by Saturn. In effect, the native's mother will be a slave or a harlot as the word 'Daasi' means. So to say she will take to corrupt means of livelihood or to mean professions.

73. Should Saturn occupy the 2nd house counted from the Sun while the Moon and Mars respectively are in the 10th cusp and 7th house with reference to the ascendant, the native will always be distressed.

Notes: Saturn should be in the 2nd from the Sun while the Moon should be in the 10th cusp and Mars in the 7th house—both the positions with reference to the ascendant and not to the Sun. As "Khamadhyage" appears in the text, the latter interpretation i.e., the 10th from the Sun is not possible. 'Khamadhyage' is zenith point in the horoscope and even the 10th house from the Moon is not called 'Khamadhyage'. Zenith point, eastern point, nadir, descendant—all these four have relationship only with the rising sign. (Likewise incidentally directional strength is also computed from the ascendant and not the Moon). The effect given by the combination in question is unending distress to the native.

मध्ये पापग्रहयोश्चन्द्रे मदनस्थितेऽर्कजे जन्तुः ।

74. The native will suffer from pulmonary and spleenary disorders apart from tuberculosis if the Moon is hemmed between malefics as Saturn occupies the 7th house.

सूर्यांशे यदि चन्द्रश्चन्द्रांशे भास्करो यदि श्लेष्मी ।
सममेकराशिगतयोर्दुर्बलदेहः सदा पुरुषः ॥७५॥

75. Should there be an exchange between the Sun and the Moon in the Navamsa, the native will suffer from phlegmatic disorders. Should the Sun and the Moon be in one Rasi having identical longitudes, the native will be emaciated at all times.

Notes: When the Sun is in Cancer Navamsa while the Moon is in Leo Navamsa, one is apt to be afflicted by phlegmatic disorders. Phlegmatic disorders are: dysentery, asthma, cough etc. If the Sun and the Moon have identical longitudes, one will have a very weak and thin body. At the very moment when the New Moon ends and the first day of bright half begins, the luminaries will be identical in longitude to the minute of arc. Say the Sun in 20°15' and the Moon in 20°15' of the same sign.

76. Should the 8th, 2nd, 6th and the 12th be respectively occupied by the Sun, Moon, Mars and Saturn, the native will lose his eyes due to the affliction caused by the strongest of the four.

धर्मायसहजसुतगाः पापाः सौम्येन बोक्षिता जन्तोः ।

77. If malefics occupy the 6th, 11th, 3rd and 5th, the native will suffer from ear defects, provided there are no aspects from benefic planets. Malefics in the 7th unaspected by benefics will produce dental afflictions.

उदये दिनकरपुत्रे त्रिकोणभवने कुजे च सोन्मादः ।

क्षीणे शशनि स-सौरे याते वा व्ययगहे जातः ॥७८॥

78. There will be diseases of the mind if Saturn occupies the ascendant while Mars is in the 5th or the 9th. Alternatively, Saturn while being in the ascendant should be conjunct decreasing Moon to cause the said effects.

Notes: Mental imbalances/disorders will come to pass if the ascendant is occupied by Saturn while Mars is in a trine thereof. Similarly, any two among the trio Mars, Jupiter and Saturn opposing each other from the ascendant and the 7th are known to cause mental afflictions.

Thus ends the 34th Chapter entitled "DIFFERENT HOUSES AND WORLDLY AFFAIRS" in Kalyana Varma's SARAVALI.

अथ राजयोगाध्यायः ॥३५॥

Chapter 35

Raja Yogas

राजोपयोगिशस्त्रं यस्मात्प्रभवो विशेषतस्तेषाम् ।
सञ्चिन्त्या नृपयोगास्तानेवाहं प्रवक्ष्यामि ॥१॥

1. This science is mainly useful to rulers. Hence I explain in this chapter the configurations that make one a king.

Notes: As in those days kings were mainly the major beneficiaries of astrology, the author hints at the better use of this science for the kings. Primarily the yogas explained in this chapter ensured kingship in olden days. In modern context, these yogas in their order will confer a high degree of position, richness, status and the like. And the word "Rajayoga" throughout the gamut of astrology be understood in this sense only and not in a literal sense of making one a king.

स्वोच्चत्रिकोणगृहगर्बलसंयुतेश्च
अष्टमं नृपो भवति भूपतिवंशजातः ।
पञ्चादिभिर्जनपदप्रभवोऽपि सिद्धो
हीनैः क्षितीश्वरसमो न तु भूमिपालः ॥२॥

2. KINGLY/WEALTHY YOGAS: One born in a royal scion will become a ruler if 3 or 4 planets, with strength, occupy their exaltation/Mulatrikona signs at birth. If 5 or 6 planets be so placed, even a person of mean birth will attain rulership. If one or two heavenly bodies be so, the native will only be rich, being equal to a king, but not really be a king.

Notes: If at birth 3 or 4 planets being strong be in their Mulatrikona signs/exaltation signs, one will become rich. If 5 or 6 heavenly bodies be so, he will enjoy vast estates, properties, affluence and paraphernalia. With one or two planets being so the person will acquire normal riches.

कथयति यवनेन्द्रो भूपतिं विक्रमोत्थम् ।

न तु भवति नरेन्द्रो जीवशर्मोक्तपक्षे

भवति नृपतियोगैः सत्कृतो राष्ट्रपालः ॥३॥

3. According to Yavanas, if only malefics are exalted, the native will become a king indulging, in cruel deeds. But as per Jeevasarma, such planets will make one valorous but not a king. One with such a Yoga (according to Kalyanavarma) will be honoured and will become the head of a region.

Notes: In ancient kings days were identified for their liberality, cruelty, mercifulness, scholarship, truthfulness, penance etc. For example we have Sibhi emperor known for his liberality, Krishna Devaraya for his scholarship, Kamsa for his cruelty, Duryodhana for his lust for kingdom, Yudhishtira for his uprighteousness, Harischandra for his unconquerable truthfulness, and sage-turned-king Viswamitra for his penance. Such men—good or bad—were born only once as the planetary array—good or bad—forms never again identically. Coming to our subject back, if exclusively malefics occupy their several exaltation signs—while benefics are not so—will produce a rich person who will however lack in mercy. Jeevasarma seems to think that such a person will necessarily be endowed with not only the wealth of lucre but also the wealth of valour—an essential attribute to a successful king making an epoch. It follows that malefics in exaltation will confer wealth, unkindness and valour to a modern native.

येष्विह भवन्त्यवश्यं भूपतियोगेषु नीचकुलपुरुषाः ।
तानग्रतः प्रवक्ष्ये यथामतं शास्त्रकाराणाम् ॥४॥

4. Explained below are the yogas that will make even a person of base birth a king, according to Sastras.

स्वोच्चस्थं रविभौमसौरगुरुभिः सर्वैस्त्रिभिश्चैकै-
र्लग्ने षोडशवृद्धतापसगणैः सन्दर्शिताः पार्थिवाः ।
द्वाभ्यां चैकतमोदये स्वभवने चन्द्रे पुनः षोडशः
सर्वो नीचकुलोद्भवोऽपि वसुधां पात्येव वाटीमिव ॥५॥

5. If all the four of the Sun, Mars, Saturn and Jupiter or three of them, be exalted and one of them be simultaneously in the ascendant, a total of 16 kinds of Rajayogas are formed. One born even in a mean caste with such a Yoga will become a ruler. Again a different group of 16 Raja Yogas are formed if one or two out of the above four planets are in exaltation, while one of the exalted planets occupies the ascendant as the Moon remains in Cancer. According to great sages, these 32 yogas will make one a ruler who reigns the whole earth as though it is just a garden.

Notes: The exaltation simultaneously of the Sun, Jupiter, Saturn and Mars will be mutually angular. While all the four are exalted, persons born in ascendant Aries, Cancer, Libra and Capricorn will get each a Raja Yoga. This will make up for four different Raja Yogas. In the second instance, 3 planets only featuring in the picture with exaltation and one of them in the ascendant, while the 4th is not exalted, 12 kinds of Raja Yogas can be obtained. For example, let not Saturn be exalted while Aries rises with the Sun, as Mars and Jupiter are exalted in the 4th and 10th houses. Then, Jupiter exalted in the ascendant as Mars is in the 7th in exaltation and the Sun in exaltation in 10th, will mark a combination. Again Capricorn ascending with Mars as the Sun is in the 4th in peak while Jupiter is in the 7th in Cancer will account for one Yoga. With Saturn's exclusion thus we got 3 combinations each, i.e. $3 \times 3 = 9$.

Thus a total of 12 Raja Yogas can be obtained with 3 planets exalted, one of them being in ascendant. We have thus in all 16 different kinds of horoscopes. Again placing the Moon constantly in Cancer, another set of 16 yogas can be obtained with the second type of yoga. One born with any one of the above 32 yogas will rule the earth with the ease of controlling a domestic garden. To wit, he will occupy one of the most supreme positions and be countable among the most affluent of the world, controlling vast business with ease.

6. If at the time of birth either the ascendant or the Moon be in Vargottama Navamsa and be in aspect to 5 or 6 planets other than the Moon (when the ascendant being considered) one will become a king inspite of his having taken birth in a mean family.

Notes: This is a very popular yoga and is found in many standard texts. The ascendant should be in Vargothamamsa and aspected by 5 or 6 planets other than the Moon. In the case of the Moon she should be in Vargothamamsa and in aspect to the remaining 5 or 6 heavenly bodies. So to say she will be Full in the combination. This will confer vast riches on the subject coupled with significant position.

हं तरिषु परिवारः सर्वतः फूत्करोति ॥७॥

7. If at birth Aries be the ascendant containing the Moon, Mars and Jupiter one will become an emperor of the whole earth encircled by the seas, and the Udayagiri (i.e. the mountain from which the Sun etc., are supposed to rise) and will roaringly destroy his enemies.

Notes: Aries should ascend and Moon, Mars and Jupiter together be posited in it. Then the native will become a supreme person enjoying an empirical status.

8. Should Jupiter be in Cancer while Mars occupied Aries identical with the ascendant, or should both Jupiter and Mars be in Aries ascendant, the native will become a ruler whose enemies dare not approach him while his minister will be favourable to him.

Notes: Some texts read "Kuje Vilagne" meaning Mars occupying the ascendant without referring to Capricorn. This version is in place of "Kuje Mrugange" in our text which specifically hints at Capricorn ascending, with Mars in it.

20-21. CHANDRADHI YOGA: Adhi Yoga is caused by all benefics being in the 6th, 7th and 8th from the Moon. These houses should exclude the Sun and not receive any aspect from malefics. One born with this yoga will become a king possessing a kingdom boundaried by seas whose band of intoxicated elephants will eke out ichor which the black forest bees will drink (mistaking the ichor to the flower's honey). Such a native will be immune to senescence and sickness, be bereft of fear from enemies, be valorous, fortunate and happy.

Notes: The author has given more significance to Chandradhi Yoga as is done by many other authors, compared to Lagnadhi Yoga. The conditions laid down are clear and easily understandable. Also see sloka 13, ch. 34 supra. Hora Sara, Brhat Parasara Hora Sastra etc., for additional Information.

23. One will become a king with the following planetary configuration prevailing at the time of birth: The Sun and Jupiter in Leo, Saturn in Aquarius, the Moon in Taurus, Mars in Scorpio and the ascendant in Aries.

24. A famous king will be produced if Aries be the ascendant at birth along with the Sun therein, Jupiter be in Sagittarius and the Moon with Saturn is in Libra.

25. If the three planets, viz. Jupiter, Mercury and Venus occupy such Rasis which are angular to their respective own Rasis and bc in the process conjunct Saturn, Mars and the Sun, while the Moon is in Taurus, the native will become a king purifying the (four) directions with his unstained fame. The native born in Aries ascendant with the Sun in deep exaltation will rule the earth boundaried by the seas.

Notes: In the first yoga explained in the sloka Jupiter, Mercury and Venus should be in angles from the respective signs owned by them. For example, Jupiter should be in any of his own or in Mercury's signs and Mercury in any of his own or in Jupiter's signs whereby they will be angular from their own signs, and be in mutual kendras. Venus should be in an angle counted from Libra/Taurus. While these three planets are so placed, each of them should be conjunct a certain planet thus: Jupiter with Saturn, Mercury with Mars and Venus with the Sun. Additionally the Moon should be in Taurus. This is a very specific and rarer than the rarest array of planets which may or may not form many generations after us. Then one may ask: What use is there by teaching such yogas? There are such many combinations explained in this chapter and also by many other standard texts. In my humble experience, in given cases, Rajayogas described by sign positions and by conjunctions (and not aspects) are applicable to not only Rasi chart but also to Navamsa chart. The importance of Navamsa chart is akin to that of Rasi chart in many contexts and these yogas be wisely evaluated. This idea may provide us a working basis and the extent of applicability be known only by further researches. Such yogas can be widely formed in the Navamsa chart. For example see the sign positions of the Yoga described above:

		Moon
Mer Mars	Venus Sun		Jupiter Saturn

The above placements can be easily seen in Navamsa chart the native of which should enjoy a fair degree of status and wealth.

The second yoga dealt with in the sloka is: Aries should rise and the Sun should be in deep exaltation.

उदकचरनवांशके सुखस्थः कमलरिपुः सकलाभिराममूर्तिः ।

उदयति विहगे शुभे स्वलग्ने भवति नृपो यदि केन्द्रगा न पावाः ॥२६॥

26. Should the Moon be in the 4th house simultaneously falling in a watery Navamsa, and be with all her splendour while a benefic is in its own house identical with the ascendant and malefics are away from angles, a king is born.

Notes: A sign of Venus or Mercury or Jupiter should rise with its lord in it. The Moon should be in the 4th from the rising sign with all her rays and be in a watery Navamsa, viz., Scorpio, Cancer or Pisces Navamsa. And the 1st, 4th, 7th and 10th houses be free from malefic occupation. Then the yoga is formed to give wealth and status to the native.

27. The Moon in the state of her Fullness if be in aspect to Venus, Jupiter and Mercury while the lord of the ascendant is endowed with strength, one so born will become a king. The ascendant in question should be in a dual sign and be in Vargottamamsa.

Notes: The Full Moon should be aspected by the three benefics, viz. Mercury, Jupiter and Venus, while the ascendant should be one of the signs of Mercury/Jupiter with the lord concerned being strong. Further the rising sign should be in identical Navamsa. This yoga will also produce a kingly person.

30. The Full Moon in Cancer ascendant not falling in inimical subdivisions, will make one a king endowed with gems, elephants and horses, provided he has a benefic's aspect while all the other planets occupy Seershodaya signs.

31. If the dispositor of the Moon is in the 3rd, 6th, 10th or 11th counted from the Moon herself, one born so will become a ruler comparable to Lord Indra provided malefics are bereft of strength and benefics be in angles identical with Rasis owned by benefics. Alternatively, these benefics instead of falling in such Rasis may be in such navamsas ruled by benefics.

32. The native will become such a valorous king whose army's very roaring will quake the earth if in his radix all planets, being strong, occupy their respective deep exaltation points in aspect to friendly planets and without inimical aspects.

33. Should the Moon be in her deep exaltation degree in aspect to Venus, while all malefics are relegated to 3rd, 6th, 9th and 12th houses, one will become a king.

34. If the ascendant lord and the Moon sign lord are together in an angle at birth, in aspect to auspicious and friendly planets, unaspected by malefics and not being defeated by enemies, the native will become a plentiful king. Alternatively the Moon should be in Lagna and the lagna Lord in the 9th thereof. The black forest bees consuming the ichor of his army elephants will sing the glory of such native in all directions.

35. Find out if the ascendant is the exaltation sign of any planet. If the planet in question is aspected by a benefic from an angle a king is born. However, the first mentioned planet should be in own navamsa or friendly navamsa or exaltation navamsa.

Notes: Barring Sagittarius, Leo, Aquarius, Gemini and Scorpio, the other seven signs are signs of exaltation for the seven planets from the Sun to Saturn. One of these seven signs should ascend as per the sloka. Let us assume that Cancer is the ascendant in a given case. The planet that will be exalted in Cancer is Jupiter. Hence Jupiter should be aspected by a benefic, namely Venus/Mercury/Full Moon from an angle. Secondly Jupiter should be in Sagittarius/Pisces/Cancer Navamsa or in a friendly Navamsa. Then the native will be able to enjoy royal status. This is a very simple yoga and can be observed many times by an enthusiastic student.

36. Saturn with strength, the Sun, Mars, the Moon, Venus and Mercury respectively positioned in the second half of Capricorn, Leo, Aries, Cancer, Libra and Virgo will make one an emperor who will be endowed with spotless fame protecting his population.

39. Should Jupiter and the Moon be in Taurus identical with the ascendant while its lord (Venus), is in his Moolatrikona (or in a trine from the ascendant) unaspected by the Sun, Saturn and Mars, the native will be a famous ruler controlling all his foes.

40. If at birth all planets, avoiding inimical and debilitational divisions, occupy their own or friendly divisions in aspect to friendly planets while the Moon is Full with her rays, the native will become a ruler.

41. If the Full Moon is exalted and is in Vargothamamsa, in aspect to a benefic planet, the person so born will become a famous ruler in the dasa of the benefic planet in question. There should not be a strong malefic in an angle in the said yoga.

42. If the lord of the ascendant and the Moon sign lord with strength are together in an angle while the Moon occupies a watery sign identical with a trine, the native will become a king.

Notes: In this Raja Yoga, the Moon should be in a watery sign identical with the 5th or the 9th. The Lagna lord and the Moon's dispositor should join in an angle from the ascendant.

43. Should all the planets at birth be in their own Rasas and in friendly navamsas or vice versa, the subject will become an emperor.

Notes: All the planets can be in their own Rasas and friendly Navamsas. Or they should be in own Navamsas and friendly Rasas. Then a ruler is born.

परमोच्चगताः सर्वे स्वोच्चांशे यदि सोमजः ।

44. Should all the other planets be in their deep exaltation points while Mercury is in his exaltation Amsa, the native will rule over the three worlds, receiving honours from Gods and Demons.

Notes: All planets cannot be in exaltation at the same time. Hence the author puts Mercury in Virgo Navamsa. Barring Mercury, the other 6 planets can occupy simultaneously their deep exaltation degrees in the Rasi chart.

Such a native will occupy one of the highest positions in the world and be highly honourable.

45. One will become an emperor devoid of any foes if the 4th, 1st, 7th and the 10th are respectively occupied by Vasishtha (one of the Saptharshis), Jupiter, Venus and Agasthya (again one of the Saptharshis).

46. If the Full Moon is in her exaltation Rasi, or in, own Rasi or in own Navamsa while Jupiter posited in an angle is in aspect to Venus, the native becomes a great emperor provided the Sun is in the ascendant with strength identical with his own house.

48. The Sun approaching his exaltation sign (i.e. being in the end of Pisces) while Jupiter and the Moon are in Cancer, the native will become a king endowed with various precious stones. In this yoga, the Sun should be simultaneously in a trine from the ascendant.

49. Should six planets be in simultaneous exaltation, endowed with radiance and occupy their own Navamsas, with strength, the native will become an emperor comparable to Yayati, Sagara and Vena.

Notes: If six out of the seven planets occupy their exaltation Rasis and be in their own Navamsas, be strong and bright with rays, one will be an emperor akin to Yayati. When 6 planets get such enormous strength, out of which Venus and the Moon will also be so (Mercury being excluded), it seems the native will not only be very rich but also be insatiably libidinous. That is why Kalyana Varma compares the native with Yayati. (Yayati was a king belonging to lunar race who married Devayani, daughter of Sukra the preceptor of demons and also Sarmishta, daughter of a demon. The king was said to have been so blinded by sexual lust that he enjoyed carnal pleasures for 1000 years and could not still feel satisfied. This is, however, a mythological aspect and the exaltation of six planets as discussed in our sloka seems to make one lewd like Yayati apart from conferring riches so that Kalyana Varma compares the native with Yayati).

50. Should all the benefics with radiant rays occupy the ascendant, being uncombust and unaccompanied by malefics, the native will become a ruler who will take to penance in forests and hills. The benefics in question should occupy the Rasi and Navamsas of benefic/s.

Notes: Benefics should be in a Lagna Rasi owned by another benefic and be in such benefic navamsas only. The benefic Rasis are that of Venus, Jupiter, Mercury and the Full Moon and hence this yoga does not apply to Leo, Capricorn, Aquarius, Aries and Scorpio. Cancer will also stand excluded if the Moon remains a malefic in a given case. There should not be combustion to the occupant in question or company by a malefic. The effect makes the native very spiritual in disposition apart from affluent..

शुभपणकरगाः शुभप्रदा उभयगृहे यदि पापसञ्चयाः ।

स्वभुजहृतरिपुर्महीपतिः सुरगुरुतुल्यमतिः प्रकीर्तितः ॥५१॥

51. If all benefic planets be in benefics' Rasis identical with Panaphara (पणकर) houses (i.e. 2nd, 5th, 8th and 11th) while malefics occupy dual signs, the native so born will become a king, destroying all his enemies, and be equal to Brihaspati (Jupiter) in terms of intelligence.

Notes: The benefics should be in Panaphara houses from the ascendant while malefics should be in dual signs (i.e. Gemini and its angles). All Panapharas cannot simultaneously participate as benefics' Rasis and all the four benefics cannot be distributed to four Panapharas keeping in view the limitations possible between Mercury and Venus. It is enough if the Rasis occupied by benefics are Panapharas. It follows that even one Panaphara occupied will serve the purpose. Only for Taurus and Scorpio ascendant, all of the 2nd, 5th, 8th and 11th are owned by benefics and not for other ascendants. And for these two ascendants, viz., Taurus and Scorpio, the Panapharas themselves are dual signs. So a perfect yoga on the lines of the sloka in question cannot form for Taurus and Scorpio as both malefics and benefics fall in same Rasi. Unless all the three benefics occupy one Panaphara identical with a sign of Venus while other malefics go to dual signs, a typically perfect yoga cannot prevail on the lines of the sloka. The reader now himself can formulate an array as described. Such a native with the yoga will be successful over enemies and in litigations, be very intelligent and opulent. (Incidentally, the proper English term for Panaphara is succedent and for Apoklima cadent while contrary equations appear erroneously on P. 33, Vol. 1 for which error an apology is due to the readers.)

52. If the lord of the ascendant is in the ascendant itself or is in a friendly sign in aspect to a friendly planet, the native will become a ruler, destroying his enemies, provided there is a benefic in the ascendant.

Notes: The ascendant lord in the ascendant in aspect to a friendly planet or the ascendant lord being in a friendly sign in friendly aspect while the ascendant has a benefic in it; a Raja Yoga then is formed. A different interpretation that benefic should be in the ascendant irrespective of its lord's placement is also possible.

53. If the Full Moon is aspected by Jupiter and be unaspected by others while there is no planet in debilitation, the native will become a ruler. The said Moon should occupy Aries Navamsa. This Raja Yoga is conceived by Yavanas.

Notes: The Moon should be Full and in exclusive aspect to Jupiter. She should also be simultaneously in Aries Navamsa while no planet occupies its sign of debilitation. The Raja Yoga so formed will make one a ruler.

54. If the Full Moon occupies an Upachaya house, i.e. 3rd, 6th, 10th or 11th in exclusive aspect to Jupiter while the lord of the Moon sign occupies the 10th or 7th, the native will become a ruler.

Notes: From the ascendant the Moon should be in an Upachaya while her dispositor be in the 7th or the 10th from the ascendant. Only Jupiter should aspect the Moon to produce the Raja Yoga given.

55. If the Full Moon be exalted and aspected by all the planets the native will become a famous ruler endowed with a vast army consisting of elephants, horses and armed men and will rule over the entire earth akin to Adisesha (the Divine Snake) painfully bearing the whole earth on its hood.

Notes: This yoga will produce a royal person with illimitable endurance as the author compares him to Adisesha who according to our mythology holds the entire earth on its hood. One will note that the author draws a simile in almost many of these yogas to hint a hidden attribute in the Raja Yoga simultaneously.

56. Should the Moon, being fully splendorous, occupy Leo Navamsa while all other benefics, devoid of malefic connexions are angular from the ascending sign, the native will become a ruler endowed with various elephants.

57. Should the Moon be with Jupiter in the 5th house while Mars, Mercury and the Moon be not in fall in Rasi and be in their own Navamsas, one will become a king with everlasting fame. In this Yoga, Mars and Mercury should be in the 12th and or the 3rd without combustion.

Notes: One will be famous and rich if none of Mars, Mercury and the Moon is in fall, each obtaining his own Navamsa. Further the Moon should be in the 5th along with Jupiter while Mars and Mercury are relegated to the 12th/3rd singly or jointly and uncombust.

58. If three planets be in such signs which are not inimical or debilitational, be with full strength, be aspected by benefics and be endowed with splendorous rays, the native will become a ruler.

59. If the Moon, who is in Vargothama Navamsa or in Cancer in Navamsa, is aspected by a strong planet while the ascending sign is free from malefic occupation, the native will become an emperor endowed with physical splendour.

60. If the Moon is in a watery sign/Navamsa while a benefic is in the ascendant and in his own Amsa, the native will become a ruler endowed with many elephants and the like. In this yoga, malefics should, however, not be in angles.

61. If the Full Moon occupies Vargothama position, the native will become a ruler of the earth whose horses' kicks will spread dust making even the brilliant Sun (in the sky) look like an early morning's Moon.

62. If at birth all planets are endowed with roles of Yoga karaka, the native will become an emperor. If one planet be so, he will rule a province.

Notes: The word 'Yoga Karaka' in this case should not be misunderstood with the usual designation of a planet becoming beneficial for an ascendant. For details, see ch. 6 in vol. 1 and also Brihat Parasara Hora Sastra.

63. Even if one planet occupies its own Panchamsa, the subject will become a ruler. If all are endowed with strength he becomes an emperor.

Notes: Panchamsa division is a little bit different from Trimsamsa. In odd signs the Panchamsa (i.e. 6 degrees in length) rulerships are in order: Mars, Saturn, Jupiter, Mercury and Venus. The reverse holds good in the case of even signs.

66. Should the Moon be in her own Rasi and in her own decanate, one will become a ruler. If simultaneously a benefic is endowed with strength, the native will become a great king.

67. Should the Sun be in his own Navamsa while the Moon is in Cancer Rasi, the native will become a king, endowed with elephants.

69. The native will doubtless become a king if Venus rises in a Rasi of Jupiter in aspect to Jupiter himself while Mercury is in exaltation.

Notes: As Venus should ascend in a Rasi of Jupiter while Mercury is in exaltation, this yoga applies only to Sagittarius ascendant. To wit, Sagittarius should rise holding Venus in aspect to Jupiter as Mercury is in the 10th.

71. One will become a ruler if Mars, Mercury and Venus are in the ascendant while both the Moon and Jupiter are in the 7th in aspect to Saturn.

72. If strong Jupiter be in aspect to Mars while the Sun is in the 10th in Aries, even a base person will become a ruler. However, it is necessary that the said Jupiter be in Aries Navamsa or in Scorpio Navamsa.

Notes: This Yoga applies only to Cancer ascendant which can have the Sun in the 10th in exaltation. Jupiter should be aspected by Mars remaining in good houses with Jupiter falling in a Navamsa of Mars. The 3 planets referred to in this yoga are auspicious for Cancer ascendant being bossom friends of the ascendant lord.

73. If the Moon, the Sun and Venus are in the 3rd house while Mars and Jupiter are respectively placed in the 7th and 9th houses, even a person of mean strata will become a king. The ascendant in this case should be in Var-gothamamsa.

74. One, two, three or all of Mercury, Jupiter, Venus and the Moon occupying the 9th house with strength and in aspect to a friendly planet/s, the native will be a king akin to God.

Notes: One of the 4 planets mentioned in the sloka, any one or more can be in the 9th endowed with shadbala strength in aspect to a friendly planet or planets, the subject will acquire satwic qualities attributed to a divine incarnation. See the horoscope of Maharshi Ramana:

Saturn	Mars		Ketu Moon
Jupiter	Rasi
Sun Rahu	Mercury Venus	Lagna

The ascendant is in Libra while the Moon (along with Ketu, a spiritual planet) is in the 9th house, the house of spiritual career. The Moon is in Vargothama Navamsa in aspect to Jupiter and the Sun, both her friends. Bhagwan Ramana was one of the greatest sages adoring the spiritual history of India, well explained in "A Search in Secret India" by Dr. Paul Brunton, a British seeker. The conditions required by our current sloka are fulfilled fully. The sage's not becoming a material king but a spiritual king also stands explained by the 9th house filled with spiritual influence of the various heavenly bodies related thereto.

75. If the 9th house is occupied by an exalted planet or the said 9th house is in aspect to the planet that will be in exaltation therein (in the 9th) while two others are independently in their signs of exaltation, the native will become a king and be a pater familias.

Notes: Find out the planet that will be exalted in the 9th, if the 9th has not that planet therein. In the case of no exaltation taking place in the 9th, if the planet referred to above aspects the 9th, one of the conditions of the sloka will remain fulfilled. Further two other planets must be in exaltation elsewhere. Then the native will become a successful householder endowed with wealth. This yoga does not fully apply to Aries, Libra, Sagittarius, Gemini and Pisces ascendants.

81. If the 7th house contains a benefic planet and be in aspect to a friendly planet while Mars is exalted, one will become a ruler of the earth. The benefic in question should fall in a friendly Navamsa also.

82. Should the Sun, the Moon, Mercury and Mars occupy the 10th house and also friendly Navamsas while Venus is in the 9th house, the native will become a ruler, whose elephants' ichor will settle the dust emanating by their own treadings. In this yoga, the planets in the 10th shall not be in fall, in enemies' camp or be in combustion.

83. Should the Sun endowed with strength be exalted in the 10th house in the company of Jupiter, as strong Venus is in the 9th house and in own Navamsa while the ascendant shares benefic sub-divisions or has a benefic planet in it and is aspected by Mercury, the native will become a ruler illumining the entire world with his fame.

84. If the Full Moon is in Lagna identical with Taurus in aspect to Venus in Libra while Mercury is in the 4th, even a person not belonging to royal scion will be a ruler.

Notes: This yoga suffers a defect in that while the Moon is full or nearing her fullness in Taurus, Mercury cannot be in Leo as the Sun will be in Scorpio or ahead only. For Mercury to be in Leo, the Sun at best can be in Virgo in which case the Moon will only be decreasing. May be the text turned faulty in form with the march of time passing through so many hands.

87. One born with the Moon in Krittika and simultaneously in Gandanta Lagna or Vishti (Bhadra) Karana or Parigha yoga or Vyatipata yoga will become a king.

Notes: The Moon should be constantly in Krittika while one of the following should simultaneously prevail:

- (a) Gandanta Lagna (see page 27 vol. 1)
- (b) Vishti Karana (also called Bhadra Karana)
- (c) Vyatipata—one of the Nitya yogas. (This should not be misunderstood here to be one of the Upagrahas)
- (d) Parigha Nitya Yoga

For the order and calculation of Karanas, Nitya Yogas etc., refer to Panchangas and standard works on astrology. Normally these are marked in individual horoscopes also.

89-90. If all the planets occupy six alternative signs from the ascendant, Chakra yoga is formed producing a king. In this process, if a benefic occupies the ascendant, the native will be a ruler of the entire earth. If two planets are in the ascendant while benefics are disposed in angles in the said configuration, Samudra Yoga is formed making one a king.

96. Again a Raja yoga named as Kumbha (कुम्भ) Yoga is formed if the 3rd, 5th and 11th houses are occupied by one each while the 6th and 7th are occupied by 2 planets each.

99. If a single benefic occupies the ascendant with strength, while other benefics are in the 9th and yet other planets be in the ascendant, 2nd or Upachaya houses, one will become a king with perennial wealth. The elephants of his army will rain ichor misleading it to be a cloudy atmosphere.

Notes: "Maanabhanga" means causing injury to the honour of a female. This should not however be interpreted literally that the native will cause dishonour to female's chastity. In olden days it was a royal honour to have many females in company for pleasures. In the modern context, the subject will be very libidinous and will seek pleasures with many women.

163. If the Moon is in Pushyami, or in vargothama or in Krittika or Aswini nakshatras an emperor is born. Similar effect will come to pass when birth is in Tripushkara.

Notes: The first Yoga is clear in this sloka. The second one needs clarification about 'Tripushkara'.

This is a combination of three phenomena together. That is of a certain tithi coinciding with a certain week day and Nakshatra. See the following:

Anyone of the Bhadra Tithis, viz. Dwitiya (2nd), Sapthami (7th) and Dwadasi (12th) of both Fortnights coinciding with Sunday/Tuesday/Saturday ruled by a three-legged asterism, constitutes a Tripushkara. These asterisms are those which have only three quarters in one sign and one quarter in the other. To wit such asterisms are: Krittika, Punarvasu, Uttara Phalguni, Visakha, Uttarashada and Poorvabhadra. To be clear, one born on Tuesday or Sunday or Saturday which is ruled by one of the said six tithis and one of the said six asterisms cited will be a king.

The above explanation for Tripushkara is from Jatak-abharana (Hindi version p. 226). These are discussed as causing illegal births also in Jataka Parijata (ch. 3) and Hora Ratna of Balabhadra (Hindi version p. 127). In any context, a total of 108 Tripushkaras can be obtained, and the weekdays for this purpose in Hindi Astrology are countable from Sun rise to Sun rise of the day concerned.

164. If Mars is in Aswini, or Anuradha or Dhanishta, a Raja yoga is formed. This applies only if the said planet is in Vargothama Navamsa or in exaltation Rasi simultaneously.

Notes: The said Raja yogas, three in number, caused by Mars should be beneficially understood. The first one is generated by his exaltation position in Rasi in Dhanishta, i.e. in the first two quarters of Dhanishta ending Capricorn. This extends from 23° 20' to 30° of the exaltation sign of Mars. The relevant Navamsas for the planet will be in Leo and Virgo: So Vargothama Navamsa will not apply to the first yoga. The other two yogas relate to the position of Mars in Vargothama Navamsa remaining in the stars Aswini and Anuradha. He is in Vargothama in Aswini 1st quarter in Aries and in the 4th quarter of Anuradha in Scorpio. To wit, Mars in Dhanishta 1st quarter, Dhanishta 2nd quarter, Aswini 1st quarter or in Anuradha 4th quarter can cause an excellent Raja Yoga. There is no specific house related in the formation of the 3 yogas. It, however, is implied that if Mars owns good houses, or posited in good houses or well-related to the rising sign, will produce an exemplary yoga, in these asterisms.

165. An excellent king is born if the Moon with rays akin to white conch is in the 10th house while strong Venus is in the 9th house and all others relegated to the 11th house.

Notes: The Moon should be in the 10th while Venus is in the 9th. Some people interpret "Sankhadhavalonisaakaro" as Full Moon. But Venus will not be so close to Full Moon as to be just a sign apart. Hence I have translated the relevant phrase literally as "the Moon with rays akin to white conch" and we may understand it logically that Moon should not be in combustion in the Sun as the Sun will have access to combust the Moon in the 10th when Venus is mentioned in the 9th. The main requirement seems to be that the Moon should be unafflicted by combustion and hence Kalyana Varma uses such a phrase. All others including the Sun should be in the 11th so that the Moon cannot be actually FULL, while she will only be decreasing.

Notes: Apart from the Sunapha etc., formed by others than the Sun when counted from the Moon as is normally known (i.e. in the 2nd, 12th or 1st of the Moon), these yogas form even in lunar angles. For details, see p. 150 of vol. 1 of this edition as well Horasara.

Chapter 36

Planetary Rays

रश्मिप्रधानमेतद्यस्माच्छालं वदन्ति मणिन्धाः ।

तस्मात्प्रयत्नतोऽहं कथयामि यथामतं तेवाम् ॥१॥

1. The rays possessed by a planet are important (in delineation of a horoscope) according to Manindhacharya. I explain below the same.

Notes: Like Shadbala, the number of rays obtained by a planet in a nativity is another guide to know its strength. Planets with less number of rays will harm the bhavas they own, aspect etc., while the ones with higher number of rays will turn beneficial.

स्वोच्चस्थे दश सूर्ये नव चन्द्रे पञ्च भूमितनये च ।

पञ्चेन्दुजे सुरेज्ये सप्ताष्टौ भार्गवे शनौ पञ्च ॥२॥

2. When in exaltation, the number of rays possessed by the Sun are 10, the Moon 9, Mars 5, Mercury 5, Jupiter 7, Venus 8 and Saturn 5.

Notes: The author gives the maximum number of rays obtainable by a planet when in its exaltation. These rays apply in full when the planet is on its deep exaltation point. For example, Jupiter gets 7 rays in full if he is on the fifth degree of Cancer which is his deep exaltation degree. And when he reaches the similar degree in Capricorn his rays become nil. That is, in an angular distance of 180 degrees from 5° Cancer to 5° Capricorn he loses one ray per every 25° 43' of covered longitude. Conversely from the 5th degree of Capricorn for every similar quantity of covered arc he gets one ray. Similarly take the case of the Sun. His total rays are 10. From Libra 10th degree for every eighteen degrees he gets one ray and when he reaches the 10th degree of Aries, his full rays of 10 will be acquired by him. Thereafter for every 18 degrees he loses one ray and gets no Rasmi bala when he comes to 10 degrees of Libra. The reader can accordingly work out the rays for all the planets in a given horoscope. Needless to mention, the nodes have no such Rasmi bala. To have mathematical accuracy, the rays can be worked out in decimals. The rays so obtained for all the seven planets are processed further and added together and the effects such number gives are discussed in the following verses.

एवं महेन्द्रशास्त्रे मणिन्धमयबादरायणप्रोक्ते ।
 सप्त प्रत्येकस्या निर्दिष्टा रश्मयो ग्रहाणां वा ॥३॥
 सर्वे प्रमाणमेते मुनिवचनात् किन्तु सप्तसंख्येव ।
 बहुवाक्यादस्माकं नीचगतः स्याद्विगत रश्मिः ॥४॥

3-4. ANOTHER SCHOOL OF THOUGHT: The above view is held by Manindha, Maya and Badarayana as enunciated by Mahendra Sastra. However, according to another school of thought, all planets uniformly possess 7 rays each while in exaltation. While these two are authoritative schools, a majority lean towards equal distribution of 7 rays. All agree that at debilitation, the figure is zero for each planet.

Notes: Kalyana Varma gives another school of thought giving a different number of rays obtainable by the various heavenly bodies as 7 for each planet when in exaltation and zero when in debilitation. He also mentions that a majority of expounders believe that seven rays are possessed impartially, each by the 7 planets making the total as 49 which total however agrees with the uneven distribution as given in sloka 2. He also states that the allotment made in sloka 2 as per Badarayana, Maya, Manindha etc., is also authoritative. (Some indentify Badarayana as Veda Vyasa Ma-harshi, son of sage Parasara). Parasara also gives the number of rays as given in sloka 2 above, vide Brihat Parasara Hora Sastra, ch. 73, subscribing to his venerable father's school.

Rasmi bala should not be mistaken to be simply exaltation strength as this is possessed further vide following slokas.

अभिमुखरश्मिर्नोचाद्भ्रटः स्वोच्चात्परांमुखो ज्ञेयः ।

अन्तरगतेऽनुपातो यथा तथा संप्रवक्ष्यामि ॥५॥

5. ABHIMUKHA AND PARANMUKHA RASMI: When a debilitated planet transits towards its exaltation sign, the rays are Abhimukha (i.e. facing upwards) and when an exalted planet goes towards its debilitation sign, the rays are Paranmukha (facing downwards). For the intermediary positions, the rays should be calculated by rule of three process.

Notes: "Abhimukha" additionally means favourable while "Paranmukha" means unfavourable. This is further explained in slokas 28-29 of the present chapter.

नोचविहीनः शोधयश्चक्रात्षड्भवनतो यदाभ्यधिकः ।

आत्मीयरश्मिगुणितात् षड्भवताद्रश्मयस्तस्मात् ॥६॥

6. TO ARRIVE AT NUMBER OF RAYS: Note the position of the planet in Rasis, degrees etc., for which the number of rays is to be computed. Deduct from this its (deep) debilitation point. If the remainder is in excess of six signs, reduce it again from 12. Multiply the product by the maximum number of rays allotted to the planet concerned and divide by six. The resultant figure will represent the number of rays obtained by the planet by virtue of its position at birth.

Notes: In this sloka the method of computing rays is explained by the author. Let us assume that the Sun is in Scorpio 16°, i.e. 7° 16' 0". See the following

	s	o
Given placement of the Sun :	7	16	0

When $1^{\circ} 6^{\circ}$ is multiplied by 10 (the maximum number of rays obtainable by the Sun) we get 12° . This divided by 6, the constant divider (for the Sun and other 6 planets), yields 2 rays. (From the example given under sloka 2 also we get 2 rays, as the Sun covers 36 degrees from his deep debilitation point to Scorpio 16 degrees). The reader can convert the longitude as applicable from zero degree of Aries, i.e. deep fall of the Sun is 190 degrees while Scorpio 16 degrees means 226 degrees. If this system is followed, one has to divide the product first by 6, the constant divider. And the resultant quotient be again divided by 30 as 30° make one sign. For example 226 minus 190 gives 36. This multiplied by 10 and divided by 6 yields 60. This final figure 60 be divided by 30 (the degrees in one sign) and we get 2 again. Thus, the reader has before him 3 different methods and he can work out by a convenient method. The exact number of rays (in fraction/decimal) should be worked out in this manner to be processed further as detailed below.

मित्रद्वादशभागे द्विगुणास्त्रिगुणाः स्वके च दीधितयः ।
वक्त्रे पुनस्तथोच्चे स्वराशिगे तद्भवत्येव ॥७॥

वक्रान्तस्थे द्विगुणा वक्रत्यागेऽष्टभागहीनाश्च ।
वैरिद्वादशभागे नीचे च भवन्ति षोडशांशोनाः ॥८॥

अस्तं गतो विरश्मिः शनिसितवर्जं ग्रहो ज्ञेयः ।
एवं रश्मिविधानं पूर्वाचार्यैः समुद्दिष्टम् ॥९॥

7-9. RECTIFICATION OF RAYS: If the planet is in the dwadasamsa of its friend, double the product as obtained above. If it is in its own dwadasamsa, own Rasi, retrogression/exaltation sign the product should be trebled. If it is in its enemy's dwadasamsa, $1/16$ th of the rays will be lost. The same applies to a debilitated planet. A combust planet, excepting Venus and Saturn, loses all the rays. A planet that has just begun to retrograde will have two-fold rays while the one that has just assumed direct motion from retrogression will lose only $1/8$ th of the number of rays.

Notes: In this connection, please refer to slokas 3-7 in ch. 73 of Brihat Parasara Hora Sastra. The following simple but varied instructions are found therein:

- (a) If the planet is exalted multiply the rays obtained by 3.
- (b) If in Moolatrikona Rasi, multiply by 3.
- (c) If in own Rasi, multiply by 3 and divide by 2 (i.e. increase the original rays by another 50%).
- (d) If in extreme friend's sign multiply by 4 and divide by 3 (i.e. increase rays by $1/3$ rd).
- (e) If in a friend's sign, multiply by 6 and divide by 5, (i.e. increase the original rays by another 20% or a fifth).
- (f) If in an enemy's sign, the original rays should be straightaway halved.
- (g) If it is in its bitter enemy's sign, multiply the original rays by 2 and divide by 5 to get net rays.
- (h) If it is in a neutral's sign, no rectification is involved. To wit, the original rays should remain undisturbed.

Here a clarification is necessary. The friendship, enmity etc., referred to above are by virtue of mutual relationships applicable to individual nativities and not natural. (For easy reference, the reader of Saravali may refer to page 57, infra). The sage suggests elimination of all the rays in case of combustion to the planets, excepting Saturn and Venus. These two have no reduction of rays on account of combustion in the Sun. And the Sun also does not lose on this count because he himself is the cause of combustion.

The above views of Parasara are thus in easy grasp of the reader. Now let us resume the present slokas of Kalyana Varma. These need clarifications and additions to enable a proper application of the principles.

- (a) There are two stages suggested in slokas 7-9 hereof. Firstly multiplication. Secondly reduction.
- (b) In multiplication, doubling and trebling both feature. If trebling by virtue of retrogression, own sign placement, exaltation or own dwadasamsa is done, no doubling should be done through warranted by simultaneous relative placement. For example, for retrogression the original rays are to be trebled and for friendly dwadasamsa etc., doubling is suggested. In a dual case, only trebling is to be done and no multiplication by 2 is needed.
- (c) After increasing the rays as suggested in 'b' above, the relative product is rectified further. A planet may be in its inimical dwadasama or in debilitation sign. In that case, the rays should be reduced by 1/16th of the product. Similarly it loses one eighth if it has just assumed direct motion from retrogression. Here also, only the highest deduction be done.
- (d) If a planet other than Venus and Saturn is combust, then make the rays as zero. (The Sun however has no combustion for himself). Needless to say, this prevails over all other processes.
- (e) To be clear, the highest multiplication and the highest reduction be done, once each.

The reader has every need to know the degrees of combustion. Hence the same are detailed on the next page:

Planet	Combustion area in direct motion	Combustion area in (R) motion
Moon within	12 degrees	Not applicable
Mars	17 degrees	8 degrees
Mercury	14 degrees	12 degrees
Jupiter	11 degrees	11 degrees
Venus	10 degrees	8 degrees
Saturn	16 degrees	16 degrees

The above degrees are plus or minus with reference to the Sun's longitude in a given case. The combustion belts of Saturn and Venus are added here by way of information, though not required in the context of reduction of rays.

 परतोदशकं यावद्भूतका जाता विदेशगमनरताः ।
 जायन्तेऽत्र मनुष्याः सौभाग्यपरिच्युता मलिनाः ॥११॥

10-11. EFFECTS OF NUMBER OF RASMIS TOTALLY CONTRIBUTED BY THE SEVEN PLANETS: If the rays be a maximum of five, the native will be miserable, is of ignoble descent, will depend on others, be indigent and will join base men. Should it be from 6 to 10, he will be a servant, will be intent on going to places other than of his birth (for living), be devoid of goodluck and be dirty.

द्वात्रिशद्भिः पुरुषाः पञ्चांशद्रामपतयः स्युः ॥१६॥

12-16. If the rays are between 11 and 15, one will be respectively very learned, virtuous, righteous, beautiful and will possess merits due to his descent. If the rays are between 16 and 20, he will be respectively supreme among his men, be wealthy, be famous among men, be glorious and be honoured by his men. The effects stated apply to the number of rays in the ascending order. If the rays are from 21 to 25 in number, the effects respectively are: honour, fortune, courage, scholarship and kingship. 26 rays denote a person who will have allround success in his efforts. 27 to 32 rays respectively denote: a dependant on the king, wealth and gains through the king, ministership, honours from the king, royal patronage and rulership over fifty villages.

17-20. If the total number of rays is 33, he will rule over 1000 villages while with 34 rays he will obtain leadership over 3000 villages. 35 rays denote abundant wealth, strength, provincial rulership, fame, fortune etc. One will head over a lakh villages with 36 rays. Three lakh villages will come under his control with 37/38 rays.

21-25. If the total rays be 39, he will become a ruler causing happiness to all. With 40 rays he will rule over vast lands, and the wives of the enemies crushed by him will reach their cries all over so that he will become prominent. One, two and three seas will be the boundary/boundaries of the kingdom of the native/s with 41/42/43 rays. One with 44 rays will be an emperor, will honour gods and Brahmins, be longlived and be mighty. According to the rays crossing 44, one will rule over other islands, be free from obstacles, be honoured by one and all and be equal to Indra in valour.

26. SPECIAL EFFECTS: If the total rays are 45 or 46, the native will always enjoy auspicious effects and will lord over the entire earth.

27. If the rays are 47, the native will undertake the responsibility of maintaining the whole earth, be devoid of enemies, be an emperor akin to Indra and be honoured by all.

28-29. ABIMUKHA AND PARANMUKHA: If a planet has Abhimukha rays the good effects stated will increase while Paranmukha rays reduce the good effects. More number of rays will multiply the results while less number of rays will diminish the effects. According to rays only, one's baseness or excellence will come to pass.

Thus ends the 36th Chapter entitled "PLANETARY RAYS" in Kalyana Varma's SARAVALI.

Chapter 37

Panchamahapurusha Yogas

श्रीदेवकीतिराजः पञ्चमहापुरुषलक्षणानूपतीन् ।
कथयति यांस्तानहमपि कथयामि निराकुलीकृत्य ॥१॥

1. Sri Devakirti Raja explained the Panchamahapurusha Yogas (denoting Great Men) which I explain below clearly.

स्वक्षेत्रे च चतुष्टये च बलिभिः स्वोच्चस्थितैर्वा ग्रहैः
शुक्रांगारकमन्दजीवशशिजैरेतैर्यथानुक्रमम् ।
मालव्यो रुचकः शशोऽथ कथितो हंसश्च भद्रस्तथा

2. Venus, Mars, Saturn and Mercury remaining in their respective own houses or exaltation signs, identical with angles, cause Malavya, Ruchaka, Sasa, Hamsa and Bhadra yogas respectively. The effects thereof have been elaborately explained by the ancient preceptors which I briefly narrate here.

Notes: If Venus is in his own sign or in exaltation Malavya Yoga—one of the Pancha Mahapurusha Yogas—is caused. The said occupation should be simultaneously angular to the ascendant (or the Moon). Similarly, Mars in the context causes Ruchaka Mahapurusha Yoga, Saturn Sasa Yoga, Jupiter Hamsa Yoga and Mercury Bhadra Yoga. The effects of these Yogas are individually given in the following verses. Detailed information can be obtained from the notes given in pages 169-173 of HORASARA, and also Brihat Parasara Hora Sastra, ch. 75.

MALAVYA YOGA: One born in Malavya Yoga will have thin (not fleshy) lips, even physique, grey complexion, thin waist, splendour equal to that of the Moon, majestic voice akin to that of a tusker, pleasant odour of the body, piercing sight, even and white teeth, hands extending to the knees and a longevity of seventy years. His face will be 13 inches in length and 10 inch broad while the two ear-holes are 10 inch apart. (Angula denoted here as an inch means 8 barley-corn-wide.) He rules Laata, Malawa and Sindhu.

5-7. RUCHAKA YOGA: The native of Ruchaka Yoga will have a long face, pure splendour, great strength, valour, attractive eye brows, blue (very black) hair, penchant for war, knowledge of Mantras, be a leader of thieves, will have blood red complexion, be very valorous, be a conqueror of enemies, will have a neck akin to conch, be chief, cruel, will honour gods and Brahmins, thin shanks, will have marks of a staff (सट्वाङ्ग actually means a staff with a skull at the top deemed to be Siva's weapon, and carried by ascetics), cord, bull, arrow, diamond, lute etc., on the hands and legs, will be 100 inch tall, be skilful in Mantras and black magic, will weigh 100 tulas (one tula is 100 palas) and the circumference of his loins will correspond to the length of his face. He will rule over places consisting of Vindhya and Sahya. He will live upto seventy and will attain his end through weapons/fire and will go to heavens.

16-18. BHADRA YOGA (continued): He will know the meanings of Sastras, be valorous, will have well-knitted eye brows, will walk like an elephant, will have genital organs in 'concealed position' (like that of a horse or a tusker) and a beautiful belly, be righteous, will have attractive foreface, be valorous, firm in prowess, will have black and short hair, be independent in all his undertakings, will not forgive (even) his own men, will allow his friends to enjoy his wealth, will weigh 2000 palas, will rule over the midportion of the country, will possess females etc., be always happy and will die at 80.

Notes: There is a version to say that if both the husband and wife have Bhadra Yoga, the male will rule over the entire earth.

19-21. GENERAL: He can become a monarch if his voice is similar to the sound of a conch, drum, tusker, bull or a roaring cloud. In such case he will rule over the entire earth and will conquer his enemies. One with viscid tongue, skin, teeth, eyes, nails and hair, will become a ruler. If these are rough, he will experience penury. One with glossy, splendorous and bright complexion will become a king. Otherwise he will be poor and miserable. If these are meddling, he will be a middle class person with wealth, children, happiness etc.

22. LUMINARIES IN MAHAPURUSHA YOGAS: Though Mars etc., may be strong in the respective cases of Pancha Mahapurusha Yogas (vide sloka 2 of previous chapter), if the Sun and the Moon are weak, the person will not attain kingdom but in the period of the concerned planet will be endowed with children and wealth.

Chapter 39

Obstruction to Rajayogas

विस्तरतो निर्दिष्टाः क्षितिपतियोगा विचित्रसंस्थानाः ।

भंगश्च भवति तेषां यथा तथा सम्प्रवक्ष्यामि ॥१॥

1. Earlier, the yogas of kingship have been explained. There can be some factors which prevent the effects of such yogas, which I explain in this chapter.

कुजार्कजीवाकिभिरत्र नोर्चद्विभ्यां त्रिभिर्ऋतमे विलगने ।

निशाकरे वृश्चिकराशिसंस्थे विशीर्यते राजकरो हि योगः ॥२॥

2. Out of Mars, Saturn, Jupiter and the Sun, if two or more be in fall and one of them simultaneously be in the ascendant, as the Moon is in Scorpio, the Rajayogas will become futile.

Notes: In this sloka, it is said that at least two among Mars, Saturn, Jupiter and the Sun be in deep fall, one of the fallen planets, occupying the ascendant. Additionally the Moon be in deep fall in Scorpio. Then the Raja Yogas prevailing in the horoscope will only be namesake.

अन्त्याष्टमादिभागे चरराश्यादिषु शशी यदा क्षीणः ।

एकेनापि न दृष्टो ग्रहेण भंगस्तदा नृपतेः ॥३॥

3. The Rajayogas in the horoscope are only namesake if the Moon being weak is in the last Navamsa of a movable sign, or in the 8th navamsa of a fixed sign or in the first navamsa of a common sign and is without aspect from any other planet.

Notes: Decreasing Moon should be between 26° 40' and 30° of Aries, Cancer, Libra or Capricorn. Or she should be between 23° 20' and 26° 40' of Taurus, Leo, Scorpio or Aquarius. Or she should be within the first 3° 20' of Gemini, Virgo, Sagittarius or Pisces. In each case, being so placed, if the decreasing Moon is unaspected by any planet, the Raja Yogas will become defunct.

सर्वे क्रूराः केन्द्रे नीचारिण्यता न सौम्ययुतदृष्टाः ।

शुभदा वायरिपुरुषे तदापि भंगो भवेन्नृपते ॥४॥

4. Same effects will come to pass if all malefics occupy angles identical with debilitation/inimical signs while benefics are shunted to the 12th, 6th and 8th houses.

लग्नं गणोत्तमोनं न खेचरेदृश्यते तदा भंगः ।

भवति हि नृपयोगानां दारिद्र्याय प्रजातस्य ॥५॥

5. If the ascendant is in Vargothama position without aspect to any planet, the Rajayogas will only be a failure.

घटोदये नीचगतस्त्रिभिर्ग्रहैर्बृहस्पतौ सूर्ययुते च नीचगे ।

एकोऽपि नोच्चे तु शुभेन संगतः प्रयान्ति नाशं शतशो नृपोद्भवाः ॥६॥

6. Even a hundred kingly yogas will be of no avail if Aquarius rises while 3 heavenly bodies are in their signs of fall. Simultaneously Jupiter shall be combust or debilitated while none is exalted or is in the company of a benefic.

Notes: For an Aquarius native, if Jupiter is in the 12th or in combustion elsewhere while three planets occupy their signs of fall, all the Rajayogas will be unavailable. If, however, there is a benefic planet in the company of the said participants or if a planet is exalted, the Rajayogas so obstructed will be revived to the native.

शून्येषु केन्द्रेषु शुभैर्नवेन्दावस्तं गतेर्नीचमथ प्रयातः ।

चतुर्ग्रहैर्वाऽपि गृहे रिपूणां प्रणश्यति क्षमाधिपतेस्तु योगः ॥७॥

7. If there is no benefic in an angle or with the Moon while 4 planets are either in fall or in combustion or in inimical signs, the Rajayogas are marred.

स्वांशे रवौ शीतकरे विनष्टे पापैश्च दूष्टे शुभदृष्टिहीने ।

कृत्वाऽपि राज्यं च वने मनुष्यः पश्चात्सुखं लभते गताशः ॥८॥

8. Should the Sun be in his own Navamsa, while the Moon is in combustion and in aspect to malefics without the aspect of benefics, the native will enjoy rulership (with the help of other Rajayogas) only to relinquish the kingdom soon and will become miserable.

Notes: There may be Raja Yogas in a nativity to make one kingly, happy, wealthy etc. If simultaneously the Moon occupies her combustion belt, be aspected by malefics but not by benefics as the Sun is in Leo Navamsa, the position obtained by the native will be lost to make him miserable.

सहजरिपुमदस्या भानुमृपुत्रमन्दाः ।

शुभविरहितकेन्द्रैरस्तर्गवाऽपि सौम्ये-

नृपतिजननयोगा यान्ति नाशं क्षणेन ॥९॥

9. Should the Moon lend her inimical aspect to the ascendant lord while the Sun, Mars and Saturn are in their order in the 3rd, 6th and 7th, the Rajayogas will become ineffective. Benefics should in this case be not in angles but suffer combustion.

पञ्चभिर्निम्नगैः खेटैरस्तं यातैरथापि वा ।

प्रयान्ति विलयं योगा भूभुजां ये प्रकीर्तिताः ॥१०॥

10. If five heavenly bodies are in fall at birth the Rajayogas will not come to pass.

उल्कायाः पतने चैव निर्घातव्यतिपातयोः ।
केतोश्च दर्शने चैव यान्ति नाशं नृपोद्भवाः ॥११॥

11. If meteor, noise of contending winds in the sky (or earthquake or thunder), Vyatipata or Upaketu be seen at the time of birth, the good Rajayogas stand nullified.

अन्यैः क्रूरोत्पातैस्त्रिशंकुतारा यदोदयं यन्ति ।
सद्यः प्रयान्ति विलयं नृपयोगा भानुजो यदि विलग्ने ॥१२॥

12. If Trisankhu Nakshatra (Trisankhu was a monarch of the solar race who remained suspended with his head towards the earth as a constellation in the southern hemisphere) rises at the time of one's birth while the ascendant is occupied by Saturn as there is fall of a comet, the Raja yogas do not come to pass.

कर्तारो नृपतीनां गगनसदो युद्धकाक्षिणो मलिनाः ।
रूक्षा जर्जरदेहा विघ्नं जनयन्ति राजयोगस्य ॥१३॥

13. If the planets capable of causing Rajayoga are inclined to enter in war, or are becoming splendourless, or about to lose their strength, the Rajayogas will stand cancelled.

परनीचं गते चन्द्रे क्षीणे योगो महीपतेः ।
नाशमायाति राजेव देवज्ञप्रतिलोमगः ॥१४॥

14. If weak Moon is in her deep degree of debilitation the Rajayogas get destroyed just as a king going against an astrologer.

तुलायां पश्चिमीबन्धुस्त्रिशांशे दशमे स्थितः ।
हन्ति राज्यं यथा सोमः समस्तगुणसञ्चयम् ॥१५॥

15. The Sun in the 10th degree of Libra will destroy all Rajayogas just as miserliness eclipses all the good attributes of a person.

जूकस्य दशमे भागे स्थितः कमलबोधनः ।
सहस्रं राजयोगानां मन्दमेव करोत्यसौ ॥१६॥

16. This sloka is repeated in the original. The meaning is identical with that of sloka 15 above.

स्वत्रिकोणगृहं केचित्स्वोच्चं याताः स्वमन्दिरम् ।
अतिनीचे रविश्चंको न तेषां फलसम्भवः ॥१७॥

17. Even though other planets may be in their Mula-trikona, exaltation or own signs while the Sun is singly in deep fall, the Rajayogas will be unavailable.

गुहमृगे विलग्नस्थो दुःखैः सन्तापयेन्नरम् ।
कामार्तमयनं वेश्यावश्यमिन्दुनं चेत्स्वभे ॥१८॥

18. If Jupiter occupies Capricorn as ascendant while the Moon is not in Cancer, the native will become miserable just as a penniless lewdster in the place of a courtesan.

एकेनापि शशांको ग्रहेण केमद्रुमे न यदि दृष्टः ।
विघ्नयति राजयोगं मलिनाचारः प्रसूत स्यात् ॥१९॥

19. If in the formation of Kemadruma Yoga, the Moon is without the aspect of another planet, the Rajayogas lose their existence and the native will be devoid of good conduct.

भिक्षामटति त्र्याद्यर्नोचक्षंगतैः सुदुःखितो मलिनः ।
सकलमहीभृत्पुत्रः परिभूतो जायते निःस्वः ॥२०॥

20. If 3 or more planets be in fall even the son of an emperor ruling over the entire earth will take to begging, be

अत्यरिभवनं प्राप्तं: पञ्चादिभिरस्तगेश्च गगनचरैः ।

21. If 5 planets occupy inimical signs or are in combustion while the Sun or the Moon is not in exaltation, the kingly yogas will become ineffective.

सचिवो दानवेन्द्रस्य नीचांशे समवस्थितः ।

सम्प्राप्तमतुलं राज्यं नरैर्हपियते ध्रुवम् ॥२२॥

22. If Venus occupy his debilitation Navamsa, even a vast kingdom is deprived from the native.

राजयोगाः समाख्यातास्तेषां भंगश्च वारुणः ।

परीक्ष्य यत्नतः प्राज्ञः फलं ब्रूयाद्बलाबलात् ॥२३॥

23. Rajayogas have been explained earlier. The combinations marring such kingly states are given in this chapter. The stronger one of these two will only prevail.

24. RAJAYOGA: The Sun in Virgo, Mars in Scorpio along with Jupiter as the Moon is in Aries: this configuration will produce a king the dust of whose elephants will darken the skies.

Thus ends the 39th Chapter entitled "OBSTRUCTIONS TO RAJAYOGAS" in Kalyana Varma's SARAVALI.

Chapter 40

Calculation of Longevity

अस्मिन्नायुदयि यस्माद्भ्रान्तः समस्तलोकोऽयम् ।
तस्मात्पूर्वागमतः कथयामि निराकुलीकृत्य ॥१॥

1. The people all over remain perplexed over the question of longevity. So, I narrate the relative principles based on the Sastras, hereunder:

अंशोद्भवं विलग्नात्पैण्ड्यं भानोर्निसर्गजं चन्द्रात् ।
एतेषां यो बलवानेकतमस्तस्य कल्पयेदायुः ॥२॥

लग्नदिवाकरवन्द्रास्त्रयोऽपि बलरिक्ततां यदा यान्ति ।
परमायुषः स्वरांशं ददति खगा जीवशर्मोक्तम् ॥३॥

2-3. SELECTION OF SYSTEM FOR LONGEVITY COMPUTATION: Out of the trio—the Sun, the Moon and the ascendant—if the ascendant is the strongest Amsayurdaya should be resorted to. Pindayu is the best if the Sun is predominant while Nisargayu is the apt choice with Moon prevailing. If the three in question are bereft of strength, then Jeevasarma's system can be used.

विलग्नादिकला भाज्या व्योमशून्ययमेः समाः ।
लभ्यन्तेऽर्कहृताः शेषाः स्वमानगुणितांशकाः ॥४॥

4. AMSAYURDAYA CALCULATIONS: The longitudes (counted from Aries first point) of the (seven) planets and the ascendant should be divided by 200 to get the number of years. The quotients in later processes should be multiplied by the respective multipliers to get months, days and ghatas.

होरा सर्वबलोपेता राशितुल्यानि यच्छति ।
वर्षाण्यन्यानि मासादिभागैस्त्रैराशिकात्पुनः ॥५॥

5. ADDITIONS FOR ASCENDANT'S CONTRIBUTION: If the ascendant is strong the number of years equal to the Rasis it has traversed should be added. Months etc., thereof should be guessed by rule of three method.

वर्गोत्तमे स्वमवने स्वद्वेयकाणे नवांशके ।
द्विगुणं सम्प्रयच्छति त्रिगुणं वत्रतुंगयोः ॥६॥

6. RECTIFICATIONS FOR PLANETARY CONTRIBUTIONS: The contribution made by a planet that is in Vargothama, own sign, own decanate, or own navamsa should be doubled. If it is retrograde or in exaltation the figure should be trebled.

यदा तूपचयः सर्वः स्वराश्यादिस्थितग्रहैः ।
समस्तवर्गणा तत्र कर्तव्या शास्त्रचिन्तकैः ॥७॥

7. If a planet's contribution gets doubled by virtue of position in own sign, own decanate etc., (as per sloka 6 above) and further warrants trebling by virtue of retrogression/exaltation, the trebling should also be done. So say the learned.

केन्द्रादिसंस्थिते खेः सकलद्विगुणककाम् ।

8. According to Chudamani Acharya, if a planet is in angle, contributions by each rectification shall be considered. If it is in Panaphara (2nd, 5th, 8th and 11th) only two multiplications be done. If it is Apoklima (3rd, 6th, 9th and 12th) only one (i.e. the highest) should be taken.

बहुताउनसम्प्राप्तौ यां करोत्येकवर्गणाम् ।

9. According to Varaha Mihira, if many multiplications are warranted, only the highest be considered. But this view is not acceptable to ancestors.

10. REDUCTIONS FOR AMSAYURDAYA CONTRIBUTIONS: If a planet is in its inimical sign, a third of the earlier (final) figure should be taken. If it is combust in the Sun, only half need be computed. The contributions by Venus and Saturn do not suffer reductions on account of their combustion.

11-12. VYAYADI (CHAKRARDHA) HARANA: A malefic in the 12th loses all his contribution. If in the 11th half, in the 10th a third, in the 9th a fourth, in the 8th one fifth and in the 7th one sixth of the contribution suffers. Benefics in these places lose just half of what malefics lose. Further, if there are two or more planets in one and the same house, only the strongest suffers reduction.

13-15. PINDAYU: In this system the planet from the Sun onwards through Saturn contribute respectively 19, 25, 15, 12, 15, 21 and 20 years in their order when they are in (deep) exaltation. From the longitude of the planet (for which the contribution is being computed) deduct its highest exaltation degree (counted from Aries first point). In case the minuend is greater than the subtrahend, then increase the former by 12 signs i.e. 360 degrees). Multiply the latest product by the number of years allotted for the planet and divide by 12 to get years. Dividers for months equal to Amsas (or degrees i.e. 30) and for days Vikalas (i.e. 60).

क्षयस्तत्र प्रकर्तव्यो नीचेऽर्धं वृद्धिरुच्चगे ॥१६॥

16. In the case of Pindayurdaya also, the same multiplications and rectifications apply. Leaving aside a retrograde planet, one in inimical sign loses a third while the one in fall retain only half of the contribution. The planet in exaltation retains the entire contribution.

लग्नदायोंऽशतुल्यः स्यादन्तरे चानुपाततः ।
तत्पतौ बलसम्पन्ने राशितुल्यं च स्व भाधिपे ॥१७॥

17. ASCENDENTAL CONTRIBUTION IN PINDAYUR-DAYA: If the Navamsa Lagna lord is strong, then the years contributed will equal the Navamsas past. If, however, the Lagna Rasi lord is stronger, then the Rasis past up to Lagna (counted from Aries) will be the number of years.

18-19. REDUCTION FOR RISING PLANETS: If malefics occupy the ascendant, convert the ascendant into degrees, minutes etc. Multiply this by the number of years contributed by the malefic/s in question. Then divide the product by 21,600. Respective products should be reduced from the earlier contributions of each of the malefics occupying the ascendant. (This will be the net contribution by each malefic in case he occupies the ascendant). If the malefics in ascendant are aspected by the benefics suffice it to say half of the reduction need only be done.

20. NISARGAYURDAYA: In the Nisargayu scheme, the planets from the Sun to Saturn contribute 20, 1, 2, 9, 18, 20 and 50 respectively.

Notes: For this system also, the other reductions apply as stated above.

21. FULL SPAN OF LIFE: The full span of life (120 years and 5 days) will be enjoyed by the native who has Pisces ascendant with its 9th navamsa, and Mercury in 25 degrees of Taurus while others are in their deep exaltation points.

22. UNLIMITED LONGEVITY: Jupiter along with the Moon in Cancer identical with the ascendant, Mercury with Venus in an angle (or separately in angles) while the rest are in the 3rd, 6th and 11th: One with this combination will enjoy a limitless life span.

23-24. SPAN OF FULL LIFE FOR VARIOUS ANIMALS:

The full span of life of elephants and men are 120 years and 5 days. For horses it is 32 years, for goats etc., 16 years, for camels and donkeys 25 years, for cows and buffaloes 24 years and for dogs 12 years. Just as for the mankind, the longevities for the various animals can be computed. The computations should be done as explained supra, multiplied by the figure representing full life span and divided by 120.

Chapter 41

Moola Dasa

मायुषो येन यद्वत् सा दशा तस्य कीर्तिता ।
स्वदोषगुणयोगेन स्वदशासु फलप्रदाः ॥१॥

1. The dasa duration of a planet is equal to the number of years it contributes (as per Moola Dasa scheme). All planets yield in their dasas pleasant or unpleasant results according to their (natal) dispositions.

दिवारात्रिप्रसूतस्य रविशुक्रपुरःसराः ।
मणित्यस्त्वाह तज्ज्ञानां फलसाम्यं न सा दशा ॥२॥

2. ORDER OF THE SCHEME: According to Manitha, those who are born during day time will have the dasas commencing with that of the Sun while the night-born will have it from that of Venus. But this view is not acceptable to other preceptors.

लग्नाकंशीतरश्मीनां यो बली तस्य चाग्रतः ।
तत्केन्द्रादिस्थितानां च दशाः स्युः सत्यभाषिते ॥३॥

3. SATYA'S VIEW: The first dasa will be of the strongest of the ascendant, the Sun and the Moon followed by the ones in angle, Panaphara and Apoklima. This is the view held by Satyacharya.

होरादिनेशशशिनां प्रबलो भवेद्य-

साम्ये भवेच्च शरदां प्रथमोदितस्य ॥४॥

लग्नाकंशीतरश्मीनां यदि पूर्णबलं भवेत् ।

तदा सत्यमतं श्रेष्ठमन्यदा त्वपरा दशा ॥५॥

4-5. The first dasa will be of the strongest of the ascendant, the Sun and the Moon. Then the planets in angles will be dasa lords. Thereafter the planets in Panapharas (2nd, 5th, 8th and 11th houses) will lord over the major periods while the last dasas will be headed by the planets posited in Apoklimas (3rd, 6th, 9th and 12th houses). If angles etc., are occupied by more than one planet, the strongest will have its dasa first. Even if the strengths of these be identical, then the order will be according to maximum years donated by these planets. Granting that these durations are also similar, then the risings of planets will prevail. Even if one of the triad, viz. the ascendant, the Sun and the Moon, is strong, then Satya's scheme as above should be resorted to. If none is strong enough, then the dasa scheme of other preceptors may be considered.

6. AUSPICIOUS PERIODS: Planets in exaltation, own Rasi, own navamsa, friendly sign, possessing full rays and those with full strength prove auspicious in their dasas. At the commencement of a dasa of a planet that is strong, or is in a friendly division or is in aspect to a benefic also yield similar good results.

नीचशत्रुगृहं प्राप्ताः शत्रुनिम्नांशसूर्यगाः ।

विवर्णाः पापसम्बन्धा दशां कुर्युरशोभनाम् ॥७॥

7. INAUSPICIOUS PERIODS: The planet that is in its sign of fall, sign ruled by an enemy, navamsa of an enemy, combust in the Sun, devoid of splendour or is in aspect to malefics will yield inauspicious effects in its dasa.

तुंगाच्चयुतस्य हि दशा सुहृदुच्चांशेऽवरोहिणी मध्या ।
नीचाद्विपुनीचांशे ग्रहस्य चारोहिणी कष्टा ॥८॥

8. If a planet has departed from its exaltation, its dasa is known as Avarohini (stepping down) dasa. If, however, it is in own or friendly divisions, the effects will be medium, i.e. neither good nor bad. The dasa of a planet approaching its exaltation, departing from debilitation, is known as Arohini (climbing) dasa. If the said planet is in inimical or debilitation divisions, it will inflict difficulties.

राशिविशेषेणेन्दोरतः फलोक्तिर्दशारम्भे ॥९॥

9. The Sun is the ripener (or baker) of the effects of a dasa while the Moon is the sustaining agent. That is why the Moon's transit position at the time of the commencement of a dasa should be duly considered.

10-14. EFFECTS OF THE MOON: If the Moon at the commencement of a Moola dasa is in Virgo, the native throughout the period will be related to courtezans and be associated with them. The view is held by Yavanas. If she is in Cancer at the beginning of dasa, the native will gain wealth through virtuous ladies. If in Aries or in Scorpio he will injure the honour of virgins and also bring evils to his own female. If the sign in question be of Mercury knowledge of Sastras and acquisition of friends will come to pass. In a sign of Venus, it brings plenty of food and drinks, happiness and destruction of enemies. In a house of Jupiter, it brings happiness, wealth, honour and commandability. Saturn's sign endows with association with old ladies. Leo denotes movements in forts and forests, agriculture and misunderstanding with wife and children. These are the effects accruing out of the Moon's placement at the commencement of a dasa.

15. ASPECTS TO MOON AT THE COMMENCEMENT OF A DASA: If the Moon at the commencement of a dasa receives the aspect of Mars or Saturn there will be loss of relatives and of wealth followed by diseases. Mercury's aspect confers learning while the aspects of other planets will give effects according to their nature.

16. MAJOR LORD'S PLACEMENT AT THE COMMENCEMENT OF A DASA: If the lord of the dasa is in the ascendant prevailing at the moment the dasa begins or in the 3rd, 6th, 10th or 11th from the said ascendant, the dasa then proves excellent.

17-18. AGAIN MOON'S PLACEMENT: If the Moon at the commencement of a major period occupy a friendly sign, exaltation sign or an upachaya house (3rd, 6th, 10th or 11th house), 5th, 9th or 7th counted from the major lord, good effects will come to pass in the dasa in question. If the Moon is otherwise placed, even a planet in exaltation at birth will give inauspicious results in its dasa.

शत्रुनीचनवांशेषु शस्ते राशौ ग्रहस्य च ।

19. SPECIAL EFFECTS BASED ON NAVAMSA: Even though a planet may be in friendly sign, if it occupies simultaneously a navamsa belonging to its enemy or be in fall in navamsa, the effects in the dasa concerned will be mixed. A weak planet's dasa will be futile.

द्वेष्काणेश्च दशा मूर्तेः पूजिता मध्यमाधमाः ।

20. LAGNA DASA: The ascendant's major period will prove auspicious if it is in the first decanate of a movable sign; medium in the second decanate and poor in the 3rd decanate. The reverse is true with a common sign ascending, i.e. third, second and first decanate will respectively be auspicious, medium and poor. As for a fixed sign ascending first, second and third decanates will respectively give poor, auspicious and medium effects.

21. NAISARGIKA DASA: The Naisargika dasa follows in the order of the Moon, Mars, Mercury, Venus, Jupiter, the Sun, Saturn and the ascendant.

22-24. If the planet is exalted, or is endowed with temporal strength or full strength, in its dasa incomparably auspicious results will come to pass. The planet that is in its own sign, Moolatrikona sign, own navamsa or hemmed between benefics will yield moderately auspicious effects. In the dasa of the planet that is going towards its exaltation (departing from sign of its fall), or is placed in friendly signs etc., feebly auspicious effects will be felt. Similar deductions should be made in regard to planets otherwise placed.

EFFECTS OF FAVOURABLE SUN'S DASA: If the Sun is favourable, in his dasa, there will be gains from forests, medicines, travels, poison, evil friendship, forests, ivory, skin, fire and royal association. He will be interested in sinful acts and be troubled by hunger, thirst (or morbid fever), heart ailments, bilious diseases and bodily damages.

54-59. The Sun in ascendant gives kingdom during his dasa; while posited in other kendras ruled by inimical planets there will be disorders of hip, throat and eyes. Debilitated Sun in his dasa causes destruction of eyes, fever and head disorders, confinement, leprosy and other disorders. If the Sun is exalted, there will be gain of kingdom with royal insignia in such dasa. Apart, there will be acquisition of elephants, steeds etc. The dasa of the Sun placed in his Moolatrikona will indicate destruction of all kinds of miseries and leadership of large provinces. In the dasa of the Sun placed in inimical sign, one will incur affliction of eyes, hump-back, disorders caused by fire, facial diseases and humiliation due to misconduct. The 8th house placement of the Sun will cause in his dasa affliction to the entire body and wanderings in various countries.

60-65. MOON'S DASA: The Moon's dasa is generally differentiated in six categories, viz. exalted, debilitated, friendly sign, inimical sign, and diminishing and increasing Moon's dasas. The different dignities of the Moon give following results in the dasa concerned: exalted—kingdom, debilitated—death, inimical sign—confinement, friendly sign—association with own men, decreasing Moon—fever and disorders of abdomen, head and eyes. If the Moon is full and is endowed with strength, in such dasa the native will be surrounded by thousands of superior females. If she be relegated to the 8th house, the native in such dasa will be humiliated by his own men, will live through machinery, grass, firewood, cowdung, bamboo, medicinal plants, fruits and water. He will acquire only deteriorated food and rags, and even a king will have to resort to servitude.

66-68. OTHER PLACEMENT OF PLANETS: Those exalted in the ascendant confer rulership of a province in their dasas while those in exaltation in other angles will bestow, wealth, conveyances and rulership of a country. If a planet is in the 6th, the native will be subjected to evils, misfortunes etc. In the dasa of a planet placed in the 8th, death will be inflicted. There will only be confinement in the dasa of a combust planet. The dasa of a retrograde planet will cause wanderings like that of a wheel, evils and enmity. This applies only to malefics in retrogression but not to benefics.

Chapter 42

Effects of Sub Periods

अर्धमेकस्थितो भागं त्रिभागं सुतधर्मयोः ।
सप्तमे सप्तमं भागं चतुर्थं चतुरश्रयोः ॥१॥

1. DISTRIBUTION OF SUB PERIODS TO PLANETS IN MOOLA DASA: A planet that is conjunct the Dasa Lord will subrule half of the period. The subrulership further goes to planets as under: one third to that in the 5th/9th from the dasa lord; one seventh to that in the 7th from the dasa lord and one fourth to that in the 4th/8th with reference to dasa lord.

केन्द्रादिविधिना चान्ये केचित्पाकक्रमेण तु ॥३॥

2-3. The sub lords will ripen the sub period effects according to their own nature. Should there be more than one planet in the houses specified above, the strongest of them will rule over the sub period (and not others). The sub periods of benefics will yield benefic results while those of malefics will give inauspicious effects. According to some authorities, planets in angles will first lord over the sub periods followed by those in Panaphara (2nd, 5th, 8th and 11th) and Apoklima (3rd, 6th, 9th and 12th.)

नित्यं पाकत्रमात्कार्यः शेषास्तु परिपाकदाः ॥४॥

4. According to Satyacharya, the sub periods will rule according to the orders of strength in case there is more than one planet in one house.

भागाः सदृशाः सहिता दशाब्दपिण्डस्य भागहारोज्यम् ।
पृथगंशा गुणकाराः पृथक्पृथक्त्वन्तरवशाः स्युः ॥५॥

5. Take the fractions (as mentioned in sloka 1) and reduce them to equivalent fractions with a common denominator. Add up the aliquot parts of the dasa representative of the various numerators leaving out the denominators. The sub periods will be arrived at when the various aliquots are converted into years within the main dasa and divided by a common factor.

6-7. Planets that are conjunct the major lord will cause confinement and loss of wealth in their sub periods. If, however, the major lord is in an angle or in a trine from the ascendant, there will be great happiness. If a planet conjunct 2 or more planets be in an inimical house, in such sub periods, only diseases, evils, quarrels and royal displeasures will come to pass.

9-10. Death, destruction of wealth or imprisonment will result in the sub periods of the planet in the 8th from the Mooladasa lord. If 2 or 3 or 4 malefics join in one house other than an angle or a trine, imprisonment, destruction, and poverty will be the order of the sub period.

1-4. In the sub period of a malefic planet and in the major period of another malefic, the native will be troubled by doubts and enemies. It is certain that death will be inflicted upon the native though he may have life indications, in the dasa of Mars and in the sub period of Saturn. If a malefic is in the 6th or the 8th in aspect to another malefic placed in a malefic's sign, death will come to pass. In the dasa of a planet that is inimical to ascendant lord and in the sub period of the ascendant lord himself, there may be death, according to Satya.

1-3. If at the time of commencement of a dasa, even if one planet occupies the divisions of a benefic or of an intimate friend and is aspected by a benefic, the evils due to come out of the said dasa will disappear. If the lord of the dasa is not strong enough to cause evil while the planet functioning as an antidote (as stated in the previous sloka) is stronger, the evils are then surely destroyed. Even if a single planet occupies its exaltation sign, Moolatrikona sign or own sign and is aspected by a benefic or is conjunct a benefic, at the start of a dasa the evils of the dasa are nullified.

1-4. EFFECTS OF EXALTED PLANETS: If the Sun is exalted at birth, the native will be fierce, be very wealthy and be pre-eminent. With exalted Moon, one will enjoy sweet food, possess superior clothes and will acquire good ornaments. If Mars is exalted the native will be splendorous, valorous, blameworthy and will live in other places. When Mercury is exalted the native will be intelligent, be supreme among his family members and be a skilful speaker. One will be famous, wealthy, learned, honourable and skilful with the exaltation of Jupiter. If Venus is in its peak one will be fond of sports, amusements, music, dance etc. Saturn's exaltation denotes association with royal assignment, leadership over villages and towns, gain of forest-born grains and mean females.

5-71/2. EFFECTS OF PLANETS IN MOOLA TRIKONAS:

Should the Sun be in his Moolatrikona sign, the native will be wealthy, intelligent and skilful. The Moon so placed indicates one with enjoyments and virtues. Mars in Moolatrikona will make one a leader of thieves, adventurous and unkind. The placement of Mercury in his Moolatrikona sign denotes a jocular and successful person. One will be helpful to others, be pre-eminent and will have knowledge of justice with Jupiter in Moolatrikona. Venus in such a sign will make one a prominent person in his village/town, wealthy and fortunate. If Saturn is so posited the native belongs to a good family, be wealthy and valorous.

8-11. EFFECTS OF PLANETS IN OWN SIGNS: If the Sun is placed in his own sign, the native will be very fierce and will do very great acts. The Moon in her own sign denotes one virtuously disposed, who is very intelligent and beautiful. If Mars occupies such a sign, the native will be opulent, impetuous and firm in disposition. Should Mercury occupy his own sign the native will be a sweet speaker and be learned. If Jupiter be in his own sign one will be versed in Vedas, literature etc., be rich and will perform great deeds, Venus so placed hints at a farmer and a rich person. Should Saturn be in his own house, the native will be honourable and happy.

12-14 1/2. EFFECTS OF PLANETS IN FRIENDLY SIGNS:

If the Sun is in a friendly sign, one will be firm in friendship and be charitable. The Moon in a friendly sign denotes the native will be happy and very honourable. Mars placed in a friendly sign will make one protect the wealth of friends. One will be skilful, jocular and rich, with Mercury in a friendly sign. Jupiter in a friendly sign will make one respectable and a performer of famous deeds. If Venus be in a friendly sign the native will be fond of friends, rich and adventurous. Saturn in a sign of his friend will force the native to depend on others for food and inclined to do unethical deeds.

15-18. EFFECTS OF PLANET IN FALL: The various planets in fall denote the undermentioned effects: The Sun—servitude and humiliation in the hands of one's own men. The Moon—not very meritorious in his acts, sickly and unfortunate. Mars—evils, distressed mind and meanness. Mercury—mean and enmity with his cousins and other relatives. Jupiter—dirty, dishonour and utter poverty. Venus—subordination, loss of wife and crooked disposition. Saturn—fall into adversity, blameworthy conduct and pennilessness.

19-21½. EFFECTS OF PLANETS IN INIMICAL SIGNS: If the Sun is placed in an inimical sign, the native will be poor and be sensually tormented. Should the Moon be so placed, one will be devoid of beauty (or brightness) and will suffer from heart diseases. Mars in an inimical sign denotes that native will face confinement and defeat at the hands of enemies, poverty, distress and misfortunes. If Mercury be placed in a sign that is ruled by his enemy, the subject will be devoid of intelligence, will experience many miseries and will be very poor. Should Venus be in his enemy's sign, the person concerned will be a servant, will resort to wrong ways of doing things and be very miserable. If Jupiter is placed in a sign owned by his enemy, one will be a eunuch and be devoid of justice and wealth. When Saturn occupies an inimical camp, the native will be dirty and be distressed due to diseases and the like.

22. EFFECTS IN NAVAMSA: If a planet is in its exaltation navamsa, the good effects due to the planet will be full. If it is in its own Navamsa, it will give such results as applicable to its own Rasi placement. If it is in Navamsas of its enemy or of fall, the (good) effects will be quite little while moderate results will come to pass if it is in a friendly Navamsa.

23-26. EFFECTS OF MORE PLANETS IN EXALTATION:

If two planets are simultaneously exalted at birth, the native will be rich and famous. Three planets in simultaneous exaltation will make one head a town, wealthy and an army chief. If four are so placed that they are in exaltation, one will be rich, be honoured by the king and will be of regal disposition. Should five heavenly bodies occupy their exaltation signs the native will be famous, be a king's patron and be very rich. When six planets are posited in their exaltation signs, the person will be a king, be charitable, honourable and endowed with many conveyances. When all are in their respective exaltation signs, the native will be an emperor ruling over the land surrounded by seas.

27-31. EFFECTS OF MORE PLANETS IN MOOLATRIKONA SIGNS: If two planets be so placed as to be in Moolatrikona signs, the native will be a householder contributing to the growth of his race, be pre-eminent, and famous. When three planets are similarly posited one will be quite wealthy, and will head a group of men or villages. If four planets occupy their Moolatrikona Rasis, the native will be very wealthy, will receive royal honours and be dear to all. Should five be so placed as they are in Moolatrikonas one will be a protector, be principal among men, will head an army, town and royal treasury, be a householder and be very happy. With six planets disposed in their Moolatrikona Rasis, though one may belong to a cowherd's race, he will be endowed with learning, charitability and various kinds of wealth, will acquire a kingdom and be famous. If seven are in their Moolatrikona Rasis, one will become a king, be endowed with wealth, wife, strength, learning and be skilful in sastras.

32-34½. EFFECTS OF MORE PLANETS IN OWN HOUSES: If two planets are in their own houses at birth, one will be important in his race, be honoured by his relatives and be fortunate. Three planets occupying own houses indicate growth of the dynasty (i.e. birth of children), acquisition of wealth, position and fame. If four planets occupy their own houses one will be famous, will perform significant acts and will lead over men and cities. If five planets be placed in their own houses, the native will be equal to a king, be endowed with abundant quadrupeds, lands and females. If six planets are in their own houses, one will acquire famous titles, abundant wealth, relatives and honours, and one born in a royal family, will become a ruler. If seven planets be so placed one will be a king of kings and will conquer his enemies.

35-37^{1/2}. EFFECTS OF MORE PLANETS IN FRIENDLY HOUSES: If two planets occupy their friendly sign, the native will be endowed with the company of friends and will have good conduct. If three are so, one will patronise his relatives, be endowed with good qualities and be pre-eminent. If four are so, one will honour Brahmins and gods, be skilful and be famous. If five are so, one will serve the king, be wealthy and be chief of men. When six are so, one will have wide enjoyments, abundant conveyances and wealth and be equal to a king. With seven planets in such placement one will have many servants, many conveyances, paraphernalia and be a king.

38-41. EFFECTS OF MORE PLANETS IN FALL: If two planets occupy their signs of fall, one will be mean in thoughts and be very irascible. Three being so, he will be foolish, not virtuous, be poor and be a servant. Four being so, he will be indolent, be devoid of useful deeds and be a servant. Five being so, he will be bereft of a house and a female and be a servant. Six being so, he will be tormented by fear and labour and be emaciated. All being so, he will eke out his food by begging, be devoid of everything and will wear torn robes or will wander without clothes.

42-45. EFFECTS OF MORE PLANETS IN INIMICAL CAMPS: If there are two planets that are placed in inimical signs one will be miserable and ever fond of quarrels and be subjected to humiliation. With three such planets he will be tormented by many expenses and miseries and will lose wealth inspite of hard labour. With four being so placed, he will be at a loss in regard to his near and dear and wealth. Five heavenly bodies in such a state indicate that the native will be troubled by many evils. With six planets in inimical camps, he will be very miserable. If seven planets are in their inimical signs, the native belongs to a loathsome family, and will be devoid of food, robes, beds etc.

2. IMPORTANT HOUSES: From the 8th house, her widowhood can be deduced while the ascendant deals with her physique, the 7th house with her husband's good fortunes and the 5th house with her offspring.

3-4. THE MOON AND ASCENDANT: If the Moon and the ascendant are both disposed in even signs, the female will be virtuous and extremely goodlooking. Should these two be in aspect to auspicious planets, she will be endowed with ornaments and virtues. In case these two occupy odd signs, she will be akin to a male in appearance and in disposition. With these two receiving aspects of malefics, she will be sinful and bereft of virtues.

5. TRIMSAMSA POSITIONS: Note the stronger of the Moon and the ascendant. Whoever of the two is placed in the Trimsamsa of Mars, Venus, Mercury, Jupiter or Saturn, such effects will come to pass, (as detailed below).

6-10½/2. EFFECTS OF THE MOON/ASCENDANT IN VARIOUS TRIMSAMSAS: If it is a sign owned by Mars, the Trimsamsa of Mars denotes a harlot, that of Venus a female devoid of virtuous history, that of Mercury one with cunning disposition, that of Jupiter a chaste lady and that of Saturn one in servitude. Should a sign of Mercury house the Moon/the ascendant in the trimsamsa of Mars, the female will be cunning, in the trimsamsa of Venus one with high degree of lust, in the trimsamsa of Mercury a chaste girl, in the trimsamsa of Jupiter a virtuous housewife and in that of Saturn impotent. If it is a sign of Venus, the trimsamsa of Mars a female with wicked nature, Venusian trimsamsa one with fame for her virtues, Mercurian trimsamsa skilful, Jupiterian trimsamsa a virtuous female and Saturn's trimsamsa a woman given in marriage as a second wife. In the sign owned by the Moon the trimsamsa of Mars bestows her freedom not due to a housewife, Venusian trimsamsa will make her unchaste, Mercurian trimsamsa will bestow skill in arts, Jupiterian trimsamsa will make her quite virtuous and in Saturn's trimsamsa she will betray her husband. In Leo the trimsamsa of Mars will make the female garrulous, Venusian trimsamsa chaste, Mercurian trimsamsa male-natured, Jupiterian trimsamsa a queen and Saturn's trimsamsa fallen.

11-13. TRIMSAMSA EFFECTS (continued): In a sign of Jupiter the trimsamsa of Mars will make her a gentlewoman with many (of the seven principal) virtues, the trimsamsa of Venus a female with evil speech, the trimsamsa of Mercury one with knowledge, the trimsamsa of Jupiter one with many virtues and the trimsamsa of Saturn a female desiring limited physical union. Lastly in a sign owned by Saturn, a trimsamsa of Mars will make one servant, that of Venus intelligent, that of Mercury cruel and devoid of conduct, that of Jupiter a chaste lady and that of Saturn himself one addicted to base men.

14. BEASTLY LUST OF A FEMALE: When Venus and Saturn are in mutual aspects in the case of a birth in Taurus or Libra ascendant with Saturn's navamsa, the female concerned burnt with sexual lust will unite with a woman playing the role of a male. Venus and Saturn should simultaneously be in exchange in Navamsas owned by them.

15-17. THE 7th HOUSE: Should the 7th house be vacant, her husband will be a contemptible fellow. With the said house bereft of aspect of a benefic, he will be bereft of strength. He will be disposed to living in other places if the 7th house is a movable sign. He will be a eunuch with Mercury or Saturn in the 7th house. She will be discarded by her husband if the Sun is in her 7th house. Mars in the said house will cause early widowhood while Saturn in the 7th with malefic aspects will make her old soon. Again she will be given up by her husband with malefics being weak and combust in the 7th receiving aspects from malefics. Benefics and malefics combust in the 7th will give away the woman native in second marriage.

19. MOTHER AND DAUGHTER: If a sign of Mars or Saturn be ascending with Venus and the Moon in it in aspect to malefics, the female along with her mother may be deemed unchaste.

छूने तु कुजनवांशे शशिना दृष्टे सरोगयोनिः स्त्री ।
सद्भृगुभागे चारुश्रोणी पतिवल्लभा भवति ॥२०॥

20. MISCELLANEOUS: If the 7th house falls in a navamsa of Mars and be in aspect to the Moon (Saturn, according to some texts), the female will have a diseased vagina. A Navamsa of Venus denotes a fortunate female who will be dear to her husband.

छूने दृष्टो मूर्खः सौरगृहे स्यान्नवांशके वाऽथ ।

21-24. EFFECTS OF RULES OF 7th HOUSE/NAVAMSA: If the 7th house or its Navamsa be ruled by Saturn, the female's husband will be old and foolish. The rulership of Mars in such a case will give a husband who will be addicted to other women and be irascible. If Venus heads the 7th house or its Navamsa the husband will be very beautiful and be fortunate. The husband will be skilful and knowledgeable if Mercury be such a planet. A sexually tormented husband who will, however, be soft in disposition will be bestowed by the Moon in such circumstances. The husband will be virtuous and be a conqueror of the five senses, if Jupiter rules the 7th house or its Navamsa. Leo as the 7th house or the 7th Navamsa will indicate an industrious and a very intelligent husband. Thus the effects relating to the rulership of the 7th house and 7th navamsa be declared in respect of females.

शुक्रबुधयोर्विलग्ने रुचिरा सुमगा कलासु निपुणा च ।

दास्यम्बरसौख्ययुता शुभेषु पापेषु विपरीता ॥२६॥

25-26. EFFECTS OF PLANETS IN THE ASCENDANT:

She will be jealously disposed and be happy with Venus and the Moon in the ascendant. Mercury replacing Venus in the said yoga will make the female happy, skilful in arts, virtuous and modest. If Mercury and Venus are together in the ascendant, the female will be beautiful, fortunate, and skilful in arts. Benefics in the ascendant will endow a female with servants, happiness and robes while malefics give adverse effects in regard to these.

पापेऽदमे तु विधवा निधनाधिपतिर्नवांशके यस्य ।

तस्य दशायां मरणं वाच्यं तस्याः शुभैर्द्वितीयस्थः ॥२७॥

27. EFFECTS OF THE 8th HOUSE: Malefics in the 8th will cause widowhood. This will occur in the dasa periods of the lord of the navamsa occupied by the 8th lord. A benefic in the 2nd will, however, cause the female's death in this yoga, instead of widowhood.

कन्यालिवृषभसिंहे शिशिरमयूखेऽल्पपुत्रा स्यात् ।

सुतभवने शुभयुक्ते निरीक्षिते वा तथैव स्यात् ॥२८॥

28. LIMITED PROGENY: If the 5th house be one of Virgo, Scorpio, Taurus and Leo receiving the aspect of a benefic, there will be limited number of children. Alternatively, the said 5th house may be conjunct a benefic or the Moon.

29. FEMALE WITH MASCULINE DISPOSITION: Should Mercury, Venus and the Moon be in the ascendant and be weak while Saturn has moderate strength as the rest are strong, the female concerned will be akin to a male in appearance and in acts. The ascendant should in this case necessarily be an odd sign.

क्रूरे जामित्रगते नक्षमे यदि खेचरो भवति नूनम् ।
आप्नोति प्रव्रज्यां पापग्रहसम्भ्रामबला ॥३०॥

30. TAKING OF RELIGIOUS ORDER: A female will be initiated into a religious order if a malefic is in the 7th house while the 9th house is occupied by any planet. The order will relate to the planet in the 7th house.

बलिभिर्बुधगुरुशुक्रैः शशांकसहितैर्विलग्नैः सममे ।
स्त्री ब्रह्मवादिनी स्यादनेकशास्त्रार्थकुशला च ॥३१॥

31. VEDIC EXPONENT: If strong Mercury, Jupiter, Venus or the Moon be in the ascendant identical with an even sign, the female will be a teacher/exponent of Vedas (or be a follower of Vedanta Philosophy). And she will be an expert in interpretation of various Sastras.

जन्मकाले विवाहे च चिन्तायां वरणे तथा ।
चिन्त्यं स्त्रीणां तु यत्प्रोक्तं घटते तत्पतिष्वपि ॥३२॥

32. APPLICATION: Whatever has been stated in this chapter should be wisely applied to females relating to their births, selection of grooms, marriage and query. These effects are applicable to their husbands also.

Chapter 47

Aphorisms of Death

शिखिजलशस्त्रज्वरजस्त्वामयतृट् क्षुक्लतो मवेन्मृत्युः ।

सूर्यादिभिर्निघनगैः परदेशे पथि स्वके चराद्यैश्च ॥१॥

1. REASONS OF DEATH: If the 8th house is occupied by any planet from the Sun to Saturn, the reason for death in the same order will be fire, water, weapon, fever, indigestion (or constipation), thirst and hunger. According to the 8th house being a movable, fixed or dual sign, the place of death will be a foreign place, own place or on the way.

Notes: Given in this sloka are the possible reasons for death by virtue of individual placement of planets in the 8th house. Apart from these, each planet posited in the 8th house or related to the 8th house can cause one's exit by a disease or an event to be caused by the nature of the planet. See the following:

The Sun: Epilepsy, heart disease, skin disease, burning of body, serpents etc. The Moon: Diarrhoea, carbuncle, typhoid, jaundice, mental aberration, blood disease, drowning and indigestion. Mars: Excessive thirst, leprosy, eye disease, physical deformity etc. Mercury: Mental disorder, disease of throat, nose, skin etc., anaemia, fire, accidents etc. Jupiter: Intestinal disorder, liver/spleen diseases, car troubles etc. Venus: Venereal diseases, urinary diseases, disorders of generative organs, rickets etc. Saturn: Rheumatic pains, paralysis, hit by wood etc., fire, ghosts and the like.

Each sign as the 8th house will give peculiar information related to death. See the following:

Aries as the 8th house: Death will be due to poison, indigestion, bilious disorder, fire, accident, diseases of heart/liver, gastric disorders. Taurus as the 8th house: vitiation of bile, phlegm and wind, fire, weapons, headache, disorders caused by heat, abdominal disease, breathing disorders, gout/colic, hit by animals etc., will cause death. Gemini as the 8th house: Disorders of the head, asthma, colic, cough, catarrh etc., will promote death. Cancer as the 8th house: Insanity, loss of appetite, drowning, indigestion, windy diseases and the like will cause death. Leo as the 8th house: Poison, boils, fever, weapons, smallpox, wild beasts, heart troubles etc., will cause one's exit. Virgo as the 8th house: Indigestion, disease of vagina, penis or anus fall from height, quarrels, water and fire will cause death. Libra as the 8th house: Mental diseases, delirium, grief fear and troubles from animals will cause one's death. Scorpio as the 8th house: Stones/weapons, dysentery, jaundice, splenary disorders, venereal diseases, imprisonment, bite by snake, scorpion etc., will cause death. Sagittarius as the 8th house: Attack by wild animals, arrows and other weapons, eating poison or poisonous stuff, quarrels, fall of a tree or from height, severe rheumatism, stomachial disorders etc., will stand to cause one's final exit. Capricorn as the 8th house: Animal like tiger, gout pains, tastelessness, corpulence, snakes, stomach pains, delirium etc, will indicate death. Aquarius as the 8th house: Lung/cardiac disorders, wild animals, fever, snake bite, etc., will cause death. Females will also be a cause of one's end in this case. Pisces as the 8th house: Fever, dysentery, thunder, being caught in darkness, bite by snakes etc., ascitis, ear disorders etc. will cause one's death. These indications are made by Hora Ratna, Poorva Parasareeyam, Phala Deepika and Jataka Parijatha in the context of evaluation of death.

It implies that these causes will come to pass if the 8th house falls in such vargas as above or the 8th lord placed in such houses. It may also be noted that if the occupant of the 8th be an indicator of the relative diseases/event, the effects are certain. For example, let us take Aquarius becoming the 8th house, i.e., Cancer ascending on the east. If the Sun be there in Aquarius, heart disease will be a sure cause of death as the Sun is Karaka for heart diseases and the sign Aquarius itself is called 'Hridroga' (heart disease). These inferences will have to be made accordingly.

Death and Planets in the 8th house: Each planet in the 8th house has its own source of death for the native. If the Sun is in the 8th in aspect to malefics, death will be in miserable circumstances. If weak Moon occupies the 8th house, death will be due to fever, leprosy, fire, physical emaciation and the native will die in pitiable situation. Mars in the 8th house will indicate exit through enemies, weapons, leprosy, piles and dysentery. If Mercury be in the 8th house, death will be in a shrine and be calm. If Mercury is a malefic (by conjunction), gout, facial diseases and stomachial disorders will cause the end. With Jupiter in the 8th house in a benefic's sign, death will be known to the native beforehand and the same will be in a religious place and if the sign be owned by a malefic, the end then will be very grievous and miserable. Venus in the 8th house will clear one of his liabilities to his father and the death will be peaceful. Saturn in the 8th will cause death in distant lands, in wicked association and due to many diseases and abundant grief. (Authority: Garga)

Sage Kasyapa minutely treats the planets in the 8th house in the context of death, with reference to Navamsas etc. The reader may find the following information more interesting.

The Sun in the 8th: If exalted, the native will give up his life by entering pyre with piety. Exalted Navamsa-insulted by others. Benefic shadvargas-accidents. Debilitation sign-severe fire. Debilitation Navamsa-cholera. Malefic Shadvargas-dysentery. Friendly Navamsa-diseases of the blood. Vargothama-due to camels (due to quadrupeds in general). Enemy's navamsa-through elephants. Own sign-due to asses. (all these may indicate quadrupeds in general).

यो बलयुक्तो निघनं पश्यति तद्वातुकोपजा मृत्युः ।
तत्संयुक्तस्तनुजो बहुभिर्बलिभिर्जहुप्रकारः स्यात् ॥२॥

2. Death may be due to the imbalance of that humour belonging to the planet aspecting the 8th house. If there is no planet in the 8th house, the aspecting one may indicate the kind of death. If many are thus related, the strongest one will prevail.

3. DEATH BY DROWNING, FALL ETC.: If the 10th and 4th are occupied by the Sun and Mars, the native will die due to fall from hills. If the 10th, 7th and 4th houses are occupied by Mars, Mercury and Saturn, it may be due to fall in a well. Death due to imprisonment will follow if the luminaries are placed in Virgo in aspect to malefics. The end will be by drowning if Pisces is occupied by the Sun and the Moon.

4-5. DEATH BY FIRE ETC.: If the Moon and Saturn respectively are in Capricorn and Cancer, death will be due to affliction of stomach. If the Moon be hemmed between malefics and occupies a sign of Mars, fire/weapons will cause death. Death will be certainly inflicted by dryness of blood if the Moon is in Virgo hemmed between malefics.

6-7. DEATH BY HANGING ETC.: If the Moon in Capricorn or Aquarius be hemmed between benefics, death will be due to hanging, fire or fall which is doubtless according to Chanakya. The same effect will come to pass if the 5th and 9th houses are occupied by malefics in aspect to malefics. If the drekkana of the 8th house be one of Pasa, Sarpa and Nigala, death will be reticent.

Notes: If the 22nd decanate when counted from the ascendant be one of Sarpa (snake), Pasa (noose) and Nigala (fettors) death will be in a secret manner, i.e. by suicide etc. There are various views among the classical authors about the designations given to decanates. The reader is, however, referred to Phala Deepika, ch. 3 for details.

मीनोदये दिनकरे चन्द्रे पापान्वितेऽस्तगे मेघे ।

8. DEATH DUE TO A FEMALE: If the Sun be in Pisces ascendant while the Moon is in the 7th (in Virgo) or in the 2nd in Aries or in the 5th in Cancer, a female will be reason for the native's end.

रुधिरं सुखेऽथवाकं वियति यमे क्षीणचन्द्रसंयुक्ते ।

9. DEATH DUE TO A TRIDENT'S HIT: If the 4th house is occupied by Mars or the Sun while Saturn is conjunct weak Moon in the 10th house and malefics are in the ascendant and its trines, hit of a trident will cause the end.

Notes: The weak Moon referred to in the sloka be interpreted as the Moon bereft of other strengths than Paksha Bala. For she will be endowed with Paksha Bala (or strength by virtue of waxing) as she is required to be in the 10th as the Sun is in the 4th.

हिबुकेऽर्कं वियति कुजे क्षीणेन्दुयुतेऽर्कजेन संदृष्टे ।
काष्ठेनाभिहतः सन् म्रियते जातो न सन्देहः ॥१०॥

10. DEATH BY HIT OF WOOD: If the Sun is in the 4th while the Moon devoid of strength is in the 10th along with Mars or in aspect to Saturn, the native will be hit by a log causing death.

क्षीणेन्दुभौमरविचन्द्रजसूर्यपुत्रैः

11. DEATH BY HIT OF A CLUB etc.: If weak Moon, Mars, Sun and Mercury along with Saturn are in the 10th, 8th, 4th and ascendant (in any way), the subject will have his end due to a club beat. If these planets fill the 10th, 9th, 5th and ascendant, death will be by smoke, fire, confinement or a blow of fist.

हिबुकास्तकर्मसहितः कुजभानुशनैश्चरैर्भवति मृत्युः ।
आयुधहतभुग्भूपतिकोपप्रभवः सदा पुंसाम् ॥१२॥

12. DEATH DUE TO ROYAL WRATH: If the 4th, 7th and 10th houses are occupied by Mars, the Sun and Saturn, death will be due to weapon, fire or royal wrath.

13-14. DEATH DUE TO INSECTS, INTOXICANTS AND MACHINERY: One's end will be due to insects if the 10th, 4th and 2nd houses at his birth are occupied by Mars, the Moon and Saturn. If the 10th house is constellated by the luminaries and Mars, the native will end his life on account of intoxicants or fall from height. Machinery will be the source of one's death if the 7th house is occupied by Mars as the trio of weak Moon, Saturn and the Sun afflict ascendant by occupation.

15-16. DEATH IN FILTHY SURROUNDINGS: One will die amidst ordure if Mars is in Libra, the Sun in Arles/Scorpio and the Moon in Capricorn/Aquarius. The Sun, weak Moon and Mars in the 8th, 10th and 4th houses will kill one amidst excrement. So says Siddhasena.

बलिना कुजेन दृष्टे क्षीणेन्दौ रन्ध्रगेर्जके मृत्युः ।

रघौ सहधरे हूने निधने रविसंभवे ।
रसातलस्थे हिमगौ मृत्युः पक्षिकृतो भवेत् ॥१८॥

17-18. DEATH BY THIRST, WEAPONS AND BIRDS: If the 8th house contains both the weak Moon and Saturn in aspect to strong Mars, the object will die due to spleenary disorders, colics, thirst or weapons. The Sun and Mars in the 7th while Saturn occupies the 8th and the Moon the 4th, one's death will be caused by birds.

लग्नचिह्नत्रिकोणेषु रव्यारकिनिशाकरैः ।
मृत्युः स्याच्छूलपातेन शस्त्रकुड्यादिपातजः ॥१९॥

19. If the ascendant, 8th, 5th and 9th houses are occupied by the Sun, Mars, Saturn and the Moon, death will be due to fall from a hill, hit of a weapon or fall of a wall, etc..

Notes: From slokas 3 through 19, the author has given various reasons for one's death. For more relevant informations, the reader may refer to Horasara, Hora Ratna etc.

20. Yavanas indicate that the place of death will correspond to the Navamsa Lagna lord. The aphorisms stated in this chapter should be suitably interpreted according to other aspects and other conjunctions.

उदितांशसमो मोहः श्वेशेन निरीक्षिते द्विगुणितः स्यात् ।
त्रिगुणः शुभैश्च दृष्टे समस्तमुनयो व्यवस्यन्ति ॥२१॥

21. The duration of the state of loss of consciousness (or insensibility, delusion, pain etc.) will correspond to the portion elapsed in the radical ascendant. The duration will remain doubled and trebled according to the ascendant lord or a benefic aspecting the ascendant.

उदयाद्विंशतिमद्रेवकाणो भवति कारणं मृत्योः ।
तस्याधिपतिभवो वा निर्याणं सूचयेत्स्वगुणः ॥२२॥

22. KHARA DREKKANA: The 22nd decanate from the ascendant will denote the nature of one's death. For example, by the nature of its lord, (i.e. the humour, place etc.)

मेषाद्ये द्रेवकाणे क्रूरग्रहवीक्षिते च संयुक्ते ।

23-24. EFFECTS OF ARIES DECANATES AS RELATED TO DEATH: If the first decanate of Aries be the 22nd decanate from the ascendant, and be in aspect to a malefic the native's death will be due to water (i.e. drowning etc.), snake, poison or bilious imbalances. If the 2nd decanate of Aries be so related, water, insects, ice and forests will cause death. The 3rd decanate of Aries denotes tanks, wells etc.

Notes: From sloka 23 through 45, special effects are given concerning the native's death with reference to the 22nd decanate (also called Khara drekkana, which is again the 64th Navamsa) falling in each one third part of various signs. These are applicable to the stronger among the ascendant and the Moon. Additional information can be procured in Jataka-bharana.

25-26. DECANATES IN TAURUS: If the first decanate of Taurus be the 22nd decanate at birth, death will be caused by animals like ox, horse, donkey, camel etc. The second decanate in Taurus denotes the end due to bilious/windy complaints, fire and thieves. The concluding decanate of Taurus leads to one's death in journey or due to fall from the back of a horse or due to hit by weapon in battle.

27-28. DECANATES IN GEMINI: If the first decanate of Gemini be the 22nd decanate at birth, one's end will be due to tuberculosis or pulmonary disorders. The second decanate in Gemini identical with 22nd decanate denotes death through a buffalo, or through poison or delirium. If the 3rd decanate in Gemini becomes the 22nd decanate the end will be through forest tribes, quadrupeds in general or elephants in particular.

29-30. DECANATES IN CANCER: If the 22nd decanate is the first decanate of Cancer, the reason of death will be a crocodile (or a shark), wine, thorn or dreams. The second decanate will cause end by beating or by consuming of poison. The terminating decanate indicates death by respiratory diseases, urinary diseases (viz. gleet, diabetes etc.), splenary disorders, affliction to blood or by swooning caused by excessive labour.

31-32. DECANATES IN LEO: The 22nd decanate identical with the first decanate of Leo will cause one's end due to water, poison or diseases of the foot. The second decanate of Leo indicates death by diseases caused by water or movements in forests. The last decanate thereof will bring one's end through poison, weapons, calumny or fall from heights.

33-34. DECANATES IN VIRGO: Should the death decanate be the first decanate in Virgo, one's life will end due to diseases of the head or by wind, (gale, hurricane or outburst of violent wind etc.). The middle decanate in Virgo will cause death by snake-bites or in hills, forts, forests etc., or by the son of a king. The concluding decanate in Virgo will bring death by camels, asses, weapons, water, deep pits, females and unhealthy eating and drinking.

35. DECANATES IN LIBRA: When the 22nd decanate at birth is held by the first decanate of Libra, death will be through a female or quadrupeds or fall from heights. Effects of Navamsas

अतोऽंशके लग्नगते तु वक्ष्ये वर्णस्वभावाकृतिलक्षणानि ।

प्रधानवीर्येऽशपतौ शशोव तत्स्वामिराशिक्रमशो विधत्ते ॥१॥

1. A native's complexion, disposition and appearance can be deduced based on the rising Navamsa at birth. The effects being stated Infra will depend on the stronger of the two, viz. the Moon's Navamsa dispositor and the Navamsa Lagna lord.

Notes: The effects given in this chapter relating to births in various Navamsas and those given in chapters 48 to 50 specifically relate to lost horoscopy apart from genethliacal astrology. Hence the reader will find a detailed account of the native's physical description, mental disposition and the like receiving special treatment in order that by known qualities and seen form, one's horoscope if misplaced can be reconstructed.

The current chapter throws light in this direction keeping in mind the nine Navamsas of each ascendant. Additional information has been appended in translation of Nashta Jataka from Nadi granthas also. Here I correspondingly add special effects of the Moon's position in each Navamsa, i.e. 108 Navamsas of the zodiac as culled out from Yavana Jataka and Keeranuru Nataraja's Jatakalankara for the benefit of the reader.

Lost Horoscopy

प्रश्नकाले विलग्नस्य पूर्वार्धेऽप्युत्तरायणे ।
अपरे वक्षिणे ब्रूयाज्जन्म सम्पृच्छतो बुधः ॥१॥

1. THE NATAL AYANA: If the ascendant at the time of query (related to tracing the lost birth data) be within the first 15° of a sign, the birth was in Uttarayana and beyond these degrees Dakshinayana.

2-31/2. BIRTH RITU ETC.: The strongest of the planets in the Prasna Lagna indicates the Ritu (season) at birth. Should there be none in the ascendant, the lord of the ascendental decanate is the ruler of Ritu at birth. Should there be a clash in the Ayana and Ritu arrived at, the Ritu lords arrived at should be interchanged thus: the Moon for Venus, Mercury for Mars and Jupiter for Saturn. The respective month of the Ritu is decided depending on the first or second half of the decanate being ascendant. The degrees elapsed in the decanate will lead to the knowledge of the natal Tithi. Some say that this will lead to locating the natal Sun.

रविभिर्जन्म शिष्टं हि कथयेदविशंकितः ॥१०॥

4-9 1/2. OTHER NATAL FACTORS: The query ascendant be multiplied by 2 and divided by 5 to get the natal Jupiter's placement. This should be adjusted to actual placement guessing the native's age approximately, be increasing or decreasing multiples of 12. If the query ascendant is in a day sign, declare birth during night. Otherwise, the contrary prevails. The degree elapsed in the query ascendant will lead to the knowledge of elapsed portion of night or day as the case may be. Out of the query ascendant, the 5th and the 9th therefrom will indicate the natal Rasi (Moon sign), the strongest of the three prevailing. The parts of the body, viz. head etc., touched by the querist at the time of query will also indicate the Moon sign at birth. Alternatively the distance between the query ascendant and the query Moon may be added to the query Moon to get the position of the natal Moon. This does not apply to the Moon in Pisces at the time of query, (i.e. the natal Moon is in Pisces itself). The Navamsa Lagna at the time of query may also be the natal ascendant. The number of decanates between the query ascendant and query Sun, when added to the query Sun, will yield the natal ascendant. The longitude of the planet in the query ascendant should be multiplied by the figure indicated by Chayangula (length of shadow) at that time. This should be divided by 12 the remainder of which will indicate natal ascendant.

तिष्ठतः शयनस्थस्य निविष्टस्योत्थितस्य च ॥१०॥

लग्नादिकेन्द्रवेश्मानि पृच्छतो जन्मभं वदेत् ।

भावं विचार्य सकलं यश्चतुर्थ्यं तु तत्तथा ॥११॥

10-11. POSITION OF THE QUERIST: The following positions of the querist will indicate the natal ascendant. Standing, lying on the bed, sitting or getting up with respectively denote the first, 4th, 7th or 10th from query ascendant becoming natal ascendant.

संस्कारनाममात्रा द्विगुणाश्छायांगुलैः समायुक्तः ।

त्रिघनविभवत,च्छेषं नक्षत्रं तद्वनिष्ठादि ॥१२॥

12. PERSONAL NAME: The name formally given by parents to the native will indicate the natal star. Multiply the Matras (units) of the given name by 2 and add to it the Chayangula length. Divide this by 27 and the remainder when counted from Dhanishta will lead to the knowledge of birth star.

वृषसिंहौ दशगुणितौ वसुभिर्मिथुनालिकौ वर्णिमेषौ ।

एवं क्रमेण हत्वा स्वविकल्पविभाजिताच्छेषम् ।

एवं भवन्ति सर्वे नवदानविशोधने च पुनः ॥१५॥

13-15. ANOTHER METHOD: Note the longitude of the query ascendant. It should be multiplied by 10 if the ascendant is Leo or Taurus, by 8 in case of Gemini or Scorpio by 7 in case of Aries or Libra, by 5 in case of Virgo and Capricorn, while for the rest of the signs by the number denoted when counted from Aries. (That is 4 for Cancer, 9 for Sagittarius, 11 for Aquarius and 12 for Pisces.) If the ascendant is occupied by Jupiter, the ascendant converted into minutes of arc by multiplied by 10, if occupied by Mars by 8, if by Venus by 7 and if by others by 5. Both the products so multiplied be added together. This product be multiplied again by 10 to know the year, Ritu and month; by 7 to know the Tithi and by 5 to arrive as Navamsa lagna and Ishta Ghati (birth time) and be respectively divided by their individual dividers (i.e. 120 for year, 2 for Ritu, 15 for Tithi and the like). Addition or reduction of 9 may be made in case of anomalistic answers.

यवनेन्द्रभदशनाद्यैः कथितं तदिहात्र सर्वमेव मया ।

किन्तु स्फुटं न सर्वं स्पष्टं सारं स्वतश्चिन्त्यम् ॥१६॥

16. I have explained lost horoscopic rules as expounded by Yavana, Bhadasana etc. But some of their rules are ambiguous. The student better understand using his judgement.

17-21. LOST HOROSCOPY BASED ON MOON: Just as the ascending degree helps trace back the lost details, the Moon sign may also be used. If the Moon sign at the time of query be a night sign, natal Moon was in a day sign and vice versa. Note in what quarter of the sign is the Moon at the time of query. Proportionately understand the natal Moon during day to night as the case may be. Multiply the query Moon by the same Rasi multiplication factor as explained supra and if necessary by planetary multipliers as applicable. Multiply the resultant product (arrived by adding the two) by 7 and divide by 27. The remainder will represent the birth star counted from Aswini. In case of rectification by adding 9 the counting is from Moola and if subtraction of 9 is done count from Magha. The pre-division product (i.e. the product before dividing by 27 as above) should be processed variously as suggested earlier to know the Ritu, month, Tithi etc., at birth.

8. THE ASHTAKAVARGA OF SATURN: Saturn's Ashtakavarg is prepared by inserting benefic dots in places as denoted below. 9-10. The places mentioned above are auspicious for the various planets and the others are inauspicious. Planets transiting signs with more benefic dots will reveal auspicious results while inauspicious results will come to pass in case of transits in signs with less benefic dots. Benefic results will be predominant if these signs happen to be exaltation, own, friendly etc. and malefic effects will be ordinary. Similarly in debilitation/inimical signs, malefic results will be more and benefic effects will be ordinary. In giving transit effects, the Sun and Mars will be effective while in the beginning of the sign, Jupiter and Venus while in the middle of the sign and lastly Saturn and the Moon while in the end of the sign. Mercury is effective in his transit through the whole sign.

Draw 13 horizontal lines intersected by 9 parallel (vertically) lines (thus getting 96 squares) noting the names of the 12 signs from Aries onwards in a rightward manner and the names of the 7 planets and ascendant in the left hand side vertical columns. Mark the benefic dots for each planets' Ashtakavarga and malefic points (where benefic points are absent) as per the positions told earlier.

10-12. May the astrologers be pleased with the Science of Astrology thus described by Kalyana Varma. Ancestors like Paulasa, Vasishta, Romasa, Yavana, Badarayana, Sakthi, Atri, Bharadwaja, Viswamitra, Guna, Agnikesa, Garga, Parasara, Jeevasarma and a host of others have authored elaborate texts on astrology. The science of astrology thus deals with the good and bad in stock for an individual with Chitragupta (the official record keeper of Yama—the God of Death—noting down the virtues and vices of mankind).

Chapter 55

Manifold Births

दैवविदां प्रीतिकरं विश्वसनीयं समस्तलोकस्य ।
कनकाचार्यस्य मताद्वियोनिसंज्ञं प्रवक्ष्यामि ॥१॥

1. Acharya Kanaka's school of thought dealing with 'Manifold Births' is narrated in this chapter for the pleasure of the astrologers and the common folk.

लग्ने कर्कटके स-शीतकिरणे वागीशदृष्टे परः,

2. Lord Brahma created this Universe at a time when Cancer was ascending with its lord and in aspect to Jupiter while the other 5 planets were in their own signs. Should one have a similar radix, he will rule over the three worlds enjoying the company of the celestial dames.

समभिव्यनक्ति होरा सस्यावरजंगमं यथा लोके ।

3. The Science of astrology delineates the immovable and the movable through respective differences of time, omens, form etc.

4-5. If all the malefics be with strength while benefics be bereft of it, one of the viyoni¹ be signs ascending with Mercury and Saturn be in angles or in aspect to the ascendant, the birth will be of a creature other than human being. The birth will correspond to the Dwadasamsa of the ascendant or of the Moon prevailing at Adhana or in the radix.

6-9. The sages have explained the hue, form etc., of the manifold births based on planetary conjunctions and aspects which I narrate below. The zodiac personified signifies the several limbs of non-human species as under: Aries—face, Taurus—neck, Gemini and Pisces—shoulders and forelegs, Cancer and Aquarius—back, Leo and Capricorn—forelegs, Virgo and Sagittarius—hind legs, Libra—anus and Scorpio—tail and general organ. The right side limbs are denoted by signs Gemini to Libra while left side by signs Scorpio to Pisces.

1. Viyoni Rasas are Rasas other than Gemini, Virgo, Libra, Aquarius and the first half of Sagittarius.

बलदीप्तो गगनचरः करोति वर्णं वियोनीनाम् ॥१२॥

10-12. The strongest sign or the strongest Navamsa ascending will indicate the hue of such birth. If the ascendant has a strong planet in it, the hue of the animal and the wounds of its body will correspond to such planet. If a planet is in its own Rasi/Navamsa, such effects will be unmixed while the one in other's sign/Navamsa, will give a rough version of the hue. The animal will have a mark on its back corresponding to the hue of the planet in the 7th house or the one aspecting the 7th house. If there are many related thus, the hues or the mark will be equally many, the prime effects being from the strongest of the lot.

स्वे राशौ परभागे परराशौ स्वांशके तिष्ठन् ।
पश्यन् ग्रहोऽपि लग्नं सुवर्णवर्णं तदा कुरुते ॥१४॥

13-14. The hue of the animal based on the occupant of the ascendant will be: Jupiter—yellow, Moon—white, Venus—variegated, Sun/Mars—red, Saturn—black, Mercury—grassgreen. If the planet aspecting the ascendant be in its own sign and other's Navamsa or vice versa, the hue obtainable will be golden.

यद्वर्णं न वृत्तः स्याद्वर्णस्तस्मिन् वर्णमादिशेन्मतिमान् ।

15-16. The planet in the ascendant will be capable of giving such hue corresponding to the phenomena it is influenced by, viz. Parigha, rainbow, cloud, Parivesh etc. Otherwise, the planet will give the hue to its nature alone.

विहगोदितवृषकाणे ग्रहेण बलिना युते च चरमांशे ।

लग्ने जलजे वान्यः पक्षी स्याद्वीक्षितेऽपि वा जलजः ।

स्थलजे वा तद्दृष्टे ग्रहवर्णसमस्थलप्रभवः ॥१८॥

17-18. If the ascendant has in it a third decanate (the first ones of Aquarius and Leo and the second ones of Gemini and Libra) or a movable Navamsa (Aries Navamsa and the Navamsas angular thereof) or Gemini Navamsa/ Virgo Navamsa and be in aspect to Saturn birds residing on lands will be born. In a similar case, the aspect of the Moon denotes births of birds dwelling in water. If a water resorting sign be on the ascendant in aspect to a strong planet, birds related to water will be born. Similarly land-resorting signs in aspect to strong planets indicate birds of land. The hue of the bird will correspond to the planet concerned.

लग्नाहंजीवचन्द्ररबले शेषैश्च मूलयोनिः स्यात् ।

स्थलजलभवनविभागा वृक्षादीनां प्रभेदकराः ॥१९॥

19. Birth of trees is indicated if the ascendant, Sun, Jupiter and the Moon are devoid of strength while others are with strength. Land resorting signs in the ascendant indicate trees growing on land while water resorting signs indicate plants etc., coming out of water.

अन्तःसारान् वृक्षान्मानुर्दुर्गन्करोति तद्रूपान् ।

कटुकण्टकिनो रुधिरः सुदुर्भगांस्तरणिजस्तथा शुक्रः ।

कुसुमफलस्नेहयुतान्बुधश्च फलवर्जितं जनयेत् ॥२१॥

20-21. If the lord of rising Navamsa be the Sun, trees (or plants in this context) with hard or strong trunk/stem will be born. The Moon denotes ones milky and soft; Jupiter—fruitful, Mars—bitter and thorny, Saturn—unproductive and useless (to mankind); Venus—the ones yielding flowers and Mercury—unfruitful.

क्रूरः सौम्यगृहस्थौ वृक्षमनिष्टं करोति शुभदेशे ।

स्थलजलपतयस्तेषां स्थलजलजानां तु सम्भवे वृक्षाः ॥२३॥

22-23. If the said lord of ascendant in Navamsa be a natural malefic being in the company of a benefic, a sub-standard tree on excellent land is denoted while in the case of a benefic being ascendant lord in Navamsa and being in the company of a malefic, the reverse is true—i.e. an excellent tree on waste land. If there is a mix in the above planetary description, both the land and the born will be of a mixed nature. Watery planets indicate plants growing in water while land-resorters denote trees etc., growing on earth.

स्थलजलखगो विलम्बाद्यावति राशौ तु तेषां तावन्तः ।

स्वांशात्परांशगामिषु यावत्संख्या भवन्ति तावन्तः ॥२४॥

24. Note how many signs away is the navamsa Lagna lord from the ascending sign. So many will be the trees in number to be born. Similarly infer by the number denoted between Navamsa ascendant and the planet's Navamsa position.

25-26. Manifold birth is indicated if benefics are in their own Navamsa being bereft of strength while malefics with strength are in their own/other malefics' Navamsas. Such birth is destroyed if the said Navamsa lord occupies a weak planet's sign, is defeated in planetary war, conjunct with or aspected by a malefic.

प्रसवं व्यस्तसमस्तं ग्रहयोगैर्लक्षणैर्बक्ष्ये ॥२७॥

27. Explained now is four kinds of manifold of births, viz., those born of seeds (like plant, tree etc.), those born on womb (like quadrupeds etc.), those born in dirty places (like mosquitoes etc.), and those born of eggs (snakes, birds and the like). These are based on planetary yogas etc., at birth.

दुर्बलगृहे ग्रहेन्द्रा मेघो राशिर्यदोदयं याति ।

भानुश्चतुष्पदगृहे चतुष्पदस्तत्र भवति सामान्ये ॥२८॥

सामान्येनाभिहितो वियोनिसंज्ञो मया समासेन ।

अधुना कीदृक्जननं विशेषतः संप्रवक्ष्यामि ॥२९॥

28-29. A quadruped is born if the Sun is in a quadruped sign while a weak planet is in a weak sign. I have explained the relative rules in a brief and general manner. Now told are something surprising (more interesting) and detailed.

इह तु द्वादशभागो राशौ राशौ प्रचोदितः पूर्वम् ।

जनयन्ति ते वियोनिं युक्ता बलिभिः शशांकरबिलग्नैः ॥३०॥

मेघे शशिनि तदंशे छायादिप्रसवमाहुराचार्याः ।

गोमहिषाणां गौंशे नररूपाणां तृतीयेशे ॥३१॥

तत्र चतुर्थे भागे कूर्मादीनां भवेदुदकजानाम् ।
व्याघ्रादीनां परतः परतो ज्ञेयं नराणां च ॥३२॥

वणिगंशे नररूपा वृश्चिकभागे तथा भुजंगाद्याः ।
स्वर्तुरगाद्या नवमे मृगाः समीनास्था दशमे ॥३३॥

ज्ञेयाश्च तत्र विविधा वृक्षास्तृणजातयश्चित्राः ।
एकादशे च पुरुषा जलजा नानाविधाश्चात्ये ॥३४॥

मेघे द्वादशभागे जायन्ते जातयो विविधरूपाः ।
शेषेष्वपि चैवं स्याद्भवनेषु यथाक्रमं नियतम् ॥३५॥

30-35. Should the Sun, the Moon and the ascendant be strong in a Dwadasamsa related to a Viyoni sign, the birth will correspond to such Dwadasamsa. If the Moon is in Aries Dwadasamsa in Aries ascendant, birth of goats, rams etc., will take place. The other Dwadasamsas related to Aries ascendant will give following effects: Taurus—cow, buffalo; Gemini—akin to a human being (like monkey, ape etc.); Cancer—crab, tortoise etc.; Leo—tiger etc.; Virgo—human beings; Libra—resembling human beings; Scorpio—snakes etc. Sagittarius—asses, horses etc.; Capricorn, Aquarius and Pisces—Crocodile/human being/fish etc. Similarly one can guess about trees, grass etc. Just as the various Dwadasamsas of Aries have been described, the effects for other signs can also be understood.

यो यत्र भवेदाद्यस्तस्याकृतिमाविशेत्कृते तत्र ।
ब्रूयात्क्रमेण मतिमान्द्वादशभागात्मके भवने ॥३६॥

ब्रूयादेवं पुंग्वहनवांशकैर्लग्नगैर्द्विमूर्तिभ्यः ।
आद्यांशे योगैरपि जायन्ते बहुविधाः सत्त्वाः ॥३७॥

36-37. The Dwadasamsa effects of the manifold births will depend on the first Dwadasamsa of a sign and the remaining Dwadasamsa should be understood based on the first division cited. Just as a dual Rasi with male Navamsa causing birth of twins in the case of human beings, in the case of other births male planets in the first Dwadasamsa being in dual sign etc., the number of births be decided.

श्वप्रभृतीनां प्रसवे यावन्तो द्वादशांशका लग्ने ।
 तावन्ति वदेत्प्राज्ञः पुंस्त्रीसंज्ञान्यपत्यानि ॥३८॥
 लग्ने जीवोऽथवा सौरश्चन्द्रो वाऽपि स्थितो भवेत् ।
 कूर्मादीनां तथा संख्या द्वादशांशेषु यावती ॥३९॥
 शुक्रो भौमो बुधो वाऽपि चन्द्रो वापि शनैश्चरः ।
 कुर्वन्ति बलसंयुक्ता भागेऽवंगानि पूर्ववत् ॥४०॥

38-40. In case of a living being yielding multiples at a time (like snake, hen, bitch etc.) the number of births will depend on Dwadasamsas past. Male/female should be decided by the Dwadasamsas distributed in such signs. If the ascendant is tenanted by the Moon/Saturn/Mercury, tortoises etc., will yield such number equalling the Dwadasamsas elapsed. Venus, Mars, Moon or Saturn being with strength will denote Satwa, Rajas, and Tamogunas of the births according to the Amsas.

स्वांशात्परस्य भागे यस्मिन् काले ग्रहाः समुपयान्ति ।
 तत्र विकारा ज्ञेया लोकविरुद्धा ध्रुवं प्राज्ञैः ॥४१॥

41. If a (qualified) planet occupies other Navamsas than of its own, the birth will be unnatural.

वृश्चिकलग्ने भवने तन्नवभागेऽथ वा द्विपदसंज्ञे ।
 बिलवासिनां प्रसूतिर्घोराणां निदिशेत्तत्र ॥४२॥

गोधानां सर्पाणां मातृगानां च शत्यकानां च ।

लूतानां नकुलानां वृश्चिकषड्बिन्दुजातकानां च ।
 अविषाणां सर्पाणां श्वभ्राश्मनिवासिनां चैव ॥४४॥

42-44. Should Scorpio ascend with a biped Navamsa, births of snakes, rats, insects, mongoose, scorpions, snakes without poison, deers, cows etc., will take place.

हयनरविदेहलाने द्वादशभागे नवांशके वापि ।
पश्यति नरेन्द्रसचिवस्तत्रोत्पत्तिर्भवेदेषाम् ॥४५॥

वाजिखराश्वतराणां गोमहिषाणां तथोष्ट्राणाम् ।
गुरुवर्णकल्परूपान् प्रवदेन्मतिमान्बलेनैव ॥४६॥

45-46. The divisions of Sagittarius with aspect from Jupiter denote birth of horses, asses, camels, buffaloes etc.

मृगवदने लग्नस्थे तन्नवभागे तथापि सूक्ष्मांशे ।
आरण्यानां सृति सत्त्वानां निर्दिशेत्क्रमशः ॥४७॥

नागानां खड्गानां वृकशरभवराहवानराणां च ।
ऋक्षोग्रसृगालानां व्याघ्रादीनां भवेत्सृतिः ॥४८॥

47-48. Capricorn and its divisions indicate birth of forest animals like tiger, rhinoceros, swine, wolf, elephants (Sarabha apart from meaning an elephant also denotes a fabulous eight-legged animal said to be stronger than even a lion), eagles and the like.

मीने मीनांशे वा तज्जे सूक्ष्मांशकेऽपि वा लग्ने ।
गुरुदृष्टे विज्ञेयो बहूदकोत्थः सदा सत्त्वः ॥४९॥

49. Pisces (and its divisions) enjoying Jupiter's aspect relates to creatures living in deep waters, like giant fish, whale etc.

मेघे मेषांशे वा मीमेन निरीक्षिते सदाजावी ।
वृषभे तु वदेत्तद्वद्गोमहिषाद्यांसदा भृगुणा ॥५०॥

50. Aries (and its divisions) with the aspect of Mars portends births of goat, ram etc., while Taurus (and its divisions) with aspect from Venus denotes cow, bull, buffalo etc.

स्वं स्वं पूर्वविलग्नं स्वैः स्वैर्दृष्टं यवेह पतिभिस्तु ।

स्वभवनसदृशान्विद्वान्प्रवेदविशंकितं तत्र ॥५१॥

51. Thus have to be deduced the possibilities of births of the various creatures depending on the rising sign with aspect of its own lord and the divisions of the rising sign.

ग्राम्यगृहेषु नवांशः पञ्चमदशमाष्टराशिसंयुक्ताः ।

आरण्यानां सूर्ति ग्रामेषु सुनिश्चितां कुर्यः ॥५२॥

52. If a sign resorting to towns/villages (like Gemini) ascend with Navamsa of leo/Scorpio/Capricorn, such animals, though wild, as bred in villages or townships (like elephant, bear etc.) will take their birth.

स्थलजलराशिविभागा नागरभवनेषु लग्नसंस्थेषु ।

स्थलजलचरसत्त्वानां जनयन्ति भवं हि विटपानाम् ॥५३॥

53. In the process, navamsas of land-resorting signs will indicate births of animals moving on land and water-resorting signs, animals/creatures dwelling in water.

उदयति बणिग्विलग्ने तद्ब्रेवकाणे सितेन सदृष्टे ।

शुकसारिकान्यपुष्टाश्चकोरभासाश्च जायन्ते ॥५४॥

54. If Libra be the ascendant in aspect to Venus, a decanate of Libra denotes birth of parrots, flemingo, partridge etc.

सिंहोदये तथाद्ये सूक्ष्मांशे रविनिरीक्षिते सूर्तिः ।

कुक्कुटमयूरतित्तिरपारावतचातकादीनाम् ॥५५॥

55. Peacock, cock/hen, francoline partridge, turtledove and birds living on (only) rain drops, are born if Leo rises with Sun's aspect and with various own divisions.

स्थिरभोदये तदंशे सौरग्रहसंयुते च दृष्टे च।

प्रासादगृहादीनामुत्पत्तिः

पूर्ववज्ज्ञेया ॥५६॥

56. If a fixed sign with aspect to Saturn obtaining various divisions of the same classifications rises, "births" of temples, houses, choultries etc., begin. The colour, structure etc., will have to be guessed with the help of aspecting planets as explained earlier.

Thus ends the 55th Chapter entitled "MANIFOLD BIRTHS" in Kalyana Varma's SARAVALI.
